Q. So you are not going on to an adjacent property owner to try to enter?

A. Correct. Correct. I just want to make sure it's clear, as we slide the access north, the inbound access north, it does increase this distance from a north bound vehicle turning around the curb to see that vehicle turning into the site.

Q. Right.

A. But the more we push it makes it more difficult for the left turner coming in, because they can't see that vehicle coming northbound 345 feet, that shrinks.

Q. Does Bonapart Avenue have the same problem with sight distance?

A. In my opinion, Bonapart Avenue is significantly worse than we are showing today. If we are going to get into Bonapart Avenue exiting this site, I wouldn't want to exit Bonapart Avenue. I would prefer to utilize anything on the opposite side or on the east side of the road. When you exit Bonapart Avenue, you've got to physically turn your head, you know, and I am sure everyone will testify here, about 180 degrees looking backwards and up the hill. And the pictures I introduced show all the brush obstructing their sight distance. They are going to have even worse conditions coming down the hill turning right into their site into that existing access site.

Q. Right. So the State Highway Administration and the County has allowed a dangerous entrance and exit for Bonapart Avenue for years, right?

A. I mean, I don't know what, but I think, I don't think, I think our access is safer than theirs.

I can't make that determination. I didn't look a hundred percent to see what decision making process the State or the County had on Bonapart Avenue.

Q. So your access you believe is safe, safer than we have now?

MR. GARBER: Which access are you referring to?

Q. The existing access, actually this proposed access is safer than the existing access?

A. When leaving the site, it increases the sight distance, yes.

Q. So, that's why the someone suggested that you come up with an alternative exit site, exit access?

A. Yes, I believe the State Highway Administration asked for alternative access.

Q. Right?

A. We did and I came up with that access.

Q. Right. Now, if one moves the entrance access, you have already given your opinion, to that same location, as alternative --

A. Correct.

Q. -- that they propose, the sight distance looking south from the exit is better.

A. Correct.

Q. The problem you have is the sight distance to enter it at that same location is worse from southbound traffic being able to see?

A. It's worse from, looking at Exhibit 16-B, worse from looking at vehicle three, which can only see about 190 feet to turn.

MR. GARBER: So if you use the proposed exit as also the entrance, it's worse because it's depicted as new car three on Exhibit 16-B and only 190 feet of sight distance.

THE WITNESS: Correct. And I believe as I testified to earlier, I want to be sure I get it right, I believe I testified to earlier that 200 feet to turn left.

MR. GARBER: It is what it is.

THE WITNESS: Okay.

MR. GARBER: But I want to be clear if you used the proposed exit as also the entrance, you don't favor that because there is less sight distance for that vehicle going southbound.

THE WITNESS: Correct. Vehicle one has approximately 345 feet.

MR. GARBER: I got that.

THE WITNESS: So, it would be reduced by 155 feet. We are losing 155 feet of sight distance coming around the turn.

MR. GARBER: You were asked questions about Bonapart.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MR. GARBER: How the existing conditions you feel that the existing access point on the property in issue is better than that on Bonapart, correct?

THE WITNESS: I believe so yes.

MR. GARBER: How does it change with the proposed, if it changes, maintaining the entrance but splitting the exit?

THE WITNESS: Well, sight distance on Bonapart is sight distance on Bonapart. It doesn't change vehicles turning into and out of Bonapart based on what we do with our access, when you are pulling into Bonapart or pulling out of Bonapart, it's still the same, it's not changing the access or moving.

MR. GARBER: Their case is going to remain static.

THE WITNESS: Correct.

Q. While you are standing up there, do you disagree that Harford Road going north, the speed limit is 50 miles an hour?

A. I have it as 45 miles an hour based on --

Q. I guess I'll have to show you this.

A. I saw those pictures but I also have a picture southbound, I saw it again this morning.

Q. That's southbound where?

A. Southbound here north of the site is 45 miles an hour and the last I checked, I saw 45 miles per hour coming northbound, but it was a significant distance away.

Q. I'm going to show you the photograph, Harford Road shows 50 miles an hour speed limit.

MR. GARBER: Wait a minute, let Mr. Schmidt take a look.

MR. HOLZER: This is a Google exhibit.

MR. GARBER: Show Mr. Schmidt first.

MR. SCHMIDT: Mr. Holzer, just as you objected my photographs not taken by, unless this witness could identify where this road is, this could be in Parkville, Harford County, it could be anywhere.

MR. HOLZER: I'll have it identified.

MR. GARBER: Let's see where it takes us.

MR. HOLZER: I'll show you the photograph.

MR. GARBER: We need to mark for identification purposes.

MR. HOLZER: Mark for identification purposes whichever --

MS. MURPHY: Seven.

MR. HOLZER: Seven A, B and C.

(Protestant's Exhibits 7-A, B and C were marked for identification.)

Q. Well, I'll show you three pictures and Mr. DeWitt Clark, who will be testifying, I will mark them for identification.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Caloggero, you may have a seat. If Mr. Caloggero recognizes it, so be it.

Q. This is a Harford Road photograph showing 50 miles an hour.

A. Can I ask --

Q. Well, we'll just take them one at a time?

A. I would like to. Okay. So this is a Google image of a street view?

MR. GARBER: Looking at 7-A.

THE WITNESS: Looking at 7-A, it's a Google image not a photograph taken by anybody. It's a Google image and I can't tell you the date or time that this photo was taken.

Q. Do you know where that is?

A. They don't enter times, so I can't tell.

MR. GARBER: The most important question is what Mr. Schmidt just said. Do you recognize the location depicted in 7-A?

Q. You travel this once a week. You certainly must remember what time the speed limit is.

A. I identified it as 45 miles an hour.

Q. Even though it says 50?

MR. GARBER: The photo shows what it shows, do you recognize that location?

THE WITNESS: No, I do not. It's a picture, again, I would like to know the date that this picture was taken.

MR. GARBER: It wouldn't make a difference if you didn't recognize the location.

THE WITNESS: True but if you are introducing testimony of 50 miles and pulling it from a Google map, Google map has identified the date when the picture was taken.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Caloggero, so what will happen here, if you can't identify that location, I assume Mr. Holzer will call a witness who will give testimony as to the location of it.

MR. HOLZER: Your Honor, 11424 Harford Road, Glen Arm, Maryland, Google, Inc., street view, 2013.

THE WITNESS: 2013.

Q. Yes. It is what it is.

A. 2013.

Q. Okay, take a look at this picture.

MR. GARBER: Is that 7-B.

MR. HOLZER: Seven-B.

A. That could be anywhere, but yes.

Q. Seven-C says 50 miles an hour down on that sign right there.

MR. GARBER: Do you recognize the location in 7-C, sir?

A. I am trying to.

Q. Take a look at the post office on the left-hand side.

A. Yeah, yeah, I don't know the numbers. Can I ask, is that the turn to the right?

Q. Yes.

A. But again, there is no date on these pictures, my field investigation showed 45 miles an hour and 45 miles an hour southbound.

MR. HOLZER: Okay.

MR. GARBER: They are received for identification purposes at the moment.

MR. SCHMIDT: I would object. The witness has said he can't identify it. Identification only.

MR. HOLZER: It's the same problem I had earlier in this hearing when he was testifying about things he hadn't done.

MR. GARBER: He testified that he recognized the location, the critical difference between the two.

Q. Okay. All right. I would ask you this question just for purposes of letting you understand that my clients seem to think that it would be good to use the proposed exit for ingress and egress; would you object to that?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. Objection.

MR. GARBER: Why?

MR. HOLZER: I am trying to help settle the case.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt.

MR. SCHMIDT: He's asking the witness if he would object to what Mr. Holzer's clients think. Is that what he's asking?

MR. GARBER: What I understand the question to be was can you have it be where the proposed exit can serve as the entrance and exit, would you have a problem that were to be used in that manner.

MR. SCHMIDT: He has asked and answered that 20 times where he said the existing exit/entrance was safe but he was asked by State Highway Administration to show another exit had point and that's safe too?

MR. GARBER: He's asking can you use the proposed exit and also the entrance. Close the existing one entirely, relocate the exit down to proposed exit. Is that what you are asking?

A. Again, I am going to pump this question. It's up to the State Highway Administration because I gave them all of this information.

Q. Right.

A. And my opinion again, 190 feet is not enough sight distance to turn left into the site.

Q. Would you object to the citizens supporting your request for the proposed exit and also supporting the request that the existing entranceway be closed and the new proposed exit be used as ingress and egress, would you propose that with the State Highway Administration, if they went to them and said, oh, we'd love to have that, that solves that problem?

A. I don't know if it solves the southbound left turn problem unless the fence gets removed. I am not going to recommend to my clients to do something unsafe, but if, hypothetical if, if that fence was removed and I can visually see, and I am going to get up and point, if vehicle three on Exhibit 16-B can see through the fence to a northbound vehicle coming around the turn an appropriate distance the State Highway Administration believes is acceptable, then I would agree and recommend that as well. Again, I don't want to take people's property or the neighbor's fence. But it's an obstruction.

Q. I understand. But suppose we are as a community trying to get to a more reasonable and safe entrance and exit, would that be something, I mean, it would be up to the lady who owns the fence and the trees and whatever to consider it, but if she were to consider it, would that be something that you could then support?

A. If the fence is removed, yes.

Q. The whole fence, part of the fence or what?

A. As long as I can visually see a certain distance that's safe and the State Highway Administration agrees that that left turn distance is safe, then yes.

Q. Do you know, is there any mechanism for the citizens to be able to provide input with the State Highway Administration if they felt it would be appropriate to raise that issue? In your experience with the State Highway Administration, would they respond to citizens' suggestions or would they not, to your knowledge?

A. I mean, would they respond? Yes, and it would depend on the type of situation we are talking about. If the State Highway is not going, in my opinion, if I put on my State Highway hat, I'm not going to approve something the citizens would like if it makes it unsafe or not safe. If the change, if the citizens come in for this case, I have been involved in cases where someone says, if we cut down all the branches from the neighbor's property so we can see 300 feet, and you approach the neighbor and the neighbor agrees that has happened in the past, yes.

Q. You wouldn't be adverse to having citizen input to the State Highway Administration while you are proposing these various alternatives?

A. It's not my call, it's the State Highway's call. I thought you asked if I thought the State would accept. I think the State would accept, but I think something else has to be brought on the table.

Q. My real question is would you oppose the citizens going to the State Highway Administration to try to resolve this issue to be safer than what it is?

A. It's not my call. It's the State Highway's call. If the citizens want to approach the State Highway Administration, I can't stop them. I can't stop you guys from opposing, so I mean, I can't oppose

--

Q. In your experience would the State listen?

A. The State's first job is to make it safe.

Q. I understand that, sir. So is the community's desire to make it safe.

A. That's where we are and that's why again, unless physical existing conditions change south of Bonapart Avenue, I cannot recommend an inbound north of the existing inbound location.

MR. GARBER: You cannot propose the entrance being moved to the proposed exit for that reason?

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. GARBER: Because you believe it is less safe.

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. GARBER: Or even unsafe.

THE WITNESS: Yes, I believe it's less than.

MR. GARBER: Now, is there another way to go about doing that if the State Highway Administration, for example, were to change, not saying this would occur, but if they were to change signage and change even if that means mandatory lesser speed limit.

THE WITNESS: Typically the State Highway Administration does not change speed limits. Drivers are going to drive what they tend to feel most comfortable. We have talked about that today. The State Highway Administration's typical position is they are not going to reduce the 45 or 50 miles an hour speed limit to 30 unless there is a reason for it. They don't want to make all the drivers of the area drive it. They are going to drive 50 anyway. It will make it unsafe.

MR. GARBER: The speed limit is also geared to the type of use of the road, correct?

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. GARBER: They have designated Harford, I don't know if you are aware what they have designated Harford Road as.

THE WITNESS: I don't have that.

Q. Thank you. Let's turn to another area now. What is the difference between AASHTO and FHA minimal requirements, if you could define that?

A. Well, AASHTO is the guide. It's the reasonable state national guidelines and the State probably has their own minimum guidelines as well.

Q. So there could be two different standards?

A. Yes, because the AASHTO is a guide, AASHTO is a guide. The State Highway can adopt standards or their own guidelines. We have to be careful with the guidelines versus regulations.

Q. Or minimum requirements?

A. Yes, lot of times there are many conditions in there. A lot of times it's based on the conditions of the road and so on and so forth.

Q. I'm sorry, I asked you this question before and you apparently don't believe, well let me ask you. How does the State Highway classify the entrance here as commercial or residential or whatever?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection, asked and answered. We have been through this. He said it's institutional.

MR. GARBER: I understood that his opinion was an institutional. Sir, you are basing that on the AASHTO guidelines or --

THE WITNESS: The use of the property.

MR. GARBER: I believe the question was what does the State consider --

MR. HOLZER: Exactly.

MR. GARBER: -- if you know?

THE WITNESS: I do not know what the State considers that.

Q. In your testimony, do you believe that your plan meets State Highway minimum requirements?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. For what? Minimum requirements for what?

MR. GARBER: Hold on a second.

MR. SCHMIDT: I just am trying to figure out if it meets the State Highway minimum requirements.

MR. HOLZER: Exactly.

MR. GARBER: Does the existing access --

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

MR. GARBER: -- meet the State Highway minimum requirements?

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

THE WITNESS: State Highway will determine that as part of the access permit process.

MR. GARBER: Does the proposed exit meet the State Highway minimum requirements.

THE WITNESS: Again, I'll let the State Highway Administration answer that as part of their access to the property.

Q. That's the question. So, all of your testimony and all of the plan is basically contingent upon what the State Highway Administration does when it determines an access permit, right?

A. Yes, and I believe we have, we have said that.

Q. Right.

A. And we are providing recommendations based on AASHTO standards which State Highway Administration using.

MR. GARBER: SHA uses AASHTO, you said.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

Q. AASHTO requirements may not be as restrictive as State Highway minimum requirements, correct?

A. It may or may not be. Again, we have to rely upon the State Highway Administration.

Q. Right, right.

A. And I'm providing testimony as to what I believe is safe and unsafe based on my expert opinion and AASHTO.

Q. But we really don't know until the State Highway Administration issues the access permit, if they do, we don't know where the entrance and the exit will be?

A. Correct.

Q. Okay. Is there a difference between, let me put it this way, is it or is not AASHTO more useful for projects using roads that are not State highway?

A. AASHTO is a national guide for state highway transportation. So, I mean, it's used nationwide by all the state highways.

Q. I understand that, but my question is, isn't it more useful on using the AASHTO requirements for road that are not state highways?

A. For not state highways.

Q. That are not state highway?

A. Is that even in this case? We are a state highway.

Q. That's correct.

A. I guess I'm misunderstanding the question.

Q. All right. Would you use AASHTO requirements on an interstate?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay.

A. You used AASHTO on interstates and local roads. It varies all the way. They have all kind of different standards and all types of roads, all types of speeds.

Q. Whose requirements prevail between AASHTO and either the Federal government or the State government?

A. Depends on the agency who owns the road.

Q. State Highway Administration, if AASHTO says one thing and they say another, who prevails?

A. You are asking me to testify as to how SHA would review the access and I'm going let them do that as part of their process. I am giving them all my background information and all my detailed information on sight distance and expertise. They are the ones who have to make that decision.

Let me answer this way. Have they used AASHTO in the past to make decisions, absolutely yes, they have used AASHTO to make decisions.

Q. That's not my question. My question was given AASHTO and State Highway requirements, which one, if they conflict, which one would prevail?

A. That's the State Highway's call.

Q. That's all I needed you to say before.

A. I did say it.

Q. When you were first retained as a traffic engineer by your client, did you ever tell them there was an issue in regard to the access of the entrance? Did you ever tell them that there was going to be this involvement with State Highway permit?

A. Yes, yes, they would need an access permit for the change of use with the State Highway Administration.

Q. Okay. Did you give them any advice as to how they could utilize the property pending the issuance of the State Highway?

A. No, I did not.

Q. Did you, in terms of your trip generation analysis, did you question them at all about the use of the property once it became useable again?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. I don't even, once the property became useable? I don't know what that means.

Q. All right, well, you know, let's do this. How many times have you actually been on the property and give me their dates, approximate dates, you don't have to tell me the hour and day, but approximate?

A. I know I was there in December, probably January before, I believe the hearing was in January, so I believe I was there in December, I believe I was there in January, I guarantee I was there in July, I drove past the site this morning.

Q. I just asked you when you were on the property to inspect?

A. On the property?

Q. The parking, the building?

A. I was with you at one time on the property. When I met with State Highway, I walked the property, I walked it with the team. Can we say five, maybe five times I was on the property.

Q. December, January, July of 2018?

A. I think 1/15 and February and July.

Q. December of 2017.

A. Yes, I was retained in --

Q. January of 2018?

A. Yes.

Q. And when else?

A. Probably in July.

Q. July, 2018?

A. And sometime in between February and July, so four or five times.

Q. Okay.

A. You are saying physically --

Q. On the property?

A. -- be on the gates.

Q. Exactly.

A. Yes.

Q. I know you are driving by?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, at those, one, two, three, four times, were you there when anybody else was there on the property other than the person you were meeting?

A. No.

Q. You were not there at when any of the potential festivals or gatherings or get-togethers?

A. I would not. They are all team meetings.

Q. Okay. So when you estimated or tried to provide information to the State Highway Administration about the use of the property, you basically took what the client had given you as to the use, is that correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. Okay. So, you had no independent analysis of how the property was going to be used?

A. That is correct.

Q. Okay.

A. Meaning I did not go out to another similar type facility.

Q. Right. In other words, you didn't look for other properties, you didn't do anything like that and I'll show you --

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, just out of curiosity the as to where are we in your cross examination?

MR. HOLZER: About a third of the way through. We can take a quick break.

MR. GARBER: That's what I was going to say. Is there an appropriate time that we can take a break in your questioning here?

MR. HOLZER: Any time you would.

MR. GARBER: Would that be it.

MR. HOLZER: That's fine.

MR. GARBER: Why don't we take ten minutes break?

MR. HOLZER: Fine.

MR. GARBER: We can come back and resume questioning.

MR. HOLZER: Thank you.

(A recess was taken from 11:07 AM to 11:30 AM.)

MR. GARBER: So you are wrapping up your cross examination?

MR. HOLZER: For lunch.

MR. GARBER: Fair enough.

MS. MURPHY: Did you condense those questions?

MR. HOLZER: Oh yes. I have really narrowed it down. You want to quit around five?

MR. GARBER: Actually, I am ready to go to nine tonight, but I assume many other people in the room aren't. I'm sorry for the Court Reporter.

Q. All right, we are back on the record. Do you, from your testimony right before we took the break, it appears that the State Highway Administration is what it is and does what it does and you are not going to inject yourself into their activity related to this request. But do you know what the State Highway Administration requirements are for this property? In other words, is there something set out that you can refer me to that says, on this property and this road in this area, this is what you have to do or we have to consider?

A. That's a lot there. First, I'm already injected into that process through my communication and sharing information, sight distance, proposed access location, different alternatives, answering their questions. And it's at this point in time where I'm waiting for them to get back to me to say, we agree, we disagree, this is what we think, let's meet to discuss, let's have a field meeting, anything of the sort to help them make a decision. But right now, in my opinion I believe they have most of the information needed to make a decision unless they request more.

Q. Do you have any idea how long their decision would take?

A. I believe we started our communication with them early winter and they still don't have a determination yet. But we have been providing data back and forth. I'm really hoping to get something back from them in the next two weeks. I think two weeks is appropriate based on where we are.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer asked you a question. Do you know what the SHA requirements are from this property. I don't believe I heard the answer.

THE WITNESS: I do not know what their specific requirements are for this property.

MR. SCHMIDT: Just to be clear, I think the witness said they are going to require an access permit, issue an access permit. I don't know if that's what you meant.

MR. GARBER: The way I understood the question is relative to AASHTO, that is, are there different requirements, if so, what would those requirements be, understanding there's been plenty about the access permit and all the other stuff.

MR. SCHMIDT: They are saying they get an access permit.

THE WITNESS: If I could interject in here. They look at each individual property on its own merits. What they may require here may be different than what they require down the road due to the conditions of the specific location. So it's not a one size fits all. They have to review the entire case and so forth for this property.

Q. Well, is part of your responsibility to tell them how this property is to be used?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And the information, what information, well, strike that. Let me do something else first.

On January 10th, 2018, you wrote a letter to Mr. Kotroco in regard to this project, I guess. Can you take a look at that and see if that's a letter and your signature?

MR. GARBER: Can we have that for identification purposes?

MR. HOLZER: Sure, how many do you want?

MS. MURPHY: Four.

MR. GARBER: This is Number 8.

THE WITNESS: Yes, I wrote this letter and it is for this property.

Q. And this letter was dated January 10th. Was that before the Administrative Law Judge hearing?

A. Either are before or day of, yes. I believe it was the day before.

Q. Now, in regard to this letter, have you supplemented this letter to the State, did this letter go to the State Highway Administration?

A. Yes, it did.

Q. Okay. So, it went to the State Highway Administration as part of your responsibilities to tell them what was going to happen here?

A. Correct.

Q. Have you supplemented this letter with any other details about the issue of what is going to happen here, how it's going to be used?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you have those letters? What have you done, is it a letter or is it testimony?

A. An e-mail.

Q. Huh?

A. E-mail.

Q. Do you have the e-mail that I can see?

A. I have the e-mails, yes, they are all in my laptop.

Q. I'm specifically interested --

A. I can tell you what I sent to them.

Q. Okay. I'm specifically interested in whether or not you explained any more in those e-mails about how the property was going to be used?

A. So, I explained to them the details in this letter.

Q. Yes, I'm going to ask you that.

A. So, I explained in the details of this letter and then they asked how does this compare to the ITE, the Institution of Transportation Engineers Trip Generation Manual.

Q. Okay.

A. I told them it did not because this is a different type of use than a typical church use. We have been through that before; if you need me to re-explain, I can.

Q. Okay.

A. But they still requested that I provide information and that's when I did just a trip generation based on the first floor square footage of the existing building I believe of 3500 square feet and told them that's what it would generate in the morning and evening peak the hours based on the national statistics of a church.

Q. Could you product that e-mail for me now, is that easy, and then you can make copies of it later?

A. I don't have a printer.

Q. If it's on the laptop, you can let me look at it for now and I can tell you whether we need to print it out or not. Mr. Schmidt, you want to jump in?

MR. SCHMIDT: I don't know the context of what Mr. Caloggero may have in his e-mails and I don't know what, certainly things the State Highway may not be privileged as to the client.

Mr. Holzer, I don't know how long you are going, maybe we can look at it and try to print it at lunch time.

MR. GARBER: I was going to say if it's in the computer, automatically seems to me that's something that can be resolved in the lunch break.

MR. HOLZER: Then I can't ask the question I want to ask him without the answer being known.

MR. GARBER: How long will it take for you to pull up the e-mails?

THE WITNESS: Not long, quickly.

MR. HOLZER: See, that's why I would like to pull it up on his, whatever, and then we can look at it and then it can be printed off if it's relative to my questions. I don't want to waste time.

MR. SCHMIDT: He's not referring, I mean, this isn't a discovery hearing or a deposition of the witness and he's explained what he's done and how he did it. I just, I'll be honest with you, it's somewhat, I don't know, I think it's, I mean, if the witness had it in front of him and he was referring to it, certainly, Mr. Holzer could get to it. But he doesn't and he's not and if Mr. Holzer wants to go through a fishing expedition and look through the man's e-mail and open his computer, I just think it's improper. He's not relying on it during his testimony. If it was there in front of him and he had a bunch of e-mails, then could see that would be proper.

MR. HOLZER: This is absolutely ridiculous. I am asking this witness --

MR. SCHMIDT: I agree.

MR. HOLZER: -- expert witness, questions in regard to what he did with the State Highway Administration. Do you understand that that's a relative and very important aspect since the State Highway hasn't even reacted yet. Okay? I want to know whether he provided them all the information that he is supposed to provide them.

THE WITNESS: Yes, I did.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Caloggero.

MR. HOLZER: One of those, as he's now said, is that he followed up with this January 10th letter with an e-mail to the State and I think it's relevant as to what he provided to the State that goes along with forming his opinion, period.

MR. GARBER: If I were to play devil's advocate on that, I would say I understand the relevance part of the question. That's not a question. I understand the materiality. That's not in question. What Mr. Schmidt said though leads to the manner of production. It's not an exhibit, he's not relying on it for purposes of his testimony. How then to get to it from his e-mails becomes a real issue for this case because it can't compel production without the accompanying of a subpoena.

MR. HOLZER: I can do that for October, if that's what they want.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt, seems like an easy way to resolve the issue, but I'll leave it up to you.

MR. SCHMIDT: Let me --

MR. GARBER: And from what I hear, the resolution of that issue would be necessary for the next line of questioning.

MR. HOLZER: Yes, well, related to this letter.

MR. GARBER: Let's do this --

MR. SCHMIDT: I'll tell you what, can I have just a second to talk to Mr. Kotroco?

MR. GARBER: Sure.

(Petitioner's counsel engaged in an off the record discussion.)

MR. SCHMIDT: Mr. Holzer, to get through this, I am going to give you this, ask the witness to identify it and see if that answers the question.

MR. HOLZER: No, not where I am going.

MR. SCHMIDT: I have a copy of the e-mail. I'm just going to proffer, if I can.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, Mr. Schmidt.

MR. SCHMIDT: I'll ask Mr. Caloggero if you want.

MR. HOLZER: Give it to me, I'll ask it.

MR. GARBER: Let's mark that for identification purposes. This is now Exhibit 9.

MR. HOLZER: It is not Protestant's 9. I am not introducing this document.

MR. SCHMIDT: I'll offer this as Petitioner's exhibit whatever my next exhibit is. I don't care.

MR. GARBER: We can't do that now and if you are not going to identify it, you can't use it now.

MR. HOLZER: It's irrelevant, what he's produced.

MS. MURPHY: If it doesn't help you --

MR. HOLZER: It's irrelevant. It's not the e-mail that I referred to.

MR. GARBER: Okay. So, we are not resolved on that issue as to what to do with the computer is what I am hearing, Mr. Holzer?

MR. HOLZER: We are resolving it. I'll defer asking this line of questioning until we come back from lunch.

MR. GARBER: Here's where we are. We have e-mails over here that potentially could be what he's referring to. But right now we can't show it to him because you don't want to make it an exhibit in your case and we are not in Mr. Schmidt's case, well, we are not in his direct or redirect testimony for purposes of introducing that exhibit. We can't tell if that's the e-mail he was referring to.

MR. HOLZER: I can tell you it was not the e-mail he was referring to. It does not have the e-mail that he already admitted that he provided to the State.

MR. GARBER: That's not evidence. That has to come from him. He has to say yes or no to that question. That's the problem we are having now.

MR. HOLZER: Fine. Mark it for whatever you want.

MS. MURPHY: Whatever you want.

MR. GARBER: Protestant's 9.

(Protestant's Exhibit Number 9 was marked for identification.)

Q. Sir, is this the document that you referred me to that you sent to the State Highway Administration?

A. If this is, just trying to keep up with all the questions. This is the information I just stated about the State Highway asking for trip generation information based on ITE and I utilized the 3500 square feet and developed trips based on 3500 square feet, yes.

MR. GARBER: The answer is yes.

Q. Did you provide any other e-mails to them relative to the use of this property.

A. To the --

Q. Use of the subject property?

A. This plus the 10th, January 10th letter.

Q. So, those are the only two documents that have indicated the intended use of the subject property from you?

A. Correct.

Q. And presumably then, that is all the State Highway Administration understands about this use of the property?

A. Correct.

Q. Okay. Fine?

MR. GARBER: So are we moving that into evidence.

MR. HOLZER: Yes. Move them. Perfect.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt, do you have an objection?

MR. SCHMIDT: I don't have any objection. Ms. Murphy, I have some other copies, but not with the floor plan.

MS. MURPHY: We can make a copy of perhaps this one.

MR. SCHMIDT: It has two pages of correspondence and an attachment.

MS. MURPHY: Yes.

MR. GARBER: And the floor plan is already in to evidence anyway.

MR. SCHMIDT: It's already in. If you'd like copies of the two pages of e-mails, I have more of them.

MR. GARBER: The actual exhibit will have the floor plan. The ones that you have to give to the Board at this time do not have the floor plans, but the floor plans are already into evidence.

MR. SCHMIDT: Right.

MR. GARBER: We can all move on now.

MR. HOLZER: Like I said.

MR. GARBER: Protestant's Exhibit 9 is admitted.

MR. HOLZER: What about Protestant's Exhibit 8, is it admitted?

MS. MURPHY: The letter?

MR. HOLZER: The January letter.

MR. SCHMIDT: I have no objection to it.

MR. GARBER: Thank you, Mr. Holzer.

(Protestant's Exhibit Numbers 8 and 9 were admitted into evidence)

Q. Let's take a quick look at paragraph three in front of you. What you indicated to the State Highway Administration through both of these exhibits, 8 and 9, is that there will be less than 20 people coming to the temple on weekdays, less than a hundred coming on weekends. The temple does not have a leader, worshipper, so will arrive at different times during the weekdays, et cetera. That's all the State Highway knows about the proposed use of this site?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. I mean, that's all they know from this document they may or may not know.

MR. HOLZER: Objection overruled.

MR. GARBER: Thank you for that, but they are not here anyway. So for purposes of what State Highway knows is different than what he communicated.

MR. HOLZER: Right what State Highway knows is whatever he communicated to them.

MR. SCHMIDT: How do you know that?

MR. GARBER: I would sustain the objection on what I just said. What he communicated to them is one thing, what they know and we don't know what if anything else they did, their state of knowledge, do not know sitting here today. We do not know. We do know what he communicated to them though.

MR. HOLZER: We do know what he communicated to them. All that he communicated to them was this letter, January 10th.

MR. GARBER: Right. And so, the question is are you aware of any other information they may have other than what you gave to them?

MR. HOLZER: Not what they may have. They have no more information than what he provided.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection, how do you know that? They might have gotten information from your client, Mr. Holzer. I don't know whether they did or not.

MR. GARBER: The objection is sustained on that basis.

MR. HOLZER: Next question.

MR. GARBER: Move on.

Q. If you had to tell the Board today how they are using the proposed property, would you limit your answer to what is in this Exhibit Number 8, the third paragraph.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. I mean, we have had testimony from the Petitioner as to what the proposed use is. What, Mr. Caloggero is certainly not the best evidence. What is the purpose of this question?

MR. HOLZER: The purpose of the question is --

MR. GARBER: Hold on. Hold on. What is your question again?

MR. HOLZER: The question is, is all that you have provided them was what is in paragraph three as to the, now that he has been involved in this case since before January, does he stand by that description of the use of the property to the State Highway Administration?

MR. GARBER: Do you understand the question, sir?

THE WITNESS: I do.

Q. He understands the question?

A. Can I answer the question?

Q. Yes.

A. Okay, so, typically, when we send information to the Maryland State Highway Administration on trip generation, it's based on typical days, based on your average day during the week, based on your average day during the weekend. When we look at other, and I testified this the last time I was here, you know, looking at special events and other things, that's not going to be in this letter as to there's an event on Saturday which may generate more people. The State Highway Administration looks at typically the average day per year, 365 days a year, 52 Saturdays, 52 Sundays, so on and so forth. They are not looking at the highest most intense use of the property to determine the trips, to determine the road improvements and access. They are looking at the average typical day per year, which is what we gave them. It's going to be the regular use of the property in which they use this to determine information. And then again with the, you are just referring to this letter at this time?

Q. Yes.

MR. GARBER: Exhibit 8.

A. So, based on the regular use of this facility, correct.

MR. GARBER: In other words, if you are communicating to the SHA today about the use of the property you communicate the exact same information as reflected in Exhibit 8.

THE WITNESS: Absolutely.

Q. You would not tell them they have 8 or 10 festivals per year in which more than 20 people would show up, that maybe a couple hundred people would show up, multiple uses of the property, you wouldn't tell them that, right?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection, it's assuming all kind of facts not in evidence. It's a misrepresentation of what the witness has said.

MR. HOLZER: Look, this case hasn't even started yet because the Protestants haven't had --

MR. GARBER: Day three.

MR. HOLZER: Protestants haven't had a chance to put on evidence that they have gathered. So, to presume that once you have heard these three days, that's it, the Protestants can just blindly complain.

MR. GARBER: I assure you that's not the way we approach that.

MR. HOLZER: I understand, but that's the efforts to limit questioning of the applicants's witnesses because there is relevance and I will be able to establish there's relevance contrary to what is being said.

MR. GARBER: Okay.

MR. HOLZER: That's what I am trying to lay the foundation for.

MR. GARBER: Start again, Mr. Schmidt, when you say the facts being assumed are not in evidence, I need you to be more detailed. Start your question again.

MR. SCHMIDT: When he says 8 to 10 festivals, it is not what the people said, when he said it's being used for other purposes.

MR. GARBER: Luckily, we have Court Reporter and Court Smart today. So we can resolve that one way or the other once we get the transcripts. If Mr. Holzer wants to ask the him questions about 8 or 10 festivals, if that's not what the record said previously, so be it.

MR. HOLZER: It said it below before the Administrative Law Officer. And you know, I'm just asking him again, is that his understanding. I am entitled to ask him what his understanding is.

MR. GARBER: So the materiality of what he has to say may very well hinge on what the actual testimony was earlier. If it's incongruous to what was being asked earlier. That goes to the weight of the evidence received.

Mr. Holzer, ask your question.

Q. Do you know how many festivals there are, how many gatherings in which more than 20 people show up, which the purpose of those people coming there, do you have any knowledge of any of that?

A. I do not know specifically, no, I do not.

Q. So as a result, you couldn't say that you conveyed that information to anyone else at the State Highway Administration?

A. I did not convey that information to the State Highway Administration because they typically do not review that type of material with trip generation and trip distribution of a site. So when, for instance, when we look at a, for instance, a WalMart or a shopping center, they don't ask us to look at black Friday, they don't ask us to look at the conditions of Christmas or major shopping events; they want to know if the typical day-to-day traffic can be accommodated. Same with the single family home. The single family home is going to generate on average 10 trips per day. But if you have a birthday party and 20 adults arrive and leave, that's going to exceed the ten trips per day. You don't study what may happen on a special occasion. The State Highway Administration wants to know on a typical day what happens so we can adjust for it. I provide that information.

Q. You already when you testified about the Ravens stadium, I understood that.

A. Yes.

Q. Your answer is repetitive to that question asked the day before.

MR. SCHMIDT: That's because the questions are repetitive.

MR. GARBER: We can move on at this point, Mr. Holzer.

Q. When you did your traffic analysis, did you do, did you look to determine whether the accident rate or any accidents had occurred on Harford Road?

A. I did not.

Q. Huh?

A. I did not.

Q. And why didn't you, do you know?

A. It wasn't requested by either Baltimore County or the State Highway Administration.

Q. Okay. So it wasn't requested. Could it be requested in the future?

A. If the State Highway Administration or the, I believe it would be the State at this point, if they requested it, but again, the State has all that information, so we would be asking the State to provide such information.

Q. All right. I'll show you what has been produced. Are you familiar with the Table One traffic crashes?

MR. GARBER: Hold on. This is Protestants Exhibit 10 for identification purposes.

(Protestant's Exhibit Number 10 was marked for identification.)

MR. GARBER: Sorry. Are you familiar with Table One?

Q. Yes, which is the first page of this document and selected Harford Road between Hartley Mill Road and Glen Arm Road as the area in which it encompasses?

A. This is the first time I am seeing this.

Q. I know.

MR. GARBER: First time you are seeing Exhibit 10 or the first time you have seen the table on Exhibit 10?

THE WITNESS: First time I have seen Table One on Exhibit 10.

Q. As you said, you don't care about traffic accidents?

A. I didn't say I didn't care.

Q. Well, you didn't bother to check.

A. Please don't put words in my mouth.

Q. But you didn't check?

A. I typically do what the agency requires because maybe they know.

Q. The fact that Baltimore County or the State Highway Administration may know something, you didn't feel it relevant to know when you formed your opinion as to how dangerous this area is?

A. Well, again, I have reviewed the area and based on the conditions that I'm set to review, I have determined that the access points are safe for people entering and exiting this property.

Q. Okay. But for whatever reason in the year 2016, 11 total accidents were reported by Baltimore County Police, 23 in 2017, 7 in 2018, for a total of 41; do you have any reason to doubt that?

A. I could not, well, since there is typically accident reports much more detailed than the number of accidents, these don't give any type of description as to the location, as to the extent of the accident, whether they were driver error, whether they were excessive speeds, whether they were on wet pavements, snowy conditions, whether they were drinking and driving. There are numerous reports that would accompany the 41 the accidents which you are not providing and I do not have.

Q. Well, if I were representing these people who have to come in there every week, have to come in there when they have special events and so forth and I'm the traffic expert, I sure as heck would like to tell all these citizens, look, there have been 41 accidents here, a lot of them what is shown here between Hartley Mill Road and Mount Vista Road, that's smack in the middle of where these people are going to be required to go on the weekends, on Saturdays, Sundays, during the week to a festival. Don't you think that's relevant as a traffic expert?

A. May I answer?

Q. Sure, go ahead.

A. Again, the information you provided is extremely general?

MR. GARBER: Talking about Exhibit 10.

THE WITNESS: I am going to make a point. So, all 41 of these accidents could potentially be at the intersection of Harford Road and Glen Arm Road in which the State Highway Administration the just constructed a traffic control by putting in a roundabout. That was just recently constructed and maybe they did that based on this accident history. The instance they did a study on this corridor most recently and determined that a roundabout was necessary just north of this site, I would hope they would have pulled more detailed information. Maybe that's why they didn't ask me for it because they already had it.

Q. They may not have asked you, but why didn't you tell your clients?

A. I determined the access is safe based on the use of this property.

Q. And you are absolutely right about this document, Exhibit Number 10. It only says there were hit and run accident s, personal injury accidents, property damage accidents. So, yes, you are right, I would sure want to go and get the police report and find out not only where it occurred but how bad it was, whether there are any deaths, whether there were any personal injuries. You are right.

A. Was there a question?

MR. GARBER: Mr. Caloggero.

THE WITNESS: I'm sorry.

Q. The question is you didn't bother to inform your clients as to the potential problems and why they needed to be determined.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. I mean, I'm just tired of these questions where Mr. Holzer testifies and asks a question, puts a question mark at the end of his testimony.

MR. HOLZER: We are going to get our case going.

MR. SCHMIDT: As to what he told his client, come on.

MR. GARBER: What is your question to this witness?

MR. HOLZER: Let me go back to my script.

MR. SCHMIDT: Change your script, Mr. Holzer.

MR. HOLZER: Mr. Schmidt, I don't criticize you, so let's stop doing that.

MR. GARBER: Let's do this. Take a step back here, take a deep breath, we have been here before, not literally in this case, but proceedings enough, especially the two of you.

MR. SCHMIDT: It's all part of the fun.

MR. GARBER: I know. So, the for the purposes of the record, if nothing else.

MR. HOLZER: I promise to be good.

MR. GARBER: Thank you.

MR. SCHMIDT: I do too.

MR. GARBER: Thank you.

THE WITNESS: I don't. I'm kidding. I'm sorry.

Q. All right. I'm trying to get away from the State Highway Administration for a moment. You testified that you didn't compare any other Hindu Buddhist temples in terms of understanding the use so that you could apply the use of those facilities to this site, is that correct?

A. I took direct testimony or direct information from my clients as to their operation.

Q. Right, okay. So you didn't confirm any of what you believe they told you about how they are going to operate in the future?

A. I believe I just answered that. What they told me is how I came up with this decision.

Q. Yes. Right. Do you know how our design speed is determined? How are design speeds determined?

A. I thought you were say our.

Q. How are, A R E, how are design speeds determined?

A. In general?

Q. Yes.

A. In general, design speeds are determined based on the proposed use of the road or future use of the road determined by the government agency or which ever agencies is ever constructing, designing or building a road.

Q. And the design speeds set on the subject site on Harford Road were set for purposes of residential use such as this property being used for a home and the relative use along the area of Joppa Road, Harford Road?

A. I can't answer that.

Q. You don't know?

A. I wouldn't know that. I wouldn't know how the design speeds were determined for Harford Road.

Q. My question is really more precise than that. The question is we know the design speeds were set for Harford Road when this property was used as a Residential One Owner property. But in your opinion does it change when you introduce, I don't care to call it a commercial or institutional use or whatever, but a use that is not similar to a private residence, such as the proposed use?

A. If you are stating the design speeds of Harford Road, it's not going to change.

Q. Okay.

A. The design speed is based on the road and the intent of the road not one property on the road. They are two different animals.

Q. Would it be different if south to this site you had commercial shopping centers, for instance, would the design speed change if you had a Wal-Mart?

A. Again, that's all based on the State Highway Administration criteria. The design change is already designed. It's designed and constructed. So, the design is speed has already been predetermined.

Q. The change of the use of the properties along the way would not affect the design speed for that road, even if things changed?

A. Unless they are going to change the entire road itself, if they are going to upgrade the road for certain things, again, it's the State Highway Administration.

Q. I'll give you an example, I go across Joppa Road all the time.

A. Yes.

Q. In 1800, Joppa Road was a cow path. Then it was the paved, it didn't have four shopping centers on either side of the road. Obviously, at some time the design speed of Joppa Road where it's changed from farm land to commercial caused a change in the speed limit, right?

A. Speed limit and design speed are entirely different objects. They are completely different animals. One is not based on the other.

Q. Okay, what about speed limits?

A. That's politically driven. They are not based on, the design speeds are determined and they are regulatory. Design speeds are regulatory. I'm sorry, excuse me, speed limits are regulatory. Design speeds are the design aspects on how to construct the road.

Q. I understand that.

A. So this road has been constructed for many, many, many years, so the design speed is not going to change unless the design in its entirety changes.

Q. That's Joppa Road going from a single lane, one lane road to what it is now?

A. We are on Harford Road.

MR. GARBER: He's using the example.

THE WITNESS: I'm go trying to stick to here. The design speed is not going to change because of development. The design speed is already established as the roads are designed.

MR. GARBER: He's making the illustration, you were there in the 1800's apparently.

MR. HOLZER: I have been accused of that, Mr. Chairman.

MR. GARBER: It was the one way road at some point, now it's not a one way road. The design had changed. And so likening, that how he's using that as illustration.

THE WITNESS: May I try to answer that with the way I believe your question is.

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

A. If this road were to ever change to a three lane or four lane highway, then the State Highway Administration would determine the proper design speed for such an increase.

Q. Right.

A. Design speed is not changing because this property is here is going to be a different use. The design speed is the overall length of the road from predetermined point A south to point B north. So just because we are adding property which is going to add an increase of trips does not increase the design speed in the road.

Q. So, it will increase the number of trips of that are previously there?

A. Yes. Right.

Q. And that type of use as well.

A. Correct.

Q. I mean, it is a different use than it was used use before?

A. That's correct.

MR. GARBER: I know he's halting, but wait for his question to finish.

THE WITNESS: Certainly.

Q. Did you do any studies, horizontal or vertical measurements, site survey or drawings to confirm the sight distance you have come up with?

A. Items, yes, all the items I have been testifying to.

Q. What's that?

A. Yes, all the exhibits we have prepared and have been testifying to.

Q. Okay. That's it. I mean, there are no other studies other than what was needed to accomplish these exhibits?

A. That plus the information contained in the January 10th letter, which was more --

Q. Right.

A. -- visual and foot measured --

Q. Okay.

A. -- versus more design related aspects.

Q. Did you do any drawings or survey about the hill at the bend; in other words any elevations?

A. Again, just what was already prepared and presented.

Q. And those were, you were required to come up with elevations in order to prepare that?

A. That's the Plaintiff profile.

Q. Right, the bottom.

A. Those were all presented here and to the State Highway Administration.

MR. HOLZER: I'm trying to cut the questions down.

MR. GARBER: That's okay.

Q. Were you here on day one of the hearing when Mr. Comery testified?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you hear him try to compare Harford Road at this site with Saint Joseph's Catholic Church on Belair Road?

A. I don't recall.

Q. But you were here?

A. I was physically present, yes.

Q. Yes. Okay. Do you believe that this site is comparable to Saint Joe's Catholic Church on Belair Road?

A. I'm not familiar with.

Q. So, you go up and down Harford Road but you don't go up and down Belair Road?

A. You are asking me about a specific property use. I don't know. I can tell you about Saint Ignatius in Forest Hill.

Q. Let me just ask you, so that's your church?

A. That's the church I drive by everyday.

Q. Belair Road, have you ever driven down Belair Road from the area of Saint Joe's Catholic Church?

A. Is that inside or outside the beltway. I have driven numerous times up and down the Belair Road. I don't know the church. I apologize.

Q. Based on your personal observation, do you think Belair Road at that location, and I can show you a map that I have here, is comparable, equivalent to, compares well to this area of Harford Road?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. Clearly beyond the special exception test as to whether that's in the neighborhood.

MR. GARBER: If he doesn't know where it is --

MR. SCHMIDT: I don't know how he can answer it.

MR. GARBER: Special exception, pump the brakes on that for a moment. If he doesn't know where it is, it would be difficult for him to say how it compares.

MR. HOLZER: I will show him.

MR. GARBER: I figured you would.

MR. HOLZER: You know Belair Road.

MR. SCHMIDT: I do, but I don't drive up and down.

MR. HOLZER: Do you want to mark this first?

MR. GARBER: Protestants Exhibit 11. Just so you are aware, you still have 8 and 10 as ID only.

MR. HOLZER: Well, I can still wait to call.

MR. GARBER: Just so you know those are still open.

MR. HOLZER: Appreciate that.

(Protestant's Exhibit Number 11 was marked for identification.)

Q. This is marked as Protestant's Exhibit 11. It's a larger blowup of Belair Road running from Timahoe Court up to Plumer Avenue. This is the church area that was referred to up to Necker Avenue in this section. Now, do you think that this picture depicts from a traffic engineering standpoint and a traffic expert who's providing testimony as to the relative nature, does this depict accurately or compare accurately with what you have just shown up on Petitioner's Exhibit 16-B?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. I can't imagine what the relevance of this could possibly be. I don't believe that this would be considered within the locale from a special exceptions standpoint, which is what we are ultimately here on, I don't believe this property is within the locale to be impacted and if he is going to show him a picture of a church or road system outside of the locale, I just can't, I don't know what the relevance, I don't have any idea what the relevance could possibly be.

MR. HOLZER: Maybe I should have objected to Mr. Comery's testimony because that's exactly what he testified to. He testified to this information.

He compared it.

MR. GARBER: Can you compare what is depicted on Protestant's Exhibit 11 as Mr. Holzer said, Saint Joseph's Catholic Church on Belair Road, to the proposed use of the subject site?

THE WITNESS: The proposed use? I'm just trying to figure out where I am in terms of Belair Road.

MR. GARBER: Can you compare? That's the first question.

THE WITNESS: What am I comparing?

Q. You are comparing the traffic and the road access to this particular church which he referred to on day one in his testimony to this Petitioner's Exhibit showing your proposed site and the road system. Can you compare those two.

MR. SCHMIDT: I just note a continuing objection to this entire line of question. I don't know what the relevance could possibly be.

MR. GARBER: I don't even think we are even at your objection yet. He has to be able to compare it in the first instance to then be able to come up with the answer to the second question which goes to the special exception issue you are raising. Let's see if he can compare it.

MR. SCHMIDT: But even if can compare it, my objection is whether he can compare it or not, with all due respect, what does a comparison of traffic on Belair Road not in this locale, how does him comparing this traffic, assuming he can do it at this location with the subject property, assist you all as the finders of fact in determining whether the special exception should be granted?

MR. GARBER: I also await that answer too. I don't know that either. All I know is right now we are trying to figure out can he compare it and if he can, what does it mean?

MR. SCHMIDT: Are we opening the door for Mr. Holzer to show us pictures of every church in Baltimore County and ask Mr. Caloggero to please compare Timonium United Methodist Church, which is where I worship, or whether Mr. Kotroco goes to church or the synagogues where the Board members may go to church. I mean, what is the relevance of any of this?

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, do you wish to respond?

MR. HOLZER: Of course. Of course. His witness, Mr. Comery, testified to this Court that there was a church on Belair Road that was this church that I am showing that was okay, was permitted and, therefore, this proposed site that he was encouraging you to approve was permissible. That's what it was.

MR. SCHMIDT: No, that's --

MR. HOLZER: I am just trying to show, let the Board understand what he was comparing is not apples and apples, it was apples and oranges. This is an orange, that was an apple. That's all I need him to say.

MR. GARBER: Let's take it one step at a time. Mr. Caloggero, can you make a comparison between these two sites?

THE WITNESS: I think we talked about this before, if this where we are going, if this is Saint

Joe's, I am assuming the Catholic Church, this use is not a Catholic Church use --

MR. GARBER: The one at issue is not a Catholic Church use in this case.

THE WITNESS: Right. And this looks in my opinion --

MR. GARBER: Protestants Exhibit 11?

THE WITNESS: Saint Joe's, I can't tell if Saint Joe's is operating a school. I can tell you it looks like on this map it has a traffic signal, three points of ingress and egress, outbound has three lanes outbound and signalized intersection. Parking, parking is substantial. It looks like it has a cemetery, you know, in the rear of the site. This just looks like a huge Catholic Church with lots of parishioners. To me it looks like a school as well.

Q. From a traffic road, from a road standpoint, is this consistent with the proposal that your client has on Harford Road?

MR. SCHMIDT: Again, I just note a continuing line of objection.

MR. GARBER: That's fine.

MR. SCHMIDT: Thank you.

A. I'm still not sure how you want me to compare. What are you asking me to compare specifically?

Q. You are a traffic expert?

A. From a traffic perspective, Belair Road has four lanes. There's not any additional turn lanes along Belair Road for entering and exiting traffic. It looks like there is a traffic signal; I don't know the operations of the traffic signal. There is a, it looks like inbound only and then it looks like another form of an access south of the site. Again, with over like 200 plus parking spaces.

Q. Tell me about the road. Belair Road is, you said, four lanes?

A. Yes.

Q. Is it straight?

A. Yes.

Q. Is it level?

A. I don't know in this area.

Q. You don't know from looking at this photo whether or not --

A. I do not.

Q. Are there any hills that are comparable?

A. There are no --

MR. GARBER: Let him finish his question.

Q. Are there any hills on this area of Belair Road that are consistent with the hills shown on 16-B?

A. From this map I cannot tell because there are no contours.

MR. HOLZER: Thanks a lot.

MR. GARBER: So are we moving 11?

MR. HOLZER: I am moving.

MR. SCHMIDT: I object. I still don't know what the relevance is. I just don't know what the possible relevance is.

(There was a pause in the proceedings.)

MR. GARBER: It will be admitted. I understand you object.

MR. SCHMIDT: Thank you. As long as it's noted for the record.

(Protestant's Exhibit Number 11 was admitted into evidence.)

MR. HOLZER: Mr. Chairman, it's 12:30. If you would want to take a break for lunch now, I will go through the rest of my questions and see if I can cut them down. They may be repetitive.

MR. GARBER: I'm always in favor of that. Mr. Schmidt, how do you feel about that?

MR. SCHMIDT: That's fine. I'll leave it to the discretion of the Board. I am fine.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Caloggero, do you have any conflicts.

THE WITNESS: No calls.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt, would you be ready to go with any other witnesses you have here today?

MR. SCHMIDT: My one witness is here. I would anticipate that is the Petitioner's case.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, are you ready to commence the start of your case today if necessary?

MR. HOLZER: Yes, I'm going to try to put a few witnesses on that, hopefully, will be short or will be witnesses that I anticipate calling for cross examination.

MR. GARBER: Okay.

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

MR. SCHMIDT: When did you want us back?

MR. GARBER: I'm going to say 45 minutes. Let's try to keep it to that. We'll make it 1:15, which technically gives you 48 minutes, I believe. So, 1:15 we'll be back here, and again, we are going to get through as much of this as possible today as we can.

MR. SCHMIDT: Thank you.

MR. HOLZER: Thank you.

(A recess for the noon hour was taken at 12:26 PM until 1:13 PM.)

MS. MURPHY: On the record.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer.

MR. HOLZER: Ready. All right. I can say to the Board lunch was very well spent because I have excised quite a few questions.

Q. Sir, have you done any traffic counts of vehicles entering and leaving the property at any of the festivals or the events, fund raisers, things like that?

A. No, I have not.

Q. Okay. And I believe you have already testified that you have not observed how vehicles enter and leave at any of these high volume events?

A. That is correct.

Q. Okay. Did you bother to take any or look at the traffic counts for Harford Road in the area of the property?

A. No, I did not.

Q. Did you bother to look at any traffic counts that were created by the State in terms of the circle that's north of the property?

A. No, I did not.

Q. Okay. See, I finished that. Not quite. Almost. Sorry, one more thing. Is the State Highway minimum standard for 50 miles per hour, is it 425 feet?

A. Is what?

Q. Is the minimum standard?

A. Minimum standard what?

Q. Stopping distance?

A. For?

Q. For 50 miles per hour, 425 feet?

A. May I check my manual?

Q. Sure, absolutely.

MR. GARBER: Are you asking him about the earlier testimony?

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

THE WITNESS: Stopping site distance for 50 miles per hour, 425 feet.

Q. Thank you. Then I'm going to show you some State Highway --

MR. GARBER: This is Protestant's 12 for ID.

Q. I show you, are you familiar with -- this is entitled Access Management Division Plan Submission List. Is this what you are talking about the process that you have to go through with the State Highway Administration to get the access permit?

A. I am not familiar with this document, Access Division Plan Submission Check List.

Q. Yes.

A. So, I am not familiar with this document. Typically, the civil engineers as part of the site plan submission or as part of an access permit submission file the actual application and they may be more familiar with this documentation.

Q. But this really deals with issues related to traffic, does it not?

A. It's a check list.

Q. Yeah, right. So what you are saying is that this is not something you would take and go down to State Highway and have this filled out or acknowledged in some way?

A. I do not.

Q. Okay.

A. I have not.

Q. Okay. And Protestant's Exhibit 12, if you have never had to deal with this before, then you don't know how long it would take to work its way through this project?

A. I don't even know if this is our check list or if it's a State Highway check list.

Q. State Highway check list?

A. I don't know if we would fill it out or they would fill it out because I looked on page two --

Q. Right.

A. -- traffic impact study required, not required, submitted, that's something I would check out not required all the time and they would say whether it would be required or not.

Q. Trying to get away without?

A. Yes.

Q. I understand.

A. I would think this would be on them. That's my guess.

Q. You don't know, you gave an estimate about two weeks before you got the answer on the order, at least the State got back to you on the access permit. So, there could be more involved than just coming back to you for more information if this has to be filled out.

A. Yes. This looks like it came from Prince George's County.

Q. Well, the State's using it?

A. I mean, I'm saying the job number up top is Prince George's County, we are in another district. I don't know if it's something Baltimore and Harford County uses for their submissions or they have their own separate submission.

Q. Well, it's marked as Protestant's 12 and you said you don't have to deal with this, so therefore, I will put it aside.

MS. MURPHY: So, ID only?

MR. HOLZER: No, I want it marked for exhibit, he recognizes it.

MR. SCHMIDT: I don't think he does.

MS. MURPHY: He said he wasn't familiar with the document. I'm not sure.

MR. HOLZER: We'll, leave it for ID.

MR. GARBER: Pretty much how I understood it too.

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

Q. The measurements that you put on your Exhibits 15 and 16, the group of them, from the proposed driveway, would you agree or disagree that the distance to the south is 355 feet? You might want to get up and take a look at what your --

A. This one, exhibit?

Q. Whichever exhibit answers the question?

MR. GARBER: He asked about the proposed drive.

MR. HOLZER: No, no, distance measured to the south, I'm sorry, you are right. I apologize.

MR. GARBER: That's good.

Q. From the proposed driveway.

A. From the proposed driveway.

Q. I think we are using the wrong words. First, I'm asking from the existing driveway.

A. Existing driveway.

Q. Yes.

A. A?

Q. Yes?

A. Here we have it marked 365 feet.

Q. Okay.

A. And in the letter that I submitted January 10th, I believe I added that 355 and that was a field measurement that I took with the wheel with my car parked, walking it off and sight lining it.

Q. So when I say 355, that's what you measured?

A. That's what I measured and this is the actual planned drawing with the car and using the survey.

Q. Okay. Now, at 30 miles an hour speed limit with advisory --

A. Yes.

Q. -- would it be 200 feet?

A. Would what be 200 feet?

Q. The proposed driveway or existing driveway to sight distance?

A. Sight distance required for 30 miles an hour is 335 feet.

Q. 331 feet?

A. 335.

Q. Okay, so you agree with that figure?

A. For 30 miles per hour, yes.

Q. Then at 45 miles an hour southbound on 147, would this be 496 feet?

MR. GARBER: Just for the record 147 being? Harford Road.

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

MR. GARBER: So the record is clear, that's what the reference is.

MR. SCHMIDT: Mr. Holzer, are you asking what the stopping distance is? Is that what the question was?

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

MR. SCHMIDT: I think he's answered this a couple of times.

THE WITNESS: We went through this whole testimony.

Q. Was it 496 feet? Intersection distance is the stopping distance 360 feet.

A. Stopping?

MR. GARBER: Not stopping sight distance, stopping distance.

Q. Stopping sight distance, 360.

A. For 45 miles per hour is 360 feet, yes.

Q. Right. What about in 50 miles per hour stopping sight distance?

MR. GARBER: 425. We just had that question five minutes ago.

MR. SCHMIDT: We keep asking the same question. I'm sorry, Mr. Holzer, but I think he's answered these questions.

MR. GARBER: Go on.

Q. Then do you agree with this statement? Neither the intersection sight distance nor the stopping sight distance value is met for the 45 miles per hour southbound of 147 and 50 miles per hour northbound for that speed for the speed limit, would you agree with that statement?

MR. SCHMIDT: I'm going to object. I don't know what the statement is. I guess if he can understand that.

MR. GARBER: Number one, I think he can answer the question. I don't know what the objection is. Whether he can answer the question as in literally or not, it's up to him. But there is no objection unless you have another ground, reason for that.

MR. SCHMIDT: I guess he's asking him a question about some statement. I think it would be fair to lay some foundation where the statement came from, who said it or whatever it is.

MR. GARBER: It's cross examination. He is an expert witness. He can certainly give an opinion about the statement, whether it's somebody from the field or my seven-year old kid.

MR. HOLZER: That's about my level.

THE WITNESS: Can I ask you to break it up? I believe you are asking for two different items in that question.

Q. I am. On 50 miles per hour northbound on 147 SSD, what is that?

A. Stopping sight distance.

Q. Stopping sight distance is 425 feet. ISD, what is that?

A. Intersection sight distance.

Q. Is 551 feet. Do you agree with that or not?

A. Are we talking for this sight access?

Q. Yes.

A. I don't believe those speeds are correct. I don't believe 50 miles per hour northbound is the correct speed northbound, I still believe it's 45. The pictures shown to me --

Q. Let's not belabor the point. If it was 50 miles per hour, if it was, okay, would it be 425 and 551?

A. Not at this location because you can't make that turn at 50 miles per hour.

MR. GARBER: Saying that turn, which turn?

THE WITNESS: Northbound right hand turn where the State Highway says it should be 30 miles per hour, you cannot take that at 50 miles per hour.

Q. That's subjective.

A. State Highway recommends 30 miles per hour based on proper speeds and proper studies.

Q. I'd like to get this through. If it was 50 miles an hour and if somebody chose to go 50 miles an hour in violation of what you are saying, common sense, whatever, if it was 551 feet, would that not meet the minimum State Highway requirements?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection and I'd like to be heard if I can, Mr. Garber.

MR. GARBER: Of course.

MR. SMITH: We can ask the witness what about if somebody is drunk on their phone, blind or whatever else their handicap may be, and tries to go up this road. We can go on and on with all kinds of scenarios. But as the witness has testified, neither he as a traffic engineer nor State Highway as a regulatory agency, engineers and bases it's conclusions on people acting illegally and scenarios which are highly unlikely to occur. So, to ask these questions with these scenarios about people doing these things, when this witness says he thinks it's physically not possible, is akin to asking him can we cut the access through the trees and have it right next to the turn and what happens if somebody is driving 90 miles per hour and we can go on and on. To me this provides no probative evidence which would assist the Board in making a decision in this case. I think the question is so speculative even for an expert witness it has no value. I object to the line of questioning.

MR. GARBER: We have testimony that the road can be 45 at that location, it can be 50 at that location. Even if it's 45, somehow, it's not something that's uncommon and people may have attempted that and that may explain the signage in that area as to why they recommend or advise the speed limit should be 30. So the hypothetical being that someone's driving 50 miles an hour going northbound, the intersection stop distance at 551, the query is is that applicable here?

MR. HOLZER: Does that meet the minimum State Highway standard?

MR. GARBER: Certainly, he can answer that question. Overruled.

A. So does, to repeat the question, what I am hearing --

Q. Well, the Chairman just gave it.

A. No, I want to be sure to get the question right.

Q. My question is --

A. I am going to ask the question, may I ask to answer the question so I understand it?

MR. GARBER: We'll hit the reset button, have him restate it and see where it takes us.

Q. Thank you. My question is going northbound on Maryland 147 Harford Road the SSD is 425 minimum State Highway standard and the ISD, the minimum State Highway standard is 551. Do you agree with that first of all?

MR. GARBER: Let's stop there, we have already had the answer on the stopping site distance of 425 at 50 miles an hour. So the question, if we limit it the intersection stop distance of 551, does he agree with that as the minimum standard.

MR. HOLZER: Correct.

A. For ISD, I have it at 555.

MR. GARBER: So 555.

Q. Okay. So if that were the hypothetical, okay, then is it your position that this intersection does not meet MDOT State Highway sight distance standards.

A. So you are saying if someone happens to make that turn at 50 miles an hour, that is this intersection still --

Q. Is the standard of the State minimum requirement met?

A. At 50 miles per hour, I would say no because stopping sight distance is 425.

Q. Thank you.

MR. GARBER: Could you explain the difference between intersection stopping distance and the stopping sight distance?

THE WITNESS: Absolutely.

MR. GARBER: How does that factor into where we are in the case at the moment?

THE WITNESS: Intersection sight distance is what an exiting vehicle would need to see to make a turn out into travel into the roadway to cross the roadway.

MR. GARBER: Intersection sight distance. So, Mr. Holzer's question, the vehicle going 50 miles per hour, you would need 555 feet of sight distance from the intersection.

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. GARBER: Okay and the intersection stopping doesn't apply in this case.

THE WITNESS: Stopping sight, I'm sorry?

MR. GARBER: The intersection stopping sight distance.

THE WITNESS: Intersection stopping, but I disagree on the --

MR. GARBER: That's what I'm trying to get to, where is the disagreement?

THE WITNESS: A, the speed limit is not 50 of miles per hour.

MR. GARBER: Assuming the vehicle is travelling 50 miles an hour.

THE WITNESS: Assuming the vehicle is breaking the law in traveling at excessive speeds in an area that's deemed 30 miles per hour, can that vehicle maintain the safe turn around that road without braking, of course, because you want it to be maintaining 50, and does that car have enough time to pull out say to turn left to head south before that car can stop? Now, that technically, we talked about this the last time, the stopping sight distance of 425 feet is poor reception, reaction time, wet condition, bald tires. So if the perfect storm happened and someone in a race car makes that turn at 50 miles per hour at the exact same time someone is turning left at the sight, could they impact? Potentially.

Q. That's not the question. The question is does it violate State Highway minimum standards? And it does. You said, yes.

A. You said hypothetically. A lot of it, I mean --

MR. GARBER: Go ahead.

THE WITNESS: If I may, I testified to the speed, the conditions, the actual conditions and what's trying to be asked of me is pretend somebody can travel 50 miles per hour in an area where the State recommends 30, what can happen? Of course, I have to answer to those conditions. I don't think that's the case in this condition. So, you are asking me to answer something I am not comfortable answering.

MR. GARBER: If that's your answer, that's your answer.

THE WITNESS: I've been trying to --

MR. GARBER: You expressed the fact you are not comfortable answering --

THE WITNESS: I'm sorry, I thought I had.

MR. GARBER: -- Because you feel the vehicle cannot handle the turn at that speed.

THE WITNESS: Yes and I thought I made myself clear by saying the advisory of State Highway are 30 miles per hour. They call it a ball bank and once you take that turn, the measurement goes to a measure that exceeds the safe driving to take a turn. So that's why they put the advisory speeds of 30.

MR. GARBER: Is that --

MR. HOLZER: He answered my question first when he said, yes, it does not meet the minimum standard.

THE WITNESS: For 50 miles per hour which again I do not believe you can obtain.

MR. GARBER: You follow from that.

THE WITNESS: I have been stating that.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, ask your question.

MR. HOLZER: The speed limit there is 50 miles an hour. We have proved it, but we'll prove it again. So regardless of that, that's why the question is an appropriate question and his answer is it doesn't meet the State minimum standard?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection just to Mr. Holzer testifying.

MR. GARBER: Okay. We can move on from this point.

MR. HOLZER: Good, because I think we are cross examined out.

MR. GARBER: See, look at that, worked out well.

MR. SCHMIDT: Is that it?

MR. HOLZER: That's it.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt.

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. Mr. Caloggero, there were questions Mr. Holzer asked you about turning either going north or southbound but turning into Nepali property at the driveway. And I think you described that as a free turn I think was the word I wrote down.

A. Right turn.

Q. The right turn is a free turn. I think he was asking you about that. Can you explain what a free turn is? What do you mean by that?

A. Basically, what I mean what is a free turn is when you make the turn, there is no obstruction to continue forward.

Q. So, people who would be turning into the property you would expect would just continue to drive back into the property?

A. Continue their maneuver off the record.

Q. There's no parking lot --

A. Correct.

Q. -- or gate or any reason for anybody to turn right off of Harford Road and stop in terms of getting, once they are on the driveway?

A. That's correct.

Q. The parking lot as a matter of fact is a fairly substantial distance away into the interior of the property, is it not?

A. That's correct.

Q. You also answered some questions about the design speed and I think the speed limit. Could you just explain to the Board what is the difference between a design speed and a speed limit on a road?

A. The design speed of a road is that of which the road is designed; that's why it's the design speed. So for instance, if we had a road that needed to be designed and the State Highway determined that the design speed is 50, they would go to the guidelines and apply all the 50 miles an hour design speed standards to the road.

Q. When you say design speed standards, does that mean the grade of the road, pitch of the road, type of building material, all those kinds of things?

A. All that and the safety features on the side of the road.

Q. Compare if you will of that between a speed limit; what is the speed limit?

A. In most cases speed limit is ten miles per hour below the design speed. They typically design for ten miles an hour above. However, a lot of these instances, you know, a lot of these roads have been here for a significant amount of time and the State Highway makes determinations based on their own sights or politically determined based on certain instances.

Q. Okay. You testified back during direct last week that you did examine the capacity of the road system as an issue, the capacity of Harford Road, did you not?

A. From the Baltimore County basic services map.

Q. Right, and you determined that traffic counts were not needed because there were no signalized intersections that would be impacted from a capacity standpoint, is that correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. In terms of the number of vehicles on this section of Harford Road, is there any concern that you have or analysis that you have done that this road is over-congested or overwhelmed by traffic?

A. No, sir.

Q. I guess just to conclude, so, you have looked at the existing point of intersection or access between Harford Road and the existing what I would call two lane driveway that has an inbound lane and outbound lane and concluded that under the proposal, vehicles can safely enter and exit the property based on sight distance considerations and other safety considerations?

A. Yes.

Q. And you have also at the request of the State Highway Administration submitted and prepared as shown on the documentation on the board, 15-A and B and 16-A and B an alternative to that where an outbound lane is located further to the south, I believe, is that correct?

A. North.

Q. I'm sorry, north, correct?

A. That's right.

Q. And that's an exit lane only as shown it's on your plan?

A. Correct.

Q. You have testified, I believe, that based on that that would provide an additional measure of sight distance if it were construction and installed and make conditions even better from a traffic engineering standpoint, correct?

A. Yes, that is correct.

Q. And you submitted all those drawings to the State Highway Administration?

A. Yes, I have.

Q. You have talked to the State Highway Administration?

A. Yes, I have.

Q. You advised them of your findings, answered their questions and provided the information that they requested of you?

A. Yes, I have.

Q. Have they indicated to you at this point in time they require additional information?

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt, I think this has all been covered and well understood that a conversation is ongoing, there is no final decision that is left open, he's submitted everything that they have to date. There doesn't seem to be any issue as to those things to lead to any recross of the same questions we have already the answers to.

MR. SCHMIDT: Then I have no further questions.

MR. HOLZER: I think the Board has questions.

MS. MURPHY: You indicated you didn't do any traffic counts, correct?

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MS. MURPHY: Doesn't this Board need to know the traffic counts in order to weigh the special exception factors in terms of congestion on the road, regardless what is SHA is requiring and the County is requiring, don't we need to know that?

THE WITNESS: I don't think so. But again, maybe again, when I look at this type of situation and looking at either the proposed day-to-day operations as was told by me or looking at the State Highway Administration trips that they are proposing, we look at a lot of peak hours, the trips are going to be in my opinion more de minimus during the morning and evening peak hours, whereas, we are looking at the safety features of the road versus the volume on the road.

MS. MURPHY: Regardless of what the SHA requires in terms of access and social events, this Court has a different duty in terms of weighing factors in special exceptions cases. Don't we need to know what the traffic counts and the volume of traffic even in special events and limited events, that's what's being proposed here.

THE WITNESS: I don't know if you are telling me you need that.

MS. MURPHY: I am asking you as an expert witness testifying for the Petitioner. You have testified in other cases, you have testified in other cases did you put in evidence of traffic counts and traffic sites.

THE WITNESS: In cases where it may be required.

MS. MURPHY: Required by who? I mean, I don't care about the State Highway. I'm inquiring for this Board and we what need to have to weigh?

THE WITNESS: I don't have the information you are requesting.

MS. MURPHY: How about with the accidents, you didn't do any accident studies?

THE WITNESS: No.

MS. MURPHY: Okay. Also don't we need that information to weigh whether or not there is a danger on the road under the special exceptions factor and the conditions of the road?

THE WITNESS: With my testimony I am presenting to you that it's a safe access.

MS. MURPHY: Well, not the access. I don't care about entering and exiting. This is a different question. This has to do with accidents on that road in front of that. So, congestion on that road and there is another factor which is danger on the road, panic, fire or other dangers. Let's say an accident is a danger, does that weigh on your opinion? Does that weigh in terms of something you need to know to give us an opinion?

THE WITNESS: Typically, volume, typically, when you are looking at the safety aspects of a road, a lot of times volume doesn't come into consideration because the road is either safe or not safe for the conditions that they are supposed to be traveled. So as you are driving say northbound or southbound approaching these turns and the State Highway Administration is advising you to drive this road at 30 miles per hour, a two lane road without passing zone and if you are following the signs and following the speed limits, you are going to navigate this road properly as I have done numerous times, I can't testify to all the residents there, they more than likely have done that numerous times as well, it doesn't make the road unsafe as long as you are traveling it to the conditions that are out there.

MS. MURPHY: But an accident by definition is somebody who hasn't done that. So, isn't it important for us to know at this locale how many accidents have occurred at the entrance on this stretch of road. Maybe not the ones on Harford Road at the other end, but isn't that something we need to know.

THE WITNESS: Again, I'm going with the design or the actual physical aspects of the road itself. If the conditions are safe --

MS. MURPHY: In a perfect world.

THE WITNESS: In a perfect world if people were to drive it --

MS. MURPHY: But accidents by definition are not --

THE WITNESS: They are called crashes.

MS. MURPHY: Whatever you want to call it, collisions, crashes, your testimony is your opinion is that doesn't factor into your opinion doesn't change the nature of what you testified to; if you found out there were a hundred accidents right in front of entrance, that wouldn't matter?

THE WITNESS: You are asking me that specifically if there were a hundred accidents at this intersection or 50, whatever the number, there is an extreme high number of incidents right at this location, then, yes, I would have to take that under consideration. That information was not presented under cross, that was something completely different presented under cross.

MS. MURPHY: I realize that. I'm asking a different question.

THE WITNESS: I'm looking at it from the prospective of the road itself.

MS. MURPHY: How many accidents would it take to change your than opinion? Would 20 make a difference, 30 make a difference?

MR. GARBER: Per year, 20, 30 per year?

MS. MURPHY: Exactly, annually.

THE WITNESS: Truly, I am not trying to avoid your question, it's a larger calculation of vehicle miles traveled over a year and new risk calculations, the number of accidents specifically at an intersection.

MS. MURPHY: I realize that. But I'm saying in front of this access point.

THE WITNESS: I can't give you that number because it's a bigger number than three accidents. I have to look at the vehicle miles traveled along this section of the road, the number of vehicles, the number of accidents and make a calculation and then the State compares it to other similar locations that have these types of conditions to determine if this would be a high crash location in which improvements may or may not be needed.

MS. MURPHY: I'm not talking about improvements to the road.

THE WITNESS: The crashes that warrant improvements?

MS. MURPHY: I'm just talking about your opinion in terms of the special exceptions factors, which is the only issue in this case which we have to weigh. In deciding this case, there's nine factors. Regardless of the access point, it's your opinion as I understand it there are no specific number of accidents that would sway you one way or the other? Is that I am what I am hearing?

THE WITNESS: My opinion is the road is safe for the conditions the State Highway Administration --

MS. MURPHY: I know you said that. That's not what my question was.

THE WITNESS: I don't know the number of accidents.

MS. MURPHY: That's what I am asking. If you don't, then you don't. I was curious as to whether you had enough.

MR. GARBER: You indicated that nothing was presented to you on cross. You were presented with Protestant's Exhibit 10 just for ID only, that you were reported there were 41 accidents between Hartley Mill and Glen Arm Road between January 1st, 2016 and April 1st, 2018. Do you need to see the table again?

THE WITNESS: I have it.

MR. GARBER: Let's assume all 41 accidents occurred in the strip from the, the first bend Is heading northbound to exit the site after the State Highway property. Let's assume that all 41 occurred. And I have no information that's what's going on. Assuming that to be the case, would that change anything in terms of your opinions?

THE WITNESS: I'd have to take a detailed look as to what the contributing factors are for said crashes.

MR. GARBER: You would need to know the details of each accident to make an assessment as to whether or not there is a particular danger in that stretch of roadway.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MR. GARBER: Would your answer be the same if it was half of that, if it was 20 accidents?

THE WITNESS: Again, yes, the answer is the same. It's very important to understand the characteristics of each accident.

MR. GARBER: If it was half of the 20, down to ten, it would be the same?

THE WITNESS: Again, yes.

MR. GARBER: We can keep dividing in half until we are down to one or some fraction, it would be the same.

THE WITNESS: What most engineers do, they look for patterns. What are the patterns of the accident that are occurring in this area? When I did my routine survey assessment, what did I see? I see in both directions the State Highway Administration has put up the reverse turn signs of 30 miles per hour speed limits, advisory speed in both directions, there's chevron arrow signs in both directions around both sides of the road. There's the turn arrow to help people come around the turn. There is, there was no delineators in the road, the delineators as in the reflectors that help people guide around the turn. I believe some of those have been the taken out with snow plows or other means. There are also the rumble strips that are in the middle of the road so that as people are navigating the road, if they travel off on to the center line, it's another warning saying, hey, too fast to the right, get back in your lane. There is also a street light above or at the intersection of the access in Napoleon. I think they are trying to highlight that area with lights to try to help people navigate the road.

So, the State highway has in my opinion has been reviewing this area and providing numerous measures. But again, if people are traveling at too fast for the conditions, because the speed limit is 45 miles an hour coming southbound, and I have seen it northbound as well, I know we are disagreeing on that, they don't mix and match the 45 miles an hour speed to 50 miles an hour, they'll keep the whole road at 45 miles an hour, they will modify it. The State Highway is taking all these measures of correctness to either highlight the safety of the area or make sure it's more safe. But again, if people are traveling it too fast for the conditions, that's hard to correct.

MR. GARBER: To be fair, you don't know when any of these, I am not going to call them traffic control measures, but the signage, rumble strips, you don't know when they were installed.

THE WITNESS: I do not.

MR. GARBER: Ms. Dopkin.

MS. DOPKIN: You mentioned the absence of passing zones and I was wondering based on the topography on the east side of Harford Road and the State Highway Administration, is there the potential to install or that the SHA would require a deceleration lane for entering the property?

THE WITNESS: There's always the possibility.

MS. DOPKIN: Is it physically possible?

THE WITNESS: I don't think one is warranted based on the peak hour turns.

MS. DOPKIN: That's not the question.

THE WITNESS: I'm sorry.

MS. DOPKIN: Is it physically doable? Are the contours such that you could do it?

THE WITNESS: I think the contours would present a challenge.

MS. DOPKIN: A challenge?

THE WITNESS: Significant challenge. The grades are significant on the west. On the east side of the road.

MS. DOPKIN: East side of the road near the entrance. Then coming south where the shark fin is, could there be a bypass lane because the State owns the right of way? Again, are the contours --

THE WITNESS: The State owns the right of way to the north of Bonapart, but they do not to the south. So on the south side, if I may approach --

MS. DOPKIN: But the proposed entrance is north of Bonapart.

THE WITNESS: To provide a pass lane, you have to bring it back in accordingly. This house on the southwest corner, their property is right adjacent to the roadway. A lot of that property would have to be obtained for any left turn or bypass lanes.

MS. DOPKIN: Thank you.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, in light of those questions, do you have follow up?

RECROSS EXAMINATION

BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. I have a question based on Mr. Schmidt's questioning in terms of the traffic count. It seems to me that your testimony related to the road and the traffic is not taking into consideration that the State Highway Administration required the circle on north of the subject site, and if the State Highway wanted to amend Harford Road by creating a circle as opposed to a regular intersection, that there must be some traffic issue that caused them to do that.

Now, do you agree with me that there is traffic, a traffic count could possibly be the reason that they ask for a circle or created a circle north of the subject site?

A. They take all factors into consideration when looking at alternative intersection measures. Once you get to that control measure, in my opinion you would look at a four way stop, a roundabout or a traffic signal.

Q. Okay.

A. And based on whatever State Highway used in their determination, decide that a roundabout was the best solution for that intersection.

Q. That implies to me, although again, I am just a lawyer, not a traffic engineer or expert like you, but that implies to me the fact that there was a significant amount of traffic going north and south on Harford Road which necessitated some remedial action on the part of the cross street, which I can't remember the name of the street that goes across.

A. Glen Arm or Mount Vista.

Q. Yes, where the circle is. So there has to be a reason why the State Highway Administration required that intersection to be changed from a normal intersection to the circular and could not that be the fact that the traffic count has increased on Harford Road substantially?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. Just because it's narrative testimony and then putting a question mark again at the end of it. I mean, it's just an improper question, Mr. Garber.

MR. GARBER: Well Mr. Holzer has his own style. The question is fine, that is, in your experience there would be some type of increase in traffic count to necessitate SHA'S decision to necessitate a change, design change in the layout.

THE WITNESS: There could be numerous factors involved. There could have been accidents at that location. They may use that to try to slow down all the speeds to travel southbound, so you are not coming from straight southbound to make a 30 miles per hour turn. It could be the cross street travel increased significantly which causes delays to people trying to cross or make a left turn at the intersection. That could create an issue. So, it doesn't necessarily mean that traffic was increased on Harford Road.

MR. GARBER: So, it could be related to increase of traffic on Harford Road, but it could be due to other factors or it could be a combination of a whole bunch of factors.

THE WITNESS: Absolutely.

MR. GARBER: So that --

MR. HOLZER: I am happy.

MR. GARBER: Are you done with your questions?

MR. HOLZER: Yes, I only had the one.

MR. SCHMIDT: I have questions in view of the Board's question.

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. Mr. Caloggero, we are on the discussion as to why State Highway may have installed the roundabout at the intersection of Harford, Mount Vista and Glen Arm Roads. Could it be that the intersection there was not in alignment in terms of the fact that the intersection was not a 90 degree for each traffic movement?

A. Yes, that could be another factor.

Q. Couldn't that be a driving factor if the roads didn't match, when I say match, lead up to a certain way so they were aligned?

A. Sure.

Q. Mr. Caloggero, I'm going to show you an aerial photograph taken off of the county GIS system.

MR. GARBER: To identify for the record --

MR. SCHMIDT: I am not identifying it.

MR. GARBER: This was Petitioner's Exhibit 21.

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes.

MR. GARBER: There you go.

MR. SCHMIDT: I ask it be marked Exhibit 21 at this point. This is a slightly a little bit of a different scale and doesn't show everything that that one shows.

MR. GARBER: Does it show everything as the earlier one?

MR. SCHMIDT: Maybe that's the easier way to do it. Thank you. Yes, this is actually better.

MR. HOLZER: So are we canning 21?

MR. SMITH: We are canning 21.

MR. HOLZER: Feeding it to the shark, so to speak.

Q. I'm going to show you, I believe, I don't know how many of these you may have, Ms. Murphy, but it's marked Petitioner's Exhibit Number 2, if you want to give one so each Board member has a copy.

Mr. Holster, Petitioner's Exhibit Number 2.

MR. GARBER: Are you asking about the Glen Arm/Mount Vista intersection?

MS. MURPHY: Go ahead, you can ask questions.

MR. SCHMIDT: I'll hold it up so everybody can see it, Board members and Mr. Caloggero.

Q. Mr. Caloggero, I'll refer you to what has been previously accepted into evidence in this case as Petitioner's Exhibit Number 2. Let me ask you, sir, does this show the intersection at the time this picture was taken of Mount Vista, Glen Arm and Harford Roads?

A. Yes, it does.

Q. And was this photograph taken before the roundabout was installed?

A. Yes.

Q. Can you describe the intersection, is it across, 90-degree cross intersection?

A. It's a four legged intersection where Glen Arm Road is coming in at approximately 90-degree angle, Mount Vista looks about 30 or 60 degrees.

Q. Now having seen this, Mr. Caloggero, as a traffic engineer, would the fact that this intersection is configured in this manner be significant justification in your mind to install a roundabout at this location in order to make that intersection more navigable and safe for all the traffic on all the roads?

MR. HOLZER: Objection. Objection. He just finished testifying there can be numerous reasons why he had not done the analysis, he had not done the investigation, and repeatedly, I have been excused of asking the same thing, but repeatedly he said the answer to that, it's an objectionable question to ask him for his opinion at this stage after those answers.

MR. GARBER: Also, he's already testified that the change in the traffic circle could be due to traffic counts, could be due to any number of factors. You have already asked him, including the fact that the roads align in a perfect or basic cross or T section --

MR. HOLZER: Right.

MR. GARBER: -- or at 90-degree angles on all corners, which that intersection clearly is not 90 degree angles on all corners and that may be the reason why the traffic circle is there. Any further explanation gets into the SHA decision making that we are not here for.

MR. HOLZER: And I am deliberately asking, Mr. Garber, not to comment on why SHA did this. I asked him as a traffic engineer, he's a qualified engineer. I assume he has an opinion he can express an opinion about the design or condition of intersections. And what I asked him is in his opinion, not to get into the mind of the SHA, would the configuration of this intersection before it was improved in and of itself be a factor that was significant enough that could result in the installation of the roundabout in his opinion.

MR. GARBER: In isolation, the fact that it does not line up with the 90 degree corners --

MR. SCHMIDT: That fact in and of itself drives the need for a roundabout.

MR. HOLZER: Objection.

MS. MURPHY: I am pretty sure he agrees with you.

MR. GARBER: I understood that by implication because he said the SHA may take that as implication or factor and, therefore, he was agreeing with that. Mr. Holzer, you had something to say?

MR. HOLZER: Yes, I object to his testifying at that because he's already said he doesn't understand what they did. He didn't explore it.

MR. GARBER: His question is different.

MR. SCHMIDT: My question is not asking him to get into the minds of SHA.

MR. GARBER: I will say this, I am not sure where it would be important to hear what his personal opinion is as to whether or not it is, when he's already said or agreed with you it could have been a factor, legitimate factor for them to consider.

MR. SCHMIDT: I think it's important, I think it's relevant that this expert witness testify if it's his opinion, since there has been an inference or speculation as to what the reasons were from SHA and I am sure we can produce evidence maybe as to why these improvements were made, but I think it's a fair question, appropriate question to ask Mr. Caloggero if in his opinion the configuration of this intersection is in and of itself a sufficient basis to install a roundabout.

MR. GARBER: I think we understood that from his testimony.

MR. HOLZER: I'll withdraw my the objection.

MR. GARBER: We can move on.

MR. HOLZER: Let him say that.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer and Mr. Schmidt, we understood that from his earlier testimony as to that being a potential factor as to why the SHA did what it did. We don't need to know what his personal opinion was as if he was to be like the Grand Puba of SHA as to whether or not he's going to determine what you want to put it.

MR. SCHMIDT: Thank you.

Q. Mr. Caloggero, let me move on to something else. You have been out to this site four or five times?

A. Yes.

Q. You drive this road you said approximately once a week, correct?

A. Correct.

Q. Based on your experience with this road, where is the nearest traffic intersection, I'm sorry, traffic red light?

A. There is one to the north at, north, north of the traffic signal.

Q. North of the traffic signal.

A. North of the roundabout, north of the roundabout, is it Fork?

MR. GARBER: Fork Road?

A. Fork and Sunshine, I believe.

MR. GARBER: The next intersection, I believe, is Fork Road.

A. I'd have to look at my map, but I think the one to the south is at North Wind.

Q. How far away, if you know?

A. Significantly south, where the signals in my opinion are not influential to the operation.

Q. The choke points or operation of the signal which would stop traffic eventually leading to congestion or back up, do these traffic signals impact at this point traffic?

A. No.

Q. Have you ever noticed any undue levels of congestion where the vehicles are not moving or stopped which would the affect the flow of traffic in this area?

A. No, it would not.

Q. What time of the day have you driven here?

A. It depends, throughout the day at numerous times. Sometimes you are in platoons of traffic, platoons of may five or 10 cars catch up to each other traverse through the area at a reasonable speed, but that does not create a flow of traffic congestion.

Q. Has there been any evidence, anecdotal or otherwise, that you have reviewed or seen that suggest as there is any type of capacity or congestion issue on this stretch of Harford Road? When I say on this stretch of Harford Road, the section of Harford Road which is shown on Petitioner's Exhibit 15-A?

MR. HOLZER: Objection. It's an improper question because he's already testified he didn't do any analysis of traffic counts.

MR. SCHMIDT: That's my point --

MR. GARBER: I don't think he's talking from that prospective.

MR. SCHMIDT: -- he doesn't need to do traffic counts if he's been up and down the road hundreds of times.

MR. GARBER: Hold on. Hold on. I agree with what Mr. Schmidt is saying here. Anecdotally, does he feel that the roads are congested since he's someone who travels it on occasion with some frequency but still on occasion, as opposed to doing strict traffic counts in connection with his being a traffic engineer.

MR. HOLZER: Then, Your Honor, the way for the Board to address this testimony, is that if he is using his own personal knowledge of riding up and down, he's in no different situation --

MR. GARBER: It's not expert testimony.

MR. HOLZER: It's not expert testimony.

MR. GARBER: I agree with you. It would be anecdotal. Same thing as anybody on your side that would be getting up to say the same thing. It has nothing to do with being an expert in that regard.

MR. HOLZER: I just wanted the evidence not coming in not as expert testimony.

MR. GARBER: It's not perceived as expert testimony, it would be received as factual.

MR. HOLZER: Yes, thank you.

MR. SCHMIDT: Mr. Garber, do I understand your ruling that the only way an expert can render an opinion is if he does a traffic count? He's not allowed to render an opinion based on his own personal observations of the circumstances here.

MR. GARBER: Absolutely is, that's a lay opinion in this case.

MR. SCHMIDT: It's a lay opinion?

MR. GARBER: That would be a lay opinion. It is no different than anyone on this side of the aisle, they can come up and say the exact same thing. It adds nothing by way as if coming from an expert witness because it doesn't require any type of studies or anything on his part, his expertise to have his observations conveyed in the testimony.

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, sir, I understand your ruling.

Q. Mr. Caloggero, as an expert witness, why didn't you do traffic counts here?

A. Because Baltimore County is outside of the, it's outside the transportation zone.

Q. Outside the area?

A. Yes.

MS. MURPHY: What difference does that make?

THE WITNESS: Because the capacity is okay. If it's outside of the area of influence according to the Baltimore County Basic Services Manual. It's in an acceptable traffic shed which means there is available capacity of the roadway.

MS. MURPHY: That's for the purposes of basic services.

THE WITNESS: It's compatible.

MS. MURPHY: That's a different issue. Basic services is a different issue.

THE WITNESS: But it's based on capacity. We can agree to disagree but it's based on capacity.

MR. SCHMIDT: I don't have any further questions of the witness.

MR. HOLZER: No further questions.

MR. GARBER: All right. Mr. Caloggero, congratulations.

THE WITNESS: I am having so much fun.

MR. GARBER: After a week, you are finally done.

THE WITNESS: Thank you.

MR. GARBER: Next up, Mr. Schmidt.

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, I would call Rob Powell.

MR. GARBER: Do you need a minute or two or are you fine to proceed.

MR. SCHMIDT: I am fine to proceed.

MR. GARBER: Very well. Do we have the witness. Here we go.

MR. SCHMIDT: While he's doing that, can we get the site plan, put it on the board?

JAMES ROBERT POWELL,

a witness of lawful age, being produced on behalf of the Petitioner, having been first duly sworn in accordance with law, was examined and testified as follows:

MS. DOPKIN: Please the state your name and address for the record, spelling your last name.

THE WITNESS: James Robert Powell, P O W E L L.

MS. DOPKIN: And your address?

THE WITNESS: 421 Rockway Road, Baltimore, Maryland, 21228.

MR. GARBER: Is that home or work address?

THE WITNESS: Both.

MR. GARBER: What company are you with?

THE WITNESS: I am self employed consultant.

MR. GARBER: Okay. I wanted to ask, I don't want to ask your title if you are self employed.

THE WITNESS: Me, myself and I.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. Mr. Powell, you indicate you are self employed at the present time, is that correct?

A. Correct.

Q. Previous to your self employment, where did you work?

A. Baltimore County Department of Environment.

Q. How long did you work for the Baltimore County Department of Environment?

A. Thirty-seven years four months and change.

Q. I assume you retired from the County?

A. Yes.

Q. When did you retire from the County?

A. November, 2014.

Q. How many years did you say you worked there?

A. Thirty-seven.

Q. During your 37 years of employment with the County, can you tell us what you did in the Department of Environment? I think you probably predated becoming Department of Environment?

A. Yes, we were the Health Department back in those days. I was up supervisor of the soil evaluation section. I conducted soil tests, supervised employees conducting soil tests for new construction or repair of failing septic systems, reviewed septic plans, et cetera.

Q. Did you do that kind of work in your entire career in Baltimore County?

A. Yes.

Q. At the end of the day you were the supervisor, the head man in that department within the Environmental Protection?

A. It's a section within a section, being section chief, I guess would be a better term.

Q. How many septic systems proposed or existing would you say you have evaluated over the years?

A. Thousands.

Q. Have you ever been during your course of the employment at Baltimore County, did you ever testify before the Board of Appeals or what was then the Zoning Commissioner Administrative Law Judge about septic issues?

A. I did.

Q. Do you have any type or is there any type of state registration or designation for people who work in septic fields septic systems?

A. There's a Board administered by the Department of Environment called a Licensed Environmental Health Specialist. It's a licensure that requires renewal every two years along with 20 hours of continuing education credits.

Q. Do you hold that certification presently?

A. I do.

Q. How long have you been an Environmental Specialist, Licensed Environmental Specialist?

A. At least 33 years, 33-35.

Q. I would offer Mr. Powell as a Licensed Environmental Specialist. Obviously, he's going to give testimony of the potential septic system for the use on this property.

MR. GARBER: Just to the slow that down, what is he being offered as expert in?

MR. SCHMIDT: A Licensed Environmental Specialist, I believe it's called, Mr. Powell?

THE WITNESS: Licensed Environmental Health Specialist.

MR. SCHMIDT: Environmental Health Specialist. He's going to render an opinion about the feasibility of a septic system to serve the proposed use on this property.

MR. GARBER: Okay. I am just, quick question here for me. You said you were the Section Chief because you described as section within a section, so which section.

THE WITNESS: Field supervisor. That would be the official term would have been Sanitarian III in the old days.

MR. GARBER: But you are a Field Supervisor and what was the section?

THE WITNESS: The Soil Evaluation Section.

MR. GARBER: Soil Evaluation Section. That was the level you reached at the time of retirement?

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MR. GARBER: I wanted to make sure I had the right designations. Mr. Holzer, any questions for Mr. Powell?

CROSS EXAMINATION ON QUALIFICATIONS

BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. I had one, but I am not sure I should ask it now. I was going to ask, when I heard 37 years, I was going to ask you, were you here when I was the County Attorney in 1978, but when I did the calculations --

A. I was.

Q. You were? Okay. Okay. You were in at that time the Health Department and I was the County Attorney?

A. Correct.

Q. And you were doing the same sort of thing?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And then subsequently through multiple changes of that Department of the Environment, all that stuff, you still stayed doing the same thing?

A. Correct.

MR. HOLZER: I have had the pleasure of having Mr. Powell as a witness that I had to cross examine years ago throughout those 37 years and I look forward to this, but he's certainly acceptable.

MR. GARBER: Admitted as proffered.

DIRECT EXAMINATION (CONTINUED)

BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. Mr. Powell, you have been to this property?

A. I have.

Q. How many times, do you know?

A. Twice.

Q. Okay. Are you familiar with the condition of the property, the soils of the property and the other sort of geographic or topographic features considered as relates to the feasibility of the septic system here?

A. When I conducted the inspection, we walked over the property, evaluated where one of the existing septic systems were, found the well location, the existing well location, and a general recognizance of the topography as well as other conditions.

Q. How about the soils or the soil conditions, is that a factor that you would ultimately consider?

A. We did not conduct any soil evaluation test. We used the USDA Soil Survey Manual to evaluate the soil series. The soils are mapped as a matter series as deep well drained, imposes little or no limitations regarding on site waste soil, waste disposal as a general evaluation.

Q. Okay. Let me ask you, Mr. Powell, just a little bit about the process in this case, the applicant getting approval of a septic system for the property for the use. What would they generally do and I assume that hasn't changed since you left and retired. What steps will they go through in order to get a septic system review and approval?

A. The initial step in a non residential situation would be a water usage report which I was contracted by the Congregation to provide, which I did. I spoke at length with a Board member. We visited the site twice and came up with a letter of usage based on the information provided to me using design guidelines for flows from the Maryland Department of Environment.

Q. Okay. And I am going to show you what is labeled, Ms. Murphy, I am going to have to give you a couple more copies of this, which I will get to you, but I am going to show you a document. You have a scope of it?

A. I do.

Q. Very well. So, I can give you three and I have one as well of a document in fact called a Water Usage Summary. Is this the document you are referring to and prepared?

A. Yes.

MR. SCHMIDT: And I am going to ask it be marked Petitioner's Exhibit 22, I believe it is.

MR. GARBER: Well, we had 21, but you withdrew 21.

MS. MURPHY: You were going to use the aerial but used Number Two.

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, so it's 21.

MR. GARBER: The aerial was not received in evidence is not for identification. That's why this is 21.

MR. SCHMIDT: That's fine, that's fine.

MR. HOLZER: Could I interject, is there a resume that normally one presents a resume; in this case is there a resume of Mr. Powell?

MR. SCHMIDT: Mr. Powell's credentials are such I didn't think it was needed. He's only been employed at Baltimore County, so there's not a history of a lot of employment. It's over 30 years.

MR. HOLZER: All right. I just asked the question. I didn't need a long explanation.

MR. SCHMIDT: I am giving you an explanation, long or short.

(Petitioner's Exhibit Number 21 was admitted into evidence.)

MR. GARBER: So we are back to Petitioner's Exhibit 21. Sorry for the interruption.

Q. Mr. Powell, the document I have offered or asked you to identify, is that the Water Usage Summary you prepared?

A. It is.

Q. I don't want you to read it to the Board, I am going too submit it, but generally tell us what that is, how it was prepared, whether it's been submitted and reviewed and accepted or not.

A. First we meet with the property owners and/or developers to establish a pattern of usage, especially in a situation where it's not something standard like a residence. A residence, MDE, assigns, Maryland Department of Environment, assigns 150 gallons flow per bedroom per day. With a non residential application, each site is different and usage is different and each usage is different so it's inherent before you prepare the report to evaluate what the intended usage is and get to the details, how many people are visiting the site? On what occasions is food being served? Is food being prepared onsite or offsite? Will there be portable facilities for outside functions, are they going to use inside facilities? All that factors into an anticipated sewage flow which is factored into the preparation of the Water Usage Summary.

Q. Did you consider all those factors here?

A. I did.

Q. Kind of breaking it down, did you look at what I would say would be the typical usage say during the week?

A. I broke it down into the actual usage for a weekday, whether it be meetings and/or office staff in the building versus and also looked at gatherings for high holidays and festivals.

Q. And I think that's noted in your report, is it not?

A. Along with weddings and what wouldn't be proposed and would not be in the building. I looked at, I asked the question specific to the site. I asked for all halls or churches, is there going to be a hall where food is served? The answer to that was no. Is the hall going to be rented out to either outsiders or to be used by members? The answer to that again was no. They told me the hall is specifically for religious purposes. There would not even be seating in the hall. The only time the hall would be used for anything else other than prayer would be for a wedding and the wedding would be, those in attendance would be the priest, the couple and immediate family only. All other functions outside of the wedding, like a reception, would be held in an offsite venue.

Q. How many bathrooms are there in the building, if you know?

A. One and a half on the first floor and two and a half on the second.

Q. Is there any proposed change to that in terms of number of facilities?

A. To my knowledge, no.

Q. Is there a commercial kitchen in the facility?

A. There is not.

Q. There is a previous residential kitchen, but is the there a difference between a commercial kitchen and residential kitchen?

A. Commercial kitchen is when you have fryers and ovens, Code requires a hood with fire suppression and although I don't know the exact cost, I have been told those figures are well into the five figures. In addition, all the surfaces have to be stainless steel. The appliances must be stainless steel and cleaned. None of the appliances in there are stainless steel. It's residential appliances for a residential kitchen.

Q. Now, you prepared this water use summary report submitted to Baltimore County?

A. Yes.

MR. SCHMIDT: I would offer as the witness has described it as Exhibit 21.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer.

MR. HOLZER: I don't know whether I can approve it or object to it at this point. If he is submitting it, he's submitting it.

MR. GARBER: So admitted.

(Petitioner's Exhibit Number 21 was admitted into evidence.)

Q. And Mr. Powell has that been to the best of your knowledge reviewed by Baltimore County?

A. We met with Mr. Kotroco, myself, Craig Rogers, him members of the groundwater management section of the Baltimore County Department of Environment. We presented our proposal, I explained the proposal and I received word back from Mr. Rogers two weeks later that the proposal was accepted. There was no approval to it, it's accepted because the sewage disposal reserve area will be based on the anticipated flows, peak flows that were outlined in my outside in my correspondence.

MR. GARBER: So the plan was approved? S.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MR. GARBER: So, that was communicated by phone or writing?

THE WITNESS: By phone by Mr. Rogers.

Q. You mentioned peak flows. What do you mean when you say that?

A. MDE regulations require that the design of septic system be based on peak sewage flow. The maximum daily flow for any given day of the year and there are guidelines regarding gallons per seat or gallons per person, depending on the type much venue being proposed. But the actual flows are about 60 percent of that. For example, a four bedroom house under MDE designed guidelines has a peek design flow of 600 gallons per day. It's based on two persons per bedroom, 75 gallons per person per day. I would venture to say that nobody has used that much water for a four bedroom house.

Q. Based on that, what is the next step to go through in order to obtain approval for a septic system.

A. We would have to file for a soil percolation test application, showing the plan depicting the area and number of tests to be conducted. The tests would be conducted by the personnel from the Department of Environment and the decision rendered by the Department of Environment at that time.

Q. They would then, what, approve the location and design of the proposed septic facilities, is that how it works?

A. They would approve it or needed additional tests to move to an additional area, they would do that. There is ample room on the site for additional tests if some reason the test results were not satisfactory.

Q. Okay, I don't know whether you want to use the plan, Mr. Powell, but I understand the perk tests have not yet been conducted, is that correct?

A. To my knowledge as of about three or four days ago.

Q. Okay. Based on your knowledge of the site though and based on your knowledge of the soils, I assume or have you experience with other property in the vicinity of Baltimore County during your 37 years where you have approved septic systems in this area?

A. Each site is different. Each property is site specific. When I was employed by the County, I probably went above and beyond because people would come to me and ask me, what do you think of this, should I buy, what do you think the chances are to pass a soil test. And I would render an opinion based on geology, soils, what I know of the hydrology of the area, topography, all those enter into it and based on what I have seen on site and the mapping of the soils for this property, I feel confident that there will be a true septic area on this property to meet the intended usage.

Q. If the septic system is approved here based on the conclusions you just expressed, will there be any in your view from the operation of that system and a septic system, would there be any impact on other properties, other septic systems on other properties, other adjacent wells or anything like that?

A. The septic system, given the topography and steep slopes that abut the western part of the cleared area and the eastern part would tell me there couldn't be a septic area within probably two or 300 feet --

MR. GARBER: I'm sorry, cannot be?

THE WITNESS: Cannot be. Those slopes are in excess of 25 percent. MDE regulations prohibit system or septic areas on 25 percent slopes, and furthermore, they required minimum setback of 25 feet from the slopes of the subject area.

Q. And do we have room on this property for a septic system in view of those slopes?

A. Yes.

Q. Plenty of room?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay.

MR. GARBER: You said 150 feet from the property line?

THE WITNESS: About 300.

MR. GARBER: 300 feet. Sorry.

MR. SCHMIDT: I don't have any other questions, Mr. Powell.

MR. GARBER: Just a general, I don't believe you answered the question as to whether or not it will impact adjacent properties, whether septic, well or other.

THE WITNESS: Oh, well, yes. This is an unconfined act which means the wells receive recharge from the rainfall and the surface infiltration within one or two acres area of the well site.

MR. GARBER: I am sorry.

THE WITNESS: Within one or two acres of the well site. It's not a coastal plane well where they are receiving the water from miles off site. The recharge area for this well is basically on its own property.

Q. And that applies to the other properties as well, depending on how the other property are, their wells are like in a confined area.

A. It's also unconfined aquifer, yes.

MS. DOPKIN: Was it also your testimony that the septic system would not affect adjacent property or would?

THE WITNESS: Correct, yes, they would if the system would not.

MR. GARBER: You can say that though we don't have a design or plan at the moment as to where it will be within the set location.

THE WITNESS: Like I said before, they can't be on steep slopes and the steep slopes surround, if I may -- Well, this plan doesn't show the topography, but their steep slope was here.

MR. GARBER: You are showing to the west steep slope.

THE WITNESS: To the west and below the three bedroom tenant house down towards the stream, that's all steep slopes.

MR. GARBER: What about toward the south?

THE WITNESS: The system would not be placed in that location. One, the existing system we believe is there that we are not going to be using.

And it gets in the lower topographic setting, which I am not comfortable placing the septic area.

MR. SCHMIDT: Where do you think it will be, Mr. Rogers?

THE WITNESS: Probably right in here.

MR. GARBER: Why don't you show us and also describe it for the record.

MR. SCHMIDT: If you can describe it on the features on that plan, either distances or in relation to dwellings or buildings.

THE WITNESS: It will be probably several hundred feet below the existing building used for worship just to obtain gravity fall at the lower level, basement level, for no other reasons than that.

MR. GARBER: Several hundred feet to the south of it?

THE WITNESS: Yes, sir.

MR. GARBER: Therefore, I assume then that the one that you think will be put in that location, that will be north of the existing one.

THE WITNESS: Yes, sir.

MR. GARBER: Because you said the existing one was even to the south.

THE WITNESS: The existing one I have been told is down by the barn. I advised the clients that rather than trying to attempt to use a system that is quite old that the County had no records on or property that's been vacant, I was told, four or five years, there is no way to assess its functionality. It would be best just to abandon it and do a whole new system so you know what you have going in rather than guess work.

MR. GARBER: Are there any other features of the property that define the location as to where the septic field could be?

THE WITNESS: There is an existing drilled well in a pit that used to serve the facility somewhere just above the existing, called the existing shed, the old pool house. It's in the pit. It's a drill well in a pit. It's not grouted by the nature of its construction. I recommended the well be abandoned. They were planning on abandoning it anyway and drill a new well somewhere in the vicinity off to the corner of the building right here.

MR. GARBER: But my question was are there any other environmental features of the property that could confine where the septic field came down?

THE WITNESS: Other than the slopes and the actual regulations say 100 feet off of bodies of water not in the swales, but professional judgment dictates you don't go down to the barn, you stay high.

MR. GARBER: So, it would not be near any streams? What did you say?

THE WITNESS: Streams.

MR. GARBER: Not be near any streams and not be near any slopes.

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. GARBER: And just to follow up to something. You were moving kind of quick there. The next step, assuming this goes forward, the next step in terms of well and septic, you would have to go to soil perk test?

THE WITNESS: Yes, sir.

MR. GARBER: So you find the soil perk area and then that test is submitted to the Department of Environment for a decision?

THE WITNESS: Generally, the decision is made on the spot. And what happens then is the client would then hire a well driller to meet with the County on the property to identify a spot where the well could be drilled, the driller files for a permit with the County to drill a well, and then he goes out and drills, and files a completion report when done.

MR. GARBER: What about septic?

THE WITNESS: Septic would not be designed prior to the building permit. At that point in time a design that would be shown on the plan where the building permit would be approved and the clients would then hire a licensed septic contractor to install the system.

MS. DOPKIN: Is there also a requirement for a septic user area?

THE WITNESS: There is the State regulations for new construct or subdivision or land require a septic reserve area of 10,000 square feet. That's based on the assumption that that's the number for one installation and two repairs.

For a larger non residential property, Baltimore County Department of Environment either code or regulations or policy, I'm not sure which, requires sufficient area for one installation and two repairs, hence, the requirement for water report, water usage summary. So, you can't determine how much area you really need until you find out how much waste you are going to be treating, then ascertain the soil conditions after the perk test and the valuation will be made, is there enough area for one installation and two repairs. If not, they have to go back out and dig it out to establish that area.

MR. GARBER: Sitting here today, there is no way to determine whether or not a septic reserve area, one would be required or feasible.

THE WITNESS: Oh, it's required. It's a non issue.

MR. GARBER: So, I'm trying to get the terminology. You are talking about installation and repairs, I assume you are referring to the reserve.

THE WITNESS: The reserve.

MR. GARBER: So, as to the location, you can't opine about that sitting here today.

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MS. MURPHY: Is there a location for the septic reserve?

THE WITNESS: Correct. Yes. That would be the septic reserve area to serve both the three bedroom dwelling and the religious center.

MS. MURPHY: Would one septic system serve the sanctuary and the dwelling?

THE WITNESS: In this case, yes.

BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. Why is that, Mr. Powell?

A. The existing three bedroom dwelling was served by a metal septic tank that collapsed. I didn't bother to look for the field component. The field component would be located on slopes greater than 25 percent. Just the fact that it had a metal septic tank tells me that the field system, if it still exists, is probably in very poor condition. Here again, why try and repair something that is old and again, we had no records, we, I'm talking like I'm still working for Baltimore County. The County had no records on, so it was recommended that a whole new system be installed to serve all the functions on the property.

Q. Mr. Powell, I mean, is the area that is available for septic, is that large enough to accommodate the underlying system, the reserve areas, repair areas? I mean, we have, this is a fairly large site, is it not?

A. It is, but I did rough measurements. I would estimate about 70,000 square feet maybe more available to be tested for waste disposal. If for some reason wherever the tests are conducted and there is a problem, they could move around the site. They have flexibility to move.

MR. GARBER: If I can, 70,000 square feet, is that all within the cleared area within the property site?

THE WITNESS: Yes, basically. Once you get out of the cleared area, there is steeper slopes.

MS. MURPHY: How much area do you need for the septic reserve?

THE WITNESS: Depending on the usage proposed, they may decide to increase it a little or they may decide to keep it at 10,000 and see how the soil tests do. The soil tester deep bores 10,000 square feet may be acceptable for one installation and two future repairs. If there is heavier surface clay layer or some bedrock conditions that limit how deep you can go on the system, then the area would have to be spread out to a larger area.

MS. MURPHY: The 10,000 was for new subdivisions, residential area.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MS. MURPHY: You are saying this large non residential property, that's the way you are classifying it.

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. GARBER: How much do you need for large residential or non residential.

THE WITNESS: It would be the same amount, one for one installation and two future repairs. Here again, it could be ten, 11,000 square feet it may be more depending on the results of the soil tests that's yet to be determined.

MR. GARBER: Going back to the 70,000 square feet available for testing, there is a minimum of 10,000 square feet needed for the system, two questions with that. One, does the 70,000 square feet include the prior septic area?

THE WITNESS: No.

MR. GARBER: So, that's already been being excluded from that rough estimate.

THE WITNESS: (Indicating nodding head up and down.)

MR. SCHMIDT: You have to answer the question.

THE WITNESS: I'm sorry. It takes some getting used to.

MR. GARBER: Thank you, Mr. Schmidt.

THE WITNESS: No, it does not include the original septic system. The sewer line from the mansion, from the building to the system will be intercepted, but that will be intercepted, but that will be removed.

MR. GARBER: The field itself is outside the calculation.

THE WITNESS: Outside that area.

MR. GARBER: And then the minimum 10,000, is that based on the use of the property that's been reported to you, that's how the property will be used?

THE WITNESS: My water usage summary's based on what the clients told me and I have, I had prepared the report and submitted it to the consultant prior to sending out, is this correct, is this accurate? And I was told, yes, and based on that, we submitted this to the County. The area that's required would be based on total flows in this report.

MR. SCHMIDT: Which includes festivals.

THE WITNESS: Which includes the festivals, yes.

MR. GARBER: The property as maximum use as reported to you has already been accounted for within your summary?

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, sorry about that. But it helped clarify things for all of us.

MR. HOLZER: You have certainly taken all of my thunder.

CROSS EXAMINATION

BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. If I may, I mean, this is a little confusing. What is this plat that's marked as Petitioner's Exhibit Number 1? This is what you used to opine --

A. No.

Q. -- on your testimony?

A. No, I had a different plan that had topography, general county topography based on area photographs.

Q. And did that assist you in terms of being able.

A. Yes.

Q. Could we see that?

MR. SCHMIDT: Sure, if you have got it, Mr. Powell.

THE WITNESS: Yes. Somewhere.

MR. GARBER: Is that already an exhibit?

THE WITNESS: No.

MR. GARBER: There is an exhibit with topographical lines on it.

MR. SCHMIDT: I pulled one to explain the property, but --

MR. GARBER: If it's already an exhibit, we can reference it and use that.

THE WITNESS: This is October 20th, 2017, date on the plan.

Q. I asked him if the document that he has in his hand has more detail than the Exhibit Number 1 and he said he didn't think so, other than the topography?

MR. SCHMIDT: Mr. Garber, I'm looking at my exhibit list that I have been keeping and I don't see it, but --

MS. DOPKIN: It's on the traffic exhibit.
MR. SCHMIDT: What was it?
MS. DOPKIN: Only topography we have is a partial which is on Mr. Caloggero's.
MR. SCHMIDT: We can use this one.
THE WITNESS: You can look at this.
MR. GARBER: I thought I saw topographical lines on it.
MS. DOPKIN: It's not completed.
MR. GARBER: Sorry for the distraction, Mr. Holzer.
MR. SCHMIDT: I'm happy to mark this because it does show the topography, Mr. Holzer, if you can refer to it. I'm marking it as Petitioner's Exhibit Number 22, I think it would be helpful.
Just for the record, this is the plan dated October 20th, 2017. It's prepared by Little Associates, which is Mr. Motsco's company, and shows I think much of what's on Petitioner's Exhibit 1 except there are topographical lines.
MR. MURPHY: Mr. Holzer, Exhibit 22, do you have an issue with that?

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer. Any issue with Exhibit 22 then?

MR. HOLZER: No.

MR. GARBER: You are fine.

MR. HOLZER: Since I called for it, I don't think I have an objection to it.

MR. GARBER: Thank you.

(Petitioner's Exhibit Number 22 was admitted into evidence.)

BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. All right. Where do we start? For those folks that are, have not been permitted to go on to the property, the neighbors and so forth that have not gone on to the property and you described a lot of different things that are existing and proposed, if there is no objection, I would like for you, now that we have the topography, would you stand up here and tell me where the existing well is and mark it on this Exhibit Number 1 and then where the existing septic area is and just your initials would be fine. I don't want you to destroy what is on here. But can you do that for me?

A. I have not actually seen the existing septic system. I was told it was down by the barn and that was based on a contractor that had looked at the property. So I can't the attest to that.

Q. Well, let me just say, where is the existing well? And if you could just put your initials where the existing well is and I'll refer to it.

A. It will be approximate.

Q. I understand. I understand. I am not picking at you.

A. (Witness is drawing on the Exhibit 1.) Well pit, is that 12.

Q. Yes, we are together on that. That's all, well never mind, it just says we are old. And for the record, he has marked on Exhibit Number 1 that was up here a square marked well pit with his initials and today's date?

MR. GARBER: Do you need a pointer? Pen works.

Q. Now, you have indicated there is an existing septic system for the toilet facilities, I guess, on the existing building. I know it's not your testimony but what were you advised just so we got a general idea of where the septic drained to?

A. There were clean outs in the sewer line. There were clean out in the line running down from the building towards the direction of the barn.

Q. Okay.

A. Spaced every 150 feet or thereabouts and I was told that the system was in the vicinity, the field component, whatever it was, is in the vicinity of the barn.

Q. Okay, could you just do the same thing or you --

A. I cannot say, it's hearsay on my part.

Q. I don't want to put you in an uncomfortable position?

MR. SCHMIDT: But the barn is shown, Mr. Holzer.

MR. HOLZER: Yes. That's in the general area of the existing septic.

THE WITNESS: (Indicating nodding head up and down.)

Q. Do you know whether or not that was for a single family home or commercial operation or can you describe what it is that you have been told it was?

A. The original usage was for a residence.

Q. Yes, yes.

A. So, logic dictates the original system was for that use alone.

Q. What would that have been back in the day?

A. Who knows?

Q. You don't know?

A. There are no records on Baltimore County data base that indicates the design of the system much less soil tests results, there is nothing.

Q. Is that because this has historically been a single family residence for years and years even before that kind of stuff was required?

A. I have no knowledge one way or the other.

Q. Okay. When did you first become acquainted with this site?

A. When I met their consultant, Mr. Rogers, and a member of the Board of the Congregation on this site, June of this year.

Q. June of 2018?

A. June or May of 2018.

Q. And you said you have visited this site personally how many times?

A. Twice.

Q. What were the dates? If you don't know the exact day, approximate time?

A. First time, like I said, May or June, second time was July, probably mid July is my best guess.

Q. July, 2018?

A. Yes.

Q. Was there any activity on this site when you visited or was it just you and the representatives from the applicant?

A. First time I visited the site with Mr. Shara, who is a Board member, it was myself, Chris, Craig Rogers, their consultant, and they had a number of members of the Congregation working on renovating the damage to the building.

Q. To the main house?

A. Main building, yes?

Q. And then the next time you met there --

A. I was by myself.

Q. You were by yourself?

A. Yes.

Q. You had no opportunity to see any activity from the standpoint of festivals or anything like that in regard to how the property was used when they were having the festival?

A. No, I was not at the festival.

Q. Or any festival?

A. Or any festival on that property.

Q. So we have got where the old well was, we have got where we think the existing septic is. Can you tell me, again, I heard the testimony but I couldn't follow it on this document, where is the new well being proposed?

A. I do not know if I have a location shown or not. Let's see on this document, no, I do not. I was told that the well location was supposed to be somewhere off of the side of the drive, but I have no, I do not have an exact location on the plan.

Q. Instead of doing it on this new Exhibit 22, can you do it where you put the well, can you tell us, like you had to do it down here, but this is the other existing well.

A. I can't be sure.

Q. Would it be in this general area of the existing well?

A. It would be somewhere off of the drive.

Q. This drive here?

A. That drive, yes.

Q. You are referring to the circular drive.

A. Somewhere, here but I don't know the exact location.

Q. I am not asking for exact location. I have had a, and you said this well, was it almost like a hand dug well? Was it drilled?

A. No.

Q. Was it drilled?

A. It was a drilled well in a pit which means the well was not constructed to current standards by today's standards. New wells today must be drilled and grouted. This well by the construction that I saw, it obviously was not grouted. There was a jet pump in the building indicating they were pooling the water from a shallow, shallow level. It's very possible the well was not sufficiently deep to provide enough sewerage capacity to meet construction standards. I recommended drilling a new well. They had already intended to do that already.

Q. Basically, the well supplied the house over the years and that's all it needed for the residents?

A. It supplied the entire property.

Q. Okay. It supplied the barn, did it go all the way down to the barn?

A. Unlikely.

Q. Did it go to the existing shed, when you say it supplied the entire property?

A. There was a tenant house on the property right off of the main building, the three bedroom dwelling --

Q. Right?

A. And there were remains of a pool house showing evidence of a bathroom. Given the well's location, it's logical to surmise those wells served three structures. The barn, I would suspect not.

Q. Generally, the existing well which was, let's say, well, let me ask you another way, having just done this on a piece of property I am aware of, we had a hand dug well which served the house and then under the new circumstances, we ended up with a 400-foot deep well; would that be the kind of well that this new well that you are proposing on there site be?

A. The depth of the well is determined largely by what the licensed well driller observes during the drilling process. When they are drilling, well they are using compressed air to blow the rock shavings out of the hole. Any groundwater they hit is coming out of the hole with it. They will look at the depth at which they hit the water and do a rough calculation on how many gallons a minute the well appears to yield. Based on that they will probably will drill deeper to obtain storage capacity in the bore hole and another day do the yield test. If it passes the yield test, they will approve the well.

Q. Is there any water capacity that's needed for what is being proposed on this the use of this entire property?

A. Once they drill the well, do a completion report, a study will have to be made and it will be evaluated by the Department of Environment to determine is there sufficient capacity. It's combination of storage in the well casing and yield. There is a minimum yield of one gallon per minute recovery. There is also a minimum storage capacity for a two hour period that has to be met.

Q. Okay. Now, will the water that is being produced by this new well, based on what you just testified, will that serve just the house or how will it serve, let's say there is a festival and 200 people come to that and want to drink water from the well, is that being accounted for or is it not?

A. There will be no food served on site except catered. They bring it on site, they serve, take it out, no food washing, food prep. There is no kitchen use of water for festival. There will be no use of bathrooms; they will use outside portable facilities for the festivals. So the water usage would be whatever they bring to drink, each individual family.

Q. You mean the individual people coming to this to a festival or event would have to bring their own water and wouldn't be calculated in terms of well production?

A. No, they would be bringing their own food or food will be provided along with drinks or snacks.

Q. Okay. We'll get into that. Okay. So this well would produce water for the existing main house, correct?

A. Correct.

Q. And for the two story dwelling right here?

A. Correct.

Q. Where there possibly may be somebody living there on the property and that would be it from what I understand your notes, the existing shed and pool will be disregarded or be covered over?

A. I don't know what the disposition of the other out buildings will be, but they will not be utilized.

Q. Well, if they are not utilized, they will either be torn down or sitting there empty, right?

A. They won't be utilized, that's all I can tell you.

Q. Is that what was told you?

A. That is what I was told, it will not be utilized.

Q. You are basing everything in regard to your testimony on what you were told by the property owner?

A. If they were to utilize the shed, which is actually the old pool house, they would have to file for a permit to totally rehabilitate the structure, at what point in time the Department of Environment would receive the permit and review the proposal and make a decision regarding the adequacy of the outside facilities.

Q. Right now they have testified they are going to get rid of the pool and maybe the shed next to the pool. But suppose they decide to keep the pool, would they need, you know, to fill a pool, you need water, so would that be also supplied by this same well?

A. Normally not, the reason being the well water from that geologic formation would be rather acidic and corrosive. If they filled the pool, they would burn up the well in the process and the chemicals treating the water would be enough that generally all pools are filled from public water supplies, hydrants by the tank trucks you see running down the road.

Q. All right. We have sort of exhausted where the water is going to go or come from. Then the only other point is you have described the new septic area and septic reserve area. Is that saying the same thing?

A. Sewage disposal reserve area covers it.

Q. Somewhere that's going to be inside of the existing forest, wherever that forest may occur, is that right?

A. It will be in the cleared area, probably several hundred feet below the main building, the exact location I do not know.

Q. Okay. But several hundred feet would be down somewhere in here and I'm describing to the left of the existing building and probably north of the two story dwelling?

A. No, sir.

Q. Well, then show me.

A. It would be in the main area directly below the main building right in here. That would be the prime location if I were to design the layout for the system.

Q. So, for the record, what he has described is it would be to the left or the rear, I guess, of the existing home building and it would be a circular area above the 670 foot plus or minus line that is shown running to the about of the existing building.

MR. GARBER: When you say to the left, that's the west.

THE WITNESS: It's --

MR. HOLZER: It's actually to the southwest.

MR. GARBER: To the southwest.

MR. HOLZER: I could have him mark with a pencil where it is but if that's enough description, that's fine.

MR. GARBER: Just clarifying what you meant by left.

Q. And you are saying that Petitioner's Exhibit Number 22, which contains all of the elevation drawing, why is that relevant, why did you have that in your possession in terms of your testimony or your analysis of this site?

A. That's the information I was provided by the surveyor and it gave a good description and view of the property as far as the existing buildings and topography.

Q. But you didn't have Exhibit Number 1?

A. No, I did not.

Q. So that's all that were given?

A. Correct.

Q. Okay. I was wondering why you utilized that one. I was ad libbing those questions. Now, I have to go back to what my notes were. If you bear with me, I don't want to repeat.

You testified that the soils on the property were deep and well drained?

A. Correct.

Q. What does that mean?

A. That is based on the description provided by the USDA Natural Resource Conservation Service and it's a description of the manner series of soils. That's the main soils in that cleared area is a manor series.

Q. M A N O R?

A. Correct.

Q. Like Manor Road?

A. Correct.

Q. Now, did you review anything from the soil conservation part of Baltimore County to further educate yourself as to the soil?

A. No, sir, I pulled it off the web site for USDA and RCS actually.

Q. Would soil conservation have any information that could be valuable to understand what the soils are on this property?

A. I used that information just to verify what I suspected as far as the soil conditions on the property and I am very well acquainted with manor soils having had 37 years of work in Baltimore County.

Q. I am sure you are. Describe manor soils in terms of its ability to retain water or not retain water or provide sufficient water in the well? I mean is manor soils go all the way down to three or 400 feet?

A. Manor soils are soils that are derived in place from weathered rock, in this case schist. Schist, S C H I S T, in case I slurred my pronunciation.

Q. We didn't misunderstand.

A. These soils are weathered in place. They are not eluvial, they are found on high topographical grassy settings on ridge lines, side slope shoulders.

They are not eluvial or colluvial. Colluvial means you are in a foot slope. We have a subsidence of soil being washed off of other areas and being deposited. That is not the case. These soils are generally soil surface clays running from two feet thick to four, five sometimes as much as six. The bedrock runs depends on each site. Like I say, each site is very specific.

Q. On this site, this is a unique site, isn't it, in terms of its height, in terms of it sitting very high in the general area of Harford Road?

A. I would not find it unique. I would just observe that it is on a ridge line, situated on a knoll and ridge line heading towards the south or south/southwest.

Q. Okay. Would manor soil be different if it was in the valley?

A. Then it wouldn't be manor soil. Each soil description is based on how it's formed. Is it formed by water deposition in which case it's a drainage swale or flood plane in which case it's colluvial.

Different characteristics. Different concerns. The soils that are on the ridge lines are generally weathered in place, in this area from natural parent bedrock.

Q. You have taught me this before in our past discussions, so I appreciate that. But when that driller starts, he's going to go through manor soil and through bedrock, is he not?

A. He's going to drill into bedrock, yes.

Q. The question is how deep he has to go in that bedrock in order to get the right quantity of water as to provide the service that this property and the people using it need, is that right?

A. He will make that decision on site while he's drilling. And there are a number of factors that come into that decision as to whether he proceeds or not.

Q. In other words, he may end up having to move the well, potential well new site to some place other than what they originally thought, correct?

A. If the site which is approved by the County and the driller is yields a well that is either suspect or they suspect may not be satisfactory in yield, they will move to another site. Many times when the County meets the well driller on site, they will identify a well area, so if the driller is drilling and he hits what looks to be a low yielding well, he can move into another spot in the preapproved area, give the County a location of fact without stopping drilling operations, call the County and have them out a day later and have them approve another well while the rig sits on site not being used.

Q. Ultimately, it's up to the County to approve not only the site location but also the capacity of the well.

A. Site location comes first.

Q. I understand.

A. Then a completion report. Once they receive the completion report, then the County will evaluate the capacity of the well to serve the intended use.

Q. And that calculation by the County will be based upon what they have been told by you as the potential use?

A. Correct.

Q. Right. Now, you made it a point to say that this application that you marked that has been marked Petitioner's 21 is a non residential application, is that right?

A. When the water usage summary is required, it's generally always for a non residential application.

Q. Correct, correct. So, basically, that means that the way the Environmental Department or you would look at a well if they proposed to just use this house for a single family purpose or whether they proposed to use this property in this house for, I don't know whether I want to say commercial, but it's certainly none residential which means it's different from what was there before, right?

A. Can you rephrase that? There were several questions there I didn't --

Q. I'm sorry, I do that all the time. When the County, because you called this a non residential application, it means that in your mind there is a difference between the usage that existed on the property, which was purely residential, to a usage that on the property that exceeds or is different from the single family use, right?

A. It's called non residential because that's the way the Baltimore County Department of Environment views the proposal. If it's not residential, it's something else, and then they require additional information to assure the adequacy of the facilities.

Q. Right. Right. So within the Department of Environment, DEPS, whatever you want to call it now, and it changes all the time, they want to make a distinction between the single family use and something that's not a single family use?

A. Baltimore County Department of Environment wants to insure the adequacy of the water supplied. If it were a residential use, the minimum requirement would be one gallon per minute irregardless whether it's one bedroom or ten. That's in-state regulation. When it comes to non residential use, that's when they want additional information to assure adequacy.

Q. So, we can almost be assured that the well production from the new well will have to exceed one gallon per whatever?

A. I would not be willing to make that statement.

Q. Why not?

A. It depends on how much storage capacity is in the well. It depends on the size of the storage tank inside the building.

Q. How much storage is proposed here? You don't know that, do you?

A. Well hasn't been drilled. Until the well is drilled, it's all a moot point.

Q. So all of these different functions come after the well is actually built and then we'll know what kind of storage tank you will need, you will know how much water is contained in the well itself and then you can figure out whether it's acceptable or not.

A. That would be correct, yes.

Q. That's where DEPS or Department of Environment would come in and say yes or no?

A. Based on the completion report and the yield. Not just the yield but the amount of storage capacity in the well that they will observe static water level in the well bore hole before initiating the yield test, that being the well driller.

Q. Right. So I think you have certainly answered that question.

Did you, have you in your report, I haven't gotten to your report yet, but the letter of usage, did you define the usage for each building?

A. I did.

Q. You did. So then I'll hold that question until I get to see your report.

Is it okay or permissible or okay is the best way to say, is it okay for the applicant to, at of today, as of yesterday, as of tomorrow, use the toilet facilities in the existing house?

MR. SCHMIDT: I'm going to object to the question. When he says it's okay, you mean from a regulatory standpoint, is it functioning?

MR. GARBER: Can you use it today is what I understood. If you and I were to go there today, could we use it?

MR. SCHMIDT: Can we use it? I thought he meant by a regulatory, does the toilet facility function?

THE WITNESS: To my knowledge, yes.

Q. So did you try it?

A. Didn't have the need to. Should I have --

Q. I didn't get that personal. I'll withdraw that question from the record. Okay.

Is it okay to use the existing well, drinking the water from the existing well, if you can even get it through the pipes?

A. I don't know. That's an unknown.

Q. You didn't try. And I'm not criticizing. You just didn't have reason to determine whether or not the well was functioning?

A. Because we are not, the plan is not to use the well, to abandon it, that really didn't enter into the discussion.

Q. Well, I just wondered, since you were in the Health Department, whether there was any concern that using the existing well with the water that it produces could be dangerous to the health, safety and welfare to anybody using that property?

A. That determination has not been made.

MR. GARBER: You don't know if the water was treated previously?

THE WITNESS: There appeared to be no treatment devices on the water supply. I think there was a water conditioner in the well pit.

MR. GARBER: Do you know if that was functioning?

THE WITNESS: I don't know.

Q. In your opinion as a health person, is it safe to use water in an abandoned septic system? Is it safe to flush the toilet or use it in an abandoned septic system?

A. The definition of abandoned, according to the County Plumbing Code, is disconnecting from the system to the house or structure it serves. This system has not been disconnected. It's not considered abandoned.

Q. How do you know it's not been disconnected?

A. I didn't crawl down the sewer pipes, if that's what you are asking.

Q. That's really what I am asking. It's easy to say certain things but harder to pinpoint the fact that you did or didn't check. That's what I am asking?

A. The clean out pipes in the sewer line leading from the main building down to the vicinity of the barns where we suspect the existing field system is located, those pipes were still there and still appear to be functioning. I did not conduct an inspection of the functionality of the system. Here again it's a moot point. It's going to be abandoned, back filled and new system installed.

MR. GARBER: The existing septic is going to be backfilled.

MR. SCHMIDT: I think he testified both the well and existing septic system that's existing are not going to be used, they are going to be discontinued and backfilled. That's why they are going to do a whole new well and septic system.

MR. GARBER: I didn't hear the backfilled part before. I understood it was not going to be used. I just didn't know what was going to happen next as to the septic system as opposed the well was clear, the septic system, I didn't know.

MS. DOPKIN: Mr. Powell, does the County require that back filling?

THE WITNESS: For septic system and well, yes.

MS. DOPKIN: Thank you.

THE WITNESS: Septic system will be pumped out by a licensed scavenger or subject based hauler and collapsed and filled with cleaner. The well abandonment requires a licensed well driller to remove the cap. Under regulation they can fill the bore hole with rock dust to about 20 feet and the remainder of the backfill of the well casing itself is with cement grout. The pit is immaterial. The concern is the actual well bore hole that intersects the ground water. They want to make sure that it's an abandoned well but not backfilled providing the opportunity for contamination and the backfilling process eliminates that concern, with respect to the septic system being backfilled.

MR. GARBER: Is there a period of time where that area cannot be used for any purpose, can't be used as part of the new septic field? Is it just to be abandoned and left alone for a period of time.

THE WITNESS: It would be abandoned and backfilled, depending on if they back filled with soil. Obviously, it will settle, but other than that, there's no restriction.

MR. GARBER: Is there a setback for septic field? How far a back from the existing house is it supposed to go?

THE WITNESS: Minimum requirement is 20 feet for septic area or septic component and a hundred feet from the well.

MS. DOPKIN: How far does the septic have to be from each other? Is that the hundred feet?

THE WITNESS: There is no requirement on the same property. It comes to best professional judgment. Obviously, if you are putting in a new system you don't want to be immediately next to or adjacent to an existing system that's been backfilled. Other than that, I know of no requirement on the same property either in County or State codes

MR. GARBER: I this think Ms. Dopkin's question is the new septic field has to be at least a hundred feet from the new well.

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MS. DOPKIN: And do you know if it will be more than a hundred feet based on the rough areas?

THE WITNESS: It will be.

MS. DOPKIN: Based on where I believe the well is going to be drilled from what I have been told, it will probably be several hundred feet away if not more.

MS. DOPKIN: Do you know how far it will be from any well on any adjoining property?

THE WITNESS: Given that location according to this drawing, probably 400, 355 feet to be sure, probably closer to 400.

BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. Just the question. As a result of your answers dealing with the septic system and so forth and the water, did you advise your clients not to use the old system, either the old well or the old septic reserve area?

A. I have no recommendation one way or the other.

Q. Did you see when you were there the first time, the first site visit, did you see porta pottys on the property? Do you recall?

A. Not that I recall but I wasn't specifically looking for them.

Q. Well, porta pottys are the --

A. I understand what they look like, but I didn't look around all sides of the building to look for the john.

Q. Got you. And you were there to deal with the question of the well and the septic reserve system, right?

A. For the proposed development, yes.

Q. Exactly. So, okay. I have a picture here marked as Four for Identification for Protestants.

And your location of the septic reserve area, the proposed septic reserve area is in this area behind the --

MR. GARBER: One second, Mr. Holzer. People, please keep your voices down. I'm sorry for the interruption.

MR. HOLZER: Not a problem.

Q. Your testimony was that above the 6, 70-foot behind the building somewhere before the existing woods would be this area of the possible septic reserve area, is that right?

A. Approximately.

Q. I want to show you a picture of the one of the events that has occurred on the site. I see, you can look at it if you like, Exhibit 4 ID, you see cars parked on the grass in an area behind here's the existing facility. With the septic reserve area, would it be appropriate to be able to park vehicles on the grass and would that have any impact on the septic reserve area?

A. That's not the septic reserve area.

Q. I understand that isn't. I understand. That's why I explained to you there is the back of the building, there is the tree line, this is where the cars were parked on that particular day. My question is, assuming you find the proper location for septic reserve area, is it advisable or not advisable to allow parking on the grass on top of it?

A. That depends on the physical construction characteristics of the system components and the type of system.

Q. Well, 'splain.

A. 'Splain. If it's a standard deep in-ground system like a deep trench, we don't install dry walls. Baltimore County does not install dry wells or seepage pits any longer. It's deep trench systems.

Q. When you say deep trench, I have just gone through this on a piece of property, can you tell me what that means?

A. Deep trench is slot excavation in the ground two feet wide by a depth to be determined by the results of the soil tests. Perforated pipe is placed, stone is placed in the trench up to within two feet of the ground surface, perforated pipe is placed on top of that stone, two inches of stone are placed on top of the pipe, geotextile fabric is placed on top of that and then the remaining 14 to 18 some inches is backfilled with clean earth. That replaced the seepage pits.

If there were to be parking over top of a system, you could engineer system components so that would not be an issue but it has to be known in advance. If the system design were a shallow pressure dosing system, shallow being defined as two feet deep, maybe 36 inches or sand mound, no parking would be allowed on top of the system because the soil has a tendency to compact the surface soil clay structure in the first one or two feet that would effect the functioning of the system.

MR. GARBER: If can stop there real quick. The answer is getting longer, getting more confused.

So, parking design can factor in a deep trench system, described as you did, two inches of rock followed by perforated pipe, followed by more rock followed by geotextile fabric followed by soil on top.

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. GARBER: If it's not a deep trench system, you used another term to describe this.

THE WITNESS: Shallow pressured dosed or an above ground system.

MR. GARBER: I think we can figure out what a above ground system and I am sure we are not parking on top of the above ground.

THE WITNESS: Right.

MR. GARBER: So the shallow --

THE WITNESS: Pressure dosed.

MR. GARBER: How is that constructed?

THE WITNESS: Pressure dosed piping designed by consultant, which is what I do in my consulting work now. Piping sizes depending on the design range from an inch and a quarter to the inch and a half lateral Schedule 40 piping.

MR. GARBER: Is that PVC?

THE WITNESS: PVC, holes are drilled at specific intervals on the site. It's not standard pre-made three hole large perforated pipe that one normally sees during septic system installation. It's an engineered system, elevations are shot and pump requirements are ascertained. It's completely pressure dosed system that's a situation where you would not be allowed to park on it.

MR. GARBER: Do you have any idea which system would be used?

THE WITNESS: I doubt very seriously. I would say that 99 percent probability that these pre-engineered systems would not be necessary here. The soil, I expect to be deep and porous.

MR. GARBER: You expect a deep trench system?

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MR. GARBER: I'm sorry, Mr. Holzer.

MR. HOLZER: I would have the same question.

Q. Knowing that in an overflow parking situation, because only 38 parking spaces are being provided for this site right here, right there, okay, 38, and if you have a hundred cars, they have to park somewhere, so why wouldn't you, as the expert, recommend that they go to the better facility or the one that you could park cars on top of?

MR. SCHMIDT: That's what he said. 99 percent sure it would be a deep trench system.

Q. The deep trench system, is that what you are saying, the one with gravel pipe gravel, that's what you would recommend?

A. Here again, the septic area we referred to, both you and I referred to, is 200 feet behind the dwelling. All this parking is in the front.

Q. I understand that. I said that to you before. I understand that. But there will be, above this area there will be grass planted, okay. And if it's grass, then you can have cars parked whether they are parked by the tennis court which is here or whether they are parked there, the point of the matter is the protection of the system would need to be the deeper and better of the three that you have talked about?

A. When they file for building permit, the client will be required to provide where the overflow parking will be and the standard Baltimore County Department of Environment comments would be keep the parking out of the subject area if at all possible. If they can't, the system can be engineered and designed to accommodate that.

Q. Now, as the expert that's been retained to do this, I'm asking you directly, now that you have seen this photograph, now that you understand that vehicles are going to be parked somewhere on the grass, would you use that information to advise the County what should be required here?

MR. SCHMIDT: Do you understand the question?

THE WITNESS: I don't understand this question at all.

MR. GARBER: Please rephrase.

Q. You are the expert for the developer, right?

A. Correct.

Q. You have been retained to analyze all this, right?

A. I have been retained to perform the water Usage Summary Report which I have done and I offer advice and consult regarding the waste disposal system.

Q. Do you have any obligation ethically to advise Baltimore County that there may be mark parking on top of the septic area if it's grass?

A. That would violate client privilege, number one. If it were an issue, I would advise the client to do it. Nobody in their right mind is going to drive down the behind the building to park a couple hundred feet from the building and then walk up to use the facility. Let's honest here.

Q. I am being honest. That's an improper answer, because the question is do you or do you not have an ethical responsibility, former County employee, to advise the County Department of the Environment or whomever reviews this that you know that there is potential for car parking on top of the septic reserve area?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. That's just an improper question asking this witness if he has ethical responsibility. What does that have to do with the special exception criteria?

MR. GARBER: I have to agree with Mr. Schmidt. I'll hear you out.

MR. HOLZER: I don't want to say anything other than to say it's okay to come in and preach, but if you are not going to require -- well, I'll tell you the answer, this Board can provide the requirement that that be analyzed by the County as a condition for approving this plan. That's the simple answer.

MR. GARBER: Well, I'm going to follow up on one point that you created. You would expect the Department of Environment would say keep the parking out of the septic area if at all possible.

THE WITNESS: If the parking being proposed was near the septic area, the Department of Environment would say, what are you planning to do for overflow or additional parking. At that time they would require a fenced off area around the system so nobody could park on it, which has been done before by myself in other capacity in lives gone by, or they would say, if you are going to park over it, we want to see the engineered proposal to make sure the system can accommodate that.

MR. GARBER: Okay, so here I am trying to get to the phrase if at all possible, if there are other areas for parking, then you can possibly apparently avoid having to park on the septic area.

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. GARBER: Leaving aside the logistics that you just said, you are not going to park hundreds of feet away from the building facility, leaving that part aside, if it's anticipated any overflow parking to could go in that field, the County would require the engineered proposal to show the system would withstand that type of weight.

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. GARBER: Who does that engineered proposal?

THE WITNESS: Either the County or they would require the property owner to hire a consultant or engineer to engineer that proposal.

MR. GARBER: You could be that person.

THE WITNESS: I could be in a person.

MS. DOPKIN: Would civil engineers to that?

THE WITNESS: Normally not. I am not going to go into detail before the Board but there are ways to do it.

MR. HOLZER: Mr. Chairman, the actual reality is if no one tells the County that there may be parking on top of the septic reserve area or on the grass, if no one notifies them of that, then how are they even going to consider that anybody would be parking on the grass. That's something that occurs in this County daily. So, the only way that I can say, if the witness doesn't have the responsibility to tell them is that the Board has to indicate something in its decision, if you are going to approve this, that alerts the County because, frankly, I have been there, done that, seen this and I understand that if the Board is concerned about that, and I suggest maybe you should be, then I think it's an obligation of the Board to make sure that it gets to the County reviewers, whoever they are. And the only way I see that can be done is if it's a condition if you are inclined to approve it.

THE WITNESS: Is there any obligation on the part of the Petitioner to notify the County of the potential of parking in the area that will contain the septic field once fully identified?

THE WITNESS: I would say yes.

MR. GARBER: Is that recorded on the document somewhere that is part of the permit application or how is that done?

THE WITNESS: That would be part of the site plan that would show the parking area and overflow parking or ancillary additional parking during higher usage events that what you normally would expect to experience during a weekday.

MR. GARBER: Is there a specific space in this project to avoid having parking in the potential septic areas that you have identified for overflow parking?

THE WITNESS: I don't know that I am qualified to answer this. There is at least two or 300 feet behind the back of the building where the septic system will not be.

MR. SCHMIDT: Mr. Powell, in fact, on the photograph Mr. Holzer showed you, none of the cars were on the grass where the septic field is proposed?

MR. HOLZER: Objection. Objection.

MR. SCHMIDT: Following up on your question. I apologize.

MS. MURPHY: Aren't we still on your cross?

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

MR. SCHMIDT: I apologize.

MR. HOLZER: Is the Board finished your questions?

MR. GARBER: My question to you is how much longer do you think you will be with this witness or when do you think you will be wrapping up?

MR. HOLZER: I'll try and wrap up.

MR. GARBER: Just so we know how far we are going today.

MR. HOLZER: Half hour, 45 minutes.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt, he has half hour, 45 minutes more to go with this witness.

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, sir.

MR. GARBER: I am assuming you will have redirect or something perhaps.

MR. SCHMIDT: Very little at this point.

MR. GARBER: Okay. So we are looking at somewhere between 45 minutes, maybe a little more. With that, so why don't we take a break at this time.

MR. HOLZER: Thank you.

MR. GARBER: We'll come back at 4:00 o'clock and we'll finish up with this witness. Thank you.

(A recess was taken from 3:52 PM to 4:03 PM.)

MR. GARBER: All right, everybody. We are going to get started to keep moving. I believe we were getting up close to wrapping up cross examination.

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

Q. Mr. Powell, I'm looking at your Water Usage Summary and I just want to verify some things with you, so if you can take that out, Petitioner's Exhibit 21. Did your clients come to you before they acquired or purchased this property or after they had already purchased it?

A. I was contacted by Mr. Craig Rogers, who is a consultant for the clients. He asked me would I do the Water Summary Report. And the answer is that I was contacted I believe after they purchased.

Q. So you have already testified that the analysis or the language or the facts that you put in your Water Usage Summary basically came from your discussions with the applicants, is that right?

A. I prepared the initial report based on our discussions. I sent the narrative to Mr. Rogers and Mr. Shara whom I met on the property, and a Board member of Congregation and asked if this information was correct and I was told yes.

Q. I want to get through this quickly for everybody's benefit. In looking at the first page you described the facility, which I have no questions about, other than to say it's known as Bella Vista. Do you have any background on why this sight, whether it has any historical value or not?

A. I have no knowledge.

MR. SCHMIDT: Just objection. I am not calling him as, he's an environmentalist in terms of --

MR. HOLZER: I am asking questions of what he wrote, that's all. It's right there.

MR. GARBER: Okay.

Q. Under the words, the mansion, you have been told by the Congregation that you said or by the representatives that they have 800 to 900 members, correct? That's correct?

A. Which page are we talking about?

Q. Page one under the mansion.

MR. GARBER: Page two of the exhibit.

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

Q. On that same paragraph at the end, you said based on what you have been told, members of the Congregation coming to pray or worship will normally be there anywhere from 10 to 30 minutes. Is that correct? Do you recall them telling you that?

A. Yes, that's correct.

Q. Okay. You are also claiming in here it is anticipated that during the weekdays approximately 10 to 15 people will visit the site for worship, meditation and prayer. That's correct, that's what they told you?

A. Correct.

Q. During the weekend the number of those worshipping would increase to approximately 30 members, that's correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. That's what they told you. Now, going to the next paragraph under the mansion, it says, members may use the prayer room for a wedding ceremony and blessing by the priest, which may take up two hours but the celebration afterwards would take place at another venue offsite. That's what they told you the use of the property would be?

A. Correct.

Q. And you included that, obviously, in this report. Now, they also said insofar as the tenant dwelling, did you actually go in there and determine there were three bedrooms?

A. Yes.

Q. And it is currently vacant?

A. Oh, yes.

Q. And because of how it looks inside, you could tell it's vacant?

A. It's been vandalized quite badly.

Q. Okay. And this, they are telling you that this building, tenant building, will be used for housing the priest and his wife, right?

A. Correct.

Q. It will not be rented out to any others, correct?

A. Correct.

Q. Yes. When it comes to other out buildings, it says, no use is currently planned for this. And that's the barn. Do you know whether or not the barn is on some sort of historical or preservation?

A. I have no knowledge of that.

Q. You didn't, in your direction, your purpose, you are not concerned about historical stuff at all, were you?

A. That is not part of the contract with the clients.

Q. Right, okay.

A. That's not my area of expertise.

Q. Okay. They also said there is a swimming pool and a pool house, they are in poor condition and they are not to be used, is that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. Okay. They told you when you talked about the outside grounds, which I think is important here, it says, there will be three or four outside festivals during any year, festivals to be held outside. Do you mean outside of the building, the main building?

A. Outside of the main building, yes.

Q. Generally in front of the mansion, correct?
A. Correct.
Q. That's what you were advised?
A. Correct.
Q. Okay. You were also advised that there will be no food preparation, warming or cleaning of dishes in the kitchen inside the mansion, is that right?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. What if they propose to prepare food in the kitchen, would that go against what you were told by them as a condition?
MR. SCHMIDT: Objection.
MR. SCHMIDT: Mr. Holzer, what if this is wrong, then it would be wrong.
Q. I don't like that question. My question is are these limitations conditions or binding on your client in terms of the use of the kitchen?
A. They are not binding but use of the kitchen for serving or warming food would require review and approval by the Health Department who would then have to certify the facility as a food service facility which then requires extensive renovation to the existing kitchen.

Q. Okay. Have they started renovating the kitchen, by the way?

A. The kitchen doesn't need renovating in my opinion. I was commenting to the young lady here that my wife would love that kitchen. That's why I don't dare bring her on the property, I'd be in deep trouble.

Q. I heard you say that, that's why I asked you the question.

MR. GARBER: You know are on the record twice here, right?

Q. No. So, really, my question to you is if you are presenting to this Board the fact under your summary that that's what you were told and then for them to come back and utilize the kitchen after the Board's made its decision one way or another, would that be fair to the Board from the standpoint of should they attach a condition to the approval that says you can't use the kitchen?

A. Well, I'm not going to tell the Board what they should do, number one.

Q. Good, okay.

A. Okay. Number two, if they were to change their mind and decide they are going to serve food there, that would instigate a review by the Department of Environment and Health Department in Baltimore County which would require additional review regarding flows, projected flows, et cetera, which could effect many things. But they have not done that.

Q. How would the County know, if no one, no neighbor is permitted on the property, they are using the kitchen and nobody reports it to the, nobody reports it to the County; how would this County know?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. I mean, these questions are so speculative, Mr. Garber. And Mr. Powell, how about if they put a MacDonald's restaurant behind the building but they don't allow the neighbors to come on the property, wouldn't that change things? That's the nature of these things. We are making a proposal without changing the building.

MR. GARBER: I would say to Mr. Holzer, yes, there's a possibility, put whatever conditions you want on the property, people may violate those conditions, it may never been known. It happens every day in every situation.

MR. HOLZER: Exactly.

MR. GARBER: So your point is should it be a condition or not. I don't know that this witness is going to be able to say in light of your questions whether or not it should be based on the fact that somebody could violate it or not violate it or whether or not it takes a binding representation or any of that other stuff. Those are matters probably toward the end of the case unless you want witnesses to present those points.

MR. HOLZER: I have examples when we present our case where the County has ignored the request. That's all I'll say.

MR. GARBER: You have said that in the past.

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

MR. GARBER: I am looking to forward to hearing your evidence.

MR. HOLZER: I am not sure you are.

MR. GARBER: So the objection is sustained.

BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. I'll go back. To the best of your knowledge, the client, your client has agreed not to have food preparation in the kitchen?

A. Correct.

Q. Otherwise, you would not have put it in your report?

A. Correct. I asked that question specifically.

Q. Okay. Good. You were given certain festivals, outside festivals. You list them here, Holi, H O L I, you have indicated that they suggested that the attendance would be between a hundred and 200 people, right?

A. That's what I was told.

Q. Summer festival is number two, a hundred and 200 people, correct?

A. Correct.

Q. Number three, D A S H I N I, biggest event in the year, mid October, ten day festival, last three days will increase the usage of the mansion by as many as 50 members, is that correct?

A. As many as 50 members coming for prayer or worship in the mansion.

Q. Yes, and last day brings approximately 200 people; you were told 200 people?

A. I was.

Q. The fourth one was Diwali, D I W A L I, I'm not going to ask you a question because that's fairly clear. As to what you were told under 2-B is, again, the mansion, all of the outdoor festivals will not entail usage of either the kitchen or food preparation or clean up, nor will the bathroom facilities, one and a half for the first floor, be used while attending the festival. That's what they told you to put in the report?

A. No, that's what they told my and I put it in the report.

Q. And you included in the report. They didn't tell you to put it in the report?

A. I asked very specific questions, day by day operations, so I included all that in the report.

Q. Then you concluded what the highest usage is under small 1, 2 and 3?

A. Correct. That's the worst case scenario.

Q. That's the worst case scenario. Now, under six, little six, you added the qualifier, in consideration of the unforeseen possibility of additional meetings and/or staffing arising in the future, the Congregation is proposing or requesting that the design flow of the sewage flow system will be 700 GPD. That's what you were told.

A. That's correct, that was at my suggestion.

Q. That was at your suggestion. And what would be the design flow that would be below 700 GPD? Was there one?

MR. SCHMIDT: 699.

MR. GARBER: Let's keep to the questions and answers best as possible. So, your question is?

Q. The question was very straightforward from his report. In consideration of the unforeseen possibility of additional meetings or staffing arising in the future, they are proposing the design flow be 700 GPW. So that implies to me as the reader there must have been some lesser design flow in the event that everything as you set forth in the prior page was not overstepped or not increased. You don't understand that question. I'll ask it --

A. My mother as a teacher would qualify it as a run on sentence. Can I say this?

MR. GARBER: Everyone, one at a time. I hear three people talking at once. You asked a question of the witness, you understand the question?

THE WITNESS: All right, let me try to answer it. You tell me if that's not correct. Subsection 5 under 2 says, MDE regulations and I quote, the regulation stipulates a minimal flow from non residential usage of 400 per day. That's the Code.

Q. Yes.

A. Everything below that is really a moot point.

If you exceed that then you have to design for the peak flow that exceeds that.

Q. Right.

A. So the minimum base design flow would be 400 gallons per day. I advised the Congregation if unforeseen circumstances start to happen where you have more meetings on the second floor, I'm talking about meetings, not social functions or parties, it would be advisable to increase the flow now so the system can accommodate it without having to worry about overtaxing the system five or 10 years down the line.

Q. That was really simple to answer, wasn't it?

A. I don't know we'll find out.

Q. So like I asked you, what you are saying is that the normal non residential growth requirement is 400, but you've upped it to 700 based upon things that are not foreseen or additional meetings or staffing. So, would that include growth of the Congregation from what was presented to you to a potential higher number?

A. Growth of the Congregation did not come into that decision, but growth of the Congregation, it would accommodate that considering the minimal usage that the facility will receive.

Q. Well, then what was it if it wasn't the growth of the Congregation, what was it that under your urging they moved it up to 700, what circumstances, what specifics?

A. Hiring additional staff, hiring maybe having additional meetings for the Congregation.

Q. Anything else?

A. To my knowledge, no. And there was nothing else other than what I have just stated that went into that consideration.

Q. Okay. We have already talked about the location of the septic system, so I'm not going to get into that or the age of it or what they desire. It a commitment of your client that you are representing to the County that the swimming pool will be abandoned?

MR. SCHMIDT: If you know, Mr. Powell.

A. I know they have told me that swimming pool will not be used. That's all I have been told.

Q. That doesn't mean, it might not be used but is it going to be destroyed, leveled or filled in?

A. I have not received such information.

Q. Okay. We talked about the depth of the well and you don't know. When you met with the County and DEPS or Department of the Environment, Mr. Rogers okayed this report by phone?

A. I e-mailed the preliminary report to Mr. Shara and Mr. Rogers and Mr. Rogers I believe e-mailed me and/or called me and told me it was fine. I believe it was an e-mail.

Q. Okay. Okay. Did the County Department of the Environment Protection and Sustainability approve this?

A. I was told by Mr. Rogers it was approved by a telephone call two weeks after it was submitted.

Q. Do we have any documentation of that, and in DEPS who would have been approving it?

A. It would have been the supervisor of the well program and/or the manager of the groundwater. Not the well program, the septic program. My bad.

Q. So, you really don't know whether it's true or not unless you believe Mr. Rogers, correct?

A. I've dealt with Mr. Rogers professionally for over 20 years. I have never known the man to lie to me, he's straightforward. I trust people who tell me the straight lines and don't BS me.

Q. That's great, I appreciate that.

A. I took his word for it. I believe I had a follow up conversation with the supervisor of the soil evaluation program on the job site. Her name is Mia Lowery, by the way. I verified with her that yes, it was approved.

Q. Mia Lowery?

A. Mia Lowery, L O W E R Y.

Q. She's with the department?

A. She has my old job, Environmental Department, soil evaluation inspection, supervisor.

Q. When you talked to her and confirmed it, did she indicate to you that there was documentation of the approval?

A. I did not ask, she did not say.

Q. Okay. So --

A. I would point out that Groundwater Management Section will not approve a soil percolation application on a non residential property until a water flow analysis has been submitted and approved. That is the checkpoint.

Q. Okay. So what you are saying is if I summoned Ms. Mia Lowery, your old position, if I summons her to come to this hearing, she will confirm that the County on such and such a date has approved the Water Usage Summary you have submitted?

A. Yes.

MR. HOLZER: Thank you. That's what we'll do. No further questions.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt.

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. Mr. Powell, just a couple. I think you mentioned that the minimum distance between a well and a septic system, septic reserve area or sewage disposal reserve area, I'll try using the right technology, on the property is 100 feet, is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Is that a State requirement or County requirements?

A. Both.

Q. Is there a similar requirement as it relates to the distance between a sewage reserve area or sewage disposal reserve area and an adjacent property or property line?

A. Ten feet.

Q. Okay. How about a well on another property line or another sewage disposal area on another property line, is there any such requirement?

A. Sewage disposal area on another property there's no requirement.

Q. So you can have two of them right next to each other on two properties potentially?

A. The well, minimum 100 feet, if it's directly, depending on the situation, if it's directly uphill from an adjacent well, a greater distance might be required. But we are 300 feet, 355 feet from the nearest potential septic area on the site property line. That will not be an issue.

Q. You are not near an adjacent sewage disposal reserve areas, i.e., septic systems or wells on any of the adjacent properties?

A. That would be correct.

Q. Turning back to your report, your report had a number of comments about the festivals that occur, and I would point out there is a festival at this time which is why some of the ladies here are dressed as they are. But in any event, the numbers that you gave in terms of the 100, 200 people that might be there, is that for the entire festival or is that at any one time?

A. That is for any given, the peak day of the festival, as I was told from the summer festival is what we are talking about?

Q. Right, for example, 100, 200.

A. That would be the day of the festival?

Q. That would be the full day.

A. Right.

Q. There might be a hundred people, 200 people spread out over 10 hours, 12 hours, whatever, as opposed to at one time?

A. Yeah.

Q. Your report indicates that for those events, there would be porta-johnnies or porta-potties brought in, correct?

A. That's what I was told, yes.

Q. Turns to the last page of your report, I just want to make sure I understand it. This is the section you talked about in answering Mr. Holzer with the Roman numerals under subsection two, Roman numeral IV, this is on the last page, your maximum total flow generated by the facility as you computed it would be 360 gallons per day. Am I reading that correctly?

A. That's correct.

Q. And that's broken down between the wedding being there, the staff being there, and then there being a meeting there and that would generate 360 gallons per day?

A. Yes.

Q. Then under Roman numeral V, because this is a non residential, the COMAR, C O M A R, requires that the minimum being 400 gallons per day. So even though the projection was 360 per day based on the numbers of people, you actually had the minimum baseline under the COMAR requirement is 400 gallons per day, is that correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. Under you Roman numeral VI, as I read it, you essentially, basically, from the projected nearly doubled that to engineer it to be 700 gallons per day. Is that correct?

A. That is also correct.

Q. Okay. You haven't actually, I think you indicated, I'm not going to ask you about your personal habits, you didn't attempt to use either the toilet facilities or the spigots or sinks or anything in the dwelling?

A. No, I did not.

Q. Okay. You don't know if they are working or not?

A. I have no idea.

MR. SCHMIDT: Okay. I have no other questions of Mr. Powell.

MR. GARBER: Just to clarify a point here, if you look at the Roman numerals again under B-1 through 6, as I understand it, you have 300 gallons per day assigned for a wedding which would estimate a hundred people attending that wedding, correct, three gallons per person?

THE WITNESS: Yes, sir.

MR. GARBER: Okay. So, I'm just trying to figure out, if they are not going to be use the facilities, that's the understanding reflected within the Roman numerals, then we can go into that calculation, is that correct, the 300 down?

MR. SCHMIDT: Mr. Garber, I think they wouldn't be using the facilities for the festivals is what he's saying.

MR. GARBER: Well, I understand for the wedding too, is that being accurate?

THE WITNESS: They may be using the facilities for wedding, and it was explained to me that only the family and immediate couple are there in the hall for the actual ceremony. There may be as much as a hundred people on the property.

MS. MURPHY: I'm sorry, one second. I can't hear because you keep talking. It's a mumbling sound. So can you repeat what you are saying?

THE WITNESS: You mean can I remember what I said.

MS. MURPHY: You are also being taped, everything you are saying right now can be recorded. So go ahead.

THE WITNESS: As it was explained to me, the wedding is only attended by the priest, the couple and immediate family. I was told there may be as much as a hundred people on the property, but not necessarily in the hall, I assumed to congratulate the couple when the ceremony is completed. If for no other reason, it's a two to three hour ceremony, long time standing. But the worse case scenario they would have the opportunity to use the facility. That's why I included it. All of this I had put in there is worse case scenario, keeping in mind the State requires the system flows be calculated use peak flows, not the average normal flow, is probably 60 percent of that.

MR. GARBER: Okay. So I am just trying to get to how you came to the numbers. Going to the staff, 30 gallons per day is based on three staff members?

THE WITNESS: Two staff members, 15 gallons per person per day. MDE guidelines recommend, so I just went with that.

MR. GARBER: Trying to figure out why the staff would be at 15 gallons a day, meeting of the Board of Trustees, 10 people, that's three gallons per day.

THE WITNESS: Well, staff will be there during normal business hours I'm assuming from like 9:00 to 5:00 or 8:00 to 4:00, where a meeting, if it's anymore than two hours meeting, it's too long.

MR. GARBER: It's because staff would be there longer during the course of the day as opposed to a meeting, wedding or whatever else brings people to the facility.

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. GARBER: Then 700 which was trying to accommodate an increase in meetings and an increase in staff, does it also accommodate an increase in maybe the number of attendees for a wedding.

THE WITNESS: It's a really nebulous figure, that's why I added extra to be on the safe side. I don't know if anybody goes to a wedding where somebody is at the church door counting, 100, you can't come in anymore.

MR. GARBER: I am curious how you came to 700 as that number as opposed to, for the sake of argument, 500.

THE WITNESS: Nothing magical. I just decided that that would probably be error on the side of caution.

MR. GARBER: With that in mind, Mr. Holzer, do you have any further questions?

MR. HOLZER: No.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt?

MR. SCHMIDT: No, we do not.

MR. GARBER: Board members?

MS. MURPHY: We have to analyze special exceptions. Do you have an opinion as to whether or not the new well and much septic will have any effect on the aqua streams.

THE WITNESS: No.

MR. GARBER: Any follow up?

MR. HOLZER: No.

MR. GARBER: I thank you, sir, for your time. Mr. Schmidt?

MR. SCHMIDT: I have no other witnesses for today. I did have two documents just because I wanted to put into evidence as they are related to the public domain and something earlier which was said. I'll give a copy to Mr. Holzer, I think he may have asked about these. But I have a copy of the shark fin shaped property, just a copy of the deed by which the State Highway Administration acquired it in 2015. I have a copy of the deed, if I can enter that as the next exhibit. That's obviously from the Land Records of Baltimore County.

MR. GABER: 23.

MR. SCHMIDT: I also similarly have a copy of the printout from the State --

MR. GARBER: Sorry, Mr. Schmidt, you are saying.

MR. SCHMIDT: I have a copy of the printout from the State Department of Assessments and Taxation as it relates to the property and reflects the transfer as well. I'll mark them consecutively.

MR. GARBER: 23 and 24. By way of housekeeping to make sure this has been done. 21 and 22, Mr. Holzer, you didn't have objection to those?

MR. HOLZER: No.

MR. GARBER: 23 and 24 you have no objection.

MR. HOLZER: No.

MR. GARBER: 21 through 24 are admitted.

(Petitioner's Exhibit Numbers 21 through 24 were admitted into evidence.)

MR. SCHMIDT: I believe all exhibits One through 24 are admitted on my side. Mr. Holzer has some for identification only, but just to make sure that those are properly admitted. I believe that to be the case.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, that's your recollection too.

MR. HOLZER: Whatever he had said.

MR. GARBER: With that in mind.

MR. SCHMIDT: I don't have any other witnesses at this time. It may very well be the Petitioner's case. I do want to just reflect on what has occurred here today in case there is anybody I would bring. That's what I anticipated. I didn't bring any other witness. I did for example potentially have Mr. Rogers on call because I knew Mr. Powell was going to refer to his testimony, for example. I don't know that I will bring him in. He may be rebuttal, if need be.

MR. GARBER: That leaves us in a bit of a pickle. If that's the end of your case today, we can start with Mr. Holzer's case today and maybe get one or two brief witnesses in. Are you done?

MR. SCHMIDT: If you want to do that, that's fine with me.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, do you think you can squeeze here today?

MR. HOLZER: I can present one witness who's related to the Kingsville Community Association position, would take about five minutes.

MR. GARBER: For purposes of the letter from earlier and whatnot?

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt?

MR. BERNSTEIN: That's fine.

MR. GARBER: Well, then do I hear that you are closing your case out?

MR. SCHMIDT: Subject to --

MR. GARBER: Not including rebuttal.
MR. SCHMIDT: Yes.
MR. GARBER: So your direct case is done resting on your direct?
MR. SCHMIDT: Yes.
MR. GARBER: You want to be heard before you call a witness?
MR. HOLZER: I want to be sure it wouldn't be something carried over to the next day, the October date. But if he's finished --
MR. GARBER: That would be my concern here too.
MR. SCHMIDT: If you have a witness you want to bring in, that's fine.
MR. HOLZER: That's not the question. I have a witness I can put on. My question is I want to make sure that you are not reopening your case in October at the next hearing date.
MR. GARBER: On direct.
MR. HOLZER: On direct, right.
MR. GARBER: If you have reservation about it, now would be the time to voice that.

MR. SCHMIDT: Well, I do have a reservation about it because I was trying to accommodate the Board and use all the time. Then I would ask we recess for the day, given the hour, and I'll close my case either at the beginning of the next hearing or not.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer.

MR. HOLZER: That's acceptable to me.

MR. GARBER: That's where we are at. If there is any problem on the 11th, you will get notification of that. I anticipate knowing the answer to that is myself shortly. Otherwise, I'll see everyone on October 11th.

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

MR. SCHMIDT: Thank you.

MR. GARBER: Thank you.

(The proceedings were adjourned at 4:37 PM.)

CERTIFICATE OF NOTARY PUBLIC/REPORTER

STATE OF MARYLAND

HOWARD COUNTY, to wit:

I, Patricia A. Cirasole, a Notary Public in and for the State of Maryland, do hereby certify that the within-named witness personally appeared before me and, after having been duly sworn by me, was examined by counsel.

P R O C E E D I N G S

MR. GARBER: Welcome everyone to Day 2 of the Nepali American Cultural Center matter, Case No. 18-122-X. Again, this is the Day 2. We are convened here again today at the County Council room. With that in mind, I know there was confusion as to whether or not we should be back at the Board or whether we should be here.

I understand from Ms. Kennington, who works over at the Court of Appeals, that she has asked that if there is to be any modification in the agreement, the prior agreement, as to how we're going to settle this then we can communicate in writing.

So if you-all want to switch back to the Board of Appeals for Day 3, please send an email to Ms. Kennington so that she can make arrangements with County Council and let them know.

MR. HOLZER: Can we put it on the record here before the Board right now?

MR. GARBER: That's fine as well, if that's the agreement.

MR. HOLZER: My position is that I thought Ms. Kennington knew last time at the end of the case that we thought that we could go back. But she had, out of an abundance of caution, scheduled it over here.

MR. GARBER: The notice had it listed for all days being in this room.

MR. HOLZER: I understand. I advised her yesterday, depending on what counsel wanted to do, I believe that we could be accommodated in the Board office or Board hearing room, which with allow you more comfort from the standpoint of having the audio, the visual, whatever else is necessary, instead of having to try to set it up over here for the next day. And the next day would be September 12th, which is next week.

MR. GARBER: We will note that the attendance here today is fewer in terms of people compared to Day 1.

MR. HOLZER: Correct.

MR. GARBER: The Board's normal room easily will accommodate the people who are present here today for Day 2.

Mr. Schmidt?

MR. SCHMIDT: Just for the record, for the court reporter, Lawrence E. Schmidt with Smith, Gildea & Schmidt with offices in Towson at 600 Washington Avenue, here today on behalf of the Petitioner. And seated to my immediate right is Timothy Kotroco, who is my co-counsel.

In terms of what Mr. Holzer said, I would agree. And we can follow up with a letter, if Ms. Kennington wants that.

I will say, we sort of deliberately asked our side not to come out in force, because we half thought we were going to be back over there with Mr. Holzer, since we had talked about it last time.

We told our people that they didn't need to show up as much, which accounts for our crowd. I think we can go back across the street. That would make sense.

MR. GARBER: To be clear, for today, if you did tell folks that they didn't need to attend today because you thought we would be meeting at the Board, are you saying that we should do something about that, that is, to allow them to attend?

MR. SCHMIDT: Yeah. We'll make sure, I think, next time probably a group of this size. This is about the amount of people we were expecting.

(Attendee participation.)

MR. SCHMIDT: For the benefit of the court reporter, my client, a representative of Nepali, indicated that we should be okay from our standpoint in terms of the number of people attending.

MR. GARBER: But as for Day 2, today you're not contending that there's going to be a problem because the confusion as to whether or not they should be back at the Board of Appeals versus today in terms of your client and your members attending, correct?

MR. SCHMIDT: There's no problem for today.

MR. GARBER: We can proceed today then?

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, sir.

MS. DOPKIN: Out of an abundance of deference to Ms. Kennington, if you guys could just do a one-line memo and sign it so that she has a piece of paper for the file, she'll be happier.

MR. SCHMIDT: Absolutely. I understand. I like her to be happy too, that way I can get my hearing dates occasionally. I agree.

MR. GARBER: I will alert everyone now that there may be a problem for me on October 11th, which is Day 4. I'm still trying to sort that out. There was a subsequently scheduled deposition, of course.

MR. HOLZER: Understood.

MR. SCHMIDT: We know how that works.

MR. GARBER: Also for those in attendance here today, we are treating this as if it is a courtroom. Therefore, turn your cellphones off or mute them.

In addition, there is to be no loud noises, no interruptions, no audible comments regarding testimony or opinions on the matter. That's reserved obviously for the witnesses and counsel up front here today.

If you need an ADA-compliant bathroom, I understand they are located on the first floor. Other than that, we can get started.

MR. SCHMIDT: Thank you Chairman Garber and members of the Board --

MR. GARBER: Real quick.

MR. HOLZER: Could I have a preliminary?

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, sir.

MR. HOLZER: J. Carroll Holzer, 508 Fairmount Avenue on behalf of the Protestants that were here on Day 1, rather than have to list them, I would add, I have a letter here but it's not signed. But I've been retained by the Greater Kingsville

Civic Association, Inc.

So as of today I would like -- and I'll be representing them as a party in this matter.

MR. GARBER: Greater Kingsville --

MR. HOLZER: -- Civic Association, Inc. And Dorothy Foos, who many of you may know --

MR. GARBER: I do know Ms. Foos.

MR. HOLZER: -- as the president, has authorized me to represent them. They sent me an unsigned copy. I'd prefer to have a signed copy. I'm going to hold on to it until the next hearing, and then I'll introduce that.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt, anything about that?

MR. SCHMIDT: No, sir. I'm sure Mr. Holzer will supply that, when he gets it.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt.

MR. SCHMIDT: Before I call my next witness, Mr. Garber and members of the panel, when we were here last time, there was some cross-examination, I believe, by Mr. Holzer of my client and some of the witnesses, and he requested that we produce certain documents, which I brought today.

So I'm going to hand to the Board what I've premarked. I believe we are up to Exhibit 5. I will give, if I can approach, to Ms. Murphy an original and three copies.

This is a copy of the Articles of Incorporation of Nepali American Cultural Center of Baltimore that we just simply got from the Department of Assessments and Taxation. The entity is a entity in good standing with that office. Mr. Holzer had asked about that.

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 5 marked for identification.)

The next two exhibits, which I premarked as Exhibits 6 and 7, there had been some questions about a deed of trust for the property when my client purchased the property.

I think, as I recall, Mr. Holzer may have had a copy of it but it wasn't the copy that showed it was recorded in the land records with the clerk's stamp on it. I've given Mr. Holzer a copy of that.

There's also a letter from the attorney who is the attorney who prepared the document indicating that he prepared it. There's some language from him as well on that. And Mr. Holzer asked that we bring copies of that document.

MR. GARBER: Just to be clear, Exhibit 6 seems to be --

MR. SCHMIDT: The letter. I kind of got them a little backwards, I think. Exhibit 6 is the letter, and the deed of trust is 7.

If you look on the last page of the instrument it indicates or -- it's page 43 in the recording book -- says, I certify I'm a licensed Maryland attorney. I prepared this deed of trust. And the letter is from Daniel Radebaugh.

I would just mark those accordingly. And, with that, I would call my next witness, if I can.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, any problems with Exhibits 5 through 7?

MR. HOLZER: No. I believe they were requested and promised.

MR. GARBER: They will be so admitted.

MR. HOLZER: There may be an additional one.

MR. GARBER: So 5 through 7.

MR. HOLZER: That's fine.

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 6 marked for identification.)

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 7 marked for identification.)

MR. SCHMIDT: My next witness would be John Motsco. If I can ask Mr. Motsco to come up to the stand.

(Witness Motsco sworn.)

MS. DOPKIN: State your name and address for the record, and spell your last name.

THE WITNESS: My name is John Motsco, M-O-T-S-C-O, professional engineer with Little & Associates at 1055 Taylor Avenue, Suite 307, in Towson, Maryland.

EXAMINATION BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. Mr. Motsco, you can sit. I know we have Exhibit Nos. 1 and 2 behind you. If you need to refer to them during the course of your testimony, please get up. Just keep your voice up so our court reporter and the Board can hear you.

You've identified yourself, Mr. Motsco, as an employee of Little & Associates?

A. That is correct.

Q. Just briefly, what's the nature of the business of Little & Associates?

A. It's a civil engineering firm specializing in land development, land planning, surveying, permitting.

Q. How long have you been with Little & Associates?

A. Fourteen years.

Q. And what's your occupation personally? What do you do?

A. I'm a senior project engineer, and my job is to supervise a team of engineers, preparing plans, computations and other such documents for county and regulatory approval.

Q. Are you a professional engineer and licensed in the state of Maryland?

A. Yes, I am.

Q. How long have you been so licensed?

A. Five years.

Q. And tell us a little bit about the nature of the work you've done. You've described it a little bit.

But have you done work in Baltimore County over the years?

A. Yes. Our work is primarily in Baltimore County. At the time that I've been employed with Little & Associates, I've worked on a number of projects from single lots, minor subdivisions to 150- or 200-lot subdivisions, numerous commercial properties of various sizes, large flex-use buildings, down to small convenience-store type.

Q. Have you prepared plans for zoning cases including special exceptions, zoning variances and the like?

A. Yes.

Q. I show you Exhibit No. 1, which is the site plan that's on the board.

Did you prepare that document, or was it prepared under your supervision and direction?

A. Yes.

Q. Let me show you, Mr. Motsco, a copy of the document I believe --

MR. SCHMIDT: Ms. Murphy, I did not premark this. I will give you the copies.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) -- which is entitled John Motsco, PE. I ask if you can identify this.

A. This is a copy of my resume and work experience.

Q. Generally describing, I assume, sir, the nature of your background, your education and so on, so forth.

A. Correct.

Q. I note that it also indicates, on the second page, development plan hearings, Board of Appeals' hearings, and zoning hearings that you've participated in.

A. Yes.

Q. I assume at those hearings you've testified as an expert witness?

A. Correct.

Q. And been accepted by the Board of Appeals and the county's administrative law judge as an expert witness.

A. Yes.

MR. SCHMIDT: I'm going to offer this as Exhibit No. 8 and offer Mr. Motsco as a civil engineer with expertise as it relates to the zoning petition and issues surrounding the same in this case.

MR. GARBER: Expert in --

MR. SCHMIDT: He's a civil engineer. He does have expertise in the zoning regulations as they are applicable to this case.

MR. GARBER: Expertise in Baltimore County zoning regulations with specific reference to this case.

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, sir.

I will turn him over to Mr. Holzer for voir dire.

MR. HOLZER: Thank you.

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 8 marked for identification.)

MR. GARBER: On Exhibit 8, where are you.

MR. HOLZER: It was just handed to me.

MR. GARBER: Sorry. I'm just trying to compartmentalize the two issues.

MR. HOLZER: Right. I'm just having a minute to glance over it based on his testimony and based on the background.

MR. GARBER: I meant just solely for admissibility.

MR. HOLZER: I understand.

EXAMINATION BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. I'm looking at the list of community input meetings. None of those are official in terms of administrative law hearing or a Board of Appeals' hearing, right?

A. No.

Q. Just county community --

A. It's a requirement of the county development process.

Q. And you don't have to be an expert or attorney to deal with those.

A. Correct.

Q. In development plan hearings, those would be in front of an administrative law judge?

A. That is correct.

Q. And that was Mr. Beverungen?

A. I believe in every case so far on those it has been.

Q. In the Trappe Lane case before this Board, did you testify as an expert?

A. I did.

Q. And they recognized you?

A. That is correct.

Q. All the rest of the cases listed are variances, special hearings, and special exceptions. You listed a number of those, is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. They've all been for developers, applicants?

A. Homeowners. Yes.

Q. Property owners.

A. And homeowners.

Q. Have you represented any individual neighbors or individuals who own a single-family house?

A. Yes.

Q. Which ones?

A. It was the Morris Avenue or Lane. I don't recall which it was. I may have actually the wrong name. If I could see the list, I would be able to tell you.

Q. Counsel can give you the list.

(Complies.)

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) I'm looking halfway down to Morris Avenue, I think, is what you suggested.

A. Yes.

Q. What was that project?

A. That was a setback to a flood plain for the current homeowner/resident.

Q. Any other ones where you've represented individual homeowners rather than developers or builders or applicants?

A. The Phoenix Auto. I represented the operators of the business. It's an auto repair shop. Height residence is for the current resident of that dwelling as well.

Q. On 1250 Jerusalem Road?

A. Yes.

Q. Let me go into your background, if I may, just a little bit.

Interesting that you've worked for Little & Associates for 14 years, you've said, but you've only been a licensed civil engineer for five, is that correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. What were the other nine years? What did you do for them?

A. As a civil engineer, once you have a degree, there's a requirement of work experience prior to getting a license.

During that time, I worked under and along with others people at work, professional engineers at that time, to learn more about the profession and prepare myself to become a professional engineer.

Q. So as of five years ago you were able to say you got a degree in civil engineering, right?

A. Five years ago today, I was able to say I was a professional engineer.

Q. Right. Up until then you were not able to say that, when you testified at any hearings or whether you commented on your opinion in any hearing.

A. I did not appear at any hearings prior to having my license.

Q. So all of these appearances listed on page 2 of Developers 8 occurred within the last five years.

A. That's correct.

Q. Okay. Thanks.

Now, in terms of your experience in the last five years, do you have specific engineering qualifications or degrees relative to sound issues?

A. I do not.

Q. What about forestry, forest analysis, forest development, forest buffer planning, et cetera?

A. Forest buffers and forest conservation, that is not an engineer exercise. That's done by an environmental ecologist. It's a separate certification and education.

Q. And did you say you have a certification as that?

A. No, I do not.

Q. As part of your qualifications, does land planning fall within the civil engineering degree?

A. It does in this jurisdiction.

Q. It does in this jurisdiction.

A. Yes.

Q. Baltimore County, you mean.

A. Yes.

Q. In other jurisdictions it may not.

A. Some jurisdictions offer a separate license or registration of some sort for land planners specifically. But that is not available here.

Q. In regard to zoning regulations, is there a degree or certificate that you would have received to make you an expert in the Baltimore County zoning regulations?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. So any knowledge of yours relative to zoning would be based on, what, your five years of experience?

A. My full 14 years of experience.

Q. So you dealt with zoning issues for 14 years?

A. Yes.

Q. Even though the first nine you were not qualified or received any qualifications or degrees, is that correct?

A. I had a degree for the 14 years.
Q. What degree?
A. Civil engineering.
Q. Maybe I'm confused.
Did you obtain any certification or a formal background in terms of zoning in Baltimore County?
A. No.
Q. You learned it during the course of your 14 years from experience, is that correct?
A. That is correct.
Q. Now, as a civil engineer, do you have any ethical requirements or standards which you are obligated to follow in terms of responsibilities not only to your client but to any one relative community that may be around to the zoning administration personnel?
A. Yes.
Q. What's that?
A. Civil engineers have a code of ethics as part of the licensing.

Q. Could you just tell us -- don't spend more than five seconds on it -- what is your responsibility?

A. To uphold the law and do the right thing.

Q. The right thing for your client or the right thing in terms of a particular project?

A. Public health, safety, and welfare.

Q. Good. Okay.

Do you have any qualifications relative to stormwater management?

A. Just my professional license and my experience.

Q. Is there anything --

Are there any other kinds of degrees or any approvals that are necessary to be an expert in stormwater management?

A. No, there are not.

Q. There are not.

Do you have any credentials that address your expertise in regard to determination of wetlands?

A. I didn't state that I had any qualifications. That's a environmental ecologist. I'm an engineer.

Q. So you're not saying that you can comment on wetlands, or whatever, that may be on the property or elsewhere.

A. Other than what is shown on the plan as determined by others, if that were to apply.

Q. That will get me into a question that I will pursue, when we get to your direct testimony.

But you're saying now that anything relative to determination of wetlands is not your personal analysis. It was someone else's.

A. That's correct.

Q. From your position as a senior project engineer, does that mean --

Let me ask you this: Did you get into this case initially at the very beginning, or were you retained later?

A. Are you referring to the firm or myself personally?

Q. I'm referring to you personally.

A. I've been involved with this case since the first week it was at the office.

Q. Which was what date?

A. I would not have committed it to memory.

Q. Approximately. 2001? 2014?

Don't look at anybody else.

A. I'm looking at the plan. We have a project number. It was 2017, is when the project was started.

Q. Do you recall in what month of that year?

A. Not off the top of my head, no.

Q. At that time was there any -- or had the property been purchased?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. This is beyond voir dire, I believe. I'm not quite sure where we're going.

MR. GARBER: I agree that the last question involving in this project seems to be a bit far afield from his qualifications as to whether or not we should receive him as an expert in the fields tendered by Mr. Schmidt.

MR. HOLZER: I'll get it later.

Well, I believe I can ask him --

Well, he's already explained, I believe, that he was initially in this project some week in 2017.

MR. GARBER: Yes, but for purposes of voir dire, that is, again, Is he an expert in the fields identified by Mr. Schmidt? I'm not sure --

Explain to me why it would be relevant to that analysis.

MR. HOLZER: I can re-ask the question during the merits questioning, if you want.

I have no further questions.

MR. GARBER: In the fields as identified by Mr. Schmidt, are you satisfied, or do you object to him as an expert?

MR. HOLZER: I object to him as an expert for purposes of the record.

MR. GARBER: And on what basis?

MR. HOLZER: That I don't think he's qualified to render opinions. I read the administrative law judge testimony, which I know is not relevant for purposes of this Board. It's here de novo.

But I think he's made comments, testimony that exceed his ability as an expert to testify. I just want to avoid having those expressed here before the Board.

MR. GARBER: If it comes to the testimony that goes beyond the scope of how he's been proffered as an expert, certainly you would have the right to object on that basis and then see how things go, maybe cross-examine him if it gets to that. You have both of those available to you during the course of the merits.

But in terms of him being an expert in civil engineering, him being an expert in Baltimore County zoning regulations by virtue of background and everything, do you --

MR. HOLZER: I still object.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt, do you have any response?

MR. SCHMIDT: I would just say -- obviously I can ask the witness about this -- I think the Board and Mr. Holzer will know that Little & Associates, like all engineering firms, has a broad base of people who work there.

Mr. Motsco was the lead guy. There were other people in his office who contributed, I'm sure, to the preparation of the plan.

If there's a specific detail that Mr. Holzer objects to, I can try to produce that person. But he is the project manager. And if I ask him if his company identified wetlands, I think that's something he can answer. But he's clearly an expert. He's the lead guy for Little & Associates on this project.

MR. GARBER: Just to be clear, the seal and stamp on there, are you the engineer of record?

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MR. GARBER: I think that --

MR. SCHMIDT: He's sealing that that plan is accurate. I don't know where Mr. Holzer is going with this. But that plan was obviously prepared by Mr. Motsco. He sealed it and his team.

MR. HOLZER: My response is, yeah, he sealed it. Yes, he's the civil engineer. But he relied on the opinion of others to form certain testimony below.

I just want to make sure that when I make an objection to testimony that is being offered, it will be within the context of the fact that he has admitted he is not a sound expert. He had admitted that he's not a forestry expert. He's admitted that he has no stormwater management expertise, nor wetlands.

So I'm only saying that I am familiar with what took place below, even though I was not there, because I read the transcript. I just want to avoid extension of his testimony into areas that he personally is not qualified for.

MR. GARBER: With that in mind, we're going to accept him as an expert as tendered by Mr.

Schmidt. I believe that the issues raised by Mr. Holzer go to the weight of the testimony, which is a matter for the merits of the testimony to come.

So, with that in mind, Mr. Schmidt, you may proceed.

EXAMINATION BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. Mr. Motsco, let me start off by maybe addressing some of these comments that have just been made.

You've identified yourself as a civil engineer, professional engineer and so licensed by the State of Maryland, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. I assume or can you tell us a little bit about the firm that employees you, Little & Associates, and the individuals there who would have assisted you with this project, who helped you out and what kind of things are they involved with as you are the project manager.

A. In this particular project, I had a drafts person that was helping me prepare the physical plan, and we would have enlisted the help of a licensed surveyor for the property outline. Beyond that it was between me and the drafts person that prepared this plan.

Q. Was there any identification of environmental resources that might exist or don't exist on the property?

A. There are streams shown on the plan and woods line, and those are as provided by Baltimore County GIS.

Q. You indicated that you were --

MR. GARBER: If I may, you said Baltimore County GIS. Could you identify for the record what you're referring to.

THE WITNESS: Geospatial information systems, I believe it stands for. That is a digital format that the county has flown aerial photography of the county in order to determine topography, the locations of existing paving, buildings, streams, tree lines, any number of features. They have the files available from the county, not including the official zoning lines, ergo, metro, district.

Any number of things that were previously on paper maps provided by the county are now being incorporated into their GIS system. That is available to the public for download and serves as a starting point for virtually every project.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Is that an acceptable data source for you as an engineer to use in the county information that's available?

A. Yes. In many cases that is the best information available.

Q. Does the county accept plans and documents that's based, in terms of the source of data, on the information in the county's GIS system?

A. Yes.

Q. In this case, you indicated, you were hired in 2017 or Little & Associates was hired in 2017.

A. Yes.

Q. And are you aware --

Did you attend the hearing before Administrative Law Judge Beverungen in this case?

A. I did.

Q. And did you testify at that hearing?

A. I did.

Q. And Judge Beverungen, I believe, issued a decision in this case in January of 2018, and the hearing was shortly before that decision was issued.

Knowing that that's when you testified before Judge Beverungen, does that give you any assistance in how long you may have been involved in the project before it went to that hearing?

A. I would say sometime around six months. I know we were working on the project for quite some time before we got to the hearing. The hearing was rescheduled, I believe, once.

Q. So perhaps in the spring or early summer of 2017?

A. Yes. Late spring, early summer.

Q. Okay. And you indicated you have sealed this plan, is that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. Let me ask you: Are you familiar -- I assume you are familiar with this property and the site?

A. I am.

Q. Have you been there personally --

A. Yes.

Q. Mr. Motsco, let me finish my question, before you answer --

A. I'm sorry.

Q. -- just so the court reporter can get both question and answer.

Have you been out to the property?

A. Yes.

Q. How many times?

A. At least twice.

Q. Can you maybe give us a little bit of overview -- if you would like to use either the aerial or the site plan, maybe the site plan -- and describe the property?

When I say to describe it, I'm going to ask you generally about the zoning and the geographic character and improvements.

MR. GARBER: Before you start, if you're going to point, you're going to need to describe what you're pointing to and where on Exhibit 1 that you are pointing.

Because, obviously, you can say, Right here. The court reporter is not going to be able to take down what you are conveying, other than the literal words.

So please try to be specific as to what you're pointing to or referencing.

A. This is Exhibit 1. We're using Exhibit 1. The property itself is marked by a heavy bold, dashed line that surrounds the property. The property contains 30.8 acres. It's zoned RC-2.

The property is bound on the northwest side and north side by Harford Road, which is labeled, and runs along the boundary of the property as well, including through the very northern part of the property.

There is a existing access driveway near the intersection of Harford Road and Bonaparte

Avenue on Harford Road on the south side that leaves Harford Road and heads south into the site, meandering to the existing house which is more or less in the center of the property. It's a little to one side but it is centered generally in the property of the existing house and driveway there.

Most of the driveway are open field. It looks like it may have been lawn at some point in the past. The limits of the lawn is roughly outlined by a plan which is labeled "Woods." There's three out-structures; there's a pool and then a small pool house, a shed and a two-story dwelling that are also on the property. And they are all located to the east and southeast of the main house.

To the northeast of the house, there's an existing tennis court, and then at the very southern end of the property, there is an existing large barn.

MR. GARBER: Just by way of background, you said there was marked as Exhibit 1 the map that you're looking at prior to the start of the hearing.

We all agreed to use that physical exhibit that you are actually referencing with the actual label "Exhibit 1" in the file.

Mr. Holzer and I are in agreement that is the exact same plan as what's contained in the file version of Exhibit 1.

MR. HOLZER: I would add to that. I would mark this exhibit as 1A so that way we have everything that you have.

MR. SCHMIDT: I would be happy to do that.

Just for the record, Exhibit 1A, which I'll mark, is now on the board. If I can have a sticker, I will do that. I'll mark this 1A. It's identified as is Exhibit 1, as the plan to accompany the Petition for Special Exception. This is on a hard board, and it's a little easier for us to mount on the easels. It's the same document.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, that's acceptable?

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 1A marked for identification.)

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Motsco, you described, I think, the improvements on the property.

The buildings that you've described, the barn, the tennis court, the pool, et cetera, they are all existing, are they not?

A. That is correct.

Q. Is there anything on this plan that is not existing as of today in terms of improvements on the property?

A. We have a portion of parking and a small bit of driveway extension that is north of the existing house and it comes off of the existing driveway, where it bends on the more northerly part of the existing driveway.

Q. I know it's going to be hard to describe, as Chairman Garber mentioned, but could you go up and point out and describe as best as you can where the parking area improvement is going to be and where the driveway extension may be?

A. As you're coming into the site on the existing driveway, there is a bend to the left where you turn and face the existing house. At that point, there is a small spur of existing paving that will have a fire department turnaround installed and some pull-in parking spaces on that small spur of existing paving.

And then continuing on the main driveway to the house, between that bend and the loop portion of the driveway at the house, there are additional parking spaces proposed on both sides of that drive aisle.

Q. You indicated there's a fire engine turnaround. What's the purpose of that? Why would that be shown here?

A. It's a requirement of the fire code, that the fire department have a way --

The loop driveway would serve the function at the existing house, and then for the small spur there would be an additional turnaround required.

That is in the event of a fire or other emergency that requires the fire department to bring equipment. They are able to maneuver their vehicles and get it back out of the property and not get stuck.

Q. You've described the improvements to the parking lot and the fire turnaround.

Can you also point out the possible relocation or possible extension of the driveway down at Harford Road?

A. We have alternates that are being explored by our traffic engineer with State Highway. There is a alternate access drive that is shown on this plan as provided by the traffic engineer that illustrates an alternate exit which may be used to satisfy SHA requirements.

Q. Other than the two what I'm going to call areas of proposed improvement, the driveway and the parking area with the turnaround, are there any other improvements proposed for this property as part of this plan?

A. No physical improvements. I believe they are still undergoing cosmetic improvements to the property.

Q. Any new building proposed, new structures?

A. No.

Q. I think there was testimony in the first day of hearing that some of the structures that are there, some of the older structures, particularly the ones that are in a state of disrepair, may be removed, is that correct?

A. That's my understanding as well.

Q. As to your understanding, do you know which of those structures may be removed?

A. The one I know for certain is the existing pool and the structures that are there for the enjoyment of the pool are in disrepair and likely to be removed first.

Q. You indicate that Harford Road essentially -- and it's shown on your plan -- runs along the perimeter of a large portion of the property, isn't that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. Is that a county road or a state road?

A. It is a state road.

Q. Maybe you can draw your attention, now that you've described the property for us a little bit --

Well, let me ask you, before I leave there: Could you also show the Board maybe again --

I know it's hard to point out. I hear what Mr. Garber is saying.

Is much of the property in woods and trees?

A. There's a swath of woods along Harford Road that at its narrowest is probably 60 or 50 feet and closest to the driveway entrance.

And then as you move around along the Harford Road side and you get to the westerly side of the property, the patch of thick trees is approximately 100-feet wide.

That continues into the southern portion of the property around the barn, which becomes almost completely wooded.

The woods then continue on the eastern property line, the two main eastern property lines along the existing stream that is there, and there's a large swath of woods there as well.

Q. Does this plan show or is it anticipated that there would be any clearing of these wooded areas?

A. We do not anticipate any clearing of the wooded areas at this time.

Q. You did mention that there's a stream on the property. Where is that located?

A. It runs along the southeastern and southern property line. It wanders on and off the property and onto the neighbors but generally along the southeastern and southern property line.

Q. Is there any construction or road improvement or building or anything in that area of the stream, or will there be any impact to the stream under the proposal?

MR. HOLZER: Objection. For purposes of the record, he established that he is not a person that can identify an environmental impact, and he's admitted that was somebody else.

MR. GARBER: Can you restate your question?

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Let me ask it this way: Mr. Motsco, is there any new construction, be it road construction, grading, or any type of improvement, that would impact the stream that exists on the property?

A. There's no proposed construction that is in the vicinity of the stream.

Q. The parking lot expansion, as you've described it, and driveway expansion, how far are they away from the stream? Could you even estimate?

A. Roughly estimating, 500 to 700 feet away from the stream.

Q. Let me ask you, if I can --

And maybe I'll draw your attention to Exhibit 2 which is also mounted.

There was testimony before, Mr. Motsco, about the general locale or neighborhood of this property. I think that aerial photograph shows the property, does it not?

A. It does.

Q. Is it outlined or how is it shown on Exhibit 2?

A. It's shown roughly in the center of this plan and it is with a pink highlighter.

Q. Can you tell is a little bit about the general vicinity and the locale in which this property is located? What's around it and near it?

A. To the east and south of the property, there is a significant portion of existing wooded vegetation, trees. And the stream we previously talked about is in that area. Beyond that, there is some farmland with some scattered houses.

On the opposite side of Harford Road from our site, there are single-family dwellings. That would be on the western and northern side of Harford Road from us. There's a handful of individual homes. And beyond that there is another patch of woods. And I believe there's a stream in there as well.

To the east of the property, we have a church and a school that are actually on Mount Vista Road, which intersects Harford Road near the property. They would be east of the property, heading towards the edge of the plan.

Q. Is that, I believe it's referred, the Christian Redeemer property?

A. Yes, that's one of them.

Q. And can you describe --

I think you said a church and a school. Can you describe the activity that goes on there, to the best of your knowledge, in a little more detail?

A. The only knowledge I would have is from a visit, seeing the activities on a weekday. At that time, the church facility appeared to be a standard Christian denomination church. It was kind of quiet in the middle of the day but otherwise appeared to be in use and able to support a sizable congregation.

The school at that time was running a day

camp with several hundred kids out and about playing in the fields and the other facilities on the site.

Q. Is there a swimming pool there?

A. There is a swimming pool.

Q. Is there a corn maze on the property?

A. It does appear that there was, at least at the time that this photo was taken.

Q. How about the topography of the site and the general area; flat, hilly? What kind of topography was there?

A. It's very hilly.

Q. How about the property? Is the former dwelling at the high point or low point? Can you kind of describe that for us?

A. The main structure is at the highest point on this property. It appears to be the highest point in the surrounding area.

The property generally in all directions slopes down, in some cases rather quickly from the main house and lawn area to the property line of the neighboring properties.

Q. The property at the present time --

Is the building occupied at the present time? Is anybody living there?

A. Nobody is living there.

Q. How about in the outbuilding that you described, the other small dwelling near the main dwelling?

A. No, they're not currently used as residences.

Q. Is the property in any kind of agriculture use at the present time?

A. It is not.

Q. How about the visibility of the building? Can it be seen, if you know, from Harford Road or from adjacent properties?

A. I can't speak for adjacent properties. I haven't visited all of them. From Harford Road, at best, there are a couple spots where you may get a glimpse of the building but it's generally screened from the road.

Q. Is that because of the trees?

A. Because of the trees and extreme topography along Harford Road.

Q. Are there any farms that you know of or any either dairy or agriculture or even properties that are planted in the immediate vicinity or adjacent to this property?

A. There are none immediately adjacent. The immediate adjacent properties are all currently wooded.

Q. Wooded or residential?

A. Yes.

Q. Or, I guess, institutional in the case of the Redeemer?

A. Yes.

Q. I think this might be a good time since you've been describing the property in the area --

MR. SCHMIDT: Ms. Murphy, I have premarked a series of photographs with letters, not numbers, because I didn't know what numbers I would be up to. I will give you four copies of those. Hopefully, they are all identical. I will give the witness one as well. If I can, I will stand over his shoulder, so I can see them as well. I brought six copies.

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 9A-MM marked for identification.)

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Motsco, I'm going to show you a series of photographs and ask you to identify each one, if you can, sir.

MR. GARBER: Before you start, this is Exhibit 9.

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, it would be 9. As I indicated, each photograph is labeled with a letter, which I will refer to as a letter as I question the witness.

MR. GARBER: The copy I have received runs from A through MM.

MR. SCHMIDT: That's correct.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Motsco, if you can do it this way, describe each letter so the Board and the court reporter knows what you're talking about.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, do you have a copy?

MR. HOLZER: Yes, I do.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) We'll start with Exhibit 9A. And, Mr. Motsco, if you can kind of go through these and tell the Board what they are looking at, what these photographs are showing.

A. Exhibit A shows a new sign that has been installed identifying the property and the use.

Q. Where is that located?

A. That is located at the current existing driveway which has a small landscaped island. The sign has been installed in that island.

Q. And that current driveway actually, when it gets down to Harford Road, splits, does it not, so there's an entrance on one side and an exit on the other?

A. That is correct. It is split.

Q. And then it joins together on the other side of the landscaped drive?

A. Yes.

Q. That's the existing sign that's at the entrance.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. B.

A. B is looking east from the driveway entrance up along Harford Road, generally showing the view somebody would have from a car.

Q. Okay.

A. C is looking in the opposite direction on Harford Road, which would be westerly.

Q. Okay.

A. D is, again, looking easterly from a different location within the existing driveway. You're able to see a portion of the intersection of Boneparte Avenue in the left-hand side of that photograph.

Q. And Boneparte is kind of on the other side of Harford.

A. Correct. Not directly but across the street from the driveway.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit E is a photograph looking down

Boneparte Avenue from the opposite side of Harford Road.

Q. Is that a dead end road; Boneparte?

A. It is.

Q. What kind of land uses are located down Boneparte?

A. Single-family dwellings.

Exhibit F is taken some distance up the driveway from Harford Road, and you can see a gate is installed.

In the middle of the driveway is the landscaped island we discussed. You can also see the split driveway for ingress and egress.

MR. GARBER: F shows what?

THE WITNESS: Where you're standing in the driveway, inside the property, looking back at Harford Road.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) The driveway is gated shortly after one would turn onto it from Harford Road.

A. Yes.

Q. Matter of fact, there's a vehicle parked in the driveway, is there not, on the Harford Road side of the gate?

A. That is correct.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit G is a little bit further up the driveway, again turned facing Harford Road. You can see the landscaped island and the vehicle. They are in the same location from the previous photograph.

Exhibit H is turned around and it's facing into the property. And we are now a good distance into the property. The driveway goes over a little bit of a hill there and it does turn to the left. The house in this photo is not visible but it is off to the very left of this photograph.

Exhibit I is much further down the driveway. We've made the left-hand turn. This is in the vicinity of the proposed pull-in parking.

You can see in the center of the photo the existing building and the access driveway and the loop driveway in front of the building.

Q. The building was formerly used for residential purposes, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. This is the building, as was testified at the last hearing, that will be converted to the temple.

A. That is correct.

Q. Are there any exterior additions or changes proposed to that building; enlarging it or putting a wing on or anything like that?

A. No additions.

Exhibit J is now at the beginning of the loop portion of the driveway. It's a little clearer picture of the existing dwelling, proposed temple and shows the turnaround and the lawn space in front.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit K. We are now up near the front porch of the existing building. We're looking back along the driveway, towards Harford Road.

You can see the driveway going off towards the back of the photograph and then just the tree line that is visible, nothing else.

Q. Is Harford Road visible from that --

A. No, it is not.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit L is a photograph of the room that will be converted to the temple. In this photograph it shows some chairs set up for a function that was being held previously.

Q. That was described, those chairs.

There are not going to be any pews there or permanent seating but chairs could be brought in for events depending on the particular use at the time, is that correct?

A. Yes, that was my understanding. The chairs would be occasional, temporary use in the temple portion.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit M is again in the temple room. It's looking down the main access hallway from the front doors to the left in that hallway. It's just another interior view of the main worship room.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit N is a photograph of one corner of the worship room, and there are two structures of some kind in there for religious worship.

Exhibit O is the back of the building. It just shows the back of the building. It's similar in construction to the front.

Exhibit P is a existing two-car garage that's under a portico.

Q. And that's attached to the building?

A. Attached to the building.

Q. To the rear of the building?

A. It is to the rear on the eastern side of the building.

Q. Okay.

A. This photograph is from --

Q. When you say "this" --

A. I'm sorry.

Q is a photograph showing a little bit of the rear facade of the building standing on that porch that is over the garage in the previous photo.

You can see to the left of the photo, looking back down the valley. And down there somewhere is Harford Road running along.

Q. Okay.

A. R is the same location. It's turned slightly. It's a better view looking down the valley at the neighbors of Harford Road.

Q. Would that be looking towards the barn which is in the rear of the property?

A. Yes. In the general direction of the barn. Southerly.

Q. Can you see the barn from the building?

A. I do not believe so.

Q. Okay.

A. Photograph S is the smaller dwelling on the property, which is located southeast of the main dwelling.

Q. That's shown on your plan as "Existing Two-Story Dwelling."

A. That's correct.

Q. I know there was testimony about that potentially being a caretaker's cottage or a place for the leader of the priests at that building.

A. Yes. That is that building.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit T is a closer photograph of that same two-story dwelling.

Exhibit U is another photograph of that same dwelling.

Q. Is that habitable at the present time, Mr. Motsco, in your opinion?

A. I wouldn't want to live there.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit V is the existing tennis court that is to the west of the main house.

Q. And that's also marked on your plan and labeled.

A. That is labeled on the plan.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit W. We can see a shelter that's at the pool, and there is actually a pool in that photograph even though it's overgrown.

Exhibit X is a more clear photo of the structure adjacent to the pool.

Q. Sort of a gazebo, an open-walled structure?

A. Yes. It's a roof.

Exhibit Y is inside of that small structure. You can see to the left side of that photograph there is a pool house and shed structure that appeared to be used for storage for the pool and the yard.

Exhibit Z shows the existing pool and the surrounding pool deck. It's overgrown and in disrepair.

Turn to Exhibit AA. That is a closer photograph of the pool house.

BB is again a photograph of the side of the pool house and storage.

When we turn to Exhibit CC, I believe we're on the western porch of the property and looking in a westerly direction. You can see the existing vegetation. And those trees are mature so the grade is apparent by the fact that you're looking over the tops of the treetops.

Q. That photograph was obviously taken during the summertime?

A. Yes.

Q. I think the Board members can see it. But there's a label distance from Harford Road, the right of way of Harford Road to the building, of about 340 feet, is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. So you're over a 100 yards from the building to get to Harford Road.

A. That is correct.

Q. And you indicated that, I guess, it looks like a third of that, or 100 feet, you said, was in forest or trees.

A. Correct.

Q. Is that the area of the trees there that you're looking at?

A. Yes. This would represent the trees to the west of the property between the property and Harford Road.

Q. That's Exhibit CC.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit DD has moved down to the lawn and it's turned. It's in the same general vicinity to the west of the house. But the photograph was taken in a more southerly direction showing the property as it falls off towards those trees in the middle of the photograph and shows the existing vegetation off into the distance.

Q. Okay.

A. Photo EE is in the yard again. It's turned in a more westerly direction showing the same vegetation and grade.

Exhibit FF is taken from the driveway, the existing driveway and I believe it is looking in a easterly direction at the nearest neighbor's house. That's a little bit visible in the upper right corner of the photo. You can see a piece of the roof.

Q. Would that be generally the area, Mr. Motsco, of where your, quote, alternate access drive would be, that general vicinity?

A. Yes. The alternate access driveway would be installed in the lawn area that's shown in this photograph.

Q. So the Board can identify that, if they look at the plan, that's the labeling in that general area?

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit GG. We're standing in a similar location, and the photograph has been turned closer towards the west.

You can see a little bit of the striping for Harford Road on the very left-hand side, and there's a telephone pole basically looking straight down Boneparte Avenue, next to that telephone pole.

Exhibit HH is the same general location. It is looking in a more southerly direction along the existing driveway, which is visible on the right-hand side of the photograph.

Q. Same kind of direction?

A. The fence is visible in the picture. II is the same location, showing the same features. That's another photograph of the area where the possible future entrance would be located.

Q. That fence, again just to give the Board reference, if they're looking at these photographs outside the hearing, is a temporary fence that runs along the east side of the driveway.

A. Yes. There's a small wooden fence that was visible in one of the earlier photos blocking off the existing driveway entrance from people bypassing the gate.

If we turn to JJ, this is a photograph of the Redeemer church taken from close to the entrance to the church and looking along Mount Vista Road.

KK is looking left from the entrance, which would be a westerly direction.

Q. Also Redeemer.

A. Still the Redeemer entrance, looking along

Mount Vista Road in a westerly or left direction from the exit.

Q. Mount Vista Road at Redeemer is a two-lane road, one lane in each direction.

A. That's correct.

Q. And Harford Road at this location is also a two-lane road, one road in each direction.

A. That's correct.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit LL is the same location at the Redeemer entrance, looking in the opposite direction to the right or east.

Q. Okay.

A. Then MM is a photograph of a part of the grounds of the Redeemer property.

Q. Mr. Motsco, do these photographs, do you know when these were taken?

A. Earlier this year, when we visited the site in preparation for the last hearing.

Q. You and I were out there on a very hot day, as I recall, in July.

A. I think we managed to pick a hotter day today.

Q. Do these fairly and accurately depict conditions on the property as of that time?

A. Yes.

Q. And to the best of your knowledge has the conditions of the property changed since these photographs were taken in July?

A. Not to my knowledge.

MR. SCHMIDT: Mr. Garber, I will offer as Exhibit 9A through 9MM the photographs that the witness has identified.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer?

MR. HOLZER: Do you want me to object now? 9A is wrong.

MR. SCHMIDT: It's not wrong. It's the condition of the property as of July, when it was taken.

MR. GARBER: 2018?

MR. SCHMIDT: Two months ago or a month-and-a-half ago. The sign has been changed since then. The sign issue, we can get into. But there's been no building, nothing has been torn down.

MR. HOLZER: The sign has been changed so it doesn't accurately depict the scene as it is today. I have no objection.

MR. GARBER: We will admit the photos understanding that they reflect the condition as of July 2018.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Motsco, if you know, do you know if the sign that was shown in the first two exhibits, I believe A and B, still exists on the property?

A. I do not.

Q. It was there, when you were there last.

A. If was there in July, when we were there.

Q. To the best of your knowledge the main house, the proposed temples, all the other buildings currently remain as they are shown in the photographs?

A. Yes.

Q. All the trees and all the other vistas remain the same. The woods haven't been cleared. Trees haven't been knocked down. Streams haven't been moved. None of that has happened.

A. That is my understanding.

Q. Let me ask you, now that we've shown some photographs of the building, can you give us, Mr. Motsco, a little historic context about this property, about its background and the age of the house and some of that detail that you're aware of?

A. The property and the existing barn are listed as historic structures by the State of Maryland.

Q. What list?

A. Maryland Historical Trust. It's MHT.

Q. Are they listed by Baltimore County?

A. No. Baltimore County just observes the State record.

Q. So they're not on either the Baltimore County preliminary or final landmarks list.

A. No.

Q. And tell us a little about the background of the property to the best of your knowledge.

A. The property was originally developed by Napoleon Boneparte's nephew. He went by the name of Boneparte. His first name is escaping me. He was a one-time attorney general for the United States and built this Bella Vista as his home.

Q. That's the name of the estate, is Bella Vista?

A. That's the name of the estate. And that was the name of the original house which burned down I believe in the '30s.

The current house was built as a replacement to that structure and has remained more or less since then.

Q. You may have answered this.

Is the house occupied at this time?

A. No, it is not.

Q. Is it habitable at this time? If you know.

A. Maybe. It's in disrepair but it's not totally uninhabitable. Salvageable.

Q. I'm going to show you, if I can --

You mentioned that the property is listed by the Maryland Historical Trust?

Mr. Motsco, just generally, can you identify the document that I'm handing you?

MR. GARBER: This is Exhibit 10.

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 10 marked for identification.)

A. This is the listing for the property which I obtained from the inventory of historic properties. It spells out the -- BA 539 is the Bella Vista site and describes the site as being owned by Charles Boneparte.

The other listing on here is BA 539A, which is the Bella Vista Farm, which is the large barn which still exists to the southern part of the property.

Q. So the barn is listed as an MHT structure, is that correct?

A. Correct.

Q. The building/temple/former dwelling is not an MHT structure, is that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. The outbuildings around the dwelling/temple are also not MHT structures.

A. That is correct.

MR. SCHMIDT: I would offer that as Exhibit No. 10.

MR. GARBER: So admitted.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) If you know, Mr. Motsco, is this property served by public utilities? When I say that, public water and sewer.

A. It is not.

Q. At the time of the occupancy of the building at one time, I assume there was evidence of water and sewer, private water and sewer to that house, is that correct?

A. That's correct. At one time the property was served by well and septic.

Q. Is that functional, if you know, at the present time?

A. It's being treated as not functional.

Q. Being treated by you as not functional?

A. By the parishioners.

Q. Can you describe what the plans were just from an overview as to how that would be addressed under this plan?

A. The congregation has enlisted a registered sanitarian who is coordinating with Baltimore County to seek and I believe he has obtained approval of a well and percolation plat which means that the county has tentatively approved the proposed location of a well and septic location and size to serve the proposed function of the property.

It is my understanding that the percolation tests, which are subsurface exploration, there's a criteria those need to be conducted under, and the percolation test is used to determine the soil condition and aid in sizing and designing the septic system for the proposed use.

Those tests are attended by a representative of Baltimore County, who will verify the quality of the soil for septic uses.

Q. But there was a septic system out here that was functioning at one time.

A. Correct.

Q. And there was a well that was functioning at one time.

A. Yes.

Q. But those will be ungraded as the county determines in order to provide appropriately sized facilities for this use, is that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. This is a fairly large property, is it not?

A. It's 30.8 acres which is very large.

Q. In your view -- and I know you're not a registered sanitarian -- are there areas within the property that could be identified as suitable for the construction of a septic?

MR. HOLZER: Objection. He's not qualified.

MR. GARBER: Some of the words in your questions were drowned out at the end.

So what was your complete question?

Please don't answer. There's an objection pending.

MR. SCHMIDT: I understand that the witness is not a sanitarian, and he's indicated that these tests are all subject to the county's approval.

But as a civil engineer and one who looks at an overall property, whether the property is appropriately sized and of the character to be able to accommodate a septic system, I'm asking him from background whether it could be so accommodated in his viewpoint.

MR. HOLZER: I object. He is not a sanitarian. He's testified he's not an environmental person to even do the site plan that's marked No. 1 and 1A yet alone to render that kind of opinion.

I move that it be denied and stricken.

MR. SCHMIDT: Mr. Garber, I'm just asking that from an engineering standpoint, not that it would function but as someone who lays out the site from an engineering standpoint whether the property -- there are properties, for example, that would be so small an area that they could not reasonably accommodate a septic field. And as an engineer if he would be laying out such a plan, he would be able to say, This property simply isn't big enough. The criteria for septic fields are such that it's just not large enough.

I'm not asking him as a sanitarian but as an overall engineer.

MR. GARBER: I think that it would be fertile ground for cross-examination. I will allow the question. Overruled.

A. If I can just elaborate that well and percolation plats are prepared by engineers. A registered sanitarian supervises the installation and design of the septic system itself.

But as far as the location and general size of the septic reserve area, that responsibility falls on an engineer. And I've personally prepared many perc plats which have been reviewed and approved by Baltimore County with little or no modification.

That being said, given the size of the property and the fact that you have two similar uses in the vicinity and a number of surrounding homes that also use well and septic systems for their water supply, it would be surprising to me if given the size of the property they were unable to find suitable soil for obtaining water and installing a septic system.

Q. Let me ask you, if I can, Mr. Motsco, changing direction just a little bit, you have described the access to the property from the driveway, the existing access.

Can you explain to the Board, let's start, the modifications that are proposed insofar as the parking and whether there is a sufficient amount of parking, in your opinion as an engineer, as shown on your plan and how you arrived at that?

If you can discuss those improvements first.

A. We have shown a parking calculation on the plan, in that we have shown 38 clearly delineated parking spaces. And the number 38 was based upon --

For religious worship, the zoning code requires one parking space for every four seats which is obviously a regulation that's geared towards Judeo-Christian worship.

Given the use for this religious use, we were given an estimate of the maximum number of people that would be expected on a regular event and prepared a parking layout that accommodated that.

Q. So you have 38 proposed parking spaces.

A. Yes. With coordination with the zoning office, they agreed that given the proposed use that that was an appropriate way of determining the parking requirement.

Q. Those spaces will all be paved and clearly marked and striped as required.

A. That is correct.

Q. In the event there would be an occasion where there may be more vehicles than 38 on the site at any one time, are there areas within the property where additional parking could be provided if necessary?

A. There are additional paved areas, especially in the vicinity of the garage -- we looked at the photograph earlier -- that could accommodate a handful of cars there, there's extensive paved driveway that could be parked along or partially on and then there are significant areas of mowed lawn which are relatively flat and easily accessible from the drive aisle. There's extensive overflow parking, if the need were to arise.

Q. But there are 38 clearly marked, identified parking spaces on your plan, not counting the additional paved areas along the driveway and by the garage in the back and the loop road around the house as well as the overflow areas in the grass.

A. That's correct.

Q. How about, if you can -- and I know we're going to hear testimony from a traffic engineering standpoint.

But could you also describe in a little more detail the alternative for the driveway, which is the other potential improvement to the site, in terms of how that's laid out, where that would access Harford Road?

Just give us more detail about that.

MR. GARBER: Hold on a second, please.

Just as a reminder, if you have your cellphones with you, please turn them off.

Thank you.

A. The proposed possible access that we have shown on the plan is located east of the existing entrance. It's accessing Harford Road on the other side of the intersection with Boneparte Avenue. And there is still ongoing discussion with SHA --

Q. SHA is what.

A. Maryland State Highway Administration.

-- regarding what is the best access for this site.

The one current thought, which is what's reflected on the plan, is that the drive aisle we're adding could be used for leaving the site only as it accommodates different site distance from that location. And an expert will testify more to that.

The alternate exit satisfies some of the State Highway Administration's concerns.

Q. You identified some photographs as the grade and area suitable to construct that driveway if SHA determines it necessary.

A. Yes.

Q. From an engineering standpoint.

A. Yes.

Q. I know you've described the wooded areas which are fairly substantial on this property, are they not?

A. They are.

Q. Are there any additional landscaping that would be proposed or needed in your opinion?

A. Due to the existing vegetation on the site and the fact that it appears to have had trees planted in a landscaping manner at some point in its past which are now very mature and in the yard, our office prepared a conceptual landscape plan.

And in reviewing the requirements for a landscape plan, the requirement for additional planting would be minimal, if anything at all.

Most of those requirements are geared towards screening things from view, which is accomplished on this site by the existing vegetation and the natural grade.

Q. Obviously many of the trees here are very mature.

A. Yes.

Q. How about lighting? Is there any additional lighting proposed or any consideration about screening lighting, or is that a concern?

A. I don't believe that there's any lighting that is proposed that's more than what would be associated with a dwelling of that size. Porch lights, that sort of thing.

Any light that would be generated would be shielded by the existing vegetation and the topography.

Q. Mr. Motsco, let me ask you: You are familiar with the county requirements in terms of the criteria that the Board of Appeals must apply in approving a special exception, are you not?

A. I am.

Q. Let me ask you about some of those in particular.

First of all, you're required, are you not, to identify the locale in which this property sits.

Do you have an opinion, sir, as to what the locale of this property is just generally, the neighborhood associated with this property?

A. In a general sense, to the north of the property is the county line.

Q. With what --

A. Harford County.

Q. Uh-huh.

A. To the east is Bel Air Road, to the west is Glen Arm Road and to the south is a river. In a rural area, it's tough to define a neighborhood. But those are practically physical boundaries that would designate a general location.

Q. I think you said Glen Arm.

Is it Long Green Pike?

A. Yes. Sorry. In Glen Arm.

Q. Mr. Motsco, I'm going to show you a document which is somewhat self-authenticating in terms of taken from the county website, My Neighborhood, the county GIS, as you identified it before, is it not?

A. (Nods.)

Q. Does this show the location of the subject property?

A. Yes. It's demarcated in the general middle of the page with a red star.

Q. If you can just generally describe the blue highlighter mark that's around that as to what that's demonstrating and what that's showing.

A. You can see at the top, right corner of the page there is a blue highlighter. It follows a black line. That is the county boundary, Harford County being on the other side of the line and continuing in a clockwise direction.

At the very edge of the page, the blue line follows Bel Air Road until towards the bottom of the page, where it follows Gunpowder Falls along the river to Harford Road and follows Harford Road northerly and then follows Long Green Pike from Harford Road to the county line.

Q. The properties in this area are all generally rural in nature in terms of reflecting the rural zoning of this general area?

A. Yes.

Q. And these properties, are they inside or outside the county's urban-rural demarcation line?

A. Outside.

Q. This obviously is a rural area. So we don't have any major roads -- when I say "major," major interstates or anything like that -- in this vicinity, do we not?

A. Not in this vicinity.

MR. SCHMIDT: I would ask that this be accepted as the next exhibit.

MR. HOLZER: It shows what it shows. I don't agree how it's defined.

MR. GARBER: That's understood.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) With that locality having been defined at least by you, Mr. Motsco, do you have an opinion as to whether this proposal would be generally detrimental to the health, safety, and general welfare of the local involved?

A. I do not feel that it would be.

Q. You do have an opinion.

A. Yes. Sorry.

Q. What is that opinion?

A. That it would not be detrimental.

Q. And why do you say that, sir?

A. The proposed use utilizes existing structures and existing property. The scope of the work that is proposed is minimal and much of the work that would be done is, in fact, making the existing structures habitable and safe.

Given the size of the property and the low intensity of the use, I don't see that it would be a nuisance.

Q. Let me ask you about some of the specific criteria which are found in the regulations. I know you're not a traffic engineer. We do have a witness. But generally, as an engineer, let me ask you to comment.

Do you believe there would be any adverse impact on traffic, or would the proposal create congestion in the roads, streets, and allies within the locale?

MR. HOLZER: Objection.

MR. SCHMIDT: Within his level of expertise.

MR. GARBER: You're going to have a traffic engineer testify to the same point?

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, sir.

MR. GARBER: I don't know what he's going to add. I will sustain it.

MR. SCHMIDT: I will withdraw the question.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Let me move along.

Mr. Motsco, do you believe that the proposal would create any potential hazard from fire, panic, or other dangers greater than the inherent adverse effects associated with a building used for religious worship elsewhere in the RC-2 zone in this locale?

MR. HOLZER: Objection. There's been no testimony about fire effects or any experience with regard to fire. He hasn't even testified to it.

MR. SCHMIDT: I'm going to ask him what's the basis of his opinion.

MR. GARBER: Do you have an opinion on that subject matter, sir?

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MR. GARBER: What is that opinion?

THE WITNESS: That it is no greater danger here than anywhere else in the similar situation.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Can you explain your opinion in terms of the building and their reuse, any improvements to the buildings that may be made as they relate to fire, panic, or dangers of that type?

A. It's reusing an existing structure and it is located a significant distance from any other structures that could be consumed, if there were to be a fire.

Additionally, due to the fact that the original Bella Vista mansion was burned down, this home, when it was built, was constructed of concrete as the current owner at that time had a, I guess, justified fear of fire and apparently constructed the home in a fire-resistant manner. It's this home that would be repurposed for the worship.

Q. As part of that repurposing, if there are any interior improvements that are required of the property, new electrical systems, plumbing systems and the like, would they be built to Baltimore County code?

A. Yes. Permits and inspections would be required for those.

Q. And those permits would be signed off by the fire marshal's office as well?

A. I believe so.

Q. They would need an occupancy permit?

A. Yes, they would need an occupancy permit.

Q. Do you believe or have an opinion, Mr. Motsco, as to whether the proposal will tend to overcrowd the land or cause any undue concentration in population greater than the inherent effects associated with a building for religious worship in this zone?

A. I have an opinion, yes.

Q. And what is that opinion?

A. My opinion is that due to the large size of the property and the small congregation, the relatively small structure that there would be no undue crowding of the land.

Q. You were here for the first day of hearings.

A. Yes.

Q. And you were here when testimony was offered as to somewhat the schedule of uses out here, that unlike Judeo-Christian religions there's not a typical Sunday service, for example, or a particular service on a regular day of the week.

A. That it my understanding.

Q. Do those factors influence your opinion in any way?

A. Yes. I think compared to a more typical or what we would experience Sunday mass letting out at noon that there's not an event here on a regular basis that would generate 200 cars leaving a parking lot at the same time.

Q. Let me ask you: The next criteria that's listed in the zoning regulations relate to whether the proposal might adversely impact certain public, what I would call, utilities. Let me ask you generally about them and ask you to render an opinion on each.

Will there be any impact here on the public school system or on schools?

A. No.

Q. How about parks or other recreational amenities in the area?

A. No.

Q. This is not served by public water and public sewer, is it?

A. That's correct.

Q. So there will be no impact of this use on the public sewer system or public water system, is that correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. I will leave the transportation impacts to our traffic engineer.

Let me ask you, Mr. Motsco: Do you have an opinion as to whether the proposed building use for religious worship will interfere with adequate light and air as another criteria?

A. I do have an opinion.

Q. And what is that opinion?

A. It would not interfere.

Q. Why not?

A. Due to the size of the property and its distance from any adjoining properties, any impact would be completely contained within the site.

Q. I think you've indicated that the visibility of the building is difficult from adjacent properties. There might be some locations where you see it.

A. Right. The visibility is very limited.

Q. This proposal -- you indicated at the beginning of your testimony the property is zoned RC-2.

A. That's correct.

Q. Is the building for religious worship or church permitted in the RC-2 by special exception?

A. Yes, it is.

Q. As such, do you have an opinion as to whether the proposal is consistent with the property's zoning classification of the spirit and intent of the zoning regulations?

A. I do have an opinion.

Q. And what is that, sir?

A. I do believe it is appropriate and with the spirit and intent.

Q. Why is that?

A. A special exception is that it's a use -- if you look at the property, its use is not entirely by right but it's intended that there would be churches and religious worship in the RC-2 zone, if the property is appropriate to that use.

Given the size of this property and its direct access to the state highway, it would seem appropriate to me for that type of use.

Q. You indicated other than the improvements for the parking area and the potential improvement for the driveway, will there be any other clearing or grading necessary for the conversion of the site for the building for religious worship?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. So there won't be any clearing of any of the trees or disturbance of any of the lawn areas or hills or valleys as shown on the photographs?

A. None is needed for what's shown at this time.

Q. Given that, sir, do you have an opinion as to whether the proposal would be inconsistent with the county's impermeable surface and vegetative provisions?

A. I do.

Q. And what is that?

A. That the property would comply with those regulations.

Q. And finally let me ask you if this will be detrimental to the natural or environmental resources of the site, including the forest, the streams, the wetlands, aquifers and flood plains as located on this property and the surrounding locale?

MR. HOLZER: Objection on the same basis. He's not a forestry person, not somebody who could testify to the environmental impacts on this property.

MR. SCHMIDT: He can certainly testify that the property, as an engineer, and the site plan that he's prepared is not calling for any clearing, not causing for any bridges or any other disturbance of the stream. So from an environmental standpoint he can certainly, as an engineer, testify as to those types of factors.

MR. GARBER: I actually agree. He can provide some opinion on this subject matter. There's already testimony in the record that construction would be about 500-to-700 feet away from the stream.

However, the point you wish to make about that is ripe for cross-examination.

MR. HOLZER: Thank you.

MR. GARBER: Overruled. You may answer.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) You can answer about potential environmental impacts or on the natural features of the property in that locale.

A. Given that much of the proposed use is reuse of existing improvements to the property, the only potential for concern would be the proposed parking and their impacts.

And at this time there is no trees in that vicinity, so there would be no clearing, and additionally there would be a grading permit that's required for that construction which would be reviewed by the appropriate agencies at that time to determine if there would be an impact and meet the requirements to negate those impacts, if there are any.

Q. Mr. Motsco, you testified before that the property itself is not farmed and not in agriculture use. It's been a residential property in the past, is that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. I think you testified that there are not agriculture uses at least in the immediate vicinity. And when I say "agriculture uses," working farms, either dairy farms, horse farms, or crop farms, in the immediate vicinity. Is that correct?

A. There are none immediate adjacent to the property. But based on aerial photos, there are some crop lands that are in the general area.

Q. Given that, is there any impact of this proposed use on any of those agriculture operations or agriculture uses in the locale?

A. Not in my opinion.

MR. SCHMIDT: Mr. Garber, I may be done. We've been going almost two hours. Can we take a five-minute recess? I want to make sure I'm finished. And that may conclude my direct examination of this witness.

MR. HOLZER: I was going to say, after he finished, he's been going for two hours. We probably should take a break before cross-examination.

MR. SCHMIDT: If I have any other questions, it might be one or two.

MR. GARBER: I'm thinking along the same lines as you. Would five minutes be sufficient for you?

MR. HOLZER: I'm going to take two hours.

MR. GARBER: For the break, do you need ten minutes, five?

MR. HOLZER: Ten minutes.

MR. GARBER: Ten minutes is more appropriate for the number of people here, to get people filtered in and out. Let's do ten minutes. We'll be back here five after 11.

(Recess was taken.)

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt, do you have any more questions?

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, I do. Just a couple.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Motsco, I know I asked you, and they're labeled on here, about the dimensions of the property.

And you had testified previously that the building which was proposed for conversion to the temple is somewhat centrally located on the property, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. The dimensions are measured. In the westerly direction, it's some 340 feet to the property line, where Harford Road runs along the west end side, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. I didn't ask you in terms of the northerly direction the distance of the building to the property line, where the driveway is.

Can you tell us what that is? You might need to approach the plan.

A. From the existing main building to Harford Road in the vicinity of the driveway is approximately 655 feet.

Q. That's over two football fields in that direction.

A. Yes.

MR. GARBER: Do I understand 650 feet approximately to the north?

THE WITNESS: Yes.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) And to what would be the east, the distance is approximately --

A. 430, 435.

Q. And finally to the south, or the rear of the property, the distance is --

A. About 1,000 feet.

Q. So it's over three football fields.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. In terms of the use of the building and these distances, can you tell us how that would relate, if at all, in terms of the use of the building and the impact on its neighbors?

A. That's part what I was referring to. The size of the property and the small use is that it's very isolated from the neighbors from a direct impact point of view.

Q. Are there any zoning variances that are being requested in association with this proposal?

A. No.

Q. Are there any variances that are needed to the best of your knowledge?

A. No, there are not.

Q. Would this project be subject to the county's residential transition area -- they call them RTA for short -- standards that may be applicable for churches?

A. It would not. The distance would be greater than anything required.

Q. Under the RTA.

A. Yes.

Q. It meets any RTA requirement.

A. Yes.

Q. In conclusion, do you have an opinion, Mr. Motsco, as to whether this proposed use for this building that is proposed for use for religious worship would have a greater impact or a lesser impact on the locale than other properties in the zone?

A. I do.

Q. And what is that?

A. I feel that this would have a lesser impact than many other properties due to its direct access to a state road and, as just discussed, the large size of the property and the distance from any neighbors.

Q. Thank you.

MR. SCHMIDT: I don't have any further questions save for possible redirect.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer.

MR. HOLZER: Yes. I'm taking notes.

MR. GARBER: No problem.

EXAMINATION BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. I would just like to start off by showing the witness a plan to accompany this request.

MR. GARBER: Can you show that to Mr. Schmidt?

MR. SCHMIDT: Course not.

MR. HOLZER: He has it.

MR. SCHMIDT: This is, what, the original plan that was filed below?

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

MR. GARBER: Mark that as an exhibit --

MR. HOLZER: Not until he identifies it.

MR. GARBER: -- for identification purposes so we know which document is being referred to.

MR. SCHMIDT: I don't believe that's entirely consistent with what's on the board.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) This was done by your company. I don't know whether you did it or not. Did you do this?

A. This was prepared by our office. And, yes, I was working on it.

Q. I'm asking particularly about the adding of the alternative access drive, which is shown on 1 and 1A. This does not have that.

When did this access drive come about?

A. Just to clarify, this is not the plan that was filed below.

Q. It was given to my clients. Did you give it to my clients?

A. This may have been a draft that was circulated prior.

Q. Given to the community by your clients?

A. Possibly. I can't say how you got it.

Q. But you did draw this.

A. Yes. This is our plan. I'm just clarifying it wasn't what was filed.

Q. Could you tell me why there was no access shown on that while it is shown on 1 and 1A?

A. That was added in preparation for the first day of this hearing.

Q. So it wasn't used before the ALJ.

A. Correct.

Q. So the ALJ had what is similar to this document that I've just shown you without the access drive shown.

A. That's correct.

Q. Is the access drive shown because the county or the State Highway Administration required that?

A. You're going to have to ask our traffic engineer for specifics. To my knowledge, the State Highway Administration has not issued a final decision on anything.

Q. Correct. And so are you saying you don't know how you added that on or under whose direction?

A. No. It was a discussion between myself and the traffic engineer that I added that, at his direction, to the plan to be used at this hearing.

Q. And when was that added by you to 1 and 1A?

A. The date is in the lower part of that.

Q. What's the date?

A. This was last revised on July 18th of 2018.

Q. July the 18th of 2018.

Was that around the time that there was an event held on-site to your knowledge?

A. I know there was an event held this summer. I have no idea what date that actually was.

MR. GARBER: With respect to that document --

MR. HOLZER: I would mark this as Protestants' 3.

MR. SCHMIDT: No objection with the caveat the record will reflect that Mr. Motsco indicated that plan was never filed with Baltimore County. It apparently is some original draft at some point time, although his office did prepare it.

MR. GARBER: The plan is understood for what it is.

(Protestants' Exhibit No. 3 marked for identification.)

MR. HOLZER: He said that was what was presented to the administrative law judge.

MR. SCHMIDT: No.

MR. HOLZER: Without the access.

MR. SCHMIDT: I don't think he said that.

MR. HOLZER: Let's clarify that.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Was this alternative access drawing shown to the administrative law judge in this case?

A. No.

Q. Thank you.

MR. GARBER: So the clarification was as to this plan, Protestants' 3, versus was there any access road shown to the ALJ.

MR. HOLZER: Correct.

MR. GARBER: Right.

MR. HOLZER: Obviously it was done in consulting with their traffic engineer and the State Highway Administration.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Do you have the pictures?

A. I do not.

Q. Let's take picture Exhibit No. 9A.

This is the notice or sign that was there when you were at the property.

A. Correct.

Q. You do not know what the new sign looks like or why there was a new sign?

A. I was not involved with any changes to the sign.

Q. So, therefore, you do not know whether or not the county required the sign shown in 9A to be removed and a new sign placed. You do not know anything about that.

A. Other than what I've heard today, no.

Q. In looking at these pictures, were these taken by you or were they taken by someone else?

A. Mr. Schmidt and I were on-site together that day. He was operating the camera.

Q. So any imperfections --

MR. SCHMIDT: Blame me.

Q. -- I can blame Mr. Schmidt?

A. Yes.

Q. Picture No. B, this shows the site from the entrance, the right-hand side entrance looking north, is that correct?

A. Northeasterly.

Q. If I were to continue on this road going up away, I would end up going to the roundabout.

A. That's correct.

Q. We'll call that north. And Exhibit C is standing in the same location looking to the left as you come out of the site or south, right?

A. Yes.

Q. And it shows the curve that is right in front of the entranceway and it also shows the curve that goes to the left.

A. Yes.

Q. It does not show anything further south on Harford Road.

A. That's correct.

Q. Are there any other photos in this group that show Harford Road in the southerly direction?

A. You mean further beyond what's shown in this photograph?

Q. Yes.

A. I do not believe so.

Q. So then D again looks north towards the roundabout.

A. Yes.

Q. And E shows the same thing, the entranceway to Boneparte Avenue. And there are homes, are there not, on the east side of Harford Road, south of Boneparte Avenue and the intersection with Harford?

A. East side of Harford Road?

No.

Q. I'm sorry. West side.

A. There are homes on Harford Road opposite of this property.

Q. Very good. And if I look at F, which is an excellent picture taken by Mr. Schmidt --

MR. GARBER: You get the good and the bad.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) -- showing a home directly across the street from the entranceway to the facility, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. When you come out of this facility, there is only two ways you can go; you can go right and there's a right access for the exit and then there is a left access to go left to go south, right?

A. That would be an ingress and egress. From this picture, the left side of that landscape island would be for entering the site. And anybody leaving would go to the right of that island and make a left or right from that point.

Q. Is that on the directions now? Because people, when they come out of this facility, turn to the left and go left to go south.

Are you saying that there's some sort of prohibition against going south?

A. I'm saying that that's not the intended use of the driveway as it's constructed.

Q. What you're saying is that if I bear to the right, then, if I want to go south, I have to take a left turn.

A. Yes.

Q. So either way, to go south, one must either go on the left side and go south or to the right side of the circular landscaping and then turn left.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. That's not what he said. He said that it's intended. Anybody who wants to turn left would go to the right side of the island.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Is it prohibited going to the left side of the entranceway?

A. Not at this time.

Q. When you say "not at this time," you said that three times now. Do you expect that there will be a prohibition?

A. I expect that additional signage will be installed if the facility is approved and becomes operational.

Q. But people are using this right now, are they not?

Your clients are using this right now.

A. I believe so, yes.

Q. And they're going out there to play volleyball, they're going out there to work on the project, they're going out there for other events, correct?

A. I don't know the details of their visits.

Q. But you do know they are using the entrance and exit.

A. Yes.

Q. Let me ask you: When you were asked whether there would be any other clearing or grading, you answered, "Not at this time."

You just answered my question now, "Not at this time." When you were asked whether there was any clearing of the woods, you said, "Not at this time."

Now, when someone says "not at this time" to me, that indicates that there is a potential for the future that there will be clearing of woods, that there will be road demarcation, that there will be changes on the site.

Has your company, Little & Associates, have they done any preliminary plans showing additional buildings, additional development, additional requirements of an enlarged facility on this site?

A. No. Everything that is planned for the site is shown on this plan here, on Exhibit 1A.

Q. Everything is planned at this time.

Is there any other --

MR. SCHMIDT: You just used "at this time."

MR. HOLZER: I know. That's how I wanted to.

A. This property has already been there for 125 years. I could not guess as to what 125 years from now may hold for this property.

All I can say is for the current proposed use all of those "at this time" would apply.

Q. For 150 years, whatever figure you used, it was used for a private residence. And now it's not being used for a private residence but is being used for a commercial facility. So that's what raises a question of whether this will be a proposal of additional development in the future.

And I say: Do you or do you not have any plans in the drawings that are ready to go that indicate additional development of homes, cutting down of trees, et cetera?

A. We do not.

Q. Then why are you asking for a special exception for this entire property?

Could you not ask for a special exception only to encompass the facilities related to the building, the extra outside building, et cetera, and the entranceway?

Why don't you just limit the special exception to that period and place all of the forest and the woods that you've shown here as depicted that protect the neighborhood and all the way down to the stream and all along the Hirchenruder's (phonetic) side of the property?

Why don't you just exclude that area for your request for a special exception? Could you explain that?

A. We saw no need to restrict the religious use to just one or two buildings in the small area of the property.

Q. I'm not talking about a small area of the property.

Define the area that's left out of the 30.8 acres. Define the area that is shown in this area here, where you have the existing barn, tennis court, parking, building and entranceway.

Just limit the special exception to that area which would then provide for the community protection that this forest would never be affected in the future.

Can you answer that?

A. There were a couple of questions in there.

Q. Which one do you want me to ask you first?

A. Whatever you started with.

You asked why we didn't limit the special exception?

Q. Yes.

A. We did not limit the special exception because we saw no need to.

Q. I understood that. You answered that already.

My question was: Now, upon knowing that there are concerns about this project, wouldn't it make sense to provide assurance to the neighbors that "not at this time" related to all these other questions would be protected because you're only asking for a special exception for the use that you need in the center here.

A. You're worried about the tree clearing?

Q. I'm worried about the fact that all of a sudden the existing tree line could disappear and you come in and you ask for an increased facility, a larger facility, more parking facilities.

A. A special exception wouldn't grant permission to clear those trees.

Q. Why didn't you just create preservation for that area?

A. For preservation of the trees?

The trees are protected by Maryland State forest conservation law. And any proposed clearing would be reviewed and approved by Baltimore County subject to the constraints of that law.

Q. Right. Subject to the request by you that you want to have a variance to that law and you want to provide another building on the site.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. This is also speculative. Obviously if the trees would ever be cleared, as Mr. Motsco says, they would have to be subject to the forest conservation laws as well as they would have to amend this special exception. Special exception is for what it is.

MR. GARBER: I understood the point. But Mr. Motsco did say "at this time" or "not at this time" several times, which opened the door to these questions for Mr. Holzer to ask, What about the future?

So you get some leeway on it. The point is taken. I think that's where Mr. Holzer is going with this. I expect this to wrap up shortly.

MR. HOLZER: Thank you.

MR. GARBER: That worked out well.

MR. HOLZER: Mr. Chairman, obviously the Board understands what the issue was, and I don't see a need to drag it out anymore.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Looking at the rest of these pictures which you have in front of you, it is my understanding that since you're asking for a special exception for the entire property that the special exception would run all the way down to Harford Road, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. Okay. And if it runs all the way down to Harford Road that means that --

How do you characterize or come to the conclusion that the RTA does not apply?

A. The RTA would apply to parking and structures associated with the religious facility.

Q. And so you believe that the distance from the parking and the structure is what would generate the RTA, and that's why you came to that opinion.

A. An RTA is applied to buildings and parking.

Q. That's why you testified the way you just did on direct.

A. You're going to have to give me a little direction there.

Q. I don't.

A. I'm not sure what you're asking.

Q. You must remember what you testified on direct.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. You're asking him to agree with you as to his thought process. I don't even know what the question is.

MR. HOLZER: I'm not asking again.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, I will say, it was confusing to me.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) The question was: Because of the special exception going to Harford Road, does that create, in your opinion, an RTA issue?

I believe your answer was, No.

A. My answer would still be no.

Q. Have you ever been out at the site at nighttime?

A. No, I have not.

Q. So you don't know the effect of vehicles exiting the property in the evening on the house that's sitting directly on Exhibit G, directly across the street from the entrance.

A. I do not have any personal knowledge of that.

Q. That's on F and G. For the new proposed possible access route -- I know you had a picture of what the area was here -- was the purpose of that new access route, was that designed to avoid the entrance and exit directly across the street from this individual house?

A. You would have to ask the traffic engineer. He's the one that provides the layout.

Q. You don't have anything related to the aspect of in and out and the value of the existing entrance?

A. That was somebody else that analyzed those aspects of it.

Q. Somebody else in your --

A. The traffic engineer, who's here today.

Q. I understand that.

Was it your firm that created the new access route? Did you design it, locate it, physically draw it on this plan under your own knowledge and purpose, the reason for it, or did somebody just tell you to do it?

A. I was told, This is where we think it could be. I put it on the plan. I was given an exhibit which was transferred onto the plan.

Q. Who told you that?

A. Joe Caloggero.

Q. The traffic expert.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you have any personal knowledge in dealing with the State Highway Administration?

A. I have not been involved in those dealing.

Q. I want to try to get these questions finished so that you can put that away.

Were these pictures all taken at the same day with Mr. Schmidt and you?

A. Yes.

Q. Obviously you were there in the daytime, and obviously you were there when there was no use of the facility, is that correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. So there were no people there playing volleyball at the time you were there taking these pictures.

A. No.

Q. On Exhibit L, was this set up with these seats?

Shown as the way they are in L, was this set up by you or someone else?

A. The room was in that condition when we arrived at the property that day. Someone else but I don't know who.

Q. You said you were out there twice. This was one time with Mr. Schmidt.

When were you out there before?

A. I was out there in preparation for the hearing before the ALJ.

Q. Had you been there before that hearing, when you designed this plan that was submitted as 1 and 1A?

A. No. A representative from my office went out there to confirm the information we obtained from Baltimore County GIS.

Q. So the only time you went out there was really to see what it was like before the hearing before the ALJ.

A. In preparation for the hearing, several weeks in advance.

Q. Did you go out by yourself?

A. I met Tim Kotroco and some representatives from the congregation.

Q. That was it? There were no other people there other than those folks.

A. Correct.

Q. So you never personally confirmed how many people would be out there using this facility or how many people were out there during one of the events that they held on this site, other than what you were told. You were not personally viewing anybody else out there.

A. Correct.

Q. Did you count the number of seats that are shown on Exhibit L?

I don't mean now.

A. I think we guessed. Looking at it, we approximated what we thought was in there.

Q. What did you approximate?

A. I think it was 70 or 80.

Q. On Exhibit N, this shows a picture of what, to your knowledge.

A. Items for religious worship.

Q. Were they there when you got there?

A. Yes.

Q. Were they there when you left?

A. Yes.

Q. To the best of your knowledge, were they items of religious worship that were utilized for religious purposes?

A. They were in that room. That's about all I can say.

Q. But you are coming to the opinion that they are religious -- they exhibit religious tendencies or religious uses.

A. I would have to admit that that's probably speculation. But, yes, it would look that way.

Q. That's what you testified in direct.

A. Yes.

Q. You testified that the building was being used for functions, in your direct testimony, and it's now being used as a temple, when you identified N, is that right?

A. I believe I said that was the room that would be used.

Q. So the question is: Was your testimony that it would be the room that was used? Or was it being used?

A. My understanding is that this room will be used for religious worship and not at all in this configuration, when it is finally used for religious worship.

Q. But why do you set up all those seats and have the religious items in there? It's not being used now.

A. I have no way of answering that question.

Q. Right.

A. I don't know.

Q. Right.

So you don't know --

Well, do you want to change your testimony that --

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. Come on, Mr. Holzer. You're arguing with this witness.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) -- the use in this building was functioning now?

A. I'm sorry. Say that again.

Q. Do you want to change your testimony from your direct that it is now being used as a religious facility?

MR. GARBER: I will sustain it. Argumentative. Can you rephrase it?

MR. HOLZER: No. I think the record will show exactly what he said.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Looking at Exhibit R, this picture seems to confirm your testimony that this site is a prominent site in terms of the area, that it's probably one of the highest sites in the area and that valley exists below this site.

Is that a fair statement?

A. Yes, that's what I --

Q. That's what you tried to show on this exhibit.

A. Correct.

Q. Is this site higher than the property to the west? I guess this is the west.

A. Yes, that is the west. And, yes, it is higher.

Q. Is it higher than the property to the north?

A. Yes.

Q. Is it higher than the property to the east?
A. Yes.
Q. And it's higher than --
Or is it higher than the property to the south?
A. Yes.
Q. The photograph V showing the tennis court, does that plan to stay?
A. From what I've been told, yes.
Q. And it's shown on your site plan.
A. It is on the plan as well.
Q. Do you know that there's a volleyball court, that they play volleyball out there all the time?
A. I did not.
Q. Did you know that?
A. No. I knew there was a volleyball used. I assumed it was on the same court.
MR. SCHMIDT: If you look at the next in the picture, it's a volleyball net and not a tennis net.

MR. GARBER: It's Mr. Holzer's time for questions.

MR. HOLZER: Mr. Schmidt, even though you took the pictures, you're not supposed to be talking to me now.

MR. SCHMIDT: I'm sorry.

MR. HOLZER: Apology accepted.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Now when one looks --

MR. HOLZER: It is a volleyball net but it could be reduced to a tennis court net also, Mr. Schmidt.

Let me go on.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) As I understand your testimony, the pool and the shed around it are going to go, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. What are they going to be replaced with?

A. Yard. Open space.

Q. Is FF, is that the alternative access picture?

A. Hang on.

That is in the general vicinity of where the access would be.

Q. I know this wood along the front of this picture actually sort of encloses the current access.

So if you were going with the drawing that you have up there to the end of the property, it appears that you would have to cut your way through those trees that are shown on this picture to access Harford Road.

A. Straight ahead in this photograph?

Q. No.

A. There are a handful of trees to the left-hand side of this photo --

Q. Yes.

A. -- between the lawn area and Harford Road.

Q. Right. Would those go?

A. Some of them would. If that access is built some of those trees would need to be removed.

Q. If you were to go straight through this picture, in the middle of it, you're actually going beyond this property, would you not, so that the access road must go to the left?

A. You're saying leaving the site in this photograph, you would travel from the right-hand side to the left-hand side.

Q. Right.

A. We're looking parallel to the proposed road.

Q. Let me show you, so you don't misunderstand what I'm saying.

MR. GARBER: Which photo are you looking at?

MR. HOLZER: I'm looking at FF.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Do you see the space between the trees?

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Would the access road go out through there, or would it go through the existing trees on the left-hand side of the picture?

A. No. I don't know how to do this clearly for everybody. The gap in the trees, if you look at the bottom of it, you can see that there's a roof to a house.

Q. Yes.

A. That is the neighbor's house.

Q. Correct.

A. So in this photograph you are looking east, and the access would actually be going to the left, to the north, off the page.

MR. GARBER: If I can, can you look at photograph GG?

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

MR. GARBER: Would that help?

MR. HOLZER: I will ask the witness.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Would photograph GG explain where the new access road would go on a clearer way?

A. From FF to GG, Larry turned to the left to take the photograph. You can see what appears to be a red shrub of some kind in both photographs, to help tie you down.

The access would be somewhere in those three large trees and the red bush in photograph GG.

Q. Perfect. That explains it.

So on both of them you can see where the proposed access would enter Harford Road.

A. On FF, I don't know that it looks far enough that you would see Harford Road. You would see where the drive aisle would be.

Q. Thank you.

MR. HOLZER: That may be it. Let me just make sure.

MR. GARBER: (Nods.)

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Those are all the questions I have on the pictures. Don't get too excited.

MS. DOPKIN: Before we leave the pictures, Mr. Motsco, go back to picture FF.

For my benefit, the location of the adjoining property, can you mark that on Exhibit 1A.

THE WITNESS: You see the roof in photo FF. That is this dwelling right here, in the lowest right-hand corner of the plan. The address for that is 12241 Harford Road.

MS. DOPKIN: How far from the property line would that be?

THE WITNESS: Over 100 feet.

MS. DOPKIN: Thank you. That helps.

MR. GARBER: Just to be clear, the residence you just referred to, that is 100 feet from the property line.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MS. DOPKIN: And about the same distance from Harford Road?

THE WITNESS: More or less, yes.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Mr. Motsco, since you've been involved in presenting this, testifying below, has the DoE, Department of the Environment, have they issued any approvals for wetland area or stream location other than you're getting stream location off of the GIS?

A. They have not asked for or reviewed, none have been prepared, any wetland delineation report or anything of that nature.

Q. Do you know from a general standpoint in which direction this site drains from?

Let's take the main house as an example. Which direction does water run off, rain run off? Any other runoff, which way does it go? If you know.

A. The house is generally located as close to the top of the hill as it could be. So we're talking about the house.

The driveway right in front of it may go a completely different direction because of the top of the hill.

The house itself would generally drain in a southerly direction towards the existing barn.

Q. Which direction would the proposed new parking area and pavement, what direction would that flow? Did you do any analysis of that?

A. That would flow towards Harford Road. Northerly on the site.

Q. I think I understand what you just said. I just want to make sure the record is clear.

Any drainage from the parking area and the existing driveway would drain in a northerly direction towards Harford Road.

A. Yes.

Q. And not in a westerly direction.

A. Correct.

Q. Thank you.

Can you say, based on your experience, whether any of this --

Well, you've already said it would drain in a northerly direction. Is that so?

A. Yes.

Q. It would also presumably drain in the direction of the driveway and the entrance on Harford Road.

A. Yes.

Q. I thought I had it right.

When you visited the site and you had taken these pictures, could you describe the house in terms of its square footage?

Do you know what the square footage is?

A. I do not. Anything I say would be a guess.

MR. GARBER: The main dwelling?

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) You don't know?

A. No. There are two-and-a-half floors in the house with various jogs on the outside of the building. It would be difficult to estimate.

Q. To your knowledge does anybody in your firm know the answer to that?

A. No.

Q. Do you know how many rooms are in the existing facility?

A. No.

Q. Is it fair to say that in taking these pictures you only went into the one room and shown the hallway and that's the extent of your site visit?

A. The visit where we took the pictures, that was the only room in the house that we entered.

On my previous visit, I had been through -- I don't know that I got every room, but I saw almost the entire interior of the house.

Q. Did you go to the second floor?

A. Yes.

Q. And what did you see up there?

A. Hallway, bedrooms, bathroom.

Q. How many rooms did you see on the first floor, where you took the pictures?

A. I couldn't say. It's been too long since I walked through the house.

Q. Did you go into the basement of the house?

A. No.

Q. You never went into the basement at all to see what was there.

A. No.

Q. At the time you visited the main house, was there running water available in the house?

A. I do not know.

Q. Was there toilet facilities in the house?

A. I do not know.

Q. How did you arrive at your conclusion that the house might be functional now? Which is what you said towards the last part of your testimony.

You said the house may be occupied. Then you said, It's not functional. Which is it? Is it not functional now? Or can it be occupied?

A. I don't know if it's functional now. I meant that the general condition of the building is habitable. Obviously running water would be a criteria for that.

Q. What about electric?

A. There is electric in the building.

Q. So there is electric in the building. You don't know about any water.

A. No.

Q. Or toilet facilities.

A. Correct.

Q. Do you know anything about the well and septic?

A. I know that there is an existing one that is being replaced.

Q. Existing what; well?

A. And septic.

Q. Both. And the county has approved that at this point?

A. Approved what; the existing ones?

Q. No. Approved the future, whatever they may be, to be consistent with commercial use by your client.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection to the phrase "commercial use." This is an institution. It's not a commercial use.

MR. HOLZER: Commercial-institutional use.

A. Calculations were prepared for the religious use, which Baltimore County reviewed and approved by a verified, registered sanitarian that was used, the size, septic reserve area shown in the well and percolation plat.

And the well and percolation plat has been approved by Baltimore County. And there are perc tests scheduled for later this month based on that plan.

Q. On Exhibit 1A, is the septic area and the well area shown?

A. They are not.

Q. Why not?

A. Because I do not have the information as to the exact location of them.

Q. So they are going to have to dig a new well?

A. That is my understanding that that is the plan.

Q. And they will have to relocate an old existing septic system, is that correct?

A. Typically they would be abandoned in place and a new one constructed elsewhere.

Q. Elsewhere.

A. On the property.

Q. So neither one of those aspects are shown on 1A at this time.

A. The existing ones?

Q. You don't show the existing ones, do you?

A. We don't know where they are.

Q. If you don't know where they are, you couldn't show the existing ones and you don't yet have approval for showing the new well or the new septic.

A. We do have an approval of the location of the new well and septic.

Q. Can you show that on this plan?

A. I do not have that information.

Q. Either you have the information and you could show it or you don't have the information.

A. I don't have the information. Our registered sanitarian, who's here to testify as well, has that information.

Q. He's here. He's going to testify.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. That's the first time I heard that. All right. Then we'll ask him that question.

Are there any, on the site plan, new athletic fields or sports facility fields shown on the plan?

A. There are none.

Q. None.

A. Correct.

Q. And even though you don't know about volleyball, if you assume that the tennis court is also being used as a volleyball court, there will be no new fields proposed at this time for the facility.

A. At this time, yes.

Q. But there could be in the future, could there not?

A. That's an open-ended question. I can't answer for what --

Q. Well, you're giving me an open-ended answer. So I can certainly ask an open-ended question.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection.

A. We are not currently proposing any athletic fields.

Q. I understand that at this time.

Is there room on this 30-acre site to put a baseball field?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. That's entirely speculative. Is there room on this site to build a golf course? Is there room on this site to put a McDonald's restaurant?

I mean, what does that have to go with this case? It's entirely speculative. The plans we're asking to be approved is the plan that's on the board. Obviously if that plan is amended in the future, the county will make us either come back and amend the special exception or do whatever this Board has the authority to impose whatever conditions it has.

All these questions are about things that may never happen and, more to the point, are not proposed under the current request.

MR. HOLZER: I will adopt his question.

MR. GARBER: Which question?

MR. SCHMIDT: I didn't ask a question. I made a statement.

MR. HOLZER: I'm entitled to find out what they're proposing to do and how they're proposing to use this special exception.

MR. GARBER: I think your point is made that at this time this is what's reflected. We don't know what could happen in the future, right?

MR. HOLZER: Yes, we do know.

MR. GARBER: We do.

MR. HOLZER: The community itself is concerned that there will be a larger development. That's why I asked the question before of could you restrict the special exception to merely the area of the development that he's testified to.

We're not trying to cut out the barn. We're just saying, what they want to use this for, we would like the special exception to be restricted to that, that would (a) preserve all the forests, (b) ensure -- and this is important. I've been around doing this a long time -- that if they do want to develop this property with an additional building or additional field, they would have to come back to this Board or to the county.

MR. SCHMIDT: Mr. Garber, Mr. Holzer knows --

I will stipulate he has been doing this a long time.

More to the point, certainly he can request this Board to impose a condition that any additional improvements to the site or any material changes to this plan would require an amendment to the special exception and so on and so forth. And that's certainly an appropriate legal argument.

But it's not in the context of questioning this witness. This witness is telling you the plan that he has been asked to prepare, showing what's proposed.

He's required as part of the package to outline the boundaries of the property and show acreage of the entire property, in fact provide a legal description of the entire property. That's required as part of the file.

So for Mr. Holzer to take those requirements and suggest that they're going to build something and tear out all these trees is simply inappropriate.

He can ask for that condition or restriction. You-all may or may not impose that.

But it's unfair to this witness in the context of his questioning and answering.

I object.

MR. HOLZER: I will ask a new question.

MR. GARBER: That's fine. Move on then.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Let's talk about parking. How many spaces are you providing?

A. Thirty-eight clearly delineated parking spaces.

Q. That figure, I think you've testified, was based upon information that you gave to the zoning office, is that correct?

A. We were provided with an approximate number of regular attendees by our client. And due to the way the parking requirements are worded for religious-use facilities, if you don't have pews, there's nothing to base it on.

So they took our anticipated attendance and accepted that as being applied in lieu of seats, which generated the parking requirement shown.

Q. So basically you got to pick the number of people that would be in attendance and the county had no basis upon which to limit that because there is no understanding.

They took what you gave them, and they came up with the requirement of one for four and therefore 38.

A. One for four is in the zoning regulations.

Q. I understand.

A. As it would apply to a religious facility with physical seats.

Q. It would apply to a religious facility that has those kinds of requirements that's not involved in the situation like this unique property, isn't that so?

If they were doing it in another zone or another RC-2 zone and somebody came in and said, We have 200 people attending our 9:00 Sunday service, they would do it on that basis.

You walked into the zoning people and said, We can't tell you. We'll tell you normally 20 people show up, or, Normally, X number show up. And that's what they base 38 spaces on. Isn't that correct?

A. The zoning requirement is one space for four seats. That is what would apply to any religious facility. This religious facility may have four seats for elderly or disabled. Obviously, one parking spot wasn't appropriate, so we chose to ask our client for expected attendance and generate parking requirements still applying the one to four but standing room.

Q. So your client is the one that provided the county that information.

A. (Nods.)

Q. When I look at this photograph L that you took --

A. I don't have them here.

Q. You know which one.

MR. GARBER: Let's make sure he has the photograph in front of him.

MR. SCHMIDT: Let's be fair to the witness.

MR. HOLZER: I'm always fair to the witnesses.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) That appears to be about 120 to 150 seats.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. He testified about 80.

MR. HOLZER: I know what he testified. It was a guess. I'm asking him to guess again.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. Asked and answered.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, if you're asking him to agree that this is up to 150 seats, there's another way to approach that.

MR. SCHMIDT: It's not. It's 80 seats.

MR. HOLZER: He testified that he thought it was 80 seats.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Is that more than you told the zoning office as to how many people would normally be there?

A. It's less. If we're talking about the 80

number, which I testified to, that is less.

Q. How many did you tell them?

A. Four times 38. So --

MR. GARBER: 152.

A. 152. 150, I believe, was the number.

Q. You told them that the average attendance would be 152.

A. The maximum normal attendance. So a festival or holiday.

Q. A festival or holiday. In other words, if you didn't limit it to a normal religious service, you related it to an event?

A. A religious festival.

Q. An event.

A. We were discussing worship only.

Q. If it was worship only then you're saying 150 worshipping as the average that they would expect.

A. The maximum.

Q. The maximum that they would expect.

Are you now trying to say that also meant

if they have an event at the site it would only be 150 as well?

A. No. I'm saying that 150 is what the parking was based on, which is appropriate given the religious differences, when the code was written, for a Judeo-Christian worship.

Q. Let me get this straight. If they had an event there, such as they had this last August, then Mr. Schmidt asked you a couple questions about that.

MR. SCHMIDT: No, I didn't.

MR. HOLZER: Yes, you did. You asked him, There are 38 spaces, one for four seats, maximum number of people.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) But what happens if there are more vehicles?

You explained there's an additional paved area for them to park on, which is the entrance area, the roundabout, and you also said they could park on the grass, right?

A. I did not indicate the roundabout. The entrance area has additional parking adjacent to the house. There is additional paving in the garage area of the existing house.

Q. Right. Exactly. I'm sorry. I misspoke. You indicated that. And then you said parking on the grass.

A. Yes. There is a substantial lawn area that would be suitable for very occasional use.

Q. How many vehicles?

A. We didn't do any kind of analysis. Far in excess of 38 or 50 cars.

Q. So there would be no limitation on the number of people who could drive onto this site with their vehicle and park. Even if they exceeded the paved parking area, they could park on the grass and that would be okay.

A. There would be parking available for them on the grass.

Q. Plus the grass.

A. Parking in the grass would be available.

Q. Yes. So there would be no parking limit based upon the fact that there could be an event that would attract a thousand people.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. When he asked, There's no limit, do you mean limit under the law? I don't understand what that question is.

MR. HOLZER: He's not a lawyer. I'm not asking under the law. I'm asking him under what is being proposed by your client, a thousand people, 500 cars could come onto that site and that would not create a problem from your standpoint as an engineer.

A. We have not prepared an analysis of the overflow parking area. I can't state what that number could be.

Q. Okay. Okay.

The fire turnaround, that's something new that wasn't proposed before the administrative law judge, was it?

A. That was on the plan that the administrative law judge saw.

Q. Why did you put that on?

It wasn't on the plan that was handed out to the community prior to the hearing. So what caused that?

A. I can't say for a fact whether it was on the plan that was handed out to the community. I don't have that plan.

Q. That's not the question. The question is: What precipitated the requirement of putting the fire turnaround on this site?

A. We added it. If it wasn't on a plan you've seen, that was a draft. And anything prior to what was filed with the ALJ should be considered a draft. That was not a final product.

Q. Now that you said that, could I just ask you my question?

What precipitated the requirement that you put on this fire turnaround? Who and what and when?

A. So in the process of going from a draft plan to a plan that is suitable for a hearing, we want to ensure that we're meeting all the requirements that would be applicable.

One of those would be a fire turnaround for emergency equipment, so it would have been added as we finalized the plan.

Q. Did the fire department require that?

A. The fire department had not seen the plan prior to us filing, so they never saw a plan that did not have the turnaround.

But through our experience and the volume of work we do in Baltimore County, we know that there would be one required, so we provided one.

Q. Has the fire department been satisfied with what you've shown on the plan?

A. I don't know that they've seen the plan.

Q. As of today, we don't know whether that fire turnaround has been approved by the county or not.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. He doesn't work for the county. Ask the county.

MR. GARBER: I think the question is: Does he know? He answered, no, he does not know.

MR. HOLZER: Right.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) You do not know.

A. No.

Q. You testified that your clients have done cosmetic improvements in the building. What are they?

A. To my knowledge, the great extent of that was to clean out all the used needles, alcohol bottles and do their best to remove the swastikas and other graffiti within the building.

Q. I think you showed us a picture of the building on L and M. I would ask you, does this look unimproved on those two pictures, L and M? It looks pretty nice to me.

A. When I visited the site the first time, all of that work was there and was covered in graffiti. It was cleaned of graffiti but otherwise that building is what was there.

Q. What about this second picture, the M? It looks like the hallway was cleaned. It's been pretty cleaned up, right?

A. Yeah. That is the original hallway to the house. It was a nice house when it was last inhabited. Thankfully it wasn't destroyed too much.

Q. When you visited, as you said, you went upstairs. Were the upstairs rooms as nice looking and as clean looking at this one, M?

A. No.

Q. They were still dirty?

A. I wouldn't say they were dirty. They weren't at 100 percent yet.

Q. But clearly there had been work on the inside. Is that a fair statement?

A. Yes.

Q. When you first went to the site was there electricity in there at the time?

A. Yes.

Q. The first time.

A. Yes.

Q. Not with Mr. Schmidt.

A. Yes, there was.

Q. You had lights? You were able to turn on lights inside and so forth?

A. Yes.

Q. I show you a picture --

MR. GARBER: Protestants' 4?

MR. HOLZER: Protestants' 4.

(Protestants' Exhibit No. 4 marked for identification.)

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Are you familiar with the site this July with the tent there, with vehicles parked on the grass?

A. No, there was no tent. As I said previously, there were very few cars anytime I have been on the site.

Q. Is this what you envision, that cars could be parked on the grass, like this photograph depicts?

A. Sure.

Q. Would this tent, would that be something that you would envision that could be in addition to what is on this site plan?

A. Physical addition to the building?

Q. No, it's not. It's a tent set up on the outside.

Is that something that would be in addition to what's shown in Exhibit 1A?

A. Obviously this temporary tent is not shown on our plan. I don't know if that answers your question.

Q. You were not asked to prepare anything to show that additional facilities, kitchen, additional dining area, additional tents. You were not asked to prepare anything like that and to locate it on the site plan.

A. Correct.

MR. HOLZER: I would mark this for identification only as 4. I will have someone identify the basis for it and how it got there and when it was taken.

MR. GARBER: You mean for purposes of admissibility.

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt, do you have any questions about the admissibility for Protestants' Exhibit 4?

MR. SCHMIDT: I guess I would probably want to ask whoever took it, when they took it and get an idea of when it was taken.

MR. GARBER: Trying to figure out a way to streamline as much as I can.

MR. HOLZER: That's why I marked it for identification.

MR. GARBER: Right now it's 12:25. How much longer do you think you have?

MR. HOLZER: Another hour.

MR. GARBER: Does it make sense to break now for sometime in the next several minutes. Are you at a natural breaking point?

MR. HOLZER: I'm at a natural breaking point. I'm getting hungry.

MR. GARBER: With that being said, why don't we do 45 minutes. Does that work for everybody?

MR. SCHMIDT: That's fine.

MR. HOLZER: Sure.

(Recess was taken.)

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, back to you.

MR. HOLZER: Thank you. For the Board's edification, I went through the rest of the questions to try to avoid repeats and to cut this down hopefully.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) You testified that you were only at the site two times, one time with Mr. Schmidt and one other time prior to when he took the pictures, is that right?

A. He took the pictures of the most recent visit.

Q. The second time you had been there is when he took the pictures.

A. Correct.

Q. At either of two those occasions where you had the opportunity to be on-site, did you observe what took place when there were three different events taking place at three different times on this property?

A. No, I have not.

Q. So you cannot --

Your opinion in regard to 502.1 is not based upon any personal observance of any problems that may have affected the neighbors at that time, is that right?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection to the form of that question, Mr. Chairman. He uses the word "problems." Obviously it's based on his understanding. He's an expert as an engineer. He's been to the site.

MR. GARBER: You object to the word choice.

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, I do.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) The simple question is: Your 502.1 testimony is not based upon any observance of the three events that your clients held in which there may or may not have been more people than just yourself and Mr. Schmidt.

A. No. My testimony is based on the anticipated day-to-day use of the facility.

Q. Exactly. Not in terms of special events.

A. Correct.

Q. You testified that even though the site has a lot of trees that you believe there was no need for a landscape plan.

A. I said we prepared a plan, and based on the county requirements for landscaping, which is primarily geared towards screening, none or very little additional planting would be required to satisfy that.

Q. Could you present me today with the landscape plan that you prepared?

A. Yes. If I could go --

Q. Sure.

MR. HOLZER: Mr. Chairman, may I have an opportunity to look at this?

MR. GARBER: Yes, of course.

I assume you've seen it, Mr. Schmidt.

MR. SCHMIDT: I have.

MR. HOLZER: Really?

MR. SCHMIDT: I have. The new landscaping is mainly around the parking area and driveways, as I recall.

MR. HOLZER: For purposes of this record, it does appear that there is additional landscaping but primarily around the parking area and the driveway. I think this should be submitted as an exhibit.

MR. SCHMIDT: No objection.

MR. HOLZER: It should have been part of the record.

MR. GARBER: It will be now.

MR. HOLZER: Around the entrance area and along the driveway around the parking. The 14, 13 and 22 parking sites. I hope that adds up to 58.

MS. MURPHY: Thirty-eight.

MR. SCHMIDT: It's generally around the area of the new construction.

A. If I can specify --

MR. GARBER: One second. There's no question pending.

So we're marking this as Protestants' 5?

MR. HOLZER: Or Developers. Why should

I have to submit their landscape plan?

MR. GARBER: We just want that marked for the purposes of the record.

MR. HOLZER: That's fine. I will mark it. Protestants' 5.

(Protestants' Exhibit No. 5 marked for identification.)

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) This is the plan. And what is it dated?

A. This is a conceptual landscape plan dated July 25, 2018.

Q. Since it says it's conceptual, does that mean it could change?

A. Yes. This was as prepared for a first preliminary review by the county landscape architect.

Q. When they review it, they may have some other additions or comments.

A. That's correct.

Q. It has not been presented to them yet.

A. It's been submitted to their office. They have not reviewed it yet to my knowledge.

Q. As I said to the Board, just looking at this, it looks like additional landscaping. Are these trees, evergreens, deciduous? Do you know?

A. The proposal is for some of them to be deciduous, some evergreen. There's a ledger in the corner of the plan.

Q. I see.

MR. HOLZER: At the top left corner is the ledger of the type of planting.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Is that it?

A. Uh-huh.

MR. HOLZER: I will offer this. I will take it back to the Board.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt, I assume you have no objection.

MR. SCHMIDT: No objection.

MR. GARBER: So admitted.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) I think you testified that the RC-2 zone permits a church if the site complies with the special exception requirements, is that correct?

A. I said it's permitted by special exception in an RC-2 zone.

Q. Right. But doesn't it also have to comply with the special exception requirements?

A. Yes, there are criteria placed on a special exception.

Q. Those criteria are the 502.1, is that correct?

A. I have to take your word on that. I haven't committed it to memory.

Q. I thought you did all these special exceptions.

A. I know what it says, but I don't have the numbers memorized.

Q. When Little & Associates were contacted by the applicant here, which you said was sometime in 2017, probably the spring, do you know whether they had acquired the property?

A. I do not.

Q. Did you ask them whether or not this property was theirs or under contract or what? Did you just assume?

A. At that time we knew that they were -- they already owned it or they were under contract to buy it. And for the purposes of our work it doesn't make much of a difference.

Q. You knew it was either under contract or they had acquired it, right?

A. Yes.

Q. Under those circumstances, did you give them any advice in regard to, since you were the senior person, zoning requirements or the other aspects of approving a site plan such as you presented?

A. I'm not sure I follow your question.

Q. The question would be easy, if I could just say it.

What did you advise them about proceeding?

A. We advised them of the special exception is not a guarantee and explained to them the process, time frames and what would be entailed.

We had a meeting with Tim Kotroco prior to that, the attorney at the time.

Q. So they knew there was a zoning requirement. They knew there was a procedure requirement.

Did they know anything about when they would get permits to be able to improve the property or utilize the property to your knowledge?

A. We talked about utilization of the property as a religious temple would be pending the approval of the special exception.

Q. In other words, being able to use the property as a religious institution, they would have to await the outcome or the decision of these hearings.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you give them any advice insofar as being able to utilize the property in the meantime?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. I'm just trying to figure out what the relevance of this as it relates to the special exception.

MR. HOLZER: This all goes back to the motion that we filed on the first day, it goes back to the issues that were presented to the county on the first day and depending on what the answers are, obviously, it may have an impact on the approval.

MR. GARBER: I will overrule the objection.

A. Could you repeat the question please?

(Question read back.)

A. At that time, we knew that they were undergoing cleaning up, replacing windows, getting the trash out, cosmetic work to the property, and that would be fine to continue as a property owner or contract purchaser.

Q. Did you know they were going to be holding events there?

A. I did not.

Q. You didn't know that they were holding get-togethers for a number of people, not just to paint or repair the building but to fundraise, to have parties there. You didn't know that.

A. Beyond a group of people showing up on weekends or in the evenings to work on the house as a group, no.

Q. Thank you.

If you had been aware that there were events being held with regular attendance and those events being greater than 300 people, would you have changed your analysis in terms of parking requirements or approval or submission of those requirements on Exhibit 1A?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. Mr. Garber, again -- and I think you ruled at the first day's hearing, and you recognized that the Board is not sitting in its capacity to consider appeals of code violation cases.

We acknowledge and my client acknowledged that they have had fundraisers and certain gatherings since they've owned the property, just as I may have a fundraiser at my house or I may have a celebration at my house or we all may do that.

I think what the relevant inquiry in this case is is whether the special exception, which is the use of the property if an approval is granted both in terms of the sort of mundane, routine daily activities as well as the festivals that have been described, is the inquiry.

I'm not sure where these questions are going other than I understand the neighbors didn't like it that they had a fundraiser out there. I get that.

I frankly don't understand what that has to do with the proposed use of this property going forward. It's not a code violation case.

MR. HOLZER: I will explain it.

MR. GARBER: The way I understood it was it was not dealing with code enforcement issues but rather how would the holding of these types of events, how would that impact the way the plan is designed?

And that is, would you make different accommodations, would you have a different parking arrangement or configuration, what does that mean for the purposes of the special exception factors?

That's how I interpreted your question. It was beyond the strict code enforcement part.

MR. HOLZER: Mr. Chairman, you're right on the money. I have written down here a response.

The credibility of this witness in terms of his opinion in regard to 502.1 would be based upon these questions and this answer.

We're not trying a code violation case over again. Your Honor is exactly right. That's still my question.

MR. GARBER: I will overrule the objection. The question stays.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) The question was: The assumptions that you've made in regard to parking requirements, would those change if you were advised that instead of 150 maximum there could be attendance at events, whatever, held on-site of 300 people or over?

Would that requirement change your opinion in regard to your testimony dealing with parking?

MR. SCHMIDT: I will just object to the supposition that there have been over 300 people on the property. Facts not in evidence and how we know that. I understand your ruling to my prior objection.

MR. GARBER: I recognize the 300 number to be more of a hypothetical because that's not a fact that's been established in the evidence. Since he is an expert witness on that point, he can certainly answer the question.

MR. HOLZER: Thank you.

A. The answer is, no, we would have proposed the same or materially similar layout. We would have proposed parking, paving and the site improvements for 364 days of the year and not the one day of year that there may be a larger crowd.

Q. Maybe there would be three or five days. Would that affect your opinion, if it was a regular special event and not a religious appearance on a particular day?

A. That would depend on the number of times a year and the actual size of the crowd that's anticipated during that day.

Q. Didn't I ask you, Did you know that there were going to be special events? You said, you didn't know that.

A. I did not.

Q. So you were never told by your client and you never tried to find out what other special events would be held, is that right?

A. We found out what we needed to know for the religious worship, which is what the parking requirements address.

Q. If you have a religious institution and they're holding Bingo parties and so forth, take a Roman Catholic, Episcopalian, a Methodist, don't those calculations go into the requirement for parking, if they had them regularly as part of the religious activities on-site?

A. The parking requirements would be separate. They would have parking requirements one per four seats, and if they had some sort of hall where those types of functions were being held, there could be additional requirements for that.

Q. And that hall could be this main building, could it not?

A. The interior of the structure would not lend itself to a large hall for entertaining outside of the worship work.

Q. You don't know that, because you don't even know the square footage of this building, do you? You just testified you didn't.

A. I don't need to know the square footage to know the interior layout.

Q. Really.

Are you telling me that you couldn't put 300 people in the hall that's shown in one of these pictures and in the hallway or in the other portion of the building?

A. If your purpose was to just jam as many people in the room as possible, maybe.

Q. What about upstairs, while downstairs is being held?

Are you telling me that you're going to take that position, when you previously testified that you didn't measure the square footage, you didn't pursue the basement to find out whether --

Are you really taking that position?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection.

A. Yes.

MR. HOLZER: Yes, he answered.

MR. SCHMIDT: Arguing with the witness.

MR. HOLZER: I'm not arguing. This witness has to be truthful.

MR. GARBER: We can strike that comment. But the question stands and the answer stands.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) You may or may not have used this testimony or commented on in regard to the parking spaces.

But did you use as a basis for your calculation four people per car?

A. Yes. The calculation is based on one car per four seats. Because there are no seats, in lieu of seats we used an expected attendance.

Q. So you did use that calculation of four people per car.

A. Yes.

Q. Other than your two visits and other than your preparation, you really don't know how this property has been used from the time of its purchase until now.

Is that a fair statement?

A. Like you said, I've been there twice. I don't live in the area that I see it on a regular basis.

Q. Thank you.

I know we went into this area before of you're not an environmental person. But as the overall producer of this site plan, do you know whether or not there are any plans to mitigate sheet flow adversely affecting in the northern direction, specifically Ms. Foxworthy's property, which is on the north side where you said the flow would go?

A. We haven't proceeded to any sort of analysis on that at this point.

MR. GARBER: When you say "on that," what are you referring to?

THE WITNESS: On the runoff.

A. In the vicinity of Ms. Foxworthy's house, there is a roadside ditch and an inlet. Without closer examination, I wouldn't be able to state what possible problems there are.

MR. GARBER: If I can ask and jump in: Where is that property located on 1A?

THE WITNESS: It is directly across Harford Road from the entrance at the northwestern corner of Boneparte Avenue and Harford Road.

MR. GARBER: Would that be the house that's depicted in Petitioner's 9E and F?

THE WITNESS: Is that the one looking from the site towards Harford Road, down the driveway?

MR. GARBER: Let's get the actual exhibit.

MS. DOPKIN: Would you show us where on the site plan the inlet is?

MR. GARBER: First, the question is 9E and F, is that Ms. Foxworthy? Is that correct?

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

MR. GARBER: Is that the house that you're referring to, sir?

THE WITNESS: In E it is to the left of that photo, behind the stop sign, and clearly visible in F.

MR. GARBER: So E would show different homes than F, correct? And F is the one that we're talking about here with this testimony.

THE WITNESS: Any home in E would be further down the road and not directly adjacent.

MR. GARBER: Got it. The next question from Ms. Dopkin is, is there a way in these photos to show the inlet and the roadside ditch?

THE WITNESS: The inlet and the roadside ditch are visible in 9B. It's to the right of the white striping.

MR. GARBER: Is that a sewer grate in 9B?

THE WITNESS: Almost in the middle of the plan, that's the top to a storm drain inlet.

MR. GARBER: That's on the subject property side, correct?

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. GARBER: What about the roadside ditch and inlet you referred to to Ms. Foxworthy's property?

THE WITNESS: There is another ditch on our side of Harford Road that's visible in 9C, west of the driveway along Harford Road.

MR. GARBER: What about the other side of Harford Road?

THE WITNESS: There's no picture here to depict anything there. You can actually see in 9C that Harford Road is actually sloped away from Ms. Foxworthy's property and back toward the subject site.

MR. GARBER: Thank you, Mr. Holzer.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Did you measure the distance --

From what we'll call the tennis court or the volleyball court, whichever net goes up or down, are there any homes close to that site as depicted on Exhibit 1A?

A. The closest homes would be all the way on the other side of Harford Road, on the west side of Harford Road on the property.

Q. In other words, where you just were talking about Ms. Foxworthy's property, that's the homes that you're referring to?

A. Ms. Foxworthy would be to the north.

Q. Right.

A. So to the west of the property, the closest home to the sports court would be here on the west side of the Harford Road.

Q. Look at lot 12150. Is that on there?

A. Yes.

Q. Can you measure from that home to the tennis court or volleyball court, the distance?

A. I would say it's 300 to 350 feet.

Q. Thanks. Since you haven't been out there when there were any events, you can't tell what the impacts of people on the subject site, how it would impact those people that you just described?

A. In what case? What events?

Q. Noise.

A. No, I have not been there when the property was in use.

Q. I have a few more questions and that will be it.

We already addressed the issue that you're not a sound expert, so you wouldn't be able to opine one way or the other as to who or what could hear who or what, right?

A. As far as noise levels at any adjoining location, no.

Q. I believe you testified that in your analysis of 502.1, you felt this was a low impact or low intensity impact on the neighbors, is that right?

A. Yes.

Q. How did you conclude that for your opinion?

A. During my visits to the site, my review of plans and aerial photos of the area, 502 requires that it not be a greater impact than it would be on other sites.

So this, in the scheme of a religious worship facility, would be a low impact site and location due to its proximity to a state road and due to the size of the property.

Q. So you were not including in your opinion any noise problems, traffic problems, any relative type of problem that could be generated by the use of this site on the neighbors.

A. What my opinion was is that any noise or sounds that were generated by this site would be no more impactful here than it would be in a similarly zoned property elsewhere.

Q. You also testified previously that this is the highest site in the area, is that correct?

A. Directly around the house is.

Q. But the whole site of 30 acres is higher than the surrounding properties on the east, west, north or south.

A. Not in its entirety but the majority.

Q. So that wouldn't be a relative factor to set this property apart?

A. Not in my opinion.

Q. So in your opinion the geography and physical location of this site is not relevant to your opinion.

A. I said the height was not a detriment. The physical location of the property is a consideration. And in that case I think this property is better than the similarly zoned property nearby.

Q. Suppose it was a similarly located piece of property that's flat, would you find any difference between this site and the church located on a flat piece of property?

A. No. Again, it's primarily driven by the distance to the surrounding neighbors.

Q. You just said they're within 300 feet of adjacent properties. You never testified as to how close the house was on the north of this site that you've shown on Exhibit 1A, and you've identified for the Board as this property right here. And I'm pointing to Mr. Pohler's property. You testified about that.

Are you telling me that that couldn't be effected by something?

A. There's no requirement that there's no effect. That it's not a greater detriment to the community here than it would be elsewhere.

Q. Let me ask you this question. Suppose you go over to Bel Air Road and you have a church at Bel Air Road that's surrounded by commercial activity. Wouldn't there be a difference between this property and that property?

A. If it --

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection.

A. If it was surrounded by partial property, it wouldn't be similarly zoned.

MR. GARBER: Sir, there's an objection

pending.

MR. SCHMIDT: I will withdraw the objection based on his answer.

MR. HOLZER: He hasn't answered.

A. If it was surrounded by commercial properties it wouldn't be similarly zoned and, thus, we wouldn't be comparing it for the purposes of 502.

Q. So that's one answer.

Suppose you had a church on a flat piece of property that was a church operation but, in fact, was different from this physical site in terms of either road access, surrounding properties, et cetera.

Wouldn't this be different from that?

A. It would be. You could conceivably have a site that is located at the end of a residential street which is different. That's obviously a worse scenario than direct access to the state highway.

In that case, the access to this site is good for its use. It's direct access to Harford Road.

Q. So your analysis then is based upon the fact that there is, in your opinion, no other location that would be better than this or worse than this, that this is the best. There's no impact.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. I don't understand the question. I don't understand how it relates to the criteria.

MR. HOLZER: The criteria is as he's already testified to. The impact has to be greater here than elsewhere in the zone. That's the old standard that we all live by in the zoning law.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) So the question that I have is that you have not been able to find a piece of property that is any worse than this site or any better, right?

A. I haven't shopped for an available site. If that's what you're asking.

Q. That's true. That's what I'm saying.

Nor have you shopped for a site that would indicate that the property here is worse than at someplace else.

In other words, just the opposite of what your testimony is.

You haven't done that research, have you?

MR. GARBER: He's basically asking if you compared properties.

A. What properties? I don't know what properties would exist that would be suitable for this.

Q. You've answered the question.

MR. HOLZER: He hasn't compared it to any properties.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) To your knowledge of your client in terms of their religious activity, can you explain here the depth of your knowledge relative to how they equate to a Christian church, a Jewish church, a synagogue?

Do you have any ability to articulate how this congregation functions versus what many other people as Christians would understand how their church functions?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. That's so far out of the area of this man's expertise. It's completely an unfair question.

MR. GARBER: How it would impact the design here?

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

MR. GARBER: I would have to agree with Mr. Schmidt.

MR. HOLZER: How it would impact the design is very simple. He has testified in regard to 502.1 criteria, and he has drawn those conclusions that this would be no different than any church. And that's why it's relevant for him to understand.

MR. GARBER: I'm still not hearing why there would be a difference between the way a church, synagogue would be run other than the general religious use, which is how it was understood previously, right?

MR. HOLZER: Because the answer to that question is what they testified in Day 1. They testified there is no religious Sunday morning 9:00 or 11:00. They testified that from a religious standpoint that anybody can walk in and do whatever they want to do, say a prayer, ask for forgiveness.

MR. GARBER: Right. So how does that impact your question?

MR. HOLZER: It impacts my question because I want to know what he compared, what he analyzed in regard to coming up with these conclusions that this facility did not violate 502.1.

MR. GARBER: Again, going back to the point, how does that relate to practice of this religion versus that of any other type of Christian church or Jewish synagogue?

MR. HOLZER: It relates to how they testified. I'm not the one to talk about religion. They were the ones that explained, on Day No. 1, how their religious institution functions.

MR. GARBER: Right. As the engineer, how did that impact his opinions and his plan?

MR. HOLZER: Correct. Because based on what he knows about the building, based on how he can opine that there will be no impact on the neighbors, or whatever, it's all relevant. It's all tied together.

MR. GARBER: Can you answer the question?

THE WITNESS: I think so.

A. The difference from a normal Judeo-Christian worship in the way the service or prayers are attended is that there is no formalized date and time that everybody comes and leaves at the same time. So your peak traffic would always be less from this facility than a comparable church or synagogue. And then, because there are no pews, the way we had to figure out a way to apply seats to a facility with no seats.

And so we have a peak attendance to regular service that was used for the parking requirements. Beyond that, worship is worship in my opinion.

Q. So the only thing that you said so far that when I've asked you about festivals that are held there is that you don't know anything about them.

So, therefore, the question that I have is absent that knowledge. How can you make the opinion that it does not violate 502.1?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. He didn't testify that he didn't know anything about festivals. He testified that the fundraising events he was not involved in.

But obviously he sat and I believe he testified that he's aware of the operation of the church in terms of two parts of it; one, what I would call the week-to-week operation and, also, the periodic festivals, the religious festivals there.

We're not talking about fundraising events but the three to four festivals that they have yearly. We heard about them on the first day of testimony.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, what say you?

MR. HOLZER: I don't want to say any more. I have no further questions.

MR. GARBER: Are you done with cross-examination?

MR. SCHMIDT: I'm sorry. Are you done? I thought you said you were done.

MR. HOLZER: I said I have no further questions.

MR. GARBER: Just on that point?

MR. HOLZER: Not just on that point, on all points.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt, redirect?

EXAMINATION BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. Mr. Motsco, let me just follow up on that. You were here for the first day of testimony. You heard the testimony from several representatives of the church as to essentially how the church operates.

A. Yes.

Q. You heard that unlike the Judeo-Christian type of church, there are no regularly scheduled weekly services on a Sunday morning, for example, in a Christian church.

A. Yes.

Q. You also heard, did you not, that there are periodic festivals that are conducted? Some are 15 days long, some are shorter than that. There may be three or four a year.

There was discussion about major versus minor religious festivals and the significance and how that impacts attendance.

Did you hear that?

A. Yes.

Q. Was it your testimony, sir, when you were addressing 502.1 that you took into account, quote, how the church operates and how these services and religious activities would work over the course of the year in concluding that it would not be detrimental to the health, safety, and general welfare locale?

A. Yes.

Q. I understand you were not part of the decision to have a fundraising event out here, correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. You didn't attend the fundraising event, correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. But you have an understanding of how the church would operate on an annual type of basis in terms of festivals and services and attendance, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Is that what your conclusion was based upon?

A. Yes. My conclusion was based on the regular operation of the worship.

Q. Thank you.

The landscape plan that was submitted, that has not been approved by the Mr. Hermann, who is the county's landscape architect, is that correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. Has that been prepared in accordance with the county's landscape manual and any other source that might be relevant in terms of the requirements for landscaping?

A. Yes.

Q. Is those requirements generally driven by new construction or new improvements to the property?

A. That is correct.

Q. So there is an existing building and several existing buildings, are there not?

A. Yes.

Q. In addition to the landscaping that's proposed and shown on that plan, there's also significant mature landscaping on the property, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. You've indicated that there is no proposal or no intention as shown on this plan to remove any of the landscaping that's out there except for, as I think you've described it, if the driveway is required to be expanded or altered, correct?

A. Correct.

Q. But all the woods that are shown in all the various photographs are going to remain at least as it's contemplated at the current time.

A. That's correct.

Q. Let me also ask you: I think you said at the beginning of your direct examination a lot of the base source material on this plan in terms of the location of environmental features, existing improvements, driveways, et cetera, was in large part based on information obtained through the county's GIS system, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. Did you also indicate on cross, I believe, that not only you but other representatives of Little & Associates have been to this site? Is that correct?

A. Yes. The individual helping me prepare this plan, once we had compiled all the GIS data and prepared a draft plan, visited the site. Sometimes buildings get obscured in heavy trees and sometimes in aerial photos things aren't always what they seem.

So they visited the site to confirm that what we're showing on the plan is an accurate representation of the site.

Q. That would be as to improvements on the site and the environmental features and the like that would have been shown on the GIS system.

A. Yes.

Q. So that information on the GIS system has been field verified, in essence, by somebody from Little & Associates.

A. Yes. And I actually did the same exercise on my first visit to the property and walked the entire site myself.

Q. Is it your opinion, sir, that the site as shown on Petitioner's Exhibit No. 1 and I believe 1A, as it's shown up there, is true and accurate in terms of conditions on the property at the present time?

A. Yes.

Q. You were asked about stormwater management, were you not, or some stormwater management questions by Mr. Holzer?

A. Yes.

Q. At least as to the proposed driveway -- excuse me.

MR. SCHMIDT: Strike that.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) As to the existing driveway, at least under one scenario that may remain, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. There would be no additional paving, if State Highway Administration accepts the existing configuration of the driveway, correct?

A. Correct.

Q. Insofar as the grades in that area, do I understand the property runs down from the property, down towards Harford Road at that area?

A. Yes.

Q. Are there any ditches, improvements, collections or any of that type of feature on the Petitioner's side of Harford Road that would collect or channel that water as it comes down off the property under today's circumstances?

A. There is at least one inlet and a roadside ditch along Harford Road.

Q. On our side of Harford Road.

A. Yes.

Q. How far does that ditch extend, if you know?

A. It extends at least several hundred feet from the entrance. Beyond that, I can't say.

Q. Is it on both sides of the driveway? When I say "both sides," what would be east and west is the configuration, go along both up and down Harford Road. Or is it only on one side of driveway as it relates to Harford Road?

Do you understand what I'm asking?

A. There's a little bit to the north on Harford Road from the subject --

Q. Why don't you show us where it is on the plan. And if you can verbalize where the ditch is.

A. There's a ditch heading in a easterly direction on Harford Road, and that's starting at the driveway entrance and heading east. There is some ditch there for a distance. I didn't examine all the way up Harford Road.

Q. How about on the other side of the existing driveway?

A. It does exist at least in this vicinity getting down to the big bend in Harford Road.

Q. So there's a ditch that's along that side.

How about on the other side of Harford Road? If you know, is there a ditch on the other side of Harford Road?

A. On the other side of Harford Road, many of the properties fall off rather significantly from Harford Road. So there would be no ditch for runoff into the yards.

Q. And there's at least one storm drain.

A. Yes.

Q. Will we be required by the county as part of the permitting process in terms of the construction of either the parking area or the new access point, assuming it's required, to take into account any grading, stormwater runoff and the like?

A. Yes. We would have to prepare a grading plan at the very last and obtain a grading permit.

Q. Would that take into account any water runoff that might be generated by any of those changes?

A. Yes. When we prepare that plan, we would look at whether or not additional work is needed to address those concerns.

Q. How far in terms of linear feet is the new parking area from the property boundary? If you can estimate that.

A. At its closest point, I would say it's at least 200 feet.

Q. How long is the driveway from that parking area? Is it shorter or longer than that?

A. The driveway to Harford Road?

Q. Yes, sir.

A. It's longer, probably at least 300 feet.

Q. The length of a football field.

MR. GARBER: The driveway is 300 feet?

THE WITNESS: From the area of the new parking.

MR. GARBER: The driveway itself is not 300 feet in length. It's 300 feet from its point of access to the proposed parking area to Harford Road.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

A. There's additional driveway beyond the proposed parking.

Q. To get to the building.

A. Correct.

MS. MURPHY: From what point in the entrance area? What point are you starting at for the 300 feet?

THE WITNESS: The existing entrance here at Harford Road, the driveway comes in, bends to the left, and then there's a left turn here, where we're proposing parking in two directions from that point on the plan and from that point down to the entrance.

MS. MURPHY: And you're saying that's 300 feet.

THE WITNESS: Approximately.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) What's the grade in that area? Is it running toward Harford Road, or is it running towards what would be the east?

A. Where the driveway is, it is generally flowing towards the east. Over where there are trees along Harford Road on the plan, that's a very steep slope that goes directly to Harford Road.

Q. In terms of water that would be running off from the parking lot, it would go downhill. I assume water runs downhill.

MR. SCHMIDT: Maybe Mr. Holzer will stipulate to that.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) If the water runs downhill from the new parking area, it would run towards the east. If you can indicate that direction.

A. Yes, it runs in this general direction.

Q. Certainly, on the Harford Road side, there's a stand of forest or trees along there. The water would have to go through if it's running towards Harford Road, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Then you indicated a ditch on our side of Harford Road.

A. Yes.

Q. Is Harford Road -- I know many state roads and road designs, typically they will require roads to be crowned so that when it rains water doesn't accumulate on the roads for public safety and traffic considerations.

Do you know what the grade is of Harford Road? Is it crowned? Is it higher in the middle than on both sides, or is it higher across one way? If you know.

A. Without looking at the pictures, in this area here to the west of the existing entrance is sloped entirely towards the subject property.

Q. If something was going to flow across Harford Road, at least in that area it would have to flow uphill.

A. Yes.

Q. How about down closer to the driveway? If you know.

A. It's rather flat here. And without having a survey done, I can't say.

Q. Fair enough.

I know we talked about the height of the property and the fact that the property is somewhat crowned in the higher location in terms of the property where the building is located, is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Visibility is dependent upon a couple of factors, is it not, not just height?

A. Correct.

Q. Is the view of the building and the view of the grounds screened by anything?

The mere fact that they're higher than some of the properties around them, can you see the grounds or the building from every adjacent property?

MR. HOLZER: Objection. Calls for a conclusion that he's been on other property. I think he's testified he hadn't been to any other properties.

MR. SCHMIDT: I will strike that.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Can you see it from Harford Road?

MR. GARBER: Can you see what from Harford Road?

MR. SCHMIDT: The building.

MR. GARBER: Which building?

MR. SCHMIDT: The subject building.

MR. GARBER: The main building?

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, sir.

A. Only sparingly through a few select gaps in the trees.

Q. Mr. Motsco, let me ask you, you indicated that you were out to the property on at least two occasions, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. And the first time you were out there, do you know when that was approximately?

A. Last fall sometime.

MR. HOLZER: I object to these questions now. They go beyond the scope of direct.

MR. SCHMIDT: He asked him all about how many times he's been out there and what he saw the first time he was out there and so on and so forth. These are directly in response.

MR. GARBER: What is your question?

MR. SCHMIDT: I'm going to show him some photographs and see if it's consistent with what he observed, when he was out on the property the first time.

MR. GARBER: It did come up during the course of your cross-examination.

MR. SCHMIDT: It certainly did.

MR. HOLZER: I asked him very well about all of this stuff. And you heard the answers. Now I want you to what he --

Go ahead. I want you to see what he's submitting on redirect, and you tell me if that's appropriate redirect.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) I'm going to show you a series of five photographs and ask if you can identify these --

MR. SCHMIDT: I will mark them 11A, B, C, D and E.

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 11A-E marked for identification.)

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) -- and ask you if they are reflective of the conditions that you saw on the property when you visited --

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt, this is Exhibit 11A through E?

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, sir.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Motsco, why don't you take those one at a time and start with Exhibit 11A to describe the property, and let us know if that was consistent with the appearance of the property at the time you visited it the first time.

A. Exhibit 11A is a photo of the front door and front porch. And at the time of my visit some of the rubbish had been removed but otherwise was relatively the same.

Q. Do you know if all the graffiti that's shown on there, was that done by the current owners of the property? If you know.

Did they deface their own building? If you know.

A. I can't say for a fact who did it.

Q. You don't know who did that.

A. No.

We go to B, and that is very similar to what I saw on my first visit. Again, some rubbish around the building would have been cleaned up by the time I visited.

Then C is looking at the -- that's the side door of what will be the worship room.

Q. The entrance to the worship room.

A. Yes. That is generally what I saw, when I was there.

Q. So somebody had knocked out the door and broken all the windows.

A. Yes.

Q. These are broken windows in the worship room to the right of the front door, when you're facing the front of the house. That's picture D. You can see they are broken out and missing.

Then picture E appears to be the garage that we saw in the first round of pictures and the poor condition of that structure as well.

MR. SCHMIDT: I would offer these as Exhibits 11A through E.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, A through E?

MR. HOLZER: You already ruled on my objection.

MR. GARBER: As to your visibility. The questions are one thing. We're now going to do this for the photos.

MR. HOLZER: I don't believe they're appropriate on redirect examination. I asked the gentleman to explain what it all looked like, and he couldn't explain to me. That would have been the appropriate time to present these.

But if the Board's going to allow them in, you're going to allow them in. I do have a question of the witness on these pictures.

MR. GARBER: The question I had is I'm -- outside I understand that questions were asked of this witness as a condition of the property the first time he visited.

I'm just wondering, why are we going down this road as to what it looked like the first time he was there, for purposes of establishing that there was graffiti or broken windows, which has little to do with the plan at the moment other than, look, they cleaned it up. That's been testified to and I think is fairly well established even without the photographs.

MR. SCHMIDT: Two reasons.

First of all, sir, there were questions about the condition of the property. Mr. Holzer asked on direct examination when the property was acquired.

Second, I'd like to have those into evidence in anticipation of my cross-examination to some of the Protestants.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, what say you?
MR. HOLZER: Go ahead and let them in for the simple reason that when he questions the witnesses, they're going to be able to explain.
MR. GARBER: They are so admitted.
MR. HOLZER: Now I have a question.
MR. GARBER: We're not there yet.
MR. SCHMIDT: I do not have any other questions.
MR. GARBER: I stand corrected.
EXAMINATION BY MR. HOLZER:
Q. Mr. Motsco, how long has this property been abandoned?
A. That I do not know. In excess of ten years.
Q. In excess of ten years.
So you don't know who put the ruble down, right?
A. No.
Q. You don't know who wrote anything on the walls, right?

A. Correct.

Q. You don't know when that was done, correct?

A. Correct.

Q. You don't know who did any of that, correct?

A. Correct.

MR. HOLZER: No other questions.

MS. DOPKIN: I have one question. It relates back to your direct testimony regarding the proposed new well and installation for septic.

Will that one system and one well serve both the main dwelling and the smaller dwelling, or will it require separate systems?

THE WITNESS: I can't say that. We would have to have the sanitarian who prepared the computations answer that.

MS. DOPKIN: You also testified to the uses on the nearby road to the east.

THE WITNESS: Mount Vista.

MS. DOPKIN: Mount Vista Road. That there is both a church and another facility.

THE WITNESS: It's a private school. At the time I was there it was functioning as a summer day camp.

MS. DOPKIN: How large are those properties? If you know.

THE WITNESS: I don't know.

MS. DOPKIN: Are there ball fields and athletic facilities on either of them to your knowledge?

THE WITNESS: There are.

MS. DOPKIN: Thank you.

MR. GARBER: I have a couple questions. There was some questions raised about drainage and whatnot. I'm looking at the landscape plan here.

Just by way of background, the existing main dwelling that you said sits at a crown and then there's the high point of the property --

THE WITNESS: Uh-huh.

MR. GARBER: -- the proposed parking looks to be on the same elevation more or less as the main building.

THE WITNESS: Yes. It's very similar.

MR. GARBER: So those two areas would be the high point. And then, therefore, around it it all descends down, whether it runs off to the west, north or east, correct?

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. GARBER: Do the existing woods aid with the drainage or the anticipated drainage from the parking area?

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MR. GARBER: I don't have any more questions about that.

MS. DOPKIN: I'm looking at Protestant's Exhibit 4 that shows, it looks like, an aerial photograph, and it looks as though the main dwelling is surrounded on three sides by trees.

Are those trees higher than the dwelling?

MR. SCHMIDT: I'm going to give him a copy of the photograph, if I can, while you're asking the question.

MS. DOPKIN: Please.

MR. SCHMIDT: I think the question is: Are the trees as high or higher than the building?

THE WITNESS: Some of those trees are in fact taller than the building.

MS. DOPKIN: I refer you to your Petitioner's Exhibit 9H and I. It looks as though there are trees along the driveway that totally block visibility of the main dwelling. Is that accurate?

THE WITNESS: Visibility from where? Harford Road?

MS. DOPKIN: Harford Road.

THE WITNESS: That is correct. Exhibit H is the photo that you were looking at?

MS. DOPKIN: Yes, sir.

THE WITNESS: There we are actually some distance into the property already, and the house is still not visible.

MS. DOPKIN: If you're continuing on the driveway to Petitioner's Exhibit I, is that past those trees?

THE WITNESS: Yes. Those trees -- I answered incorrectly before.

These trees are not -- we're not between the house and Harford Road in this photo.

MR. GARBER: Which photo?

THE WITNESS: Those trees would block the house from Harford Road. If you flip to I, they are directly behind you in that photo.

MS. DOPKIN: So that would be somewhere where the existing driveway turns?

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MR. SCHMIDT: Does this help, Mr. Motsco?

THE WITNESS: That kind of hides where we're looking.

MS. MURPHY: You said DoE hasn't reviewed the plan yet, is that right?

THE WITNESS: No. They would have looked at it, when the perc plat was filed, to ensure that any of the proposed facilities weren't being placed in an area that they would be concerned about.

I don't know if they did in this case but a lot of times they will make a site visit of their own to preliminarily assess the property for environmental constraints.

If we were approved for perc testing, they would have concluded that those locations are not endangering the environment.

MS. MURPHY: So is that their only involvement in looking at this plan? Will they look at it again? Is there a process?

THE WITNESS: They will also look at it, when we file a grading permit for the proposed parking.

MS. MURPHY: Do you think they have any impact or say in regard to any of the trees that we've talked about that are in the photographs and on the site plans in terms of keeping those trees or not?

Do you have any sense of that?

THE WITNESS: They would want us to meet the forest conservation requirements.

MS. MURPHY: Do you know what that is, and do you know what that would mean?

THE WITNESS: There's a percentage of the property that would be preserved in trees. And being an RC zone, it would be a higher percentage. I don't know what the percentage is off the top of my head but it would not insignificant.

MS. MURPHY: So that may or may not mean all the trees would be saved. It could mean that some of them would be removed, is that right?

THE WITNESS: Without doing an actual measurement of what trees are out there, I couldn't answer whether or not more or less would be what's protected.

MS. MURPHY: Do you know whether your client just hypothetically would agree to --

Let's say if this gets approved, hypothetically, would your clients agree to a condition and an order that all the trees that are on the plan and in the photographs remain, short of the three trees that look like they need to be removed for the driveway access alternative route, if SHA requires that route?

Do you have any sense of whether your clients would agree to that? Again, this is a hypothetical because we're not finished with this hearing.

THE WITNESS: You would have to ask them. I think it would be more appropriate in this case just to require the forest conservation we addressed and meet those criteria and have DoE enforce it.

MS. MURPHY: As a condition, you're suggesting?

Have a condition in an order hypothetically that EPS then enforce -- well, obviously, they will -- that it meet all the requirements? Is that what you're suggesting?

THE WITNESS: Yes. From an environmental standpoint, they would be more concerned about the stands of trees from an environmental standpoint than a single tree in a yard that no deer are finding a home there.

MS. MURPHY: In this case, we don't have an RTA situation. And, by the way, that's because -- and just to confirm with you -- there's no RTA applicability here because it's not DR zoned, right?

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MS. MURPHY: To make sure I remembered that right, because it's RC-2, so there's no specific need for a buffer.

But here we're applying special exception factors, and obviously that's an issue for the protestants in terms of the surrounding homes. And so the tree issue has to do with the buffer.

And so I was just curious as to whether or not as an engineer you would think that keeping those trees, the existing woods on the property would be beneficial or would --

THE WITNESS: I think the existing woods would be -- I feel like that would be a good solution just because of the enforceability, that it then quickly becomes something that is applied to many properties.

And there's an enforcement division. They have a methodology for enforcing that and requiring restoration if that was to be a problem in the future versus scattered trees in the yard where it would be a court case from the neighbors to have them replaced.

MS. MURPHY: So you're trailing off at the end there.

So your opinion was that it would be something that would be helpful to have in terms of the buffer with the neighborhood.

THE WITNESS: Yes. If the buffer is an issue, I think the appropriate thing would be to prepare a forest conservation plan and record a forest conservation easement.

MS. MURPHY: You also talked about lighting. I think your testimony was that I had written down -- correct me if I'm wrong -- there was only going to be two porch lights.

THE WITNESS: It would be porch lights similar to any --

It's a dwelling. So at the entrances there would be porch lights and some small landscape lighting. In the criteria of a special exception, it's not industrial sodium vapor streetlights lighting up the parking lot.

MS. MURPHY: That's the question. But now what about parking lots? They need lights for the parking lot. So there are additional lights, right?

THE WITNESS: There are none proposed at this time.

MS. MURPHY: I know you're not the light expert. I know a lighting plan will be proposed.

In terms of us trying to conclude whether or not one of the factors of special exception is lighting, any idea what kind of lighting is going to be proposed for the parking lot?

THE WITNESS: I imagine it would be as minimal as possible.

MS. MURPHY: As minimal.

THE WITNESS: It wouldn't be lit up like a 7-Eleven at night.

MS. MURPHY: Again, if hypothetically it was adopted or we agree to it, a condition would be a lighting plan be filed.

Is that something that you would suggest with the county?

THE WITNESS: Yes. The county has a procedure for reviewing those.

MR. SCHMIDT: Ms. Murphy, in answer to your question, I'm going to say, because he didn't answer the question, I'll get you an answer whether my client would be willing to enter into a restriction, as you mentioned. I just want to make sure I understand your question.

I'm assuming that the areas that you're concerned about primarily is sort of the perimeter of the property, where the woods is.

MR. GARBER: I would jump in to say that the north and west sides, where there are peoples' homes, the opposite side of Harford Road.

MR. SCHMIDT: Let me just say, to the best of my knowledge in talking with my clients and preparing for this, there are plans to do something with those trees or clear.

I will certainly ask them about if they're willing to enter into a restriction. And I can advise you of that.

As I indicated during his direct exam, there could be as many as three trees taken down here. But that's going to be ultimately the decision of the State Highway Administration.

I believe in this area it's mainly open at the present time.

Mr. Motsco, is the area generally open?

THE WITNESS: There's no woods. There's scattered trees in the yard area.

MR. GARBER: So there may be a handful of trees that would also get removed as part of the proposed parking.

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. SCHMIDT: Do you know how many?

THE WITNESS: Not off the top of my head.

MS. MURPHY: You indicated in your testimony that the trees to the right of the entrance along Harford Road also serve a purpose in collecting water drainage. I think Mr. Schmidt asked you that question.

In terms of asking your client whether or not they would agree as a condition, certainly those boundary of trees has to play a big part in it. That would serve to assist in the drainage of water.

MR. SCHMIDT: Stormwater management, visibility, lighting, et cetera.

MS. MURPHY: I'm throwing that out there to try to figure out whether or not this gentleman knew or had some sense.

THE WITNESS: I will add that along the boundary with Harford Road, much of the slope -- most of the ground there is so steep that it would be nearly impossible to utilize for construction of anything.

Trees is really the best use of that property.

MR. SCHMIDT: Even if you wanted to use it, it couldn't be a ball field.

THE WITNESS: This area here is a near-vertical face that you couldn't walk up without a rope, I don't think. That is where all the trees are now, along the perimeter.

MR. GARBER: You're pointing to the west side of the property.

THE WITNESS: Yes, the west side of the property along Harford Road.

MS. DOPKIN: Mr. Motsco, there seems to be evidence of an older driveway that comes out at the southwest end of the property.

THE WITNESS: There is an old driveway there.

MS. DOPKIN: Is there access to Harford

Road there?

THE WITNESS: There is a driveway access here. Much of the road is deteriorated and gone. There's a patch -- I walked all this in one of my visits.

There's a patch here at the bottom that's still visible. The clearing is still there. You can see evidence of an old road. And then the only other remaining paving is right at the old barn. And there's some when you get to the smaller two-story building.

MR. SCHMIDT: Is there any intention, Mr. Motsco, to use that for an alternate means of access?

THE WITNESS: No.

MS. DOPKIN: Thank you. That was my question.

MR. GARBER: In terms of your design, did the fact that the site get on the Maryland Inventory of Historic Properties factor into your design in any way, shape, or form?

THE WITNESS: It was a consideration. And we felt that because of the very minimal proposed improvements, just parking on the lawn and to preserve the building and the grounds that from a historical standpoint, since the house isn't listed, it's just the property and the barn, having somebody there using the property would be the best way to protect it.

MR. SCHMIDT: To prevent --

THE WITNESS: Versus being vacant and vandalized and used for --

MR. SCHMIDT: To prevent demolition by neglect essentially.

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. GARBER: I understand that. But in terms of the site itself, did the historic nature of the site itself, did that factor into any aspect of your design on Exhibit 1A?

THE WITNESS: We tried to preserve -- We didn't propose a parking lot. We used the drive aisles that were there as our access lane for the parking space, and we tried to pick spots that would require minimal or no grading in order to install the parking lots so that the net change to the land would be the minimal necessary.

MR. GARBER: As I understand what you're saying, you want to disturb the site as little as possible to preserve that part of the historic nature of the site.

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. HOLZER: I have a question produced by your question.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Who did you check with in terms of the historic issues that you talked about on direct?

A. The Department of Planning.

Q. You testified, I believe, that it's not on the Baltimore County Landmarks List, right?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. Some of the buildings are on the Maryland Department of --

MR. SCHMIDT: MHT.

MR. GARBER: Maryland Historical Trust.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) MHT.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you check the Register of National Historic Districts?

A. No.

Q. If had you checked that register of the National Historic Districts, you would have found that this property is within that district.

Do you have any basis to say that I'm wrong?

A. I have nothing.

Q. If you know.

You didn't check it, did you?

A. No, I have no --

MR. HOLZER: Thank you. No further questions.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt?

MR. SCHMID: No other questions.

MR. GARBER: Sir, thank you very much for your time.

It is now almost 2:45. Mr. Schmidt, I believe you have another witness to hopefully at least get --

MR. SCHMIDT: We'll have to see how far we get.

I call Joseph Caloggero.

(Witness Caloggero sworn.)

EXAMINATION BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. Sir, could you please state your name for the record?

A. Joe Caloggero.

Q. Could you spell it for our benefit?

A. C-A-L-O-G-G-E-R-O. Feel free to call me Joe.

Q. Where is it that you work, sir?

A. I work for The Traffic Group, 9900 Franklin Square Drive, Suite H, Baltimore, Maryland 21236.

MR. GARBER: 9900 --

THE WITNESS: Franklin Square Drive, Suite H, as in Harry, Baltimore 21236.

MR. GARBER: And what is your title

there?

THE WITNESS: Vice president.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt?

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Caloggero, can you tell us what your occupation is, sir?

A. I'm a traffic engineer.

Q. And you indicated you're employed at The Traffic Group and the vice president of that organization, correct?

A. Correct.

Q. Tell us a little bit about what The Traffic Group does and what you do.

MR. GARBER: Hold on one second. Everyone, please, put your cellphones --

I hope I don't have to ask again.

Please repeat your question.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Caloggero, can you just generally tell us the business of The Traffic Group and what you do specifically for that organization.

A. So we do traffic engineering and transportation planning. We also conduct traffic counts. Those are our general services.

Me, personally, I am vice president/manager of developing projects and/or state projects, county projects. I take them --

For example, for a development project, I take them from the beginning of the project to approvals, to design, and then we stop at the construction aspects of it.

Q. What's your educational background, Mr. Caloggero?

A. I have a bachelor of science in civil engineering from West Virginia University.

Q. Do you hold any type of professional licenses or registrations?

A. Yes. I am a professional engineer in numerous states, including where I first got my PE in West Virginia. I'm also licensed in Maryland. I'm also a professional transportation planner and a professional traffic operations engineer.

Q. I'm going to hand you, Mr. Caloggero, a document which I believe represents your resume, your curriculum vitae.

Can you identify that?

A. Yes.

Q. If you will, sir, that indicates places where you have testified and been accepted as an expert witness. Is that the case?

A. That is correct.

Q. That would include before the administrative law judge, or formerly known as the zoning commissioner, of Baltimore County?

A. Yes.

Q. And also testified before this Board, the Board of Appeals?

A. Yes.

Q. Also you've testified, it appears to be, in a number of other jurisdictions throughout the state of Maryland and in other states, Pennsylvania included, correct?

A. Pennsylvania, Virginia and Delaware.

Q. You've been a traffic engineer since 1993?

A. Yes.

Q. And also were employed as such by the Maryland State Highway Administration, correct?

A. That is correct.

MR. SCHMIDT: I'm going to ask that Mr. Caloggero's CV be the next exhibit. I think it's Exhibit No. 12, Ms. Murphy?

MS. MURPHY: 12.

MR. SCHMIDT: It be accepted as an exhibit. I'm going to offer him obviously as the traffic engineer. He's going to testify as it relates to traffic issues regarding this proposal.

MR. GARBER: Traffic engineer. Traffic issues related to this proposal, is that correct?

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, sir.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, do you have any questions about the admissibility?

MR. HOLZER: He's laughing. I just have one or two very quick personal questions.

MR. GARBER: About this?

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 12 marked for identification.)

EXAMINATION BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. I understand you've been in Calvert, or, as they say, Calvert County?

A. Yes.

Q. Carroll County?

A. Yes.

Q. Charles County?

A. Whatever is on my resume, yes, sir.

Q. La Plata, Howard County, Prince George's County?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. I've never seen you down there, when I'm there.

A. I've been.

MR. HOLZER: I have no other questions.

MR. GARBER: As to Exhibit 12, no objection?

MR. HOLZER: No objection.

MR. GARBER: Submitted as to the proffered area of expertise.

MR. HOLZER: No problem.

MR. GARBER: So accepted as an expert as tendered.

EXAMINATION BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. Did there come a time that you were retained by the Petitioner in this case, the Nepali American Cultural Center of Baltimore, regarding this proposal and the subject property?

A. Yes.

Q. And how long ago were you hired? If you know.

A. I believe it was December.

Q. What were you asked to do?

A. For the first hearing, the administrative judge hearing, I was hired to review the access and try to understand the amount of traffic that would be utilizing the site and provide expert testimony at the hearing.

Q. You've done an analysis of what? I assume the proposed use of the property and how it would generate traffic, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Have you also looked at the surrounding road network and improvements in the area?

A. In general, yes.

Q. I know Mr. Motsco talked a little bit about them. Maybe you can approach one of the exhibits and give us a general idea.

Can you tell us a little bit about -- we know the property is on Harford Road -- the roads in the area, the general area, any traffic improvements or features that are particularly significant that you think need to be evaluated or considered?

MR. GARBER: Just before you start your testimony, please keep in mind that if you say, Right here, that's not going to translate well onto the transcript.

If you could explain what you're referring to in more detail in the description, that would be better for everyone, rather than me interrupting every five minutes and go, Where is "that," and,

What do you mean by "this?"

THE WITNESS: I will do my best.

A. So recently a roundabout was constructed at Mount Vista Road. My understanding that the advisory speeds for this roundabout are 20 miles per hour.

For the site access, both north and south of the site, the site access is what is called a reverse turn area.

The reverse turn is signed in both directions by the Maryland State Highway Administration. The sign shows the curvature plus it's at a 90-degree angle, which means it is a more severe turn and not a curve. The curve sign, you've probably seen them, is more of a curve versus a 90-degree sign.

With the differential between the two, the curve sign is for speeds 35 miles and above. That's what the SHA would recommend.

At this location, the SHA recommends that this area be traveled at 30 miles per hour.

MR. GARBER: Which location?
THE WITNESS: The entire curvature.
MR. GARBER: The entire stretch --
THE WITNESS: The entire --
Basically, the entire stretch south of the roundabout and passing the site and as it turns to the south as well in the northbound direction.
So both this area -- I know it's hard to explain. I'm trying to do my best.
MR. GARBER: Basically, northwest central point on Harford Road.
THE WITNESS: Yes.
MR. GARBER: You're now starting at Mount Vista Road, going southbound around the north end of the property, heading to the west and then proceeding down, halfway down the property as outlined on Exhibit 2.
THE WITNESS: That would be what I was trying to say. Then in the reverse as well. The signs are in both directions.
Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Caloggero, just so

we're clear, the roundabout, or the traffic circle, was a recent improvement up at the intersection of Harford Road and Mount Vista.

A. That is correct.

Q. And that's one of those deals where you get into the circle, like we have here in Towson, and try to make sure people understand how to get in and out of it, which many Baltimore County drivers seem to be challenged by.

But from that location down to the intersection, there is a significant curve or curves which are the 90-degree curves.

A. Correct. The State Highway Administration would label that as turns.

Q. Once you get -- in effect, if you're traveling from the roundabout, or circle, then past the entrance here you would then have the same situation on the other side, turns for traffic coming and going beyond the actual entrance point.

A. That is correct.

Q. So it's the same situation with the severe turns on both up and down or I guess we could --

A. North and south.

Q. North and south of the access point onto Harford Road.

A. Correct. There's also additional warning signs on the turns themselves. They are called Chevrons. They are directing the traffic towards the right as you traverse the turns.

Q. As the traffic engineer, in terms of the roundabout, might there be occasions where people might, for example, turn, even if they wanted to go south on Harford Road from this location --

And I think we heard this on the first day of testimony from a couple people who live there who essentially said that they would come out, go up to the circle to almost do a U-turn and go through the entire circle to go the other direction because that's an easier traffic movement.

Is that something that happens with these traffic circles often?

A. I don't know about "often" but it can happen, yes.

Q. Do you have any evidence it occurred here other than the testimony?

A. Just testimony.

When I was doing my site investigations, I used that as my U-turn area.

Q. In terms of signalized intersections, are there anything relevant signalized intersections here in the area?

A. They are quite a distance away from this location. There is one at Fork Road and Sunshine Road to the north and maybe one further down north wind to the south.

Q. How far are they, if you know, from this location?

A. They're not even shown on the map.

Q. On Exhibit 2.

A. On Exhibit 2's map. They're not even listed on this map. I don't have the approximate distance. But they wouldn't, in my opinion, be --

The signals would not influence our access.

Q. And this property is outside of the urban-rural demarcation line, is it not?

A. That is correct.

Q. So it would not be impacted by the county's basic services match for transportation, is that correct, because of that?

A. That is correct.

Q. Let me ask you, Mr. Caloggero, I know one of the things that typically traffic engineers take a look at is sort of the capacity. I don't know that it's generally applicable to intersections and how much traffic can get from intersections.

But did you look or give any kind of analysis to the capacity, if that's the fair term, of the road system here, of how many vehicles are going to be going up and down Harford Road, either coming out of or entering this property and nearby?

A. It was not requested by either Baltimore County or the Maryland State Highway Administration.

So we were really looking at the site access trips. This way the State Highway Administration could make proper determinations on the access.

Q. Did you say it wasn't requested or was?

A. Capacity analyses or highway capacity manual methodologies, the analyses of turning movements or levels of service, were not requested by either agency. It is my opinion just based on the trips.

Q. Did you make a calculation in the number of trips?

A. We have a couple calculations, yes.

Q. Let me ask you if you can explain to the Board the methodology and how you calculated or what, if any, determination that you made in terms of the number of trips.

A. Sure. Typically we use ITE, the Institute of Transportation Engineer's Trip Generation Manual.

However, this kind of use is atypical. So, therefore, when you have an atypical use, you approach the users and try to determine to the best of our ability how they are going to use the property.

So based on my discussions, for a weekday, there would be about approximately 20 people coming to the temple on a weekday. This could be numerous times throughout the day. That would be 20 trips in, 20 trips out. Again, over the entire period of the day, the temple would be available for use.

Then on weekends -- we received information on a typical weekend that less than 100 people would visit during, again, the entire day that it would be open.

When we had our discussions with the Maryland State Highway Administration, they asked us for a different type of analyses, again using ITE.

MR. GARBER: Can I jump in here just to verify a couple point?

THE WITNESS: Absolutely.

MR. GARBER: You said this use is a atypical. What use?

THE WITNESS: The use of the site as a temple. It's atypical because there's not a category for a temple in the ITE Trip Generation Manual.

MS. MURPHY: But there's religious.

THE WITNESS: There is churches.

MS. MURPHY: Right. Why wouldn't you use that?

THE WITNESS: We did. The State Highway Administration asked us to use churches. But, again, for the weekend, churches are typically based on a start time and an end time, and the trips are based on those times, the start times.

MR. GARBER: So because you're not using the ITE manual for purposes of your site access trip analysis, you mentioned discussions with the people who would be using the temple during the course of the week to try to assess in -- as best as you could assess the volume to expect on a typical weekday or an average 20 people coming in throughout the day.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MR. GARBER: So 20 trips in, 20 trips

out. On the weekend, just to be clear, it's less than 100 per day, that is, less than 100 in, less than 100 out on Saturday and on Sunday.

THE WITNESS: That is my understanding, yes.

MR GARBER: We'll stop there. You were about to talk about SHA and the use of the ITE manual.

A. SHA further requested the use of the ITE manual and to review this as a church. So when we did so --

The church is typically based on square footage, when you review the trips or calculate the trips. Excuse me.

So we requested information on the size of the existing building. And we tried to be a little bit conservative, whereas the entire first floor, which would not be used as a temple, was approximately 3,500 square feet. So we generated trips based on 3,500 square feet.

Q. Let me stop you there for just a second,

Mr. Caloggero. I'm going to hand to you a copy of what appears to be a building floor plan and ask:

Have you ever seen this document before, Mr. Caloggero?

MS. MURPHY: This is actually 14. The reason is it says locality outline was 11. The photos of the graffiti was 12A through E. And then Mr. Caloggero's resume was 13. So you're on 14.

MR. SCHMIDT: Sorry, Ms. Murphy.

MS. MURPHY: That was on me.

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 14 marked for identification.)

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Caloggero, you indicated that the ITE manual, I believe, as it relates to churches ties into the square footage of the building, and, therefore, you looked at the building here.

Is that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. And I think I asked you if you had seen this exhibit, which I think, again, is 14.

A. Yes, I have.

Q. Mr. Caloggero, can you tell us what this is and how, if any way, you used it in your trip generation computations?

A. Yes. So I used the first-floor floor plan. And again for a conservative analysis, I totaled up the entire first floor's square footage and came up with 3,500 square feet versus the hall area. The hall area is much smaller.

Q. Is the hall area shown in a different color?

A. Yes. The hall area is shown in yellow. Unfortunately, I did not calculate that number nor can I see the numbers, and I didn't bring my glasses. I can't give you a square footage of the hall but it's substantially smaller than 3,500.

However, we did generate the trips for the entire first floor to try to give the SHA some kind of trips that they could work with to assess the impacts.

And based on 3,500 square feet, during the weekday it was one morning trip, during the evening peak hour, two trips, and on a weekend we had 24 peak-hour trips.

Q. That's based on the ITE methodology as it were?

A. That is correct.

Q. That's based on the square footage of the entire first floor of the building using the ITE's methodology for a church.

A. That is correct.

Q. So that's even a lesser amount of traffic than your analysis utilizing your questioning of the Petitioner, is it not?

A. This would be less, in my opinion, yes.

Q. Tell us, if you can bring us full circle: What does this all mean from a capacity standpoint in terms of overburdening or causing congestions on the roads in the area based on these numbers and methodology.

A. During the weekday, when you have your more significant amount of traffic on the roadway network, I would consider these trips di minimus.

If we're talking one trip in the morning peak hour, that's one trip every 60 minutes. Two trips is one trip every 30 minutes.

In comparison, ITE states that one single-family home would generate ten daily trips. So it would probably generate one or two peak-hour trips as well.

Q. From a capacity standpoint or the ability of the road system to essentially absorb this additional traffic, what are your conclusions there?

A. Again, de minimis. And I would expect little-to-no impacts.

Q. How about the festivals? You heard the testimony about these periodic festivals with more people.

Did you look at that or consider that and whether that would have any type of significant impact on traffic capacity or volume in the area?

A. We did not look at it per se. But my opinion would be that these kind of establishments do have -- not only these establishments but churches and other kind of institutes do have peak events.

However, unless there's a need for a separate traffic management plan to accommodate these events, these are outside of the realm where typically the State Highway Administration or other jurisdictions would review or try to make improvements to accommodate such an increase in traffic for a particular event.

For instance, what I like to use is for a football game on a Sunday in Baltimore. The State Highway Administration does not design the interstate to accommodate ten football games a year.

They understand that there's going to be excess traffic and there's an expectation that there may be some delays entering or exiting the site.

But since it's only few-and-far between, they deem it okay. They don't try to create a ten-lane highway to accommodate a potential worst day.

I'm not saying that the temple is like a Raven football game comparing the traffic. It's just an analogy that most people understand.

Q. About the Christian church around the Christmas service or Easter service, for example, would you equate it to be the same kind of thing?

A. I know I live next to a Catholic church up in Harford County. St. Ignatius. I know when to avoid that during the proper times, because they do have services where they park on both sides of the road, and there is an expected delay when entering and exiting.

Q. Speaking of parking, is there parking permitted along Harford Road or parking available along Harford Road along this stretch?

A. There is not.

Q. You've heard about the parking that's proposed on the site in terms of the actual number of paved spaces as well as the potential for overflow areas for the grass.

Do you believe that to be significant? Or sufficient, I should say.

A. Yeah. In my opinion, yes.

Q. Even for the festivals as they've been described?

A. Yes.

Q. Mr. Caloggero, from a capacity standpoint in terms of the number of vehicles, do you have an opinion, sir, as to whether this proposal would detrimentally impact or cause inappropriate levels of congestion on the road system, the immediate road system in the area?

A. No, I believe it will not.

Q. You also, I believe, Mr. Caloggero, looked at sight distance issues as it relates to the entrance to the property, is that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. And there is one access point to the property, is there not?

A. That is correct.

Q. Ms. Dopkin had asked Mr. Motsco about the driveway to the rear.

As I understand, there is no proposal to add traffic or another point of access or exit at that location, is that correct?

A. That is my understanding.

Q. Do you think that's needed for any reason as a traffic engineer?

A. No, I do not.

Q. Let me ask you about, first of all, sort of the existing conditions out there.

MR. SCHMIDT: Let me go off the record.

(Discussion off the record.)

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 15A-B, marked for identification.)

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Caloggero, I'm going to give you the next exhibit, which I believe is 15. I will number these as opposed to assign a letter. Maybe we can also do --

You have one on your witness table. Maybe let's put one up here so everybody can see.

Mr. Caloggero, what I've identified as Petitioner's Exhibit 15 is a document that's labeled, Sight Distance. It's looks to be two parts to it. A sort of representation, I believe, of Harford Road and then another representation below that.

Let me ask you, if I can, just to go through that document, and if you can tell the Board members what they're looking at and what that is showing and is that existing or proposed or whatever it is.

If you can explain it for us.

A. Of course. This is what we call a plan profile. The top portion is the plan, which is looking at it from a 2D overhead perspective.

The bottom portion is the profile, which is based on the vertical alignment of the road.

Q. If you could just explain it. Break it down and maybe explain both sequences or both parts.

A. Then we received what we call contours. And contours are the grades. We received this from John's office.

MR. GARBER: Whose office?

MR. SCHMIDT: John Motsco.

A. We received it. We superimposed it on the roadway network. And then once you have all the contours, you develop the profile based on the elevations on the road themselves.

So for the neighbors and everyone, the site entrance is located at point A. And everyone who is aware of the site knows that the roundabout is higher. You can see how the profile goes.

Q. It's going up the hill towards --

A. Up the hill.

Q. Going on to the right and towards the roundabout.

A. Correct. This shows that the elevation comes upward and then from point A it comes slightly backward as well.

So we have to measure two aspects for sight distance, both the horizontal and vertical alignments. So in the south direction, based on the curvature of the road for a vehicle at its exit point, exiting the site access.

Q. And this is the existing exit point.

A. The existing exit point. When looking to the left, the first car coming northbound can be seen 365 feet away. That's the maximum distance that you can see a vehicle.

MR. GARBER: When you're sitting in the existing drive and you look to the left, which is looking south, to see northbound traffic on Harford Road, the first moment the sight distance is --

THE WITNESS: 365 feet.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Caloggero, what did you say the speed limits are designed there?

Given that you can see the curve in the road, what's the speed there?

A. Again, the State Highway Administration suggests 30 miles per hour to traverse this turn safely. There's advisory speed plates, as we had talked about earlier, on this road. The speed limit itself is 45, but they're saying you can't go 45.

Me, personally, I was in my SUV. I tried taking that at a higher rate of speed. I was extremely uncomfortable and had to brake pretty significantly to get to 35 to finish making the turn.

So it's 365 feet to the south and the sight distance to the north would be 440 feet.

MR. GARBER: At the drive, looking to the right, you're looking north. Now you're looking at southbound traffic?

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. GARBER: So it is how much?

THE WITNESS: 440 feet.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) That's the existing condition.

A. That is correct.

Q. Mr. Caloggero, in your opinion as a professional engineer, based on the geometry of the road and the curvature of the road, the factors, is that an adequate and appropriate sight distance for traffic exiting the subject property either turning left or right, the two dimensions-distances?

A. In my opinion, yes.

Q. Why is that? Expand on that.

A. We use AASHTO. The State Highway recommends that we review AASHTO, which is the policy of geometric design of highway and streets.

So I brought this ginormous manual here with me. We're only using portions of it. Again, this is a guide. It's not 100 percent set in stone that these are the exact numbers we have to follow but it is a guide, and professional engineering judgment should be used at all times.

So when looking at sight distance, when turning left --

MR. GARBER: When turning left outside of the driveway.

A. When turning left out of the site access, a vehicle should be able to see going at 30 miles per hour, 245 feet to make that maneuver safely.

MR. GARBER: Turn left at 35 miles per hour outside, 240 feet is the minimum sight distance you would need.

THE WITNESS: For 30 miles per hour.

At 35 miles per hour, they suggest 285 feet. And at 40 miles per hour, they suggest 325 feet.

MR. GARBER: Turning left out of the there, I understand the turn itself is recommended 35. Right in front of the driveway, it's 45, correct?

MR. SCHMIDT: It's recommended 30.

THE WITNESS: Recommended 30.

MR. GARBER: Recommended 30 at the turn?

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MR. GARBER: At the driveway what's it recommended?

THE WITNESS: Again, the vehicles can only be traveling --

You're basing it off of actual conditions. As the vehicle is coming around the turn, they're traveling 30 to 35 miles per hour.

If they're traveling 40 miles per hour, the sight distance necessary to make a move is 325 feet. We can see 365.

So, to me, based on the conditions of the road, the speed which you can traverse these turns, that's an acceptable sight distance.

Q. How about to the right?

A. To the right we have 440 feet. Again, for 40 miles an hour, it's 325 feet. Again, as you're coming down the hill, you have that sharp right turn. Again, you have to slow or else you're driving straight into the curve itself.

So as you're coming down the hill, you're making a sharp right turn. So vehicles are slowing. And, again, it's advised at 30 miles per hour.

Q. The sight distance in that direction is what?

A. 440 feet. Now that's just for --

The other reason why too, there's something else called stopping sight distance. Stopping sight distance is for the vehicles that are traveling on Harford Road.

Q. So you have sight distance for somebody who's pulling out of the property to turn left or right. Their sight distance.

A. Correct.

Q. Then you have stopping distance for the people who are on Harford Road.

A. That is correct.

Q. Is there any difference in the way you calculate or you view stopping sight distance versus the sight distance for the people in the car?

A. Yes.

Q. Can you explain that?

A. AASHTO explains it a lot better. But the thought process behind it is as you're traveling, you're slamming on your brakes or you're stopping or you're slowing.

And the purpose of stopping sight distance is to avoid a collision in the road. It's your second safety measure. It's typically the minimum measurement.

If vehicles along this road can stop if someone were to make a erratic maneuver, if a young child was chasing a ball across the street, and you can see that distance, that vehicle should be able to stop.

What AASHTO does as well with stopping sight distance, they build in additional safety factors. Perception-reaction time.

Basically, stopping sight distance is based on poor perception-reaction time, wet pavement conditions, bald tires.

So they add in a little bit more time for that person to identify the house or identify what's happening and be able to take their foot off the gas, onto the brake and slow down and/or stop.

And depending on the complexity of the situation, that perception-reaction time can go up. In this case, this is atypical. I used that word a few times. I hope it doesn't come back to haunt me.

But atypical meaning -- more typical meaning --

This road, as you're coming south, has numerous driveways. So the driver is expecting to see driveways, side streets. There's side streets here. There are driveways here. People should be -- the alert, careful driver should be expecting traffic or turning movements in the road.

Q. Can you quantity the requirement or is there a number for the stop?

You've given us the sight distance requirements.

A. Sure.

Q. How about the stopping sight distance requirements or recommendations?

A. So going right to the highest number, traveling at 45 miles an hour, I should be able to stop in 360 feet.

So if I were to somehow take this from going northbound and if I can get my car to take this at 45 miles an hour, at the same point that this car is existing the site to go south or to go north, that car should be able to stop within 360 feet. And the same south, which is 440 feet.

It's those factors that I review to determine if an access is safe or not.

MR. GARBER: Just to summarize that, if a vehicle is traveling 45 miles per hour on Harford Road in that stretch, they would need 360 feet for stopping sight distance. Whether northbound or southbound, it's going to be the same.

THE WITNESS: That's correct.

MR. GARBER: And then stopping sight distance, does it or does it not account for a part that is baked into the number, the poor reception-reaction time, whether worn tires and wet conditions?

THE WITNESS: That's correct.

MR. GARBER: Even ideal conditions would yield probably a smaller number. They've already, as I said, baked that into the 360 number.

THE WITNESS: That is correct.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Thank you. I believe that's Exhibit 15. I think you've prepared another. Maybe you can put this on the board.

A. (Complies.)

Q. Before you talk about that, let me give this to everybody.

(Discussion off the record.)

MR. SCHMIDT: For the record, the exhibit that Mr. Caloggero has just been explaining, which is a document showing a sight distance of 365 feet to the south, or left, coming out of the exiting property. And 440 feet will be 15A.

Exhibit 15B is, as I understand it -- and Mr. Caloggero will explain it -- essentially the same document except instead of showing a schematic, it actually has an aerial photograph superimposed on the top part. That will be 15B. This will be A.

MR. HOLZER: Got you. That makes sense.

MR. GARBER: For purposes of time for the remainder of today, this room needs to be cleared out, locked down by 4:30, which means that somewhere in the 4:00 time, a little after, is the time frame when we have to call it to get packed up and out.

(Discussion off the record.)

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Caloggero, you've explained, again, 15A and Exhibit 15B, which we've talked about ad nauseam, is an aerial photograph superimposed to show the actual geometry and actually show the road, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. That also has to the bottom part of the page the same contour and elevation grade changes, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. Also, I believe that you've explained there are corresponding letters and coordinating letters showing points of the road in terms of the elevation vis-a-vis the top portion and the grade, correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. The same sight distances are shown here; that is, 365 feet to the south, or to the left, when one would be exiting, and 440 to the north, or to the right.

A. Correct.

Q. I'm trying to make sure we get through this.

Is there anything else that you would like to explain or highlight as it relates to Exhibit 15B?

A. Absolutely. This, as you can see -- and the neighbors will clearly attest as well -- is the aerial. I don't have the date. It was taken from Google. In my opinion, clearly it's fall or the winter. There's no vegetation in here.

Not today itself but when I've been out to visit the site, the vegetation has grown which makes it a little bit more difficult for not only the site access but also makes it difficult for Boneparte, to make exiting maneuvers with that growth.

The few days that I was out there -- I visited days almost back to back or two days apart. So one day the growth was full. Then another day some of it was cut down. I don't know who but I noticed it was cut down to help increase sight distance. There was still some vegetation growth.

Now to help achieve acceptable sight distance, we have reached out to the SHA, the Maryland State Highway Administration, and they have agreed that whatever was in the State Highway Administration right of way, they would be more than happy to remove, as long as it's not above a certain size tree. Then they wouldn't remove it. But if there's weeds, the vegetation, the growth that would obstruct sight distance, it would impact safety for both existing plus future traffic.

So it may be hard to see but what we've identified here -- if this is north, the northwest quadrant of the site access intersection with Boneparte, there is additional right of way on the west side that travels up to the north side. Sorry. Up the west side, up to the north.

So whatever is in that area of right of way, the SHA has agreed to mow or cut down or remove the vegetation that should be removed to help sight distance.

Q. The purple line as shown on this plan, Mr. Caloggero, which shows the sight distance of 440 feet, is that entirely within the State Highway Administration right of way?

A. Yes.

Q. The State Highway Administration right of way, which the state has these rights of way adjacent to the paved sections of the road, allows the state to make such necessary maintenance or even widening, if they choose to do that at some point. So they would have the legal ability to come in here and make that mowing or cutting.

A. That's correct. It's their property.

Q. So you indicated that on one occasion for which you were out there, it was more fully grown and another occasion it appeared to have been cut back.

A. That is correct.

Q. Do you know if the state were the ones who came in and cleared that?

A. I do not know.

Q. Do they typically have on state roads as a general proposition sort of a maintenance schedule or a mowing schedule that they follow?

A. The State Highway typically has a regular mowing schedule. But for something like this, it would probably have to get onto a schedule to say there is concerns and this should be mowed weekly, biweekly, monthly, or addressed so that it's safe.

Q. In your conversations with them, they had agreed in fact to mow this and maintain it as is required.

A. That's correct. We're still under complete negotiations for safety.

Q. I know there's another design that we're going to talk about. In terms of this particular drawing, this drawing being 15B, this sight distance looks somewhat across the right of way which State Highway has agreed to maintain.

A. That is correct.

Q. Anything else about that particular drawing that you want to discuss or emphasize?

A. No. I think we've hit everything.

Q. Mr. Caloggero, you've started to indicate, and I think I've represented to the Board, that you have had discussions with State Highway about this project, have you not?

A. I have.

Q. And those discussions are continuing, is that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. Ultimately, the State will require --

Let me ask it in the form of a question.

Will the State require an access permit for this particular location?

A. Absolutely.

Q. And ultimately then the State will determine or tell you what is actually required in terms of improvements, is that correct?

A. That is absolutely correct.

Q. As of today's date has an access permit been issued?

A. No.

Q. Let me next go to the next exhibit.

MS. DOPKIN: Before you leave this exhibit, may I ask Mr. Caloggero a question?

MR. SCHMIDT: Sure.

MS. DOPKIN: We have some paragraphs, Petitioner's 9, that show Harford Road and the Chevron sign both north and south.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MS. DOPKIN: That would be 9B and 9C. Does the Chevron signs, do those location of those signs appear on any of your drawings?

A. I don't believe we placed them on the drawings.

MR. SCHMIDT: We have some other pictures I'm going to get to of those signs. I think what you're referring to -- I will hold it up -- is Mr. Caloggero indicated that in some curves, it's like a curved arrow. But then when there's a severe turn, they mark it with signs like this.

MS. DOPKIN: I want to try to place them.

MR. SCHMIDT: We have some photos of them. We'll get there.

THE WITNESS: To the best of my knowledge, the signs would be located here.

On 15B, where we have labeled 365, so on the west side of the road, there would be Chevrons directing traffic around that turn.

MS. DOPKIN: So if you're going to turn left coming up to that turn, they're on the west side of the curve.

THE WITNESS: Right. Or right, when you're coming. It's telling you to turn to the right.

And the same curves, again for purposes of this drawing, somewhere between A and F, we'll call it, to the north of the site entrance there is going to be Chevrons in that general area helping southbound traffic turn.

MS. DOPKIN: What is the distance from the entrance to the roundabout?

THE WITNESS: I want to say 750, 800 feet.

MR. GARBER: Mount Vista Road or Glen

Arm Road?

THE WITNESS: Yeah. That's shooting from the hip. But I can get you that information. It's about 800 feet-ish.

MR. SCHMIDT: I'm going to mark this next one 16A and B. Let me make sure I'm giving Mr. Holzer the correct one.

(Discussion off the record.)

MR. SCHMIDT: 16A.

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 16A-B marked for identification.)

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Caloggero, you had mentioned and Mr. Motsco has testified that the underlying site plan, which is Exhibit No. 1, shows potentially a new access or exit point from the property, is that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. Just to bring us to speed as to how that occurred, was that as a result of discussions that you had with State Highway Administration?

A. That is correct.

Q. Did they ask you to look at relocating the exit point from the property along Harford Road?

A. That is correct.

Q. And as a result of that and I think Mr. Motsco testified that you actually gave him input and then he showed it on the plan.

Does this plan -- "this plan" being 16A -- show a potential new exit?

A. That is correct. Yes.

Q. Under this plan, just to describe it, the entrance would remain the same, which is where the existing access point is today, correct?

A. Correct.

Q. When you turn in, you're to the right of the landscape island.

A. Correct.

Q. But then the exit would be -- when you're exiting, you're again right, because you're going the other way. The right of the landscaped island would move that to the north --

A. North.

Q. -- a certain distance, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. You were here this morning.

A. Correct.

Q. We showed some photographs of the area of the property that's involved and the potential trees which would be removed.

With all that being said, if you can, Mr. Caloggero, tell us what this drawing is showing, again, the top and bottom portion, and what that's showing in terms of sight distances and that potential construction.

A. Sure. Since we're now all educated on sight distance and plans, again, this is our plan and profile drawing.

What coworkers and I did out in the field is what we call spotted. We moved up and spotted. We walked up and down this portion of the frontage of our right of way and tried to determine the best available outbound sight for a car leaving this site.

So if we were to relocate the access point further to the north -- I believe we have it shown about 70 feet -- relocating it about 70 feet a little bit north around the turn, when looking to the south, the horizontal curve still is the obstruction but now we can see 450 feet away and looking to the north 500 feet, again with maintaining proper vegetation height on the west side of Harford Road.

As we talked about, it would be basically a really oversized monumental entrance, where you would have one way out on the north side, one way in on the south side, and we would have to close the existing outbound so there wouldn't be any confusion amongst the drivers.

So all drivers leaving, they would have to go -- it's two one-way systems basically from the point of curvature heading towards the parking lot, towards Harford Road.

Q. Obviously this plan doesn't change any of the other factors or conclusions that you've rendered insofar as speeds and sight distance and stopping sight distance, correct?

A. Correct.

Q. This is just providing an additional merely 85 feet to the south?

A. Correct.

Q. And I believe an additional 50 feet or so to the north.

A. Fifty or 60 feet to the north. Correct.

Q. Also, there are some photos on this plan. "This plan" being 16A and B.

Can you tell us what those are depicting?

A. Correct. The top picture on the drawing that's somewhat imbedded into the plan view shows in the southbound lane, generally leaving the roundabout, what you're seeing as you're coming down the hill towards the site access.

At this point, you can see a 45-mile-an-hour speed limit, but right before that it tells you that the speed limit is 45. We need you to take this at 30.

It's different that the signs are next to each other that way. But, again, that's a reverse turn sign that shows it's a straight 90 degree and then to the right 90 degree and then up 90 degree with the arrow. Again, that signifies a sharp turn or turn ahead.

The one below is a winter photo taken where you can see without the vegetation, looking up towards the roundabout.

Q. To the north.

A. To the north, yes.

MR. GARBER: The bottom photo, it says, Looking from proposed exit.

I'm looking at the proposed exit, and I see that Boneparte Avenue would be to the left, right.

THE WITNESS: No. That would be -- sorry. That picture may be from point A on the drawing. That's from its existing location.

I think the picture we were using here was just trying to show if the vegetation was cut down how far you can see to the north.

MR. GARBER: Where it says, Looking for proposed exits, it's actually looking at the existing exit and reflect the sight distance today from the same exhibit but it was winter.

When you probably could see the proposed exit, it was winter.

THE WITNESS: Correct. Again, this access would move a little bit further to the north. The line of sight comes inside where this line of site was inside. So closer to the west. I apologize for that.

MR. GARBER: That's okay.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Anything else about this exhibit, Mr. Caloggero?

A. No. I think this shows how -- again, trying to work with SHA, they ask, How can we increase the sight distance? This is one way we can increase sight distance.

Q. Finally, Mr. Caloggero, this will be 16B.

MR. SCHMIDT: I will give it to Mr. Holzer.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) This is also, is it not, sort of a schematic with an aerial rendering of the alternative with the relocated outbound or exit lane.

A. Correct. So, again, this is the plan view. What we were asked to do here by the Maryland State Highway Administration -- and they came up with some really good questions, and that's why we're doing all these exercises -- is they came back and said, How about if we relocate the entire access directly across from Boneparte?

The State Highway Administration, they asked us to review. Because we've talked about moving the outbound access. They said, What about inbound? Can we move inbound certain areas to make things work better?

A lot of times they want the intersection and the line to cross from Boneparte to try to make the intersection work more efficiently.

So what we did was we reviewed three different locations where a vehicle would turn left into the site.

Vehicle 1, in yellow, that's turning left under all scenarios of our existing and our proposed access from the last drawing, which was 16A.

So when looking from Vehicle 1, Vehicle 1 can look southbound, because now they're looking at northbound vehicles. Vehicle 1 can see 345 feet.

That's going to be enough sight distance to be able to make a left turn safely as a vehicle is coming around the turn. Then all they're just trying to do is clear 12 feet.

Looking in the opposite direction, Vehicle A coming down the hill --

MR. SCHMIDT: Which is also yellow.

A. -- which is also yellow, can see 332 feet away. So as that car is slowing, stopping, hopefully has their directional on, that's how far you can see back. Vehicle A can see Vehicle 1 making the left turn.

So then we looked at Vehicle 2, which would turn into the existing outbound area, so looking at another alternative for the existing outbound.

So Vehicle 2 in orange and looking at Vehicle B in orange, Vehicle B can now see Vehicle 2 360 feet away. So that's a little bit better than Vehicle 1 by approximately 30 feet.

However, Vehicle 2 can only see 190 feet to turn left. That's going to create a hazard in my opinion. I think we need about 200 feet. And I can get the exact numbers.

But we want a little bit more sight distance, when turning left into the site, in my opinion. And that obstructed -- Vehicle 2, when looking, is obstructed by the fence on the neighbor's property across the street.

Q. I believe that's Ms. Foxworthy.

A. Then Vehicle 3, we looked at --

And, again, we're eyeballing a potential inbound access where a vehicle might stop or kind of where we have our outbound proposed condition.

Vehicle 3, again looking backwards, we can see further up the hill. So Vehicle C can see Vehicle 3 about 425 feet away. However, when looking for northbound vehicles, again we are at 191 feet due to the (a) curvature of the road and (b) the fence.

So we're kind of in that conundrum area; what is the best location for outbound, what is the best location for inbound?

So that is why we have our proposed access as shown previously on Exhibit 1 and 1A, where we would have recommended to the SHA to have inbound. And if they wanted to increase the outbound sight distance, we could move it further to the north for outbound but maintain inbound.

However, I do want to go back and say, we've testified that the existing, in our opinion, is still sufficient and safe.

MR. GARBER: If you had to come up with an improvement, that would be an improvement. You're saying come up with an exit-only lane that would be to the northeast of the existing access.

THE WITNESS: That is correct. We've submitted a lot of this information to the Maryland State Highway. They are still in review.

I guess they have to weigh the checks and balances of the network and what we've shown them for them to determine what we would need to do to obtain an access permit from the State Highway Administration.

MR. GARBER: Is there any reasonable expectation that they may come back with something that's completely different from this?

THE WITNESS: Oh, yeah. Maybe not completely different. I don't know what their goals and objectives would be, besides our goals and objectives, which would be to make it better.

But as we're moving stuff around, I don't think there's many different areas where we can move an access.

If we move it further to the south, the sight distance using 16B, looking to the south, the sight distance to the south gets worse.

MR. GARBER: For example, if you go down to the west side of the property where the abandoned road is, you wouldn't have an expectation that they're going to say, You probably should use that as your ingress point or egress point.

THE WITNESS: I believe we have shown enough information and enough data to the State Highway Administration, again, where we believe we have provided a safe and efficient access and alternative to that safe and efficient access to a different one that's also safe.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) I think what Mr. Garber is asking you is you don't anticipate the State Highway Administration to ask you to explore the driveway that's been closed that go through the back of the property.

MR. GARBER: I'm thinking fairly different than what is depicted in 15, 15A, B, 16A, B, that we are sitting here today looking at these plans that may not ever come to fruition and then be something completely different than what happens down the line and the effects we can't take a look at here today.

MR. SCHMIDT: Obviously, the Petitioners are at the mercy of State Highway Administration. They asked for data, as Mr. Caloggero has indicated. He's given them all kinds of data and all kinds of different alternatives.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Caloggero, you would expect the State Highway Administration in granting an access permit here to select one of the options that you've shown on Exhibit 15A, B, 16A or 16B?

MR. HOLZER: Objection. There's another alternative, and they denied the access altogether.

MR. SCHMIDT: Right.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) If they granted an access permit, you would expect it to be as shown on 15A, 15B, 16A or 16B.

A. That is correct. And I believe we've demonstrated, in my opinion, today with the sight distances, the stopping sight distances, the speeds, the curvature of the road, the SHA warning signs and how they would like us to drive the road and the conditions that you can physically drive the road that we have provided is not only existing safe but we believe we've provided alternatives for what may be safer egress, while maintaining a safe ingress.

MR. SCHMIDT: I would formally offer 15A, 15B, 16A and 16B into evidence. They've been marked and explained by the witness.

MR. HOLZER: I have no objection to that.

MR. GARBER: So admitted.

MR. SCHMIDT: With that being said, I think that's a good time, Mr. Garber, to stop.

MR. GARBER: I don't think there's any problem with that.

MR. SCHMIDT: Unless any members of the Board have any questions.

MR. HOLZER: Could we just say on the record that next Wednesday, I believe it is, is the next hearing date. We'll still start at 9:00. There will still be their case going on.

MR. GARBER: The witness is still on the stand.

MR. HOLZER: For cross-examination.

MR. GARBER: To finish direct and cross.

MR. HOLZER: Exactly. And then after that the sanitarian, he'll go.

So is it fair to say that my case won't start until after lunch?

MR. GARBER: Without knowing how long you expect to take on cross-examination, that's probably reasonable.

MR. HOLZER: I'll make sure it's responsible.

MR. GARBER: Fair enough.

MR. SCHMIDT: Let me say for the record, I understand the prohibition on talking to witnesses who are testifying. I will not be discussing Mr. Caloggero's testimony.

However, as he's indicated, he has continued to make these submissions to State Highway Administration. If he's advised that State Highway Administration has decided on one of these, or whatever, I would like him to be able to tell me that between now and next week. I will tell Mr. Holzer, if we get that information.

MR. GARBER: Yes. If something materially changes in relation to these plans and his testimony within the next six days, I think that's only fair.

MR. SCHMIDT: If he calls me and says he gets a letter from State Highway saying, Do this, I will let you know what it is.

MR. HOLZER: That's fair.

MR. GARBER: We are reconvening next Wednesday, September 12th, 9 a.m. in the Board of Appeals' room, not the County Council, not here. The Board of Appeals' room. And, therefore, if we have standing room only, we'll rotate people in and out as necessary.

Before we close the record for today, Ms. Dopkin does have a question.

MS. DOPKIN: For southbound traffic on Harford Road, there is a considerable downhill grade.

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MS. DOPKIN: Does that affect the stopping sight distance?

THE WITNESS: Minimally. They usually look at zero to 3 percent and then 3 to 6 percent as stopping sight distances on a grade. I didn't believe this was more than a 3-percent grade coming down the hill.

If I can elaborate a little bit more to help out the situation, that's part of the reason why I've asked the State Highway Administration to also not consider 2 and 3, due to that downgrade. Area 1 is more flat, where you can make that turn more easily. I forget exactly where the --

Going back to the very first drawing, 15A, that's more difficult to see, but you can see where the letters on the north side of the site access, so from J to B, it's a downgrade. As you get to B to

A, it's significantly less.

So when you're turning beyond A and B, it's a fairly flat area, and we believe it allows a safer inbound maneuvering. Again, the SHA will be reviewing all this.

MS. DOPKIN: Second question: Is 30 miles per hour recommended speed as opposed to does the state put any physical improvements in the road to slow traffic?

THE WITNESS: In certain instances. There's measures. I'm sure you've seen rumble bumps or even rumble strips or the cutouts in the road, where if you cross the center line and there's slots in the road that makes a humming noise. So there are those types of measures.

MS. DOPKIN: Would they be appropriate here?

THE WITNESS: If people obey the signs and follow the advisory speeds, they're not needed. Usually you start taking those additional measures, if there's an accident history.

If this was a brand-new road and a speed limit of 45 and you had people running off the road itself, then you may want to add the Chevrons and then put the rumble bumps in the road to warn people of an unsafe condition or a hazardous condition. But it's usually a stepping-stone.

I don't know the accident history here. I don't want to suggest an accident history or not. However, if there was an accident history of excessive speeds and running off the road, crossing the road and into the curb area, then I would anticipate the SHA adding additional corrective measures.

MS. DOPKIN: Lastly, it appears the state owns the right of way on the west side of the road but not on the frontage of this Petitioner's property.

A. Correct.

Q. Would they be required to donate the right of way to State Highway Administration?

The second part of the question: If so,

would that result in any improved sight visibility?

MR. SCHMIDT: For example, as a condition to the access permit?

MS. DOPKIN: Yes.

THE WITNESS: They have not, to my knowledge, at this point. We received one letter, I believe, in November from the State Highway Administration. And I don't believe in that letter they suggested any donation of right of way.

Any widening here, and typically widening if this was a much higher use, or if the SHA was thinking of trying to get a four-lane section from the roundabout to the south to some location, if there was an excessive amount of traffic using Harford Road, they would consider that.

Right now I don't see a need for that, and it would be a large project on the State Highway Administration because of the slopes coming down into the road. It would be a significant cut and significant retaining walls.

MR. GARBER: Thank you. Any questions

based on that?

MR. HOLZER: I have a lot of questions, but I'll hold them.

MR. GARBER: Fair point. Thank you.

(Whereupon the hearing was suspended at 4:03 p.m.)

P R O C E E D I N G S

MR. GARBER: Welcome everyone to Day 2 of the Nepali American Cultural Center matter, Case No. 18-122-X. Again, this is the Day 2. We are convened here again today at the County Council room. With that in mind, I know there was confusion as to whether or not we should be back at the Board or whether we should be here.

I understand from Ms. Kennington, who works over at the Court of Appeals, that she has asked that if there is to be any modification in the agreement, the prior agreement, as to how we're going to settle this then we can communicate in writing.

So if you-all want to switch back to the Board of Appeals for Day 3, please send an email to Ms. Kennington so that she can make arrangements with County Council and let them know.

MR. HOLZER: Can we put it on the record here before the Board right now?

MR. GARBER: That's fine as well, if that's the agreement.

MR. HOLZER: My position is that I thought Ms. Kennington knew last time at the end of the case that we thought that we could go back. But she had, out of an abundance of caution, scheduled it over here.

MR. GARBER: The notice had it listed for all days being in this room.

MR. HOLZER: I understand. I advised her yesterday, depending on what counsel wanted to do, I believe that we could be accommodated in the Board office or Board hearing room, which with allow you more comfort from the standpoint of having the audio, the visual, whatever else is necessary, instead of having to try to set it up over here for the next day. And the next day would be September 12th, which is next week.

MR. GARBER: We will note that the attendance here today is fewer in terms of people compared to Day 1.

MR. HOLZER: Correct.

MR. GARBER: The Board's normal room easily will accommodate the people who are present here today for Day 2.

Mr. Schmidt?

MR. SCHMIDT: Just for the record, for the court reporter, Lawrence E. Schmidt with Smith, Gildea & Schmidt with offices in Towson at 600 Washington Avenue, here today on behalf of the Petitioner. And seated to my immediate right is Timothy Kotroco, who is my co-counsel.

In terms of what Mr. Holzer said, I would agree. And we can follow up with a letter, if Ms. Kennington wants that.

I will say, we sort of deliberately asked our side not to come out in force, because we half thought we were going to be back over there with Mr. Holzer, since we had talked about it last time.

We told our people that they didn't need to show up as much, which accounts for our crowd. I think we can go back across the street. That would make sense.

MR. GARBER: To be clear, for today, if you did tell folks that they didn't need to attend today because you thought we would be meeting at the Board, are you saying that we should do something about that, that is, to allow them to attend?

MR. SCHMIDT: Yeah. We'll make sure, I think, next time probably a group of this size. This is about the amount of people we were expecting.

(Attendee participation.)

MR. SCHMIDT: For the benefit of the court reporter, my client, a representative of Nepali, indicated that we should be okay from our standpoint in terms of the number of people attending.

MR. GARBER: But as for Day 2, today you're not contending that there's going to be a problem because the confusion as to whether or not they should be back at the Board of Appeals versus today in terms of your client and your members attending, correct?

MR. SCHMIDT: There's no problem for today.

MR. GARBER: We can proceed today then?

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, sir.

MS. DOPKIN: Out of an abundance of deference to Ms. Kennington, if you guys could just do a one-line memo and sign it so that she has a piece of paper for the file, she'll be happier.

MR. SCHMIDT: Absolutely. I understand. I like her to be happy too, that way I can get my hearing dates occasionally. I agree.

MR. GARBER: I will alert everyone now that there may be a problem for me on October 11th, which is Day 4. I'm still trying to sort that out. There was a subsequently scheduled deposition, of course.

MR. HOLZER: Understood.

MR. SCHMIDT: We know how that works.

MR. GARBER: Also for those in attendance here today, we are treating this as if it is a courtroom. Therefore, turn your cellphones off or mute them.

In addition, there is to be no loud noises, no interruptions, no audible comments regarding testimony or opinions on the matter. That's reserved obviously for the witnesses and counsel up front here today.

If you need an ADA-compliant bathroom, I understand they are located on the first floor. Other than that, we can get started.

MR. SCHMIDT: Thank you Chairman Garber and members of the Board --

MR. GARBER: Real quick.

MR. HOLZER: Could I have a preliminary?

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, sir.

MR. HOLZER: J. Carroll Holzer, 508 Fairmount Avenue on behalf of the Protestants that were here on Day 1, rather than have to list them, I would add, I have a letter here but it's not signed. But I've been retained by the Greater Kingsville

Civic Association, Inc.

So as of today I would like -- and I'll be representing them as a party in this matter.

MR. GARBER: Greater Kingsville --

MR. HOLZER: -- Civic Association, Inc. And Dorothy Foos, who many of you may know --

MR. GARBER: I do know Ms. Foos.

MR. HOLZER: -- as the president, has authorized me to represent them. They sent me an unsigned copy. I'd prefer to have a signed copy. I'm going to hold on to it until the next hearing, and then I'll introduce that.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt, anything about that?

MR. SCHMIDT: No, sir. I'm sure Mr. Holzer will supply that, when he gets it.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt.

MR. SCHMIDT: Before I call my next witness, Mr. Garber and members of the panel, when we were here last time, there was some cross-examination, I believe, by Mr. Holzer of my client and some of the witnesses, and he requested that we produce certain documents, which I brought today.

So I'm going to hand to the Board what I've premarked. I believe we are up to Exhibit 5. I will give, if I can approach, to Ms. Murphy an original and three copies.

This is a copy of the Articles of Incorporation of Nepali American Cultural Center of Baltimore that we just simply got from the Department of Assessments and Taxation. The entity is a entity in good standing with that office. Mr. Holzer had asked about that.

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 5 marked for identification.)

The next two exhibits, which I premarked as Exhibits 6 and 7, there had been some questions about a deed of trust for the property when my client purchased the property.

I think, as I recall, Mr. Holzer may have had a copy of it but it wasn't the copy that showed it was recorded in the land records with the clerk's stamp on it. I've given Mr. Holzer a copy of that.

There's also a letter from the attorney who is the attorney who prepared the document indicating that he prepared it. There's some language from him as well on that. And Mr. Holzer asked that we bring copies of that document.

MR. GARBER: Just to be clear, Exhibit 6 seems to be --

MR. SCHMIDT: The letter. I kind of got them a little backwards, I think. Exhibit 6 is the letter, and the deed of trust is 7.

If you look on the last page of the instrument it indicates or -- it's page 43 in the recording book -- says, I certify I'm a licensed Maryland attorney. I prepared this deed of trust. And the letter is from Daniel Radebaugh.

I would just mark those accordingly. And, with that, I would call my next witness, if I can.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, any problems with Exhibits 5 through 7?

MR. HOLZER: No. I believe they were requested and promised.

MR. GARBER: They will be so admitted.

MR. HOLZER: There may be an additional one.

MR. GARBER: So 5 through 7.

MR. HOLZER: That's fine.

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 6 marked for identification.)

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 7 marked for identification.)

MR. SCHMIDT: My next witness would be John Motsco. If I can ask Mr. Motsco to come up to the stand.

(Witness Motsco sworn.)

MS. DOPKIN: State your name and address for the record, and spell your last name.

THE WITNESS: My name is John Motsco, M-O-T-S-C-O, professional engineer with Little & Associates at 1055 Taylor Avenue, Suite 307, in Towson, Maryland.

EXAMINATION BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. Mr. Motsco, you can sit. I know we have Exhibit Nos. 1 and 2 behind you. If you need to refer to them during the course of your testimony, please get up. Just keep your voice up so our court reporter and the Board can hear you.

You've identified yourself, Mr. Motsco, as an employee of Little & Associates?

A. That is correct.

Q. Just briefly, what's the nature of the business of Little & Associates?

A. It's a civil engineering firm specializing in land development, land planning, surveying, permitting.

Q. How long have you been with Little & Associates?

A. Fourteen years.

Q. And what's your occupation personally? What do you do?

A. I'm a senior project engineer, and my job is to supervise a team of engineers, preparing plans, computations and other such documents for county and regulatory approval.

Q. Are you a professional engineer and licensed in the state of Maryland?

A. Yes, I am.

Q. How long have you been so licensed?

A. Five years.

Q. And tell us a little bit about the nature of the work you've done. You've described it a little bit.

But have you done work in Baltimore County over the years?

A. Yes. Our work is primarily in Baltimore County. At the time that I've been employed with Little & Associates, I've worked on a number of projects from single lots, minor subdivisions to 150- or 200-lot subdivisions, numerous commercial properties of various sizes, large flex-use buildings, down to small convenience-store type.

Q. Have you prepared plans for zoning cases including special exceptions, zoning variances and the like?

A. Yes.

Q. I show you Exhibit No. 1, which is the site plan that's on the board.

Did you prepare that document, or was it prepared under your supervision and direction?

A. Yes.

Q. Let me show you, Mr. Motsco, a copy of the document I believe --

MR. SCHMIDT: Ms. Murphy, I did not premark this. I will give you the copies.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) -- which is entitled John Motsco, PE. I ask if you can identify this.

A. This is a copy of my resume and work experience.

Q. Generally describing, I assume, sir, the nature of your background, your education and so on, so forth.

A. Correct.

Q. I note that it also indicates, on the second page, development plan hearings, Board of Appeals' hearings, and zoning hearings that you've participated in.

A. Yes.

Q. I assume at those hearings you've testified as an expert witness?

A. Correct.

Q. And been accepted by the Board of Appeals and the county's administrative law judge as an expert witness.

A. Yes.

MR. SCHMIDT: I'm going to offer this as Exhibit No. 8 and offer Mr. Motsco as a civil engineer with expertise as it relates to the zoning petition and issues surrounding the same in this case.

MR. GARBER: Expert in --

MR. SCHMIDT: He's a civil engineer. He does have expertise in the zoning regulations as they are applicable to this case.

MR. GARBER: Expertise in Baltimore County zoning regulations with specific reference to this case.

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, sir.

I will turn him over to Mr. Holzer for voir dire.

MR. HOLZER: Thank you.

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 8 marked for identification.)

MR. GARBER: On Exhibit 8, where are you.

MR. HOLZER: It was just handed to me.

MR. GARBER: Sorry. I'm just trying to compartmentalize the two issues.

MR. HOLZER: Right. I'm just having a minute to glance over it based on his testimony and based on the background.

MR. GARBER: I meant just solely for admissibility.

MR. HOLZER: I understand.

EXAMINATION BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. I'm looking at the list of community input meetings. None of those are official in terms of administrative law hearing or a Board of Appeals' hearing, right?

A. No.

Q. Just county community --

A. It's a requirement of the county development process.

Q. And you don't have to be an expert or attorney to deal with those.

A. Correct.

Q. In development plan hearings, those would be in front of an administrative law judge?

A. That is correct.

Q. And that was Mr. Beverungen?

A. I believe in every case so far on those it has been.

Q. In the Trappe Lane case before this Board, did you testify as an expert?

A. I did.

Q. And they recognized you?

A. That is correct.

Q. All the rest of the cases listed are variances, special hearings, and special exceptions. You listed a number of those, is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. They've all been for developers, applicants?

A. Homeowners. Yes.

Q. Property owners.

A. And homeowners.

Q. Have you represented any individual neighbors or individuals who own a single-family house?

A. Yes.

Q. Which ones?

A. It was the Morris Avenue or Lane. I don't recall which it was. I may have actually the wrong name. If I could see the list, I would be able to tell you.

Q. Counsel can give you the list.

(Complies.)

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) I'm looking halfway down to Morris Avenue, I think, is what you suggested.

A. Yes.

Q. What was that project?

A. That was a setback to a flood plain for the current homeowner/resident.

Q. Any other ones where you've represented individual homeowners rather than developers or builders or applicants?

A. The Phoenix Auto. I represented the operators of the business. It's an auto repair shop. Height residence is for the current resident of that dwelling as well.

Q. On 1250 Jerusalem Road?

A. Yes.

Q. Let me go into your background, if I may, just a little bit.

Interesting that you've worked for Little & Associates for 14 years, you've said, but you've only been a licensed civil engineer for five, is that correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. What were the other nine years? What did you do for them?

A. As a civil engineer, once you have a degree, there's a requirement of work experience prior to getting a license.

During that time, I worked under and along with others people at work, professional engineers at that time, to learn more about the profession and prepare myself to become a professional engineer.

Q. So as of five years ago you were able to say you got a degree in civil engineering, right?

A. Five years ago today, I was able to say I was a professional engineer.

Q. Right. Up until then you were not able to say that, when you testified at any hearings or whether you commented on your opinion in any hearing.

A. I did not appear at any hearings prior to having my license.

Q. So all of these appearances listed on page 2 of Developers 8 occurred within the last five years.

A. That's correct.

Q. Okay. Thanks.

Now, in terms of your experience in the last five years, do you have specific engineering qualifications or degrees relative to sound issues?

A. I do not.

Q. What about forestry, forest analysis, forest development, forest buffer planning, et cetera?

A. Forest buffers and forest conservation, that is not an engineer exercise. That's done by an environmental ecologist. It's a separate certification and education.

Q. And did you say you have a certification as that?

A. No, I do not.

Q. As part of your qualifications, does land planning fall within the civil engineering degree?

A. It does in this jurisdiction.

Q. It does in this jurisdiction.

A. Yes.

Q. Baltimore County, you mean.

A. Yes.

Q. In other jurisdictions it may not.

A. Some jurisdictions offer a separate license or registration of some sort for land planners specifically. But that is not available here.

Q. In regard to zoning regulations, is there a degree or certificate that you would have received to make you an expert in the Baltimore County zoning regulations?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. So any knowledge of yours relative to zoning would be based on, what, your five years of experience?

A. My full 14 years of experience.

Q. So you dealt with zoning issues for 14 years?

A. Yes.

Q. Even though the first nine you were not qualified or received any qualifications or degrees, is that correct?

A. I had a degree for the 14 years.
Q. What degree?
A. Civil engineering.
Q. Maybe I'm confused.
Did you obtain any certification or a formal background in terms of zoning in Baltimore County?
A. No.
Q. You learned it during the course of your 14 years from experience, is that correct?
A. That is correct.
Q. Now, as a civil engineer, do you have any ethical requirements or standards which you are obligated to follow in terms of responsibilities not only to your client but to any one relative community that may be around to the zoning administration personnel?
A. Yes.
Q. What's that?
A. Civil engineers have a code of ethics as part of the licensing.

Q. Could you just tell us -- don't spend more than five seconds on it -- what is your responsibility?

A. To uphold the law and do the right thing.

Q. The right thing for your client or the right thing in terms of a particular project?

A. Public health, safety, and welfare.

Q. Good. Okay.

Do you have any qualifications relative to stormwater management?

A. Just my professional license and my experience.

Q. Is there anything --

Are there any other kinds of degrees or any approvals that are necessary to be an expert in stormwater management?

A. No, there are not.

Q. There are not.

Do you have any credentials that address your expertise in regard to determination of wetlands?

A. I didn't state that I had any qualifications. That's a environmental ecologist. I'm an engineer.

Q. So you're not saying that you can comment on wetlands, or whatever, that may be on the property or elsewhere.

A. Other than what is shown on the plan as determined by others, if that were to apply.

Q. That will get me into a question that I will pursue, when we get to your direct testimony.

But you're saying now that anything relative to determination of wetlands is not your personal analysis. It was someone else's.

A. That's correct.

Q. From your position as a senior project engineer, does that mean --

Let me ask you this: Did you get into this case initially at the very beginning, or were you retained later?

A. Are you referring to the firm or myself personally?

Q. I'm referring to you personally.

A. I've been involved with this case since the first week it was at the office.

Q. Which was what date?

A. I would not have committed it to memory.

Q. Approximately. 2001? 2014?

Don't look at anybody else.

A. I'm looking at the plan. We have a project number. It was 2017, is when the project was started.

Q. Do you recall in what month of that year?

A. Not off the top of my head, no.

Q. At that time was there any -- or had the property been purchased?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. This is beyond voir dire, I believe. I'm not quite sure where we're going.

MR. GARBER: I agree that the last question involving in this project seems to be a bit far afield from his qualifications as to whether or not we should receive him as an expert in the fields tendered by Mr. Schmidt.

MR. HOLZER: I'll get it later.

Well, I believe I can ask him --

Well, he's already explained, I believe, that he was initially in this project some week in 2017.

MR. GARBER: Yes, but for purposes of voir dire, that is, again, Is he an expert in the fields identified by Mr. Schmidt? I'm not sure --

Explain to me why it would be relevant to that analysis.

MR. HOLZER: I can re-ask the question during the merits questioning, if you want.

I have no further questions.

MR. GARBER: In the fields as identified by Mr. Schmidt, are you satisfied, or do you object to him as an expert?

MR. HOLZER: I object to him as an expert for purposes of the record.

MR. GARBER: And on what basis?

MR. HOLZER: That I don't think he's qualified to render opinions. I read the administrative law judge testimony, which I know is not relevant for purposes of this Board. It's here de novo.

But I think he's made comments, testimony that exceed his ability as an expert to testify. I just want to avoid having those expressed here before the Board.

MR. GARBER: If it comes to the testimony that goes beyond the scope of how he's been proffered as an expert, certainly you would have the right to object on that basis and then see how things go, maybe cross-examine him if it gets to that. You have both of those available to you during the course of the merits.

But in terms of him being an expert in civil engineering, him being an expert in Baltimore County zoning regulations by virtue of background and everything, do you --

MR. HOLZER: I still object.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt, do you have any response?

MR. SCHMIDT: I would just say -- obviously I can ask the witness about this -- I think the Board and Mr. Holzer will know that Little & Associates, like all engineering firms, has a broad base of people who work there.

Mr. Motsco was the lead guy. There were other people in his office who contributed, I'm sure, to the preparation of the plan.

If there's a specific detail that Mr. Holzer objects to, I can try to produce that person. But he is the project manager. And if I ask him if his company identified wetlands, I think that's something he can answer. But he's clearly an expert. He's the lead guy for Little & Associates on this project.

MR. GARBER: Just to be clear, the seal and stamp on there, are you the engineer of record?

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MR. GARBER: I think that --

MR. SCHMIDT: He's sealing that that plan is accurate. I don't know where Mr. Holzer is going with this. But that plan was obviously prepared by Mr. Motsco. He sealed it and his team.

MR. HOLZER: My response is, yeah, he sealed it. Yes, he's the civil engineer. But he relied on the opinion of others to form certain testimony below.

I just want to make sure that when I make an objection to testimony that is being offered, it will be within the context of the fact that he has admitted he is not a sound expert. He had admitted that he's not a forestry expert. He's admitted that he has no stormwater management expertise, nor wetlands.

So I'm only saying that I am familiar with what took place below, even though I was not there, because I read the transcript. I just want to avoid extension of his testimony into areas that he personally is not qualified for.

MR. GARBER: With that in mind, we're going to accept him as an expert as tendered by Mr.

Schmidt. I believe that the issues raised by Mr. Holzer go to the weight of the testimony, which is a matter for the merits of the testimony to come.

So, with that in mind, Mr. Schmidt, you may proceed.

EXAMINATION BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. Mr. Motsco, let me start off by maybe addressing some of these comments that have just been made.

You've identified yourself as a civil engineer, professional engineer and so licensed by the State of Maryland, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. I assume or can you tell us a little bit about the firm that employees you, Little & Associates, and the individuals there who would have assisted you with this project, who helped you out and what kind of things are they involved with as you are the project manager.

A. In this particular project, I had a drafts person that was helping me prepare the physical plan, and we would have enlisted the help of a licensed surveyor for the property outline. Beyond that it was between me and the drafts person that prepared this plan.

Q. Was there any identification of environmental resources that might exist or don't exist on the property?

A. There are streams shown on the plan and woods line, and those are as provided by Baltimore County GIS.

Q. You indicated that you were --

MR. GARBER: If I may, you said Baltimore County GIS. Could you identify for the record what you're referring to.

THE WITNESS: Geospatial information systems, I believe it stands for. That is a digital format that the county has flown aerial photography of the county in order to determine topography, the locations of existing paving, buildings, streams, tree lines, any number of features. They have the files available from the county, not including the official zoning lines, ergo, metro, district.

Any number of things that were previously on paper maps provided by the county are now being incorporated into their GIS system. That is available to the public for download and serves as a starting point for virtually every project.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Is that an acceptable data source for you as an engineer to use in the county information that's available?

A. Yes. In many cases that is the best information available.

Q. Does the county accept plans and documents that's based, in terms of the source of data, on the information in the county's GIS system?

A. Yes.

Q. In this case, you indicated, you were hired in 2017 or Little & Associates was hired in 2017.

A. Yes.

Q. And are you aware --

Did you attend the hearing before Administrative Law Judge Beverungen in this case?

A. I did.

Q. And did you testify at that hearing?

A. I did.

Q. And Judge Beverungen, I believe, issued a decision in this case in January of 2018, and the hearing was shortly before that decision was issued.

Knowing that that's when you testified before Judge Beverungen, does that give you any assistance in how long you may have been involved in the project before it went to that hearing?

A. I would say sometime around six months. I know we were working on the project for quite some time before we got to the hearing. The hearing was rescheduled, I believe, once.

Q. So perhaps in the spring or early summer of 2017?

A. Yes. Late spring, early summer.

Q. Okay. And you indicated you have sealed this plan, is that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. Let me ask you: Are you familiar -- I assume you are familiar with this property and the site?

A. I am.

Q. Have you been there personally --

A. Yes.

Q. Mr. Motsco, let me finish my question, before you answer --

A. I'm sorry.

Q. -- just so the court reporter can get both question and answer.

Have you been out to the property?

A. Yes.

Q. How many times?

A. At least twice.

Q. Can you maybe give us a little bit of overview -- if you would like to use either the aerial or the site plan, maybe the site plan -- and describe the property?

When I say to describe it, I'm going to ask you generally about the zoning and the geographic character and improvements.

MR. GARBER: Before you start, if you're going to point, you're going to need to describe what you're pointing to and where on Exhibit 1 that you are pointing.

Because, obviously, you can say, Right here. The court reporter is not going to be able to take down what you are conveying, other than the literal words.

So please try to be specific as to what you're pointing to or referencing.

A. This is Exhibit 1. We're using Exhibit 1. The property itself is marked by a heavy bold, dashed line that surrounds the property. The property contains 30.8 acres. It's zoned RC-2.

The property is bound on the northwest side and north side by Harford Road, which is labeled, and runs along the boundary of the property as well, including through the very northern part of the property.

There is a existing access driveway near the intersection of Harford Road and Bonaparte

Avenue on Harford Road on the south side that leaves Harford Road and heads south into the site, meandering to the existing house which is more or less in the center of the property. It's a little to one side but it is centered generally in the property of the existing house and driveway there.

Most of the driveway are open field. It looks like it may have been lawn at some point in the past. The limits of the lawn is roughly outlined by a plan which is labeled "Woods." There's three out-structures; there's a pool and then a small pool house, a shed and a two-story dwelling that are also on the property. And they are all located to the east and southeast of the main house.

To the northeast of the house, there's an existing tennis court, and then at the very southern end of the property, there is an existing large barn.

MR. GARBER: Just by way of background, you said there was marked as Exhibit 1 the map that you're looking at prior to the start of the hearing.

We all agreed to use that physical exhibit that you are actually referencing with the actual label "Exhibit 1" in the file.

Mr. Holzer and I are in agreement that is the exact same plan as what's contained in the file version of Exhibit 1.

MR. HOLZER: I would add to that. I would mark this exhibit as 1A so that way we have everything that you have.

MR. SCHMIDT: I would be happy to do that.

Just for the record, Exhibit 1A, which I'll mark, is now on the board. If I can have a sticker, I will do that. I'll mark this 1A. It's identified as is Exhibit 1, as the plan to accompany the Petition for Special Exception. This is on a hard board, and it's a little easier for us to mount on the easels. It's the same document.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, that's acceptable?

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 1A marked for identification.)

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Motsco, you described, I think, the improvements on the property.

The buildings that you've described, the barn, the tennis court, the pool, et cetera, they are all existing, are they not?

A. That is correct.

Q. Is there anything on this plan that is not existing as of today in terms of improvements on the property?

A. We have a portion of parking and a small bit of driveway extension that is north of the existing house and it comes off of the existing driveway, where it bends on the more northerly part of the existing driveway.

Q. I know it's going to be hard to describe, as Chairman Garber mentioned, but could you go up and point out and describe as best as you can where the parking area improvement is going to be and where the driveway extension may be?

A. As you're coming into the site on the existing driveway, there is a bend to the left where you turn and face the existing house. At that point, there is a small spur of existing paving that will have a fire department turnaround installed and some pull-in parking spaces on that small spur of existing paving.

And then continuing on the main driveway to the house, between that bend and the loop portion of the driveway at the house, there are additional parking spaces proposed on both sides of that drive aisle.

Q. You indicated there's a fire engine turnaround. What's the purpose of that? Why would that be shown here?

A. It's a requirement of the fire code, that the fire department have a way --

The loop driveway would serve the function at the existing house, and then for the small spur there would be an additional turnaround required.

That is in the event of a fire or other emergency that requires the fire department to bring equipment. They are able to maneuver their vehicles and get it back out of the property and not get stuck.

Q. You've described the improvements to the parking lot and the fire turnaround.

Can you also point out the possible relocation or possible extension of the driveway down at Harford Road?

A. We have alternates that are being explored by our traffic engineer with State Highway. There is a alternate access drive that is shown on this plan as provided by the traffic engineer that illustrates an alternate exit which may be used to satisfy SHA requirements.

Q. Other than the two what I'm going to call areas of proposed improvement, the driveway and the parking area with the turnaround, are there any other improvements proposed for this property as part of this plan?

A. No physical improvements. I believe they are still undergoing cosmetic improvements to the property.

Q. Any new building proposed, new structures?

A. No.

Q. I think there was testimony in the first day of hearing that some of the structures that are there, some of the older structures, particularly the ones that are in a state of disrepair, may be removed, is that correct?

A. That's my understanding as well.

Q. As to your understanding, do you know which of those structures may be removed?

A. The one I know for certain is the existing pool and the structures that are there for the enjoyment of the pool are in disrepair and likely to be removed first.

Q. You indicate that Harford Road essentially -- and it's shown on your plan -- runs along the perimeter of a large portion of the property, isn't that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. Is that a county road or a state road?

A. It is a state road.

Q. Maybe you can draw your attention, now that you've described the property for us a little bit --

Well, let me ask you, before I leave there: Could you also show the Board maybe again --

I know it's hard to point out. I hear what Mr. Garber is saying.

Is much of the property in woods and trees?

A. There's a swath of woods along Harford Road that at its narrowest is probably 60 or 50 feet and closest to the driveway entrance.

And then as you move around along the Harford Road side and you get to the westerly side of the property, the patch of thick trees is approximately 100-feet wide.

That continues into the southern portion of the property around the barn, which becomes almost completely wooded.

The woods then continue on the eastern property line, the two main eastern property lines along the existing stream that is there, and there's a large swath of woods there as well.

Q. Does this plan show or is it anticipated that there would be any clearing of these wooded areas?

A. We do not anticipate any clearing of the wooded areas at this time.

Q. You did mention that there's a stream on the property. Where is that located?

A. It runs along the southeastern and southern property line. It wanders on and off the property and onto the neighbors but generally along the southeastern and southern property line.

Q. Is there any construction or road improvement or building or anything in that area of the stream, or will there be any impact to the stream under the proposal?

MR. HOLZER: Objection. For purposes of the record, he established that he is not a person that can identify an environmental impact, and he's admitted that was somebody else.

MR. GARBER: Can you restate your question?

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Let me ask it this way: Mr. Motsco, is there any new construction, be it road construction, grading, or any type of improvement, that would impact the stream that exists on the property?

A. There's no proposed construction that is in the vicinity of the stream.

Q. The parking lot expansion, as you've described it, and driveway expansion, how far are they away from the stream? Could you even estimate?

A. Roughly estimating, 500 to 700 feet away from the stream.

Q. Let me ask you, if I can --

And maybe I'll draw your attention to Exhibit 2 which is also mounted.

There was testimony before, Mr. Motsco, about the general locale or neighborhood of this property. I think that aerial photograph shows the property, does it not?

A. It does.

Q. Is it outlined or how is it shown on Exhibit 2?

A. It's shown roughly in the center of this plan and it is with a pink highlighter.

Q. Can you tell is a little bit about the general vicinity and the locale in which this property is located? What's around it and near it?

A. To the east and south of the property, there is a significant portion of existing wooded vegetation, trees. And the stream we previously talked about is in that area. Beyond that, there is some farmland with some scattered houses.

On the opposite side of Harford Road from our site, there are single-family dwellings. That would be on the western and northern side of Harford Road from us. There's a handful of individual homes. And beyond that there is another patch of woods. And I believe there's a stream in there as well.

To the east of the property, we have a church and a school that are actually on Mount Vista Road, which intersects Harford Road near the property. They would be east of the property, heading towards the edge of the plan.

Q. Is that, I believe it's referred, the Christian Redeemer property?

A. Yes, that's one of them.

Q. And can you describe --

I think you said a church and a school. Can you describe the activity that goes on there, to the best of your knowledge, in a little more detail?

A. The only knowledge I would have is from a visit, seeing the activities on a weekday. At that time, the church facility appeared to be a standard Christian denomination church. It was kind of quiet in the middle of the day but otherwise appeared to be in use and able to support a sizable congregation.

The school at that time was running a day

camp with several hundred kids out and about playing in the fields and the other facilities on the site.

Q. Is there a swimming pool there?

A. There is a swimming pool.

Q. Is there a corn maze on the property?

A. It does appear that there was, at least at the time that this photo was taken.

Q. How about the topography of the site and the general area; flat, hilly? What kind of topography was there?

A. It's very hilly.

Q. How about the property? Is the former dwelling at the high point or low point? Can you kind of describe that for us?

A. The main structure is at the highest point on this property. It appears to be the highest point in the surrounding area.

The property generally in all directions slopes down, in some cases rather quickly from the main house and lawn area to the property line of the neighboring properties.

Q. The property at the present time --

Is the building occupied at the present time? Is anybody living there?

A. Nobody is living there.

Q. How about in the outbuilding that you described, the other small dwelling near the main dwelling?

A. No, they're not currently used as residences.

Q. Is the property in any kind of agriculture use at the present time?

A. It is not.

Q. How about the visibility of the building? Can it be seen, if you know, from Harford Road or from adjacent properties?

A. I can't speak for adjacent properties. I haven't visited all of them. From Harford Road, at best, there are a couple spots where you may get a glimpse of the building but it's generally screened from the road.

Q. Is that because of the trees?

A. Because of the trees and extreme topography along Harford Road.

Q. Are there any farms that you know of or any either dairy or agriculture or even properties that are planted in the immediate vicinity or adjacent to this property?

A. There are none immediately adjacent. The immediate adjacent properties are all currently wooded.

Q. Wooded or residential?

A. Yes.

Q. Or, I guess, institutional in the case of the Redeemer?

A. Yes.

Q. I think this might be a good time since you've been describing the property in the area --

MR. SCHMIDT: Ms. Murphy, I have premarked a series of photographs with letters, not numbers, because I didn't know what numbers I would be up to. I will give you four copies of those. Hopefully, they are all identical. I will give the witness one as well. If I can, I will stand over his shoulder, so I can see them as well. I brought six copies.

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 9A-MM marked for identification.)

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Motsco, I'm going to show you a series of photographs and ask you to identify each one, if you can, sir.

MR. GARBER: Before you start, this is Exhibit 9.

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, it would be 9. As I indicated, each photograph is labeled with a letter, which I will refer to as a letter as I question the witness.

MR. GARBER: The copy I have received runs from A through MM.

MR. SCHMIDT: That's correct.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Motsco, if you can do it this way, describe each letter so the Board and the court reporter knows what you're talking about.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, do you have a copy?

MR. HOLZER: Yes, I do.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) We'll start with Exhibit 9A. And, Mr. Motsco, if you can kind of go through these and tell the Board what they are looking at, what these photographs are showing.

A. Exhibit A shows a new sign that has been installed identifying the property and the use.

Q. Where is that located?

A. That is located at the current existing driveway which has a small landscaped island. The sign has been installed in that island.

Q. And that current driveway actually, when it gets down to Harford Road, splits, does it not, so there's an entrance on one side and an exit on the other?

A. That is correct. It is split.

Q. And then it joins together on the other side of the landscaped drive?

A. Yes.

Q. That's the existing sign that's at the entrance.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. B.

A. B is looking east from the driveway entrance up along Harford Road, generally showing the view somebody would have from a car.

Q. Okay.

A. C is looking in the opposite direction on Harford Road, which would be westerly.

Q. Okay.

A. D is, again, looking easterly from a different location within the existing driveway. You're able to see a portion of the intersection of Boneparte Avenue in the left-hand side of that photograph.

Q. And Boneparte is kind of on the other side of Harford.

A. Correct. Not directly but across the street from the driveway.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit E is a photograph looking down

Boneparte Avenue from the opposite side of Harford Road.

Q. Is that a dead end road; Boneparte?

A. It is.

Q. What kind of land uses are located down Boneparte?

A. Single-family dwellings.

Exhibit F is taken some distance up the driveway from Harford Road, and you can see a gate is installed.

In the middle of the driveway is the landscaped island we discussed. You can also see the split driveway for ingress and egress.

MR. GARBER: F shows what?

THE WITNESS: Where you're standing in the driveway, inside the property, looking back at Harford Road.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) The driveway is gated shortly after one would turn onto it from Harford Road.

A. Yes.

Q. Matter of fact, there's a vehicle parked in the driveway, is there not, on the Harford Road side of the gate?

A. That is correct.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit G is a little bit further up the driveway, again turned facing Harford Road. You can see the landscaped island and the vehicle. They are in the same location from the previous photograph.

Exhibit H is turned around and it's facing into the property. And we are now a good distance into the property. The driveway goes over a little bit of a hill there and it does turn to the left. The house in this photo is not visible but it is off to the very left of this photograph.

Exhibit I is much further down the driveway. We've made the left-hand turn. This is in the vicinity of the proposed pull-in parking.

You can see in the center of the photo the existing building and the access driveway and the loop driveway in front of the building.

Q. The building was formerly used for residential purposes, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. This is the building, as was testified at the last hearing, that will be converted to the temple.

A. That is correct.

Q. Are there any exterior additions or changes proposed to that building; enlarging it or putting a wing on or anything like that?

A. No additions.

Exhibit J is now at the beginning of the loop portion of the driveway. It's a little clearer picture of the existing dwelling, proposed temple and shows the turnaround and the lawn space in front.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit K. We are now up near the front porch of the existing building. We're looking back along the driveway, towards Harford Road.

You can see the driveway going off towards the back of the photograph and then just the tree line that is visible, nothing else.

Q. Is Harford Road visible from that --

A. No, it is not.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit L is a photograph of the room that will be converted to the temple. In this photograph it shows some chairs set up for a function that was being held previously.

Q. That was described, those chairs.

There are not going to be any pews there or permanent seating but chairs could be brought in for events depending on the particular use at the time, is that correct?

A. Yes, that was my understanding. The chairs would be occasional, temporary use in the temple portion.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit M is again in the temple room. It's looking down the main access hallway from the front doors to the left in that hallway. It's just another interior view of the main worship room.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit N is a photograph of one corner of the worship room, and there are two structures of some kind in there for religious worship.

Exhibit O is the back of the building. It just shows the back of the building. It's similar in construction to the front.

Exhibit P is a existing two-car garage that's under a portico.

Q. And that's attached to the building?

A. Attached to the building.

Q. To the rear of the building?

A. It is to the rear on the eastern side of the building.

Q. Okay.

A. This photograph is from --

Q. When you say "this" --

A. I'm sorry.

Q is a photograph showing a little bit of the rear facade of the building standing on that porch that is over the garage in the previous photo.

You can see to the left of the photo, looking back down the valley. And down there somewhere is Harford Road running along.

Q. Okay.

A. R is the same location. It's turned slightly. It's a better view looking down the valley at the neighbors of Harford Road.

Q. Would that be looking towards the barn which is in the rear of the property?

A. Yes. In the general direction of the barn. Southerly.

Q. Can you see the barn from the building?

A. I do not believe so.

Q. Okay.

A. Photograph S is the smaller dwelling on the property, which is located southeast of the main dwelling.

Q. That's shown on your plan as "Existing Two-Story Dwelling."

A. That's correct.

Q. I know there was testimony about that potentially being a caretaker's cottage or a place for the leader of the priests at that building.

A. Yes. That is that building.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit T is a closer photograph of that same two-story dwelling.

Exhibit U is another photograph of that same dwelling.

Q. Is that habitable at the present time, Mr. Motsco, in your opinion?

A. I wouldn't want to live there.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit V is the existing tennis court that is to the west of the main house.

Q. And that's also marked on your plan and labeled.

A. That is labeled on the plan.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit W. We can see a shelter that's at the pool, and there is actually a pool in that photograph even though it's overgrown.

Exhibit X is a more clear photo of the structure adjacent to the pool.

Q. Sort of a gazebo, an open-walled structure?

A. Yes. It's a roof.

Exhibit Y is inside of that small structure. You can see to the left side of that photograph there is a pool house and shed structure that appeared to be used for storage for the pool and the yard.

Exhibit Z shows the existing pool and the surrounding pool deck. It's overgrown and in disrepair.

Turn to Exhibit AA. That is a closer photograph of the pool house.

BB is again a photograph of the side of the pool house and storage.

When we turn to Exhibit CC, I believe we're on the western porch of the property and looking in a westerly direction. You can see the existing vegetation. And those trees are mature so the grade is apparent by the fact that you're looking over the tops of the treetops.

Q. That photograph was obviously taken during the summertime?

A. Yes.

Q. I think the Board members can see it. But there's a label distance from Harford Road, the right of way of Harford Road to the building, of about 340 feet, is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. So you're over a 100 yards from the building to get to Harford Road.

A. That is correct.

Q. And you indicated that, I guess, it looks like a third of that, or 100 feet, you said, was in forest or trees.

A. Correct.

Q. Is that the area of the trees there that you're looking at?

A. Yes. This would represent the trees to the west of the property between the property and Harford Road.

Q. That's Exhibit CC.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit DD has moved down to the lawn and it's turned. It's in the same general vicinity to the west of the house. But the photograph was taken in a more southerly direction showing the property as it falls off towards those trees in the middle of the photograph and shows the existing vegetation off into the distance.

Q. Okay.

A. Photo EE is in the yard again. It's turned in a more westerly direction showing the same vegetation and grade.

Exhibit FF is taken from the driveway, the existing driveway and I believe it is looking in a easterly direction at the nearest neighbor's house. That's a little bit visible in the upper right corner of the photo. You can see a piece of the roof.

Q. Would that be generally the area, Mr. Motsco, of where your, quote, alternate access drive would be, that general vicinity?

A. Yes. The alternate access driveway would be installed in the lawn area that's shown in this photograph.

Q. So the Board can identify that, if they look at the plan, that's the labeling in that general area?

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit GG. We're standing in a similar location, and the photograph has been turned closer towards the west.

You can see a little bit of the striping for Harford Road on the very left-hand side, and there's a telephone pole basically looking straight down Boneparte Avenue, next to that telephone pole.

Exhibit HH is the same general location. It is looking in a more southerly direction along the existing driveway, which is visible on the right-hand side of the photograph.

Q. Same kind of direction?

A. The fence is visible in the picture. II is the same location, showing the same features. That's another photograph of the area where the possible future entrance would be located.

Q. That fence, again just to give the Board reference, if they're looking at these photographs outside the hearing, is a temporary fence that runs along the east side of the driveway.

A. Yes. There's a small wooden fence that was visible in one of the earlier photos blocking off the existing driveway entrance from people bypassing the gate.

If we turn to JJ, this is a photograph of the Redeemer church taken from close to the entrance to the church and looking along Mount Vista Road.

KK is looking left from the entrance, which would be a westerly direction.

Q. Also Redeemer.

A. Still the Redeemer entrance, looking along

Mount Vista Road in a westerly or left direction from the exit.

Q. Mount Vista Road at Redeemer is a two-lane road, one lane in each direction.

A. That's correct.

Q. And Harford Road at this location is also a two-lane road, one road in each direction.

A. That's correct.

Q. Okay.

A. Exhibit LL is the same location at the Redeemer entrance, looking in the opposite direction to the right or east.

Q. Okay.

A. Then MM is a photograph of a part of the grounds of the Redeemer property.

Q. Mr. Motsco, do these photographs, do you know when these were taken?

A. Earlier this year, when we visited the site in preparation for the last hearing.

Q. You and I were out there on a very hot day, as I recall, in July.

A. I think we managed to pick a hotter day today.

Q. Do these fairly and accurately depict conditions on the property as of that time?

A. Yes.

Q. And to the best of your knowledge has the conditions of the property changed since these photographs were taken in July?

A. Not to my knowledge.

MR. SCHMIDT: Mr. Garber, I will offer as Exhibit 9A through 9MM the photographs that the witness has identified.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer?

MR. HOLZER: Do you want me to object now? 9A is wrong.

MR. SCHMIDT: It's not wrong. It's the condition of the property as of July, when it was taken.

MR. GARBER: 2018?

MR. SCHMIDT: Two months ago or a month-and-a-half ago. The sign has been changed since then. The sign issue, we can get into. But there's been no building, nothing has been torn down.

MR. HOLZER: The sign has been changed so it doesn't accurately depict the scene as it is today. I have no objection.

MR. GARBER: We will admit the photos understanding that they reflect the condition as of July 2018.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Motsco, if you know, do you know if the sign that was shown in the first two exhibits, I believe A and B, still exists on the property?

A. I do not.

Q. It was there, when you were there last.

A. If was there in July, when we were there.

Q. To the best of your knowledge the main house, the proposed temples, all the other buildings currently remain as they are shown in the photographs?

A. Yes.

Q. All the trees and all the other vistas remain the same. The woods haven't been cleared. Trees haven't been knocked down. Streams haven't been moved. None of that has happened.

A. That is my understanding.

Q. Let me ask you, now that we've shown some photographs of the building, can you give us, Mr. Motsco, a little historic context about this property, about its background and the age of the house and some of that detail that you're aware of?

A. The property and the existing barn are listed as historic structures by the State of Maryland.

Q. What list?

A. Maryland Historical Trust. It's MHT.

Q. Are they listed by Baltimore County?

A. No. Baltimore County just observes the State record.

Q. So they're not on either the Baltimore County preliminary or final landmarks list.

A. No.

Q. And tell us a little about the background of the property to the best of your knowledge.

A. The property was originally developed by Napoleon Boneparte's nephew. He went by the name of Boneparte. His first name is escaping me. He was a one-time attorney general for the United States and built this Bella Vista as his home.

Q. That's the name of the estate, is Bella Vista?

A. That's the name of the estate. And that was the name of the original house which burned down I believe in the '30s.

The current house was built as a replacement to that structure and has remained more or less since then.

Q. You may have answered this.

Is the house occupied at this time?

A. No, it is not.

Q. Is it habitable at this time? If you know.

A. Maybe. It's in disrepair but it's not totally uninhabitable. Salvageable.

Q. I'm going to show you, if I can --

You mentioned that the property is listed by the Maryland Historical Trust?

Mr. Motsco, just generally, can you identify the document that I'm handing you?

MR. GARBER: This is Exhibit 10.

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 10 marked for identification.)

A. This is the listing for the property which I obtained from the inventory of historic properties. It spells out the -- BA 539 is the Bella Vista site and describes the site as being owned by Charles Boneparte.

The other listing on here is BA 539A, which is the Bella Vista Farm, which is the large barn which still exists to the southern part of the property.

Q. So the barn is listed as an MHT structure, is that correct?

A. Correct.

Q. The building/temple/former dwelling is not an MHT structure, is that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. The outbuildings around the dwelling/temple are also not MHT structures.

A. That is correct.

MR. SCHMIDT: I would offer that as Exhibit No. 10.

MR. GARBER: So admitted.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) If you know, Mr. Motsco, is this property served by public utilities? When I say that, public water and sewer.

A. It is not.

Q. At the time of the occupancy of the building at one time, I assume there was evidence of water and sewer, private water and sewer to that house, is that correct?

A. That's correct. At one time the property was served by well and septic.

Q. Is that functional, if you know, at the present time?

A. It's being treated as not functional.

Q. Being treated by you as not functional?

A. By the parishioners.

Q. Can you describe what the plans were just from an overview as to how that would be addressed under this plan?

A. The congregation has enlisted a registered sanitarian who is coordinating with Baltimore County to seek and I believe he has obtained approval of a well and percolation plat which means that the county has tentatively approved the proposed location of a well and septic location and size to serve the proposed function of the property.

It is my understanding that the percolation tests, which are subsurface exploration, there's a criteria those need to be conducted under, and the percolation test is used to determine the soil condition and aid in sizing and designing the septic system for the proposed use.

Those tests are attended by a representative of Baltimore County, who will verify the quality of the soil for septic uses.

Q. But there was a septic system out here that was functioning at one time.

A. Correct.

Q. And there was a well that was functioning at one time.

A. Yes.

Q. But those will be ungraded as the county determines in order to provide appropriately sized facilities for this use, is that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. This is a fairly large property, is it not?

A. It's 30.8 acres which is very large.

Q. In your view -- and I know you're not a registered sanitarian -- are there areas within the property that could be identified as suitable for the construction of a septic?

MR. HOLZER: Objection. He's not qualified.

MR. GARBER: Some of the words in your questions were drowned out at the end.

So what was your complete question?

Please don't answer. There's an objection pending.

MR. SCHMIDT: I understand that the witness is not a sanitarian, and he's indicated that these tests are all subject to the county's approval.

But as a civil engineer and one who looks at an overall property, whether the property is appropriately sized and of the character to be able to accommodate a septic system, I'm asking him from background whether it could be so accommodated in his viewpoint.

MR. HOLZER: I object. He is not a sanitarian. He's testified he's not an environmental person to even do the site plan that's marked No. 1 and 1A yet alone to render that kind of opinion.

I move that it be denied and stricken.

MR. SCHMIDT: Mr. Garber, I'm just asking that from an engineering standpoint, not that it would function but as someone who lays out the site from an engineering standpoint whether the property -- there are properties, for example, that would be so small an area that they could not reasonably accommodate a septic field. And as an engineer if he would be laying out such a plan, he would be able to say, This property simply isn't big enough. The criteria for septic fields are such that it's just not large enough.

I'm not asking him as a sanitarian but as an overall engineer.

MR. GARBER: I think that it would be fertile ground for cross-examination. I will allow the question. Overruled.

A. If I can just elaborate that well and percolation plats are prepared by engineers. A registered sanitarian supervises the installation and design of the septic system itself.

But as far as the location and general size of the septic reserve area, that responsibility falls on an engineer. And I've personally prepared many perc plats which have been reviewed and approved by Baltimore County with little or no modification.

That being said, given the size of the property and the fact that you have two similar uses in the vicinity and a number of surrounding homes that also use well and septic systems for their water supply, it would be surprising to me if given the size of the property they were unable to find suitable soil for obtaining water and installing a septic system.

Q. Let me ask you, if I can, Mr. Motsco, changing direction just a little bit, you have described the access to the property from the driveway, the existing access.

Can you explain to the Board, let's start, the modifications that are proposed insofar as the parking and whether there is a sufficient amount of parking, in your opinion as an engineer, as shown on your plan and how you arrived at that?

If you can discuss those improvements first.

A. We have shown a parking calculation on the plan, in that we have shown 38 clearly delineated parking spaces. And the number 38 was based upon --

For religious worship, the zoning code requires one parking space for every four seats which is obviously a regulation that's geared towards Judeo-Christian worship.

Given the use for this religious use, we were given an estimate of the maximum number of people that would be expected on a regular event and prepared a parking layout that accommodated that.

Q. So you have 38 proposed parking spaces.

A. Yes. With coordination with the zoning office, they agreed that given the proposed use that that was an appropriate way of determining the parking requirement.

Q. Those spaces will all be paved and clearly marked and striped as required.

A. That is correct.

Q. In the event there would be an occasion where there may be more vehicles than 38 on the site at any one time, are there areas within the property where additional parking could be provided if necessary?

A. There are additional paved areas, especially in the vicinity of the garage -- we looked at the photograph earlier -- that could accommodate a handful of cars there, there's extensive paved driveway that could be parked along or partially on and then there are significant areas of mowed lawn which are relatively flat and easily accessible from the drive aisle. There's extensive overflow parking, if the need were to arise.

Q. But there are 38 clearly marked, identified parking spaces on your plan, not counting the additional paved areas along the driveway and by the garage in the back and the loop road around the house as well as the overflow areas in the grass.

A. That's correct.

Q. How about, if you can -- and I know we're going to hear testimony from a traffic engineering standpoint.

But could you also describe in a little more detail the alternative for the driveway, which is the other potential improvement to the site, in terms of how that's laid out, where that would access Harford Road?

Just give us more detail about that.

MR. GARBER: Hold on a second, please.

Just as a reminder, if you have your cellphones with you, please turn them off.

Thank you.

A. The proposed possible access that we have shown on the plan is located east of the existing entrance. It's accessing Harford Road on the other side of the intersection with Boneparte Avenue. And there is still ongoing discussion with SHA --

Q. SHA is what.

A. Maryland State Highway Administration.

-- regarding what is the best access for this site.

The one current thought, which is what's reflected on the plan, is that the drive aisle we're adding could be used for leaving the site only as it accommodates different site distance from that location. And an expert will testify more to that.

The alternate exit satisfies some of the State Highway Administration's concerns.

Q. You identified some photographs as the grade and area suitable to construct that driveway if SHA determines it necessary.

A. Yes.

Q. From an engineering standpoint.

A. Yes.

Q. I know you've described the wooded areas which are fairly substantial on this property, are they not?

A. They are.

Q. Are there any additional landscaping that would be proposed or needed in your opinion?

A. Due to the existing vegetation on the site and the fact that it appears to have had trees planted in a landscaping manner at some point in its past which are now very mature and in the yard, our office prepared a conceptual landscape plan.

And in reviewing the requirements for a landscape plan, the requirement for additional planting would be minimal, if anything at all.

Most of those requirements are geared towards screening things from view, which is accomplished on this site by the existing vegetation and the natural grade.

Q. Obviously many of the trees here are very mature.

A. Yes.

Q. How about lighting? Is there any additional lighting proposed or any consideration about screening lighting, or is that a concern?

A. I don't believe that there's any lighting that is proposed that's more than what would be associated with a dwelling of that size. Porch lights, that sort of thing.

Any light that would be generated would be shielded by the existing vegetation and the topography.

Q. Mr. Motsco, let me ask you: You are familiar with the county requirements in terms of the criteria that the Board of Appeals must apply in approving a special exception, are you not?

A. I am.

Q. Let me ask you about some of those in particular.

First of all, you're required, are you not, to identify the locale in which this property sits.

Do you have an opinion, sir, as to what the locale of this property is just generally, the neighborhood associated with this property?

A. In a general sense, to the north of the property is the county line.

Q. With what --

A. Harford County.

Q. Uh-huh.

A. To the east is Bel Air Road, to the west is Glen Arm Road and to the south is a river. In a rural area, it's tough to define a neighborhood. But those are practically physical boundaries that would designate a general location.

Q. I think you said Glen Arm.

Is it Long Green Pike?

A. Yes. Sorry. In Glen Arm.

Q. Mr. Motsco, I'm going to show you a document which is somewhat self-authenticating in terms of taken from the county website, My Neighborhood, the county GIS, as you identified it before, is it not?

A. (Nods.)

Q. Does this show the location of the subject property?

A. Yes. It's demarcated in the general middle of the page with a red star.

Q. If you can just generally describe the blue highlighter mark that's around that as to what that's demonstrating and what that's showing.

A. You can see at the top, right corner of the page there is a blue highlighter. It follows a black line. That is the county boundary, Harford County being on the other side of the line and continuing in a clockwise direction.

At the very edge of the page, the blue line follows Bel Air Road until towards the bottom of the page, where it follows Gunpowder Falls along the river to Harford Road and follows Harford Road northerly and then follows Long Green Pike from Harford Road to the county line.

Q. The properties in this area are all generally rural in nature in terms of reflecting the rural zoning of this general area?

A. Yes.

Q. And these properties, are they inside or outside the county's urban-rural demarcation line?

A. Outside.

Q. This obviously is a rural area. So we don't have any major roads -- when I say "major," major interstates or anything like that -- in this vicinity, do we not?

A. Not in this vicinity.

MR. SCHMIDT: I would ask that this be accepted as the next exhibit.

MR. HOLZER: It shows what it shows. I don't agree how it's defined.

MR. GARBER: That's understood.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) With that locality having been defined at least by you, Mr. Motsco, do you have an opinion as to whether this proposal would be generally detrimental to the health, safety, and general welfare of the local involved?

A. I do not feel that it would be.

Q. You do have an opinion.

A. Yes. Sorry.

Q. What is that opinion?

A. That it would not be detrimental.

Q. And why do you say that, sir?

A. The proposed use utilizes existing structures and existing property. The scope of the work that is proposed is minimal and much of the work that would be done is, in fact, making the existing structures habitable and safe.

Given the size of the property and the low intensity of the use, I don't see that it would be a nuisance.

Q. Let me ask you about some of the specific criteria which are found in the regulations. I know you're not a traffic engineer. We do have a witness. But generally, as an engineer, let me ask you to comment.

Do you believe there would be any adverse impact on traffic, or would the proposal create congestion in the roads, streets, and allies within the locale?

MR. HOLZER: Objection.

MR. SCHMIDT: Within his level of expertise.

MR. GARBER: You're going to have a traffic engineer testify to the same point?

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, sir.

MR. GARBER: I don't know what he's going to add. I will sustain it.

MR. SCHMIDT: I will withdraw the question.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Let me move along.

Mr. Motsco, do you believe that the proposal would create any potential hazard from fire, panic, or other dangers greater than the inherent adverse effects associated with a building used for religious worship elsewhere in the RC-2 zone in this locale?

MR. HOLZER: Objection. There's been no testimony about fire effects or any experience with regard to fire. He hasn't even testified to it.

MR. SCHMIDT: I'm going to ask him what's the basis of his opinion.

MR. GARBER: Do you have an opinion on that subject matter, sir?

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MR. GARBER: What is that opinion?

THE WITNESS: That it is no greater danger here than anywhere else in the similar situation.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Can you explain your opinion in terms of the building and their reuse, any improvements to the buildings that may be made as they relate to fire, panic, or dangers of that type?

A. It's reusing an existing structure and it is located a significant distance from any other structures that could be consumed, if there were to be a fire.

Additionally, due to the fact that the original Bella Vista mansion was burned down, this home, when it was built, was constructed of concrete as the current owner at that time had a, I guess, justified fear of fire and apparently constructed the home in a fire-resistant manner. It's this home that would be repurposed for the worship.

Q. As part of that repurposing, if there are any interior improvements that are required of the property, new electrical systems, plumbing systems and the like, would they be built to Baltimore County code?

A. Yes. Permits and inspections would be required for those.

Q. And those permits would be signed off by the fire marshal's office as well?

A. I believe so.

Q. They would need an occupancy permit?

A. Yes, they would need an occupancy permit.

Q. Do you believe or have an opinion, Mr. Motsco, as to whether the proposal will tend to overcrowd the land or cause any undue concentration in population greater than the inherent effects associated with a building for religious worship in this zone?

A. I have an opinion, yes.

Q. And what is that opinion?

A. My opinion is that due to the large size of the property and the small congregation, the relatively small structure that there would be no undue crowding of the land.

Q. You were here for the first day of hearings.

A. Yes.

Q. And you were here when testimony was offered as to somewhat the schedule of uses out here, that unlike Judeo-Christian religions there's not a typical Sunday service, for example, or a particular service on a regular day of the week.

A. That it my understanding.

Q. Do those factors influence your opinion in any way?

A. Yes. I think compared to a more typical or what we would experience Sunday mass letting out at noon that there's not an event here on a regular basis that would generate 200 cars leaving a parking lot at the same time.

Q. Let me ask you: The next criteria that's listed in the zoning regulations relate to whether the proposal might adversely impact certain public, what I would call, utilities. Let me ask you generally about them and ask you to render an opinion on each.

Will there be any impact here on the public school system or on schools?

A. No.

Q. How about parks or other recreational amenities in the area?

A. No.

Q. This is not served by public water and public sewer, is it?

A. That's correct.

Q. So there will be no impact of this use on the public sewer system or public water system, is that correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. I will leave the transportation impacts to our traffic engineer.

Let me ask you, Mr. Motsco: Do you have an opinion as to whether the proposed building use for religious worship will interfere with adequate light and air as another criteria?

A. I do have an opinion.

Q. And what is that opinion?

A. It would not interfere.

Q. Why not?

A. Due to the size of the property and its distance from any adjoining properties, any impact would be completely contained within the site.

Q. I think you've indicated that the visibility of the building is difficult from adjacent properties. There might be some locations where you see it.

A. Right. The visibility is very limited.

Q. This proposal -- you indicated at the beginning of your testimony the property is zoned RC-2.

A. That's correct.

Q. Is the building for religious worship or church permitted in the RC-2 by special exception?

A. Yes, it is.

Q. As such, do you have an opinion as to whether the proposal is consistent with the property's zoning classification of the spirit and intent of the zoning regulations?

A. I do have an opinion.

Q. And what is that, sir?

A. I do believe it is appropriate and with the spirit and intent.

Q. Why is that?

A. A special exception is that it's a use -- if you look at the property, its use is not entirely by right but it's intended that there would be churches and religious worship in the RC-2 zone, if the property is appropriate to that use.

Given the size of this property and its direct access to the state highway, it would seem appropriate to me for that type of use.

Q. You indicated other than the improvements for the parking area and the potential improvement for the driveway, will there be any other clearing or grading necessary for the conversion of the site for the building for religious worship?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. So there won't be any clearing of any of the trees or disturbance of any of the lawn areas or hills or valleys as shown on the photographs?

A. None is needed for what's shown at this time.

Q. Given that, sir, do you have an opinion as to whether the proposal would be inconsistent with the county's impermeable surface and vegetative provisions?

A. I do.

Q. And what is that?

A. That the property would comply with those regulations.

Q. And finally let me ask you if this will be detrimental to the natural or environmental resources of the site, including the forest, the streams, the wetlands, aquifers and flood plains as located on this property and the surrounding locale?

MR. HOLZER: Objection on the same basis. He's not a forestry person, not somebody who could testify to the environmental impacts on this property.

MR. SCHMIDT: He can certainly testify that the property, as an engineer, and the site plan that he's prepared is not calling for any clearing, not causing for any bridges or any other disturbance of the stream. So from an environmental standpoint he can certainly, as an engineer, testify as to those types of factors.

MR. GARBER: I actually agree. He can provide some opinion on this subject matter. There's already testimony in the record that construction would be about 500-to-700 feet away from the stream.

However, the point you wish to make about that is ripe for cross-examination.

MR. HOLZER: Thank you.

MR. GARBER: Overruled. You may answer.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) You can answer about potential environmental impacts or on the natural features of the property in that locale.

A. Given that much of the proposed use is reuse of existing improvements to the property, the only potential for concern would be the proposed parking and their impacts.

And at this time there is no trees in that vicinity, so there would be no clearing, and additionally there would be a grading permit that's required for that construction which would be reviewed by the appropriate agencies at that time to determine if there would be an impact and meet the requirements to negate those impacts, if there are any.

Q. Mr. Motsco, you testified before that the property itself is not farmed and not in agriculture use. It's been a residential property in the past, is that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. I think you testified that there are not agriculture uses at least in the immediate vicinity. And when I say "agriculture uses," working farms, either dairy farms, horse farms, or crop farms, in the immediate vicinity. Is that correct?

A. There are none immediate adjacent to the property. But based on aerial photos, there are some crop lands that are in the general area.

Q. Given that, is there any impact of this proposed use on any of those agriculture operations or agriculture uses in the locale?

A. Not in my opinion.

MR. SCHMIDT: Mr. Garber, I may be done. We've been going almost two hours. Can we take a five-minute recess? I want to make sure I'm finished. And that may conclude my direct examination of this witness.

MR. HOLZER: I was going to say, after he finished, he's been going for two hours. We probably should take a break before cross-examination.

MR. SCHMIDT: If I have any other questions, it might be one or two.

MR. GARBER: I'm thinking along the same lines as you. Would five minutes be sufficient for you?

MR. HOLZER: I'm going to take two hours.

MR. GARBER: For the break, do you need ten minutes, five?

MR. HOLZER: Ten minutes.

MR. GARBER: Ten minutes is more appropriate for the number of people here, to get people filtered in and out. Let's do ten minutes. We'll be back here five after 11.

(Recess was taken.)

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt, do you have any more questions?

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, I do. Just a couple.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Motsco, I know I asked you, and they're labeled on here, about the dimensions of the property.

And you had testified previously that the building which was proposed for conversion to the temple is somewhat centrally located on the property, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. The dimensions are measured. In the westerly direction, it's some 340 feet to the property line, where Harford Road runs along the west end side, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. I didn't ask you in terms of the northerly direction the distance of the building to the property line, where the driveway is.

Can you tell us what that is? You might need to approach the plan.

A. From the existing main building to Harford Road in the vicinity of the driveway is approximately 655 feet.

Q. That's over two football fields in that direction.

A. Yes.

MR. GARBER: Do I understand 650 feet approximately to the north?

THE WITNESS: Yes.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) And to what would be the east, the distance is approximately --

A. 430, 435.

Q. And finally to the south, or the rear of the property, the distance is --

A. About 1,000 feet.

Q. So it's over three football fields.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. In terms of the use of the building and these distances, can you tell us how that would relate, if at all, in terms of the use of the building and the impact on its neighbors?

A. That's part what I was referring to. The size of the property and the small use is that it's very isolated from the neighbors from a direct impact point of view.

Q. Are there any zoning variances that are being requested in association with this proposal?

A. No.

Q. Are there any variances that are needed to the best of your knowledge?

A. No, there are not.

Q. Would this project be subject to the county's residential transition area -- they call them RTA for short -- standards that may be applicable for churches?

A. It would not. The distance would be greater than anything required.

Q. Under the RTA.

A. Yes.

Q. It meets any RTA requirement.

A. Yes.

Q. In conclusion, do you have an opinion, Mr. Motsco, as to whether this proposed use for this building that is proposed for use for religious worship would have a greater impact or a lesser impact on the locale than other properties in the zone?

A. I do.

Q. And what is that?

A. I feel that this would have a lesser impact than many other properties due to its direct access to a state road and, as just discussed, the large size of the property and the distance from any neighbors.

Q. Thank you.

MR. SCHMIDT: I don't have any further questions save for possible redirect.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer.

MR. HOLZER: Yes. I'm taking notes.

MR. GARBER: No problem.

EXAMINATION BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. I would just like to start off by showing the witness a plan to accompany this request.

MR. GARBER: Can you show that to Mr. Schmidt?

MR. SCHMIDT: Course not.

MR. HOLZER: He has it.

MR. SCHMIDT: This is, what, the original plan that was filed below?

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

MR. GARBER: Mark that as an exhibit --

MR. HOLZER: Not until he identifies it.

MR. GARBER: -- for identification purposes so we know which document is being referred to.

MR. SCHMIDT: I don't believe that's entirely consistent with what's on the board.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) This was done by your company. I don't know whether you did it or not. Did you do this?

A. This was prepared by our office. And, yes, I was working on it.

Q. I'm asking particularly about the adding of the alternative access drive, which is shown on 1 and 1A. This does not have that.

When did this access drive come about?

A. Just to clarify, this is not the plan that was filed below.

Q. It was given to my clients. Did you give it to my clients?

A. This may have been a draft that was circulated prior.

Q. Given to the community by your clients?

A. Possibly. I can't say how you got it.

Q. But you did draw this.

A. Yes. This is our plan. I'm just clarifying it wasn't what was filed.

Q. Could you tell me why there was no access shown on that while it is shown on 1 and 1A?

A. That was added in preparation for the first day of this hearing.

Q. So it wasn't used before the ALJ.

A. Correct.

Q. So the ALJ had what is similar to this document that I've just shown you without the access drive shown.

A. That's correct.

Q. Is the access drive shown because the county or the State Highway Administration required that?

A. You're going to have to ask our traffic engineer for specifics. To my knowledge, the State Highway Administration has not issued a final decision on anything.

Q. Correct. And so are you saying you don't know how you added that on or under whose direction?

A. No. It was a discussion between myself and the traffic engineer that I added that, at his direction, to the plan to be used at this hearing.

Q. And when was that added by you to 1 and 1A?

A. The date is in the lower part of that.

Q. What's the date?

A. This was last revised on July 18th of 2018.

Q. July the 18th of 2018.

Was that around the time that there was an event held on-site to your knowledge?

A. I know there was an event held this summer. I have no idea what date that actually was.

MR. GARBER: With respect to that document --

MR. HOLZER: I would mark this as Protestants' 3.

MR. SCHMIDT: No objection with the caveat the record will reflect that Mr. Motsco indicated that plan was never filed with Baltimore County. It apparently is some original draft at some point time, although his office did prepare it.

MR. GARBER: The plan is understood for what it is.

(Protestants' Exhibit No. 3 marked for identification.)

MR. HOLZER: He said that was what was presented to the administrative law judge.

MR. SCHMIDT: No.

MR. HOLZER: Without the access.

MR. SCHMIDT: I don't think he said that.

MR. HOLZER: Let's clarify that.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Was this alternative access drawing shown to the administrative law judge in this case?

A. No.

Q. Thank you.

MR. GARBER: So the clarification was as to this plan, Protestants' 3, versus was there any access road shown to the ALJ.

MR. HOLZER: Correct.

MR. GARBER: Right.

MR. HOLZER: Obviously it was done in consulting with their traffic engineer and the State Highway Administration.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Do you have the pictures?

A. I do not.

Q. Let's take picture Exhibit No. 9A.

This is the notice or sign that was there when you were at the property.

A. Correct.

Q. You do not know what the new sign looks like or why there was a new sign?

A. I was not involved with any changes to the sign.

Q. So, therefore, you do not know whether or not the county required the sign shown in 9A to be removed and a new sign placed. You do not know anything about that.

A. Other than what I've heard today, no.

Q. In looking at these pictures, were these taken by you or were they taken by someone else?

A. Mr. Schmidt and I were on-site together that day. He was operating the camera.

Q. So any imperfections --

MR. SCHMIDT: Blame me.

Q. -- I can blame Mr. Schmidt?

A. Yes.

Q. Picture No. B, this shows the site from the entrance, the right-hand side entrance looking north, is that correct?

A. Northeasterly.

Q. If I were to continue on this road going up away, I would end up going to the roundabout.

A. That's correct.

Q. We'll call that north. And Exhibit C is standing in the same location looking to the left as you come out of the site or south, right?

A. Yes.

Q. And it shows the curve that is right in front of the entranceway and it also shows the curve that goes to the left.

A. Yes.

Q. It does not show anything further south on Harford Road.

A. That's correct.

Q. Are there any other photos in this group that show Harford Road in the southerly direction?

A. You mean further beyond what's shown in this photograph?

Q. Yes.

A. I do not believe so.

Q. So then D again looks north towards the roundabout.

A. Yes.

Q. And E shows the same thing, the entranceway to Boneparte Avenue. And there are homes, are there not, on the east side of Harford Road, south of Boneparte Avenue and the intersection with Harford?

A. East side of Harford Road?

No.

Q. I'm sorry. West side.

A. There are homes on Harford Road opposite of this property.

Q. Very good. And if I look at F, which is an excellent picture taken by Mr. Schmidt --

MR. GARBER: You get the good and the bad.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) -- showing a home directly across the street from the entranceway to the facility, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. When you come out of this facility, there is only two ways you can go; you can go right and there's a right access for the exit and then there is a left access to go left to go south, right?

A. That would be an ingress and egress. From this picture, the left side of that landscape island would be for entering the site. And anybody leaving would go to the right of that island and make a left or right from that point.

Q. Is that on the directions now? Because people, when they come out of this facility, turn to the left and go left to go south.

Are you saying that there's some sort of prohibition against going south?

A. I'm saying that that's not the intended use of the driveway as it's constructed.

Q. What you're saying is that if I bear to the right, then, if I want to go south, I have to take a left turn.

A. Yes.

Q. So either way, to go south, one must either go on the left side and go south or to the right side of the circular landscaping and then turn left.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. That's not what he said. He said that it's intended. Anybody who wants to turn left would go to the right side of the island.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Is it prohibited going to the left side of the entranceway?

A. Not at this time.

Q. When you say "not at this time," you said that three times now. Do you expect that there will be a prohibition?

A. I expect that additional signage will be installed if the facility is approved and becomes operational.

Q. But people are using this right now, are they not?

Your clients are using this right now.

A. I believe so, yes.

Q. And they're going out there to play volleyball, they're going out there to work on the project, they're going out there for other events, correct?

A. I don't know the details of their visits.

Q. But you do know they are using the entrance and exit.

A. Yes.

Q. Let me ask you: When you were asked whether there would be any other clearing or grading, you answered, "Not at this time."

You just answered my question now, "Not at this time." When you were asked whether there was any clearing of the woods, you said, "Not at this time."

Now, when someone says "not at this time" to me, that indicates that there is a potential for the future that there will be clearing of woods, that there will be road demarcation, that there will be changes on the site.

Has your company, Little & Associates, have they done any preliminary plans showing additional buildings, additional development, additional requirements of an enlarged facility on this site?

A. No. Everything that is planned for the site is shown on this plan here, on Exhibit 1A.

Q. Everything is planned at this time.

Is there any other --

MR. SCHMIDT: You just used "at this time."

MR. HOLZER: I know. That's how I wanted to.

A. This property has already been there for 125 years. I could not guess as to what 125 years from now may hold for this property.

All I can say is for the current proposed use all of those "at this time" would apply.

Q. For 150 years, whatever figure you used, it was used for a private residence. And now it's not being used for a private residence but is being used for a commercial facility. So that's what raises a question of whether this will be a proposal of additional development in the future.

And I say: Do you or do you not have any plans in the drawings that are ready to go that indicate additional development of homes, cutting down of trees, et cetera?

A. We do not.

Q. Then why are you asking for a special exception for this entire property?

Could you not ask for a special exception only to encompass the facilities related to the building, the extra outside building, et cetera, and the entranceway?

Why don't you just limit the special exception to that period and place all of the forest and the woods that you've shown here as depicted that protect the neighborhood and all the way down to the stream and all along the Hirchenruder's (phonetic) side of the property?

Why don't you just exclude that area for your request for a special exception? Could you explain that?

A. We saw no need to restrict the religious use to just one or two buildings in the small area of the property.

Q. I'm not talking about a small area of the property.

Define the area that's left out of the 30.8 acres. Define the area that is shown in this area here, where you have the existing barn, tennis court, parking, building and entranceway.

Just limit the special exception to that area which would then provide for the community protection that this forest would never be affected in the future.

Can you answer that?

A. There were a couple of questions in there.

Q. Which one do you want me to ask you first?

A. Whatever you started with.

You asked why we didn't limit the special exception?

Q. Yes.

A. We did not limit the special exception because we saw no need to.

Q. I understood that. You answered that already.

My question was: Now, upon knowing that there are concerns about this project, wouldn't it make sense to provide assurance to the neighbors that "not at this time" related to all these other questions would be protected because you're only asking for a special exception for the use that you need in the center here.

A. You're worried about the tree clearing?

Q. I'm worried about the fact that all of a sudden the existing tree line could disappear and you come in and you ask for an increased facility, a larger facility, more parking facilities.

A. A special exception wouldn't grant permission to clear those trees.

Q. Why didn't you just create preservation for that area?

A. For preservation of the trees?

The trees are protected by Maryland State forest conservation law. And any proposed clearing would be reviewed and approved by Baltimore County subject to the constraints of that law.

Q. Right. Subject to the request by you that you want to have a variance to that law and you want to provide another building on the site.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. This is also speculative. Obviously if the trees would ever be cleared, as Mr. Motsco says, they would have to be subject to the forest conservation laws as well as they would have to amend this special exception. Special exception is for what it is.

MR. GARBER: I understood the point. But Mr. Motsco did say "at this time" or "not at this time" several times, which opened the door to these questions for Mr. Holzer to ask, What about the future?

So you get some leeway on it. The point is taken. I think that's where Mr. Holzer is going with this. I expect this to wrap up shortly.

MR. HOLZER: Thank you.

MR. GARBER: That worked out well.

MR. HOLZER: Mr. Chairman, obviously the Board understands what the issue was, and I don't see a need to drag it out anymore.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Looking at the rest of these pictures which you have in front of you, it is my understanding that since you're asking for a special exception for the entire property that the special exception would run all the way down to Harford Road, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. Okay. And if it runs all the way down to Harford Road that means that --

How do you characterize or come to the conclusion that the RTA does not apply?

A. The RTA would apply to parking and structures associated with the religious facility.

Q. And so you believe that the distance from the parking and the structure is what would generate the RTA, and that's why you came to that opinion.

A. An RTA is applied to buildings and parking.

Q. That's why you testified the way you just did on direct.

A. You're going to have to give me a little direction there.

Q. I don't.

A. I'm not sure what you're asking.

Q. You must remember what you testified on direct.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. You're asking him to agree with you as to his thought process. I don't even know what the question is.

MR. HOLZER: I'm not asking again.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, I will say, it was confusing to me.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) The question was: Because of the special exception going to Harford Road, does that create, in your opinion, an RTA issue?

I believe your answer was, No.

A. My answer would still be no.

Q. Have you ever been out at the site at nighttime?

A. No, I have not.

Q. So you don't know the effect of vehicles exiting the property in the evening on the house that's sitting directly on Exhibit G, directly across the street from the entrance.

A. I do not have any personal knowledge of that.

Q. That's on F and G. For the new proposed possible access route -- I know you had a picture of what the area was here -- was the purpose of that new access route, was that designed to avoid the entrance and exit directly across the street from this individual house?

A. You would have to ask the traffic engineer. He's the one that provides the layout.

Q. You don't have anything related to the aspect of in and out and the value of the existing entrance?

A. That was somebody else that analyzed those aspects of it.

Q. Somebody else in your --

A. The traffic engineer, who's here today.

Q. I understand that.

Was it your firm that created the new access route? Did you design it, locate it, physically draw it on this plan under your own knowledge and purpose, the reason for it, or did somebody just tell you to do it?

A. I was told, This is where we think it could be. I put it on the plan. I was given an exhibit which was transferred onto the plan.

Q. Who told you that?

A. Joe Caloggero.

Q. The traffic expert.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you have any personal knowledge in dealing with the State Highway Administration?

A. I have not been involved in those dealing.

Q. I want to try to get these questions finished so that you can put that away.

Were these pictures all taken at the same day with Mr. Schmidt and you?

A. Yes.

Q. Obviously you were there in the daytime, and obviously you were there when there was no use of the facility, is that correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. So there were no people there playing volleyball at the time you were there taking these pictures.

A. No.

Q. On Exhibit L, was this set up with these seats?

Shown as the way they are in L, was this set up by you or someone else?

A. The room was in that condition when we arrived at the property that day. Someone else but I don't know who.

Q. You said you were out there twice. This was one time with Mr. Schmidt.

When were you out there before?

A. I was out there in preparation for the hearing before the ALJ.

Q. Had you been there before that hearing, when you designed this plan that was submitted as 1 and 1A?

A. No. A representative from my office went out there to confirm the information we obtained from Baltimore County GIS.

Q. So the only time you went out there was really to see what it was like before the hearing before the ALJ.

A. In preparation for the hearing, several weeks in advance.

Q. Did you go out by yourself?

A. I met Tim Kotroco and some representatives from the congregation.

Q. That was it? There were no other people there other than those folks.

A. Correct.

Q. So you never personally confirmed how many people would be out there using this facility or how many people were out there during one of the events that they held on this site, other than what you were told. You were not personally viewing anybody else out there.

A. Correct.

Q. Did you count the number of seats that are shown on Exhibit L?

I don't mean now.

A. I think we guessed. Looking at it, we approximated what we thought was in there.

Q. What did you approximate?

A. I think it was 70 or 80.

Q. On Exhibit N, this shows a picture of what, to your knowledge.

A. Items for religious worship.

Q. Were they there when you got there?

A. Yes.

Q. Were they there when you left?

A. Yes.

Q. To the best of your knowledge, were they items of religious worship that were utilized for religious purposes?

A. They were in that room. That's about all I can say.

Q. But you are coming to the opinion that they are religious -- they exhibit religious tendencies or religious uses.

A. I would have to admit that that's probably speculation. But, yes, it would look that way.

Q. That's what you testified in direct.

A. Yes.

Q. You testified that the building was being used for functions, in your direct testimony, and it's now being used as a temple, when you identified N, is that right?

A. I believe I said that was the room that would be used.

Q. So the question is: Was your testimony that it would be the room that was used? Or was it being used?

A. My understanding is that this room will be used for religious worship and not at all in this configuration, when it is finally used for religious worship.

Q. But why do you set up all those seats and have the religious items in there? It's not being used now.

A. I have no way of answering that question.

Q. Right.

A. I don't know.

Q. Right.

So you don't know --

Well, do you want to change your testimony that --

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. Come on, Mr. Holzer. You're arguing with this witness.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) -- the use in this building was functioning now?

A. I'm sorry. Say that again.

Q. Do you want to change your testimony from your direct that it is now being used as a religious facility?

MR. GARBER: I will sustain it. Argumentative. Can you rephrase it?

MR. HOLZER: No. I think the record will show exactly what he said.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Looking at Exhibit R, this picture seems to confirm your testimony that this site is a prominent site in terms of the area, that it's probably one of the highest sites in the area and that valley exists below this site.

Is that a fair statement?

A. Yes, that's what I --

Q. That's what you tried to show on this exhibit.

A. Correct.

Q. Is this site higher than the property to the west? I guess this is the west.

A. Yes, that is the west. And, yes, it is higher.

Q. Is it higher than the property to the north?

A. Yes.

Q. Is it higher than the property to the east?
A. Yes.
Q. And it's higher than --
Or is it higher than the property to the south?
A. Yes.
Q. The photograph V showing the tennis court, does that plan to stay?
A. From what I've been told, yes.
Q. And it's shown on your site plan.
A. It is on the plan as well.
Q. Do you know that there's a volleyball court, that they play volleyball out there all the time?
A. I did not.
Q. Did you know that?
A. No. I knew there was a volleyball used. I assumed it was on the same court.
MR. SCHMIDT: If you look at the next in the picture, it's a volleyball net and not a tennis net.

MR. GARBER: It's Mr. Holzer's time for questions.

MR. HOLZER: Mr. Schmidt, even though you took the pictures, you're not supposed to be talking to me now.

MR. SCHMIDT: I'm sorry.

MR. HOLZER: Apology accepted.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Now when one looks --

MR. HOLZER: It is a volleyball net but it could be reduced to a tennis court net also, Mr. Schmidt.

Let me go on.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) As I understand your testimony, the pool and the shed around it are going to go, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. What are they going to be replaced with?

A. Yard. Open space.

Q. Is FF, is that the alternative access picture?

A. Hang on.

That is in the general vicinity of where the access would be.

Q. I know this wood along the front of this picture actually sort of encloses the current access.

So if you were going with the drawing that you have up there to the end of the property, it appears that you would have to cut your way through those trees that are shown on this picture to access Harford Road.

A. Straight ahead in this photograph?

Q. No.

A. There are a handful of trees to the left-hand side of this photo --

Q. Yes.

A. -- between the lawn area and Harford Road.

Q. Right. Would those go?

A. Some of them would. If that access is built some of those trees would need to be removed.

Q. If you were to go straight through this picture, in the middle of it, you're actually going beyond this property, would you not, so that the access road must go to the left?

A. You're saying leaving the site in this photograph, you would travel from the right-hand side to the left-hand side.

Q. Right.

A. We're looking parallel to the proposed road.

Q. Let me show you, so you don't misunderstand what I'm saying.

MR. GARBER: Which photo are you looking at?

MR. HOLZER: I'm looking at FF.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Do you see the space between the trees?

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Would the access road go out through there, or would it go through the existing trees on the left-hand side of the picture?

A. No. I don't know how to do this clearly for everybody. The gap in the trees, if you look at the bottom of it, you can see that there's a roof to a house.

Q. Yes.

A. That is the neighbor's house.

Q. Correct.

A. So in this photograph you are looking east, and the access would actually be going to the left, to the north, off the page.

MR. GARBER: If I can, can you look at photograph GG?

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

MR. GARBER: Would that help?

MR. HOLZER: I will ask the witness.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Would photograph GG explain where the new access road would go on a clearer way?

A. From FF to GG, Larry turned to the left to take the photograph. You can see what appears to be a red shrub of some kind in both photographs, to help tie you down.

The access would be somewhere in those three large trees and the red bush in photograph GG.

Q. Perfect. That explains it.

So on both of them you can see where the proposed access would enter Harford Road.

A. On FF, I don't know that it looks far enough that you would see Harford Road. You would see where the drive aisle would be.

Q. Thank you.

MR. HOLZER: That may be it. Let me just make sure.

MR. GARBER: (Nods.)

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Those are all the questions I have on the pictures. Don't get too excited.

MS. DOPKIN: Before we leave the pictures, Mr. Motsco, go back to picture FF.

For my benefit, the location of the adjoining property, can you mark that on Exhibit 1A.

THE WITNESS: You see the roof in photo FF. That is this dwelling right here, in the lowest right-hand corner of the plan. The address for that is 12241 Harford Road.

MS. DOPKIN: How far from the property line would that be?

THE WITNESS: Over 100 feet.

MS. DOPKIN: Thank you. That helps.

MR. GARBER: Just to be clear, the residence you just referred to, that is 100 feet from the property line.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MS. DOPKIN: And about the same distance from Harford Road?

THE WITNESS: More or less, yes.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Mr. Motsco, since you've been involved in presenting this, testifying below, has the DoE, Department of the Environment, have they issued any approvals for wetland area or stream location other than you're getting stream location off of the GIS?

A. They have not asked for or reviewed, none have been prepared, any wetland delineation report or anything of that nature.

Q. Do you know from a general standpoint in which direction this site drains from?

Let's take the main house as an example. Which direction does water run off, rain run off? Any other runoff, which way does it go? If you know.

A. The house is generally located as close to the top of the hill as it could be. So we're talking about the house.

The driveway right in front of it may go a completely different direction because of the top of the hill.

The house itself would generally drain in a southerly direction towards the existing barn.

Q. Which direction would the proposed new parking area and pavement, what direction would that flow? Did you do any analysis of that?

A. That would flow towards Harford Road. Northerly on the site.

Q. I think I understand what you just said. I just want to make sure the record is clear.

Any drainage from the parking area and the existing driveway would drain in a northerly direction towards Harford Road.

A. Yes.

Q. And not in a westerly direction.

A. Correct.

Q. Thank you.

Can you say, based on your experience, whether any of this --

Well, you've already said it would drain in a northerly direction. Is that so?

A. Yes.

Q. It would also presumably drain in the direction of the driveway and the entrance on Harford Road.

A. Yes.

Q. I thought I had it right.

When you visited the site and you had taken these pictures, could you describe the house in terms of its square footage?

Do you know what the square footage is?

A. I do not. Anything I say would be a guess.

MR. GARBER: The main dwelling?

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) You don't know?

A. No. There are two-and-a-half floors in the house with various jogs on the outside of the building. It would be difficult to estimate.

Q. To your knowledge does anybody in your firm know the answer to that?

A. No.

Q. Do you know how many rooms are in the existing facility?

A. No.

Q. Is it fair to say that in taking these pictures you only went into the one room and shown the hallway and that's the extent of your site visit?

A. The visit where we took the pictures, that was the only room in the house that we entered.

On my previous visit, I had been through -- I don't know that I got every room, but I saw almost the entire interior of the house.

Q. Did you go to the second floor?

A. Yes.

Q. And what did you see up there?

A. Hallway, bedrooms, bathroom.

Q. How many rooms did you see on the first floor, where you took the pictures?

A. I couldn't say. It's been too long since I walked through the house.

Q. Did you go into the basement of the house?

A. No.

Q. You never went into the basement at all to see what was there.

A. No.

Q. At the time you visited the main house, was there running water available in the house?

A. I do not know.

Q. Was there toilet facilities in the house?

A. I do not know.

Q. How did you arrive at your conclusion that the house might be functional now? Which is what you said towards the last part of your testimony.

You said the house may be occupied. Then you said, It's not functional. Which is it? Is it not functional now? Or can it be occupied?

A. I don't know if it's functional now. I meant that the general condition of the building is habitable. Obviously running water would be a criteria for that.

Q. What about electric?

A. There is electric in the building.

Q. So there is electric in the building. You don't know about any water.

A. No.

Q. Or toilet facilities.

A. Correct.

Q. Do you know anything about the well and septic?

A. I know that there is an existing one that is being replaced.

Q. Existing what; well?

A. And septic.

Q. Both. And the county has approved that at this point?

A. Approved what; the existing ones?

Q. No. Approved the future, whatever they may be, to be consistent with commercial use by your client.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection to the phrase "commercial use." This is an institution. It's not a commercial use.

MR. HOLZER: Commercial-institutional use.

A. Calculations were prepared for the religious use, which Baltimore County reviewed and approved by a verified, registered sanitarian that was used, the size, septic reserve area shown in the well and percolation plat.

And the well and percolation plat has been approved by Baltimore County. And there are perc tests scheduled for later this month based on that plan.

Q. On Exhibit 1A, is the septic area and the well area shown?

A. They are not.

Q. Why not?

A. Because I do not have the information as to the exact location of them.

Q. So they are going to have to dig a new well?

A. That is my understanding that that is the plan.

Q. And they will have to relocate an old existing septic system, is that correct?

A. Typically they would be abandoned in place and a new one constructed elsewhere.

Q. Elsewhere.

A. On the property.

Q. So neither one of those aspects are shown on 1A at this time.

A. The existing ones?

Q. You don't show the existing ones, do you?

A. We don't know where they are.

Q. If you don't know where they are, you couldn't show the existing ones and you don't yet have approval for showing the new well or the new septic.

A. We do have an approval of the location of the new well and septic.

Q. Can you show that on this plan?

A. I do not have that information.

Q. Either you have the information and you could show it or you don't have the information.

A. I don't have the information. Our registered sanitarian, who's here to testify as well, has that information.

Q. He's here. He's going to testify.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. That's the first time I heard that. All right. Then we'll ask him that question.

Are there any, on the site plan, new athletic fields or sports facility fields shown on the plan?

A. There are none.

Q. None.

A. Correct.

Q. And even though you don't know about volleyball, if you assume that the tennis court is also being used as a volleyball court, there will be no new fields proposed at this time for the facility.

A. At this time, yes.

Q. But there could be in the future, could there not?

A. That's an open-ended question. I can't answer for what --

Q. Well, you're giving me an open-ended answer. So I can certainly ask an open-ended question.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection.

A. We are not currently proposing any athletic fields.

Q. I understand that at this time.

Is there room on this 30-acre site to put a baseball field?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. That's entirely speculative. Is there room on this site to build a golf course? Is there room on this site to put a McDonald's restaurant?

I mean, what does that have to go with this case? It's entirely speculative. The plans we're asking to be approved is the plan that's on the board. Obviously if that plan is amended in the future, the county will make us either come back and amend the special exception or do whatever this Board has the authority to impose whatever conditions it has.

All these questions are about things that may never happen and, more to the point, are not proposed under the current request.

MR. HOLZER: I will adopt his question.

MR. GARBER: Which question?

MR. SCHMIDT: I didn't ask a question. I made a statement.

MR. HOLZER: I'm entitled to find out what they're proposing to do and how they're proposing to use this special exception.

MR. GARBER: I think your point is made that at this time this is what's reflected. We don't know what could happen in the future, right?

MR. HOLZER: Yes, we do know.

MR. GARBER: We do.

MR. HOLZER: The community itself is concerned that there will be a larger development. That's why I asked the question before of could you restrict the special exception to merely the area of the development that he's testified to.

We're not trying to cut out the barn. We're just saying, what they want to use this for, we would like the special exception to be restricted to that, that would (a) preserve all the forests, (b) ensure -- and this is important. I've been around doing this a long time -- that if they do want to develop this property with an additional building or additional field, they would have to come back to this Board or to the county.

MR. SCHMIDT: Mr. Garber, Mr. Holzer knows --

I will stipulate he has been doing this a long time.

More to the point, certainly he can request this Board to impose a condition that any additional improvements to the site or any material changes to this plan would require an amendment to the special exception and so on and so forth. And that's certainly an appropriate legal argument.

But it's not in the context of questioning this witness. This witness is telling you the plan that he has been asked to prepare, showing what's proposed.

He's required as part of the package to outline the boundaries of the property and show acreage of the entire property, in fact provide a legal description of the entire property. That's required as part of the file.

So for Mr. Holzer to take those requirements and suggest that they're going to build something and tear out all these trees is simply inappropriate.

He can ask for that condition or restriction. You-all may or may not impose that.

But it's unfair to this witness in the context of his questioning and answering.

I object.

MR. HOLZER: I will ask a new question.

MR. GARBER: That's fine. Move on then.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Let's talk about parking. How many spaces are you providing?

A. Thirty-eight clearly delineated parking spaces.

Q. That figure, I think you've testified, was based upon information that you gave to the zoning office, is that correct?

A. We were provided with an approximate number of regular attendees by our client. And due to the way the parking requirements are worded for religious-use facilities, if you don't have pews, there's nothing to base it on.

So they took our anticipated attendance and accepted that as being applied in lieu of seats, which generated the parking requirement shown.

Q. So basically you got to pick the number of people that would be in attendance and the county had no basis upon which to limit that because there is no understanding.

They took what you gave them, and they came up with the requirement of one for four and therefore 38.

A. One for four is in the zoning regulations.

Q. I understand.

A. As it would apply to a religious facility with physical seats.

Q. It would apply to a religious facility that has those kinds of requirements that's not involved in the situation like this unique property, isn't that so?

If they were doing it in another zone or another RC-2 zone and somebody came in and said, We have 200 people attending our 9:00 Sunday service, they would do it on that basis.

You walked into the zoning people and said, We can't tell you. We'll tell you normally 20 people show up, or, Normally, X number show up. And that's what they base 38 spaces on. Isn't that correct?

A. The zoning requirement is one space for four seats. That is what would apply to any religious facility. This religious facility may have four seats for elderly or disabled. Obviously, one parking spot wasn't appropriate, so we chose to ask our client for expected attendance and generate parking requirements still applying the one to four but standing room.

Q. So your client is the one that provided the county that information.

A. (Nods.)

Q. When I look at this photograph L that you took --

A. I don't have them here.

Q. You know which one.

MR. GARBER: Let's make sure he has the photograph in front of him.

MR. SCHMIDT: Let's be fair to the witness.

MR. HOLZER: I'm always fair to the witnesses.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) That appears to be about 120 to 150 seats.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. He testified about 80.

MR. HOLZER: I know what he testified. It was a guess. I'm asking him to guess again.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. Asked and answered.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, if you're asking him to agree that this is up to 150 seats, there's another way to approach that.

MR. SCHMIDT: It's not. It's 80 seats.

MR. HOLZER: He testified that he thought it was 80 seats.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Is that more than you told the zoning office as to how many people would normally be there?

A. It's less. If we're talking about the 80

number, which I testified to, that is less.

Q. How many did you tell them?

A. Four times 38. So --

MR. GARBER: 152.

A. 152. 150, I believe, was the number.

Q. You told them that the average attendance would be 152.

A. The maximum normal attendance. So a festival or holiday.

Q. A festival or holiday. In other words, if you didn't limit it to a normal religious service, you related it to an event?

A. A religious festival.

Q. An event.

A. We were discussing worship only.

Q. If it was worship only then you're saying 150 worshipping as the average that they would expect.

A. The maximum.

Q. The maximum that they would expect.

Are you now trying to say that also meant

if they have an event at the site it would only be 150 as well?

A. No. I'm saying that 150 is what the parking was based on, which is appropriate given the religious differences, when the code was written, for a Judeo-Christian worship.

Q. Let me get this straight. If they had an event there, such as they had this last August, then Mr. Schmidt asked you a couple questions about that.

MR. SCHMIDT: No, I didn't.

MR. HOLZER: Yes, you did. You asked him, There are 38 spaces, one for four seats, maximum number of people.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) But what happens if there are more vehicles?

You explained there's an additional paved area for them to park on, which is the entrance area, the roundabout, and you also said they could park on the grass, right?

A. I did not indicate the roundabout. The entrance area has additional parking adjacent to the house. There is additional paving in the garage area of the existing house.

Q. Right. Exactly. I'm sorry. I misspoke. You indicated that. And then you said parking on the grass.

A. Yes. There is a substantial lawn area that would be suitable for very occasional use.

Q. How many vehicles?

A. We didn't do any kind of analysis. Far in excess of 38 or 50 cars.

Q. So there would be no limitation on the number of people who could drive onto this site with their vehicle and park. Even if they exceeded the paved parking area, they could park on the grass and that would be okay.

A. There would be parking available for them on the grass.

Q. Plus the grass.

A. Parking in the grass would be available.

Q. Yes. So there would be no parking limit

based upon the fact that there could be an event that would attract a thousand people.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. When he asked, There's no limit, do you mean limit under the law? I don't understand what that question is.

MR. HOLZER: He's not a lawyer. I'm not asking under the law. I'm asking him under what is being proposed by your client, a thousand people, 500 cars could come onto that site and that would not create a problem from your standpoint as an engineer.

A. We have not prepared an analysis of the overflow parking area. I can't state what that number could be.

Q. Okay. Okay.

The fire turnaround, that's something new that wasn't proposed before the administrative law judge, was it?

A. That was on the plan that the administrative law judge saw.

Q. Why did you put that on?

It wasn't on the plan that was handed out to the community prior to the hearing. So what caused that?

A. I can't say for a fact whether it was on the plan that was handed out to the community. I don't have that plan.

Q. That's not the question. The question is: What precipitated the requirement of putting the fire turnaround on this site?

A. We added it. If it wasn't on a plan you've seen, that was a draft. And anything prior to what was filed with the ALJ should be considered a draft. That was not a final product.

Q. Now that you said that, could I just ask you my question?

What precipitated the requirement that you put on this fire turnaround? Who and what and when?

A. So in the process of going from a draft plan to a plan that is suitable for a hearing, we want to ensure that we're meeting all the requirements that would be applicable.

One of those would be a fire turnaround for emergency equipment, so it would have been added as we finalized the plan.

Q. Did the fire department require that?

A. The fire department had not seen the plan prior to us filing, so they never saw a plan that did not have the turnaround.

But through our experience and the volume of work we do in Baltimore County, we know that there would be one required, so we provided one.

Q. Has the fire department been satisfied with what you've shown on the plan?

A. I don't know that they've seen the plan.

Q. As of today, we don't know whether that fire turnaround has been approved by the county or not.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. He doesn't work for the county. Ask the county.

MR. GARBER: I think the question is: Does he know? He answered, no, he does not know.

MR. HOLZER: Right.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) You do not know.

A. No.

Q. You testified that your clients have done cosmetic improvements in the building. What are they?

A. To my knowledge, the great extent of that was to clean out all the used needles, alcohol bottles and do their best to remove the swastikas and other graffiti within the building.

Q. I think you showed us a picture of the building on L and M. I would ask you, does this look unimproved on those two pictures, L and M? It looks pretty nice to me.

A. When I visited the site the first time, all of that work was there and was covered in graffiti. It was cleaned of graffiti but otherwise that building is what was there.

Q. What about this second picture, the M? It looks like the hallway was cleaned. It's been pretty cleaned up, right?

A. Yeah. That is the original hallway to the house. It was a nice house when it was last inhabited. Thankfully it wasn't destroyed too much.

Q. When you visited, as you said, you went upstairs. Were the upstairs rooms as nice looking and as clean looking at this one, M?

A. No.

Q. They were still dirty?

A. I wouldn't say they were dirty. They weren't at 100 percent yet.

Q. But clearly there had been work on the inside. Is that a fair statement?

A. Yes.

Q. When you first went to the site was there electricity in there at the time?

A. Yes.

Q. The first time.

A. Yes.

Q. Not with Mr. Schmidt.

A. Yes, there was.

Q. You had lights? You were able to turn on lights inside and so forth?

A. Yes.

Q. I show you a picture --

MR. GARBER: Protestants' 4?

MR. HOLZER: Protestants' 4.

(Protestants' Exhibit No. 4 marked for identification.)

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Are you familiar with the site this July with the tent there, with vehicles parked on the grass?

A. No, there was no tent. As I said previously, there were very few cars anytime I have been on the site.

Q. Is this what you envision, that cars could be parked on the grass, like this photograph depicts?

A. Sure.

Q. Would this tent, would that be something that you would envision that could be in addition to what is on this site plan?

A. Physical addition to the building?

Q. No, it's not. It's a tent set up on the outside.

Is that something that would be in addition to what's shown in Exhibit 1A?

A. Obviously this temporary tent is not shown on our plan. I don't know if that answers your question.

Q. You were not asked to prepare anything to show that additional facilities, kitchen, additional dining area, additional tents. You were not asked to prepare anything like that and to locate it on the site plan.

A. Correct.

MR. HOLZER: I would mark this for identification only as 4. I will have someone identify the basis for it and how it got there and when it was taken.

MR. GARBER: You mean for purposes of admissibility.

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt, do you have any questions about the admissibility for Protestants' Exhibit 4?

MR. SCHMIDT: I guess I would probably want to ask whoever took it, when they took it and get an idea of when it was taken.

MR. GARBER: Trying to figure out a way to streamline as much as I can.

MR. HOLZER: That's why I marked it for identification.

MR. GARBER: Right now it's 12:25. How much longer do you think you have?

MR. HOLZER: Another hour.

MR. GARBER: Does it make sense to break now for sometime in the next several minutes. Are you at a natural breaking point?

MR. HOLZER: I'm at a natural breaking point. I'm getting hungry.

MR. GARBER: With that being said, why don't we do 45 minutes. Does that work for everybody?

MR. SCHMIDT: That's fine.

MR. HOLZER: Sure.

(Recess was taken.)

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, back to you.

MR. HOLZER: Thank you. For the Board's edification, I went through the rest of the questions to try to avoid repeats and to cut this down hopefully.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) You testified that you were only at the site two times, one time with Mr. Schmidt and one other time prior to when he took the pictures, is that right?

A. He took the pictures of the most recent visit.

Q. The second time you had been there is when he took the pictures.

A. Correct.

Q. At either of two those occasions where you had the opportunity to be on-site, did you observe what took place when there were three different events taking place at three different times on this property?

A. No, I have not.

Q. So you cannot --

Your opinion in regard to 502.1 is not based upon any personal observance of any problems that may have affected the neighbors at that time, is that right?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection to the form of that question, Mr. Chairman. He uses the word "problems." Obviously it's based on his understanding. He's an expert as an engineer. He's been to the site.

MR. GARBER: You object to the word choice.

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, I do.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) The simple question is: Your 502.1 testimony is not based upon any observance of the three events that your clients held in which there may or may not have been more people than just yourself and Mr. Schmidt.

A. No. My testimony is based on the anticipated day-to-day use of the facility.

Q. Exactly. Not in terms of special events.

A. Correct.

Q. You testified that even though the site has a lot of trees that you believe there was no need for a landscape plan.

A. I said we prepared a plan, and based on the county requirements for landscaping, which is primarily geared towards screening, none or very little additional planting would be required to satisfy that.

Q. Could you present me today with the landscape plan that you prepared?

A. Yes. If I could go --

Q. Sure.

MR. HOLZER: Mr. Chairman, may I have an opportunity to look at this?

MR. GARBER: Yes, of course.

I assume you've seen it, Mr. Schmidt.

MR. SCHMIDT: I have.

MR. HOLZER: Really?

MR. SCHMIDT: I have. The new landscaping is mainly around the parking area and driveways, as I recall.

MR. HOLZER: For purposes of this record, it does appear that there is additional landscaping but primarily around the parking area and the driveway. I think this should be submitted as an exhibit.

MR. SCHMIDT: No objection.

MR. HOLZER: It should have been part of the record.

MR. GARBER: It will be now.

MR. HOLZER: Around the entrance area and along the driveway around the parking. The 14, 13 and 22 parking sites. I hope that adds up to 58.

MS. MURPHY: Thirty-eight.

MR. SCHMIDT: It's generally around the area of the new construction.

A. If I can specify --

MR. GARBER: One second. There's no question pending.

So we're marking this as Protestants' 5?

MR. HOLZER: Or Developers. Why should

I have to submit their landscape plan?

MR. GARBER: We just want that marked for the purposes of the record.

MR. HOLZER: That's fine. I will mark it. Protestants' 5.

(Protestants' Exhibit No. 5 marked for identification.)

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) This is the plan. And what is it dated?

A. This is a conceptual landscape plan dated July 25, 2018.

Q. Since it says it's conceptual, does that mean it could change?

A. Yes. This was as prepared for a first preliminary review by the county landscape architect.

Q. When they review it, they may have some other additions or comments.

A. That's correct.

Q. It has not been presented to them yet.

A. It's been submitted to their office. They have not reviewed it yet to my knowledge.

Q. As I said to the Board, just looking at this, it looks like additional landscaping. Are these trees, evergreens, deciduous? Do you know?

A. The proposal is for some of them to be deciduous, some evergreen. There's a ledger in the corner of the plan.

Q. I see.

MR. HOLZER: At the top left corner is the ledger of the type of planting.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Is that it?

A. Uh-huh.

MR. HOLZER: I will offer this. I will take it back to the Board.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt, I assume you have no objection.

MR. SCHMIDT: No objection.

MR. GARBER: So admitted.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) I think you testified that the RC-2 zone permits a church if the site complies with the special exception requirements, is that correct?

A. I said it's permitted by special exception in an RC-2 zone.

Q. Right. But doesn't it also have to comply with the special exception requirements?

A. Yes, there are criteria placed on a special exception.

Q. Those criteria are the 502.1, is that correct?

A. I have to take your word on that. I haven't committed it to memory.

Q. I thought you did all these special exceptions.

A. I know what it says, but I don't have the numbers memorized.

Q. When Little & Associates were contacted by the applicant here, which you said was sometime in 2017, probably the spring, do you know whether they had acquired the property?

A. I do not.

Q. Did you ask them whether or not this property was theirs or under contract or what? Did you just assume?

A. At that time we knew that they were -- they already owned it or they were under contract to buy it. And for the purposes of our work it doesn't make much of a difference.

Q. You knew it was either under contract or they had acquired it, right?

A. Yes.

Q. Under those circumstances, did you give them any advice in regard to, since you were the senior person, zoning requirements or the other aspects of approving a site plan such as you presented?

A. I'm not sure I follow your question.

Q. The question would be easy, if I could just say it.

What did you advise them about proceeding?

A. We advised them of the special exception is not a guarantee and explained to them the process, time frames and what would be entailed.

We had a meeting with Tim Kotroco prior to that, the attorney at the time.

Q. So they knew there was a zoning requirement. They knew there was a procedure requirement.

Did they know anything about when they would get permits to be able to improve the property or utilize the property to your knowledge?

A. We talked about utilization of the property as a religious temple would be pending the approval of the special exception.

Q. In other words, being able to use the property as a religious institution, they would have to await the outcome or the decision of these hearings.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you give them any advice insofar as being able to utilize the property in the meantime?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. I'm just trying to figure out what the relevance of this as it relates to the special exception.

MR. HOLZER: This all goes back to the motion that we filed on the first day, it goes back to the issues that were presented to the county on the first day and depending on what the answers are, obviously, it may have an impact on the approval.

MR. GARBER: I will overrule the objection.

A. Could you repeat the question please?

(Question read back.)

A. At that time, we knew that they were undergoing cleaning up, replacing windows, getting the trash out, cosmetic work to the property, and that would be fine to continue as a property owner or contract purchaser.

Q. Did you know they were going to be holding events there?

A. I did not.

Q. You didn't know that they were holding get-togethers for a number of people, not just to paint or repair the building but to fundraise, to have parties there. You didn't know that.

A. Beyond a group of people showing up on weekends or in the evenings to work on the house as a group, no.

Q. Thank you.

If you had been aware that there were events being held with regular attendance and those events being greater than 300 people, would you have changed your analysis in terms of parking requirements or approval or submission of those requirements on Exhibit 1A?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. Mr. Garber, again -- and I think you ruled at the first day's hearing, and you recognized that the Board is not sitting in its capacity to consider appeals of code violation cases.

We acknowledge and my client acknowledged that they have had fundraisers and certain gatherings since they've owned the property, just as I may have a fundraiser at my house or I may have a celebration at my house or we all may do that.

I think what the relevant inquiry in this case is is whether the special exception, which is the use of the property if an approval is granted both in terms of the sort of mundane, routine daily activities as well as the festivals that have been described, is the inquiry.

I'm not sure where these questions are going other than I understand the neighbors didn't like it that they had a fundraiser out there. I get that.

I frankly don't understand what that has to do with the proposed use of this property going forward. It's not a code violation case.

MR. HOLZER: I will explain it.

MR. GARBER: The way I understood it was it was not dealing with code enforcement issues but rather how would the holding of these types of events, how would that impact the way the plan is designed?

And that is, would you make different accommodations, would you have a different parking arrangement or configuration, what does that mean for the purposes of the special exception factors?

That's how I interpreted your question. It was beyond the strict code enforcement part.

MR. HOLZER: Mr. Chairman, you're right on the money. I have written down here a response.

The credibility of this witness in terms of his opinion in regard to 502.1 would be based upon these questions and this answer.

We're not trying a code violation case over again. Your Honor is exactly right. That's still my question.

MR. GARBER: I will overrule the objection. The question stays.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) The question was: The assumptions that you've made in regard to parking requirements, would those change if you were advised that instead of 150 maximum there could be attendance at events, whatever, held on-site of 300 people or over?

Would that requirement change your opinion in regard to your testimony dealing with parking?

MR. SCHMIDT: I will just object to the supposition that there have been over 300 people on the property. Facts not in evidence and how we know that. I understand your ruling to my prior objection.

MR. GARBER: I recognize the 300 number to be more of a hypothetical because that's not a fact that's been established in the evidence. Since he is an expert witness on that point, he can certainly answer the question.

MR. HOLZER: Thank you.

A. The answer is, no, we would have proposed the same or materially similar layout. We would have proposed parking, paving and the site improvements for 364 days of the year and not the one day of year that there may be a larger crowd.

Q. Maybe there would be three or five days. Would that affect your opinion, if it was a regular special event and not a religious appearance on a particular day?

A. That would depend on the number of times a year and the actual size of the crowd that's anticipated during that day.

Q. Didn't I ask you, Did you know that there were going to be special events? You said, you didn't know that.

A. I did not.

Q. So you were never told by your client and you never tried to find out what other special events would be held, is that right?

A. We found out what we needed to know for the religious worship, which is what the parking requirements address.

Q. If you have a religious institution and they're holding Bingo parties and so forth, take a Roman Catholic, Episcopalian, a Methodist, don't those calculations go into the requirement for parking, if they had them regularly as part of the religious activities on-site?

A. The parking requirements would be separate. They would have parking requirements one per four seats, and if they had some sort of hall where those types of functions were being held, there could be additional requirements for that.

Q. And that hall could be this main building, could it not?

A. The interior of the structure would not lend itself to a large hall for entertaining outside of the worship work.

Q. You don't know that, because you don't even know the square footage of this building, do you? You just testified you didn't.

A. I don't need to know the square footage to know the interior layout.

Q. Really.

Are you telling me that you couldn't put 300 people in the hall that's shown in one of these pictures and in the hallway or in the other portion of the building?

A. If your purpose was to just jam as many people in the room as possible, maybe.

Q. What about upstairs, while downstairs is being held?

Are you telling me that you're going to take that position, when you previously testified that you didn't measure the square footage, you didn't pursue the basement to find out whether --

Are you really taking that position?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection.

A. Yes.

MR. HOLZER: Yes, he answered.

MR. SCHMIDT: Arguing with the witness.

MR. HOLZER: I'm not arguing. This witness has to be truthful.

MR. GARBER: We can strike that comment. But the question stands and the answer stands.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) You may or may not have used this testimony or commented on in regard to the parking spaces.

But did you use as a basis for your calculation four people per car?

A. Yes. The calculation is based on one car per four seats. Because there are no seats, in lieu of seats we used an expected attendance.

Q. So you did use that calculation of four people per car.

A. Yes.

Q. Other than your two visits and other than your preparation, you really don't know how this property has been used from the time of its purchase until now.

Is that a fair statement?

A. Like you said, I've been there twice. I don't live in the area that I see it on a regular basis.

Q. Thank you.

I know we went into this area before of you're not an environmental person. But as the overall producer of this site plan, do you know whether or not there are any plans to mitigate sheet flow adversely affecting in the northern direction, specifically Ms. Foxworthy's property, which is on the north side where you said the flow would go?

A. We haven't proceeded to any sort of analysis on that at this point.

MR. GARBER: When you say "on that," what are you referring to?

THE WITNESS: On the runoff.

A. In the vicinity of Ms. Foxworthy's house, there is a roadside ditch and an inlet. Without closer examination, I wouldn't be able to state what possible problems there are.

MR. GARBER: If I can ask and jump in: Where is that property located on 1A?

THE WITNESS: It is directly across Harford Road from the entrance at the northwestern corner of Boneparte Avenue and Harford Road.

MR. GARBER: Would that be the house that's depicted in Petitioner's 9E and F?

THE WITNESS: Is that the one looking from the site towards Harford Road, down the driveway?

MR. GARBER: Let's get the actual exhibit.

MS. DOPKIN: Would you show us where on the site plan the inlet is?

MR. GARBER: First, the question is 9E and F, is that Ms. Foxworthy? Is that correct?

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

MR. GARBER: Is that the house that you're referring to, sir?

THE WITNESS: In E it is to the left of that photo, behind the stop sign, and clearly visible in F.

MR. GARBER: So E would show different homes than F, correct? And F is the one that we're talking about here with this testimony.

THE WITNESS: Any home in E would be further down the road and not directly adjacent.

MR. GARBER: Got it. The next question from Ms. Dopkin is, is there a way in these photos to show the inlet and the roadside ditch?

THE WITNESS: The inlet and the roadside ditch are visible in 9B. It's to the right of the white striping.

MR. GARBER: Is that a sewer grate in 9B?

THE WITNESS: Almost in the middle of the plan, that's the top to a storm drain inlet.

MR. GARBER: That's on the subject property side, correct?

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. GARBER: What about the roadside ditch and inlet you referred to to Ms. Foxworthy's property?

THE WITNESS: There is another ditch on our side of Harford Road that's visible in 9C, west of the driveway along Harford Road.

MR. GARBER: What about the other side of Harford Road?

THE WITNESS: There's no picture here to depict anything there. You can actually see in 9C that Harford Road is actually sloped away from Ms. Foxworthy's property and back toward the subject site.

MR. GARBER: Thank you, Mr. Holzer.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Did you measure the distance --

From what we'll call the tennis court or the volleyball court, whichever net goes up or down, are there any homes close to that site as depicted on Exhibit 1A?

A. The closest homes would be all the way on the other side of Harford Road, on the west side of Harford Road on the property.

Q. In other words, where you just were talking about Ms. Foxworthy's property, that's the homes that you're referring to?

A. Ms. Foxworthy would be to the north.

Q. Right.

A. So to the west of the property, the closest home to the sports court would be here on the west side of the Harford Road.

Q. Look at lot 12150. Is that on there?

A. Yes.

Q. Can you measure from that home to the tennis court or volleyball court, the distance?

A. I would say it's 300 to 350 feet.

Q. Thanks. Since you haven't been out there when there were any events, you can't tell what the impacts of people on the subject site, how it would impact those people that you just described?

A. In what case? What events?

Q. Noise.

A. No, I have not been there when the property was in use.

Q. I have a few more questions and that will be it.

We already addressed the issue that you're not a sound expert, so you wouldn't be able to opine one way or the other as to who or what could hear who or what, right?

A. As far as noise levels at any adjoining location, no.

Q. I believe you testified that in your analysis of 502.1, you felt this was a low impact or low intensity impact on the neighbors, is that right?

A. Yes.

Q. How did you conclude that for your opinion?

A. During my visits to the site, my review of plans and aerial photos of the area, 502 requires that it not be a greater impact than it would be on other sites.

So this, in the scheme of a religious worship facility, would be a low impact site and location due to its proximity to a state road and due to the size of the property.

Q. So you were not including in your opinion any noise problems, traffic problems, any relative type of problem that could be generated by the use of this site on the neighbors.

A. What my opinion was is that any noise or sounds that were generated by this site would be no more impactful here than it would be in a similarly zoned property elsewhere.

Q. You also testified previously that this is the highest site in the area, is that correct?

A. Directly around the house is.

Q. But the whole site of 30 acres is higher than the surrounding properties on the east, west, north or south.

A. Not in its entirety but the majority.

Q. So that wouldn't be a relative factor to set this property apart?

A. Not in my opinion.

Q. So in your opinion the geography and physical location of this site is not relevant to your opinion.

A. I said the height was not a detriment. The physical location of the property is a consideration. And in that case I think this property is better than the similarly zoned property nearby.

Q. Suppose it was a similarly located piece of property that's flat, would you find any difference between this site and the church located on a flat piece of property?

A. No. Again, it's primarily driven by the distance to the surrounding neighbors.

Q. You just said they're within 300 feet of adjacent properties. You never testified as to how close the house was on the north of this site that you've shown on Exhibit 1A, and you've identified for the Board as this property right here. And I'm pointing to Mr. Pohler's property. You testified about that.

Are you telling me that that couldn't be effected by something?

A. There's no requirement that there's no effect. That it's not a greater detriment to the community here than it would be elsewhere.

Q. Let me ask you this question. Suppose you go over to Bel Air Road and you have a church at Bel Air Road that's surrounded by commercial activity. Wouldn't there be a difference between this property and that property?

A. If it --

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection.

A. If it was surrounded by partial property, it wouldn't be similarly zoned.

MR. GARBER: Sir, there's an objection

pending.

MR. SCHMIDT: I will withdraw the objection based on his answer.

MR. HOLZER: He hasn't answered.

A. If it was surrounded by commercial properties it wouldn't be similarly zoned and, thus, we wouldn't be comparing it for the purposes of 502.

Q. So that's one answer.

Suppose you had a church on a flat piece of property that was a church operation but, in fact, was different from this physical site in terms of either road access, surrounding properties, et cetera.

Wouldn't this be different from that?

A. It would be. You could conceivably have a site that is located at the end of a residential street which is different. That's obviously a worse scenario than direct access to the state highway.

In that case, the access to this site is good for its use. It's direct access to Harford Road.

Q. So your analysis then is based upon the fact that there is, in your opinion, no other location that would be better than this or worse than this, that this is the best. There's no impact.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. I don't understand the question. I don't understand how it relates to the criteria.

MR. HOLZER: The criteria is as he's already testified to. The impact has to be greater here than elsewhere in the zone. That's the old standard that we all live by in the zoning law.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) So the question that I have is that you have not been able to find a piece of property that is any worse than this site or any better, right?

A. I haven't shopped for an available site. If that's what you're asking.

Q. That's true. That's what I'm saying.

Nor have you shopped for a site that would indicate that the property here is worse than at someplace else.

In other words, just the opposite of what your testimony is.

You haven't done that research, have you?

MR. GARBER: He's basically asking if you compared properties.

A. What properties? I don't know what properties would exist that would be suitable for this.

Q. You've answered the question.

MR. HOLZER: He hasn't compared it to any properties.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) To your knowledge of your client in terms of their religious activity, can you explain here the depth of your knowledge relative to how they equate to a Christian church, a Jewish church, a synagogue?

Do you have any ability to articulate how this congregation functions versus what many other people as Christians would understand how their church functions?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. That's so far out of the area of this man's expertise. It's completely an unfair question.

MR. GARBER: How it would impact the design here?

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

MR. GARBER: I would have to agree with Mr. Schmidt.

MR. HOLZER: How it would impact the design is very simple. He has testified in regard to 502.1 criteria, and he has drawn those conclusions that this would be no different than any church. And that's why it's relevant for him to understand.

MR. GARBER: I'm still not hearing why there would be a difference between the way a church, synagogue would be run other than the general religious use, which is how it was understood previously, right?

MR. HOLZER: Because the answer to that question is what they testified in Day 1. They testified there is no religious Sunday morning 9:00 or 11:00. They testified that from a religious standpoint that anybody can walk in and do whatever they want to do, say a prayer, ask for forgiveness.

MR. GARBER: Right. So how does that impact your question?

MR. HOLZER: It impacts my question because I want to know what he compared, what he analyzed in regard to coming up with these conclusions that this facility did not violate 502.1.

MR. GARBER: Again, going back to the point, how does that relate to practice of this religion versus that of any other type of Christian church or Jewish synagogue?

MR. HOLZER: It relates to how they testified. I'm not the one to talk about religion. They were the ones that explained, on Day No. 1, how their religious institution functions.

MR. GARBER: Right. As the engineer, how did that impact his opinions and his plan?

MR. HOLZER: Correct. Because based on what he knows about the building, based on how he can opine that there will be no impact on the neighbors, or whatever, it's all relevant. It's all tied together.

MR. GARBER: Can you answer the question?

THE WITNESS: I think so.

A. The difference from a normal Judeo-Christian worship in the way the service or prayers are attended is that there is no formalized date and time that everybody comes and leaves at the same time. So your peak traffic would always be less from this facility than a comparable church or synagogue. And then, because there are no pews, the way we had to figure out a way to apply seats to a facility with no seats.

And so we have a peak attendance to regular service that was used for the parking requirements. Beyond that, worship is worship in my opinion.

Q. So the only thing that you said so far that when I've asked you about festivals that are held there is that you don't know anything about them.

So, therefore, the question that I have is absent that knowledge. How can you make the opinion that it does not violate 502.1?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. He didn't testify that he didn't know anything about festivals. He testified that the fundraising events he was not involved in.

But obviously he sat and I believe he testified that he's aware of the operation of the church in terms of two parts of it; one, what I would call the week-to-week operation and, also, the periodic festivals, the religious festivals there.

We're not talking about fundraising events but the three to four festivals that they have yearly. We heard about them on the first day of testimony.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, what say you?

MR. HOLZER: I don't want to say any more. I have no further questions.

MR. GARBER: Are you done with cross-examination?

MR. SCHMIDT: I'm sorry. Are you done? I thought you said you were done.

MR. HOLZER: I said I have no further questions.

MR. GARBER: Just on that point?

MR. HOLZER: Not just on that point, on all points.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt, redirect?

EXAMINATION BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. Mr. Motsco, let me just follow up on that. You were here for the first day of testimony. You heard the testimony from several representatives of the church as to essentially how the church operates.

A. Yes.

Q. You heard that unlike the Judeo-Christian type of church, there are no regularly scheduled weekly services on a Sunday morning, for example, in a Christian church.

A. Yes.

Q. You also heard, did you not, that there are periodic festivals that are conducted? Some are 15 days long, some are shorter than that. There may be three or four a year.

There was discussion about major versus minor religious festivals and the significance and how that impacts attendance.

Did you hear that?

A. Yes.

Q. Was it your testimony, sir, when you were addressing 502.1 that you took into account, quote, how the church operates and how these services and religious activities would work over the course of the year in concluding that it would not be detrimental to the health, safety, and general welfare locale?

A. Yes.

Q. I understand you were not part of the decision to have a fundraising event out here, correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. You didn't attend the fundraising event, correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. But you have an understanding of how the church would operate on an annual type of basis in terms of festivals and services and attendance, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Is that what your conclusion was based upon?

A. Yes. My conclusion was based on the regular operation of the worship.

Q. Thank you.

The landscape plan that was submitted, that has not been approved by the Mr. Hermann, who is the county's landscape architect, is that correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. Has that been prepared in accordance with the county's landscape manual and any other source that might be relevant in terms of the requirements for landscaping?

A. Yes.

Q. Is those requirements generally driven by new construction or new improvements to the property?

A. That is correct.

Q. So there is an existing building and several existing buildings, are there not?

A. Yes.

Q. In addition to the landscaping that's proposed and shown on that plan, there's also significant mature landscaping on the property, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. You've indicated that there is no proposal or no intention as shown on this plan to remove any of the landscaping that's out there except for, as I think you've described it, if the driveway is required to be expanded or altered, correct?

A. Correct.

Q. But all the woods that are shown in all the various photographs are going to remain at least as it's contemplated at the current time.

A. That's correct.

Q. Let me also ask you: I think you said at the beginning of your direct examination a lot of the base source material on this plan in terms of the location of environmental features, existing improvements, driveways, et cetera, was in large part based on information obtained through the county's GIS system, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. Did you also indicate on cross, I believe, that not only you but other representatives of Little & Associates have been to this site? Is that correct?

A. Yes. The individual helping me prepare this plan, once we had compiled all the GIS data and prepared a draft plan, visited the site. Sometimes buildings get obscured in heavy trees and sometimes in aerial photos things aren't always what they seem.

So they visited the site to confirm that what we're showing on the plan is an accurate representation of the site.

Q. That would be as to improvements on the site and the environmental features and the like that would have been shown on the GIS system.

A. Yes.

Q. So that information on the GIS system has been field verified, in essence, by somebody from Little & Associates.

A. Yes. And I actually did the same exercise on my first visit to the property and walked the entire site myself.

Q. Is it your opinion, sir, that the site as shown on Petitioner's Exhibit No. 1 and I believe 1A, as it's shown up there, is true and accurate in terms of conditions on the property at the present time?

A. Yes.

Q. You were asked about stormwater management, were you not, or some stormwater management questions by Mr. Holzer?

A. Yes.

Q. At least as to the proposed driveway -- excuse me.

MR. SCHMIDT: Strike that.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) As to the existing driveway, at least under one scenario that may remain, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. There would be no additional paving, if State Highway Administration accepts the existing configuration of the driveway, correct?

A. Correct.

Q. Insofar as the grades in that area, do I understand the property runs down from the property, down towards Harford Road at that area?

A. Yes.

Q. Are there any ditches, improvements, collections or any of that type of feature on the Petitioner's side of Harford Road that would collect or channel that water as it comes down off the property under today's circumstances?

A. There is at least one inlet and a roadside ditch along Harford Road.

Q. On our side of Harford Road.

A. Yes.

Q. How far does that ditch extend, if you know?

A. It extends at least several hundred feet from the entrance. Beyond that, I can't say.

Q. Is it on both sides of the driveway? When I say "both sides," what would be east and west is the configuration, go along both up and down Harford Road. Or is it only on one side of driveway as it relates to Harford Road?

Do you understand what I'm asking?

A. There's a little bit to the north on Harford Road from the subject --

Q. Why don't you show us where it is on the plan. And if you can verbalize where the ditch is.

A. There's a ditch heading in a easterly direction on Harford Road, and that's starting at the driveway entrance and heading east. There is some ditch there for a distance. I didn't examine all the way up Harford Road.

Q. How about on the other side of the existing driveway?

A. It does exist at least in this vicinity getting down to the big bend in Harford Road.

Q. So there's a ditch that's along that side.

How about on the other side of Harford Road? If you know, is there a ditch on the other side of Harford Road?

A. On the other side of Harford Road, many of the properties fall off rather significantly from Harford Road. So there would be no ditch for runoff into the yards.

Q. And there's at least one storm drain.

A. Yes.

Q. Will we be required by the county as part of the permitting process in terms of the construction of either the parking area or the new access point, assuming it's required, to take into account any grading, stormwater runoff and the like?

A. Yes. We would have to prepare a grading plan at the very last and obtain a grading permit.

Q. Would that take into account any water runoff that might be generated by any of those changes?

A. Yes. When we prepare that plan, we would look at whether or not additional work is needed to address those concerns.

Q. How far in terms of linear feet is the new parking area from the property boundary? If you can estimate that.

A. At its closest point, I would say it's at least 200 feet.

Q. How long is the driveway from that parking area? Is it shorter or longer than that?

A. The driveway to Harford Road?

Q. Yes, sir.

A. It's longer, probably at least 300 feet.

Q. The length of a football field.

MR. GARBER: The driveway is 300 feet?

THE WITNESS: From the area of the new parking.

MR. GARBER: The driveway itself is not 300 feet in length. It's 300 feet from its point of access to the proposed parking area to Harford Road.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

A. There's additional driveway beyond the proposed parking.

Q. To get to the building.

A. Correct.

MS. MURPHY: From what point in the entrance area? What point are you starting at for the 300 feet?

THE WITNESS: The existing entrance here at Harford Road, the driveway comes in, bends to the left, and then there's a left turn here, where we're proposing parking in two directions from that point on the plan and from that point down to the entrance.

MS. MURPHY: And you're saying that's 300 feet.

THE WITNESS: Approximately.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) What's the grade in that area? Is it running toward Harford Road, or is it running towards what would be the east?

A. Where the driveway is, it is generally flowing towards the east. Over where there are trees along Harford Road on the plan, that's a very steep slope that goes directly to Harford Road.

Q. In terms of water that would be running off from the parking lot, it would go downhill. I assume water runs downhill.

MR. SCHMIDT: Maybe Mr. Holzer will stipulate to that.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) If the water runs downhill from the new parking area, it would run towards the east. If you can indicate that direction.

A. Yes, it runs in this general direction.

Q. Certainly, on the Harford Road side, there's a stand of forest or trees along there. The water would have to go through if it's running towards Harford Road, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Then you indicated a ditch on our side of Harford Road.

A. Yes.

Q. Is Harford Road -- I know many state roads and road designs, typically they will require roads to be crowned so that when it rains water doesn't accumulate on the roads for public safety and traffic considerations.

Do you know what the grade is of Harford Road? Is it crowned? Is it higher in the middle than on both sides, or is it higher across one way? If you know.

A. Without looking at the pictures, in this area here to the west of the existing entrance is sloped entirely towards the subject property.

Q. If something was going to flow across Harford Road, at least in that area it would have to flow uphill.

A. Yes.

Q. How about down closer to the driveway? If you know.

A. It's rather flat here. And without having a survey done, I can't say.

Q. Fair enough.

I know we talked about the height of the property and the fact that the property is somewhat crowned in the higher location in terms of the property where the building is located, is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Visibility is dependent upon a couple of factors, is it not, not just height?

A. Correct.

Q. Is the view of the building and the view of the grounds screened by anything?

The mere fact that they're higher than some of the properties around them, can you see the grounds or the building from every adjacent property?

MR. HOLZER: Objection. Calls for a conclusion that he's been on other property. I think he's testified he hadn't been to any other properties.

MR. SCHMIDT: I will strike that.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Can you see it from Harford Road?

MR. GARBER: Can you see what from Harford Road?

MR. SCHMIDT: The building.

MR. GARBER: Which building?

MR. SCHMIDT: The subject building.

MR. GARBER: The main building?

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, sir.

A. Only sparingly through a few select gaps in the trees.

Q. Mr. Motsco, let me ask you, you indicated that you were out to the property on at least two occasions, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. And the first time you were out there, do you know when that was approximately?

A. Last fall sometime.

MR. HOLZER: I object to these questions now. They go beyond the scope of direct.

MR. SCHMIDT: He asked him all about how many times he's been out there and what he saw the first time he was out there and so on and so forth. These are directly in response.

MR. GARBER: What is your question?

MR. SCHMIDT: I'm going to show him some photographs and see if it's consistent with what he observed, when he was out on the property the first time.

MR. GARBER: It did come up during the course of your cross-examination.

MR. SCHMIDT: It certainly did.

MR. HOLZER: I asked him very well about all of this stuff. And you heard the answers. Now I want you to what he --

Go ahead. I want you to see what he's submitting on redirect, and you tell me if that's appropriate redirect.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) I'm going to show you a series of five photographs and ask if you can identify these --

MR. SCHMIDT: I will mark them 11A, B, C, D and E.

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 11A-E marked for identification.)

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) -- and ask you if they are reflective of the conditions that you saw on the property when you visited --

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt, this is Exhibit 11A through E?

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, sir.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Motsco, why don't you take those one at a time and start with Exhibit 11A to describe the property, and let us know if that was consistent with the appearance of the property at the time you visited it the first time.

A. Exhibit 11A is a photo of the front door and front porch. And at the time of my visit some of the rubbish had been removed but otherwise was relatively the same.

Q. Do you know if all the graffiti that's shown on there, was that done by the current owners of the property? If you know.

Did they deface their own building? If you know.

A. I can't say for a fact who did it.

Q. You don't know who did that.

A. No.

We go to B, and that is very similar to what I saw on my first visit. Again, some rubbish around the building would have been cleaned up by the time I visited.

Then C is looking at the -- that's the side door of what will be the worship room.

Q. The entrance to the worship room.

A. Yes. That is generally what I saw, when I was there.

Q. So somebody had knocked out the door and broken all the windows.

A. Yes.

Q. These are broken windows in the worship room to the right of the front door, when you're facing the front of the house. That's picture D. You can see they are broken out and missing.

Then picture E appears to be the garage that we saw in the first round of pictures and the poor condition of that structure as well.

MR. SCHMIDT: I would offer these as Exhibits 11A through E.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, A through E?

MR. HOLZER: You already ruled on my objection.

MR. GARBER: As to your visibility. The questions are one thing. We're now going to do this for the photos.

MR. HOLZER: I don't believe they're appropriate on redirect examination. I asked the gentleman to explain what it all looked like, and he couldn't explain to me. That would have been the appropriate time to present these.

But if the Board's going to allow them in, you're going to allow them in. I do have a question of the witness on these pictures.

MR. GARBER: The question I had is I'm -- outside I understand that questions were asked of this witness as a condition of the property the first time he visited.

I'm just wondering, why are we going down this road as to what it looked like the first time he was there, for purposes of establishing that there was graffiti or broken windows, which has little to do with the plan at the moment other than, look, they cleaned it up. That's been testified to and I think is fairly well established even without the photographs.

MR. SCHMIDT: Two reasons.

First of all, sir, there were questions about the condition of the property. Mr. Holzer asked on direct examination when the property was acquired.

Second, I'd like to have those into evidence in anticipation of my cross-examination to some of the Protestants.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, what say you?
MR. HOLZER: Go ahead and let them in for the simple reason that when he questions the witnesses, they're going to be able to explain.
MR. GARBER: They are so admitted.
MR. HOLZER: Now I have a question.
MR. GARBER: We're not there yet.
MR. SCHMIDT: I do not have any other questions.
MR. GARBER: I stand corrected.
EXAMINATION BY MR. HOLZER:
Q. Mr. Motsco, how long has this property been abandoned?
A. That I do not know. In excess of ten years.
Q. In excess of ten years.
So you don't know who put the ruble down, right?
A. No.
Q. You don't know who wrote anything on the walls, right?

A. Correct.

Q. You don't know when that was done, correct?

A. Correct.

Q. You don't know who did any of that, correct?

A. Correct.

MR. HOLZER: No other questions.

MS. DOPKIN: I have one question. It relates back to your direct testimony regarding the proposed new well and installation for septic.

Will that one system and one well serve both the main dwelling and the smaller dwelling, or will it require separate systems?

THE WITNESS: I can't say that. We would have to have the sanitarian who prepared the computations answer that.

MS. DOPKIN: You also testified to the uses on the nearby road to the east.

THE WITNESS: Mount Vista.

MS. DOPKIN: Mount Vista Road. That there is both a church and another facility.

THE WITNESS: It's a private school. At the time I was there it was functioning as a summer day camp.

MS. DOPKIN: How large are those properties? If you know.

THE WITNESS: I don't know.

MS. DOPKIN: Are there ball fields and athletic facilities on either of them to your knowledge?

THE WITNESS: There are.

MS. DOPKIN: Thank you.

MR. GARBER: I have a couple questions. There was some questions raised about drainage and whatnot. I'm looking at the landscape plan here.

Just by way of background, the existing main dwelling that you said sits at a crown and then there's the high point of the property --

THE WITNESS: Uh-huh.

MR. GARBER: -- the proposed parking looks to be on the same elevation more or less as the main building.

THE WITNESS: Yes. It's very similar.

MR. GARBER: So those two areas would be the high point. And then, therefore, around it it all descends down, whether it runs off to the west, north or east, correct?

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. GARBER: Do the existing woods aid with the drainage or the anticipated drainage from the parking area?

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MR. GARBER: I don't have any more questions about that.

MS. DOPKIN: I'm looking at Protestant's Exhibit 4 that shows, it looks like, an aerial photograph, and it looks as though the main dwelling is surrounded on three sides by trees.

Are those trees higher than the dwelling?

MR. SCHMIDT: I'm going to give him a copy of the photograph, if I can, while you're asking the question.

MS. DOPKIN: Please.

MR. SCHMIDT: I think the question is: Are the trees as high or higher than the building?

THE WITNESS: Some of those trees are in fact taller than the building.

MS. DOPKIN: I refer you to your Petitioner's Exhibit 9H and I. It looks as though there are trees along the driveway that totally block visibility of the main dwelling. Is that accurate?

THE WITNESS: Visibility from where? Harford Road?

MS. DOPKIN: Harford Road.

THE WITNESS: That is correct. Exhibit H is the photo that you were looking at?

MS. DOPKIN: Yes, sir.

THE WITNESS: There we are actually some distance into the property already, and the house is still not visible.

MS. DOPKIN: If you're continuing on the driveway to Petitioner's Exhibit I, is that past those trees?

THE WITNESS: Yes. Those trees -- I answered incorrectly before.

These trees are not -- we're not between the house and Harford Road in this photo.

MR. GARBER: Which photo?

THE WITNESS: Those trees would block the house from Harford Road. If you flip to I, they are directly behind you in that photo.

MS. DOPKIN: So that would be somewhere where the existing driveway turns?

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MR. SCHMIDT: Does this help, Mr. Motsco?

THE WITNESS: That kind of hides where we're looking.

MS. MURPHY: You said DoE hasn't reviewed the plan yet, is that right?

THE WITNESS: No. They would have looked at it, when the perc plat was filed, to ensure that any of the proposed facilities weren't being placed in an area that they would be concerned about.

I don't know if they did in this case but a lot of times they will make a site visit of their own to preliminarily assess the property for environmental constraints.

If we were approved for perc testing, they would have concluded that those locations are not endangering the environment.

MS. MURPHY: So is that their only involvement in looking at this plan? Will they look at it again? Is there a process?

THE WITNESS: They will also look at it, when we file a grading permit for the proposed parking.

MS. MURPHY: Do you think they have any impact or say in regard to any of the trees that we've talked about that are in the photographs and on the site plans in terms of keeping those trees or not?

Do you have any sense of that?

THE WITNESS: They would want us to meet the forest conservation requirements.

MS. MURPHY: Do you know what that is, and do you know what that would mean?

THE WITNESS: There's a percentage of the property that would be preserved in trees. And being an RC zone, it would be a higher percentage. I don't know what the percentage is off the top of my head but it would not insignificant.

MS. MURPHY: So that may or may not mean all the trees would be saved. It could mean that some of them would be removed, is that right?

THE WITNESS: Without doing an actual measurement of what trees are out there, I couldn't answer whether or not more or less would be what's protected.

MS. MURPHY: Do you know whether your client just hypothetically would agree to --

Let's say if this gets approved, hypothetically, would your clients agree to a condition and an order that all the trees that are on the plan and in the photographs remain, short of the three trees that look like they need to be removed for the driveway access alternative route, if SHA requires that route?

Do you have any sense of whether your clients would agree to that? Again, this is a hypothetical because we're not finished with this hearing.

THE WITNESS: You would have to ask them. I think it would be more appropriate in this case just to require the forest conservation we addressed and meet those criteria and have DoE enforce it.

MS. MURPHY: As a condition, you're suggesting?

Have a condition in an order hypothetically that EPS then enforce -- well, obviously, they will -- that it meet all the requirements? Is that what you're suggesting?

THE WITNESS: Yes. From an environmental standpoint, they would be more concerned about the stands of trees from an environmental standpoint than a single tree in a yard that no deer are finding a home there.

MS. MURPHY: In this case, we don't have an RTA situation. And, by the way, that's because -- and just to confirm with you -- there's no RTA applicability here because it's not DR zoned, right?

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MS. MURPHY: To make sure I remembered that right, because it's RC-2, so there's no specific need for a buffer.

But here we're applying special exception factors, and obviously that's an issue for the protestants in terms of the surrounding homes. And so the tree issue has to do with the buffer.

And so I was just curious as to whether or not as an engineer you would think that keeping those trees, the existing woods on the property would be beneficial or would --

THE WITNESS: I think the existing woods would be -- I feel like that would be a good solution just because of the enforceability, that it then quickly becomes something that is applied to many properties.

And there's an enforcement division. They have a methodology for enforcing that and requiring restoration if that was to be a problem in the future versus scattered trees in the yard where it would be a court case from the neighbors to have them replaced.

MS. MURPHY: So you're trailing off at the end there.

So your opinion was that it would be something that would be helpful to have in terms of the buffer with the neighborhood.

THE WITNESS: Yes. If the buffer is an issue, I think the appropriate thing would be to prepare a forest conservation plan and record a forest conservation easement.

MS. MURPHY: You also talked about lighting. I think your testimony was that I had written down -- correct me if I'm wrong -- there was only going to be two porch lights.

THE WITNESS: It would be porch lights similar to any --

It's a dwelling. So at the entrances there would be porch lights and some small landscape lighting. In the criteria of a special exception, it's not industrial sodium vapor streetlights lighting up the parking lot.

MS. MURPHY: That's the question. But now what about parking lots? They need lights for the parking lot. So there are additional lights, right?

THE WITNESS: There are none proposed at this time.

MS. MURPHY: I know you're not the light expert. I know a lighting plan will be proposed.

In terms of us trying to conclude whether or not one of the factors of special exception is lighting, any idea what kind of lighting is going to be proposed for the parking lot?

THE WITNESS: I imagine it would be as minimal as possible.

MS. MURPHY: As minimal.

THE WITNESS: It wouldn't be lit up like a 7-Eleven at night.

MS. MURPHY: Again, if hypothetically it was adopted or we agree to it, a condition would be a lighting plan be filed.

Is that something that you would suggest with the county?

THE WITNESS: Yes. The county has a procedure for reviewing those.

MR. SCHMIDT: Ms. Murphy, in answer to your question, I'm going to say, because he didn't answer the question, I'll get you an answer whether my client would be willing to enter into a restriction, as you mentioned. I just want to make sure I understand your question.

I'm assuming that the areas that you're concerned about primarily is sort of the perimeter of the property, where the woods is.

MR. GARBER: I would jump in to say that the north and west sides, where there are peoples' homes, the opposite side of Harford Road.

MR. SCHMIDT: Let me just say, to the best of my knowledge in talking with my clients and preparing for this, there are plans to do something with those trees or clear.

I will certainly ask them about if they're willing to enter into a restriction. And I can advise you of that.

As I indicated during his direct exam, there could be as many as three trees taken down here. But that's going to be ultimately the decision of the State Highway Administration.

I believe in this area it's mainly open at the present time.

Mr. Motsco, is the area generally open?

THE WITNESS: There's no woods. There's scattered trees in the yard area.

MR. GARBER: So there may be a handful of trees that would also get removed as part of the proposed parking.

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. SCHMIDT: Do you know how many?

THE WITNESS: Not off the top of my head.

MS. MURPHY: You indicated in your testimony that the trees to the right of the entrance along Harford Road also serve a purpose in collecting water drainage. I think Mr. Schmidt asked you that question.

In terms of asking your client whether or not they would agree as a condition, certainly those boundary of trees has to play a big part in it. That would serve to assist in the drainage of water.

MR. SCHMIDT: Stormwater management, visibility, lighting, et cetera.

MS. MURPHY: I'm throwing that out there to try to figure out whether or not this gentleman knew or had some sense.

THE WITNESS: I will add that along the boundary with Harford Road, much of the slope -- most of the ground there is so steep that it would be nearly impossible to utilize for construction of anything.

Trees is really the best use of that property.

MR. SCHMIDT: Even if you wanted to use it, it couldn't be a ball field.

THE WITNESS: This area here is a near-vertical face that you couldn't walk up without a rope, I don't think. That is where all the trees are now, along the perimeter.

MR. GARBER: You're pointing to the west side of the property.

THE WITNESS: Yes, the west side of the property along Harford Road.

MS. DOPKIN: Mr. Motsco, there seems to be evidence of an older driveway that comes out at the southwest end of the property.

THE WITNESS: There is an old driveway there.

MS. DOPKIN: Is there access to Harford

Road there?

THE WITNESS: There is a driveway access here. Much of the road is deteriorated and gone. There's a patch -- I walked all this in one of my visits.

There's a patch here at the bottom that's still visible. The clearing is still there. You can see evidence of an old road. And then the only other remaining paving is right at the old barn. And there's some when you get to the smaller two-story building.

MR. SCHMIDT: Is there any intention, Mr. Motsco, to use that for an alternate means of access?

THE WITNESS: No.

MS. DOPKIN: Thank you. That was my question.

MR. GARBER: In terms of your design, did the fact that the site get on the Maryland Inventory of Historic Properties factor into your design in any way, shape, or form?

THE WITNESS: It was a consideration. And we felt that because of the very minimal proposed improvements, just parking on the lawn and to preserve the building and the grounds that from a historical standpoint, since the house isn't listed, it's just the property and the barn, having somebody there using the property would be the best way to protect it.

MR. SCHMIDT: To prevent --

THE WITNESS: Versus being vacant and vandalized and used for --

MR. SCHMIDT: To prevent demolition by neglect essentially.

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. GARBER: I understand that. But in terms of the site itself, did the historic nature of the site itself, did that factor into any aspect of your design on Exhibit 1A?

THE WITNESS: We tried to preserve -- We didn't propose a parking lot. We used the drive aisles that were there as our access lane for the parking space, and we tried to pick spots that would require minimal or no grading in order to install the parking lots so that the net change to the land would be the minimal necessary.

MR. GARBER: As I understand what you're saying, you want to disturb the site as little as possible to preserve that part of the historic nature of the site.

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. HOLZER: I have a question produced by your question.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) Who did you check with in terms of the historic issues that you talked about on direct?

A. The Department of Planning.

Q. You testified, I believe, that it's not on the Baltimore County Landmarks List, right?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. Some of the buildings are on the Maryland Department of --

MR. SCHMIDT: MHT.

MR. GARBER: Maryland Historical Trust.

Q. (By Mr. Holzer) MHT.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you check the Register of National Historic Districts?

A. No.

Q. If had you checked that register of the National Historic Districts, you would have found that this property is within that district.

Do you have any basis to say that I'm wrong?

A. I have nothing.

Q. If you know.

You didn't check it, did you?

A. No, I have no --

MR. HOLZER: Thank you. No further questions.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt?

MR. SCHMID: No other questions.

MR. GARBER: Sir, thank you very much for your time.

It is now almost 2:45. Mr. Schmidt, I believe you have another witness to hopefully at least get --

MR. SCHMIDT: We'll have to see how far we get.

I call Joseph Caloggero.

(Witness Caloggero sworn.)

EXAMINATION BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. Sir, could you please state your name for the record?

A. Joe Caloggero.

Q. Could you spell it for our benefit?

A. C-A-L-O-G-G-E-R-O. Feel free to call me Joe.

Q. Where is it that you work, sir?

A. I work for The Traffic Group, 9900 Franklin Square Drive, Suite H, Baltimore, Maryland 21236.

MR. GARBER: 9900 --

THE WITNESS: Franklin Square Drive, Suite H, as in Harry, Baltimore 21236.

MR. GARBER: And what is your title

there?

THE WITNESS: Vice president.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt?

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Caloggero, can you tell us what your occupation is, sir?

A. I'm a traffic engineer.

Q. And you indicated you're employed at The Traffic Group and the vice president of that organization, correct?

A. Correct.

Q. Tell us a little bit about what The Traffic Group does and what you do.

MR. GARBER: Hold on one second. Everyone, please, put your cellphones --

I hope I don't have to ask again.

Please repeat your question.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Caloggero, can you just generally tell us the business of The Traffic Group and what you do specifically for that organization.

A. So we do traffic engineering and transportation planning. We also conduct traffic counts. Those are our general services.

Me, personally, I am vice president/manager of developing projects and/or state projects, county projects. I take them --

For example, for a development project, I take them from the beginning of the project to approvals, to design, and then we stop at the construction aspects of it.

Q. What's your educational background, Mr. Caloggero?

A. I have a bachelor of science in civil engineering from West Virginia University.

Q. Do you hold any type of professional licenses or registrations?

A. Yes. I am a professional engineer in numerous states, including where I first got my PE in West Virginia. I'm also licensed in Maryland. I'm also a professional transportation planner and a professional traffic operations engineer.

Q. I'm going to hand you, Mr. Caloggero, a document which I believe represents your resume, your curriculum vitae.

Can you identify that?

A. Yes.

Q. If you will, sir, that indicates places where you have testified and been accepted as an expert witness. Is that the case?

A. That is correct.

Q. That would include before the administrative law judge, or formerly known as the zoning commissioner, of Baltimore County?

A. Yes.

Q. And also testified before this Board, the Board of Appeals?

A. Yes.

Q. Also you've testified, it appears to be, in a number of other jurisdictions throughout the state of Maryland and in other states, Pennsylvania included, correct?

A. Pennsylvania, Virginia and Delaware.

Q. You've been a traffic engineer since 1993?

A. Yes.

Q. And also were employed as such by the Maryland State Highway Administration, correct?

A. That is correct.

MR. SCHMIDT: I'm going to ask that Mr. Caloggero's CV be the next exhibit. I think it's Exhibit No. 12, Ms. Murphy?

MS. MURPHY: 12.

MR. SCHMIDT: It be accepted as an exhibit. I'm going to offer him obviously as the traffic engineer. He's going to testify as it relates to traffic issues regarding this proposal.

MR. GARBER: Traffic engineer. Traffic issues related to this proposal, is that correct?

MR. SCHMIDT: Yes, sir.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, do you have any questions about the admissibility?

MR. HOLZER: He's laughing. I just have one or two very quick personal questions.

MR. GARBER: About this?

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 12 marked for identification.)

EXAMINATION BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. I understand you've been in Calvert, or, as they say, Calvert County?

A. Yes.

Q. Carroll County?

A. Yes.

Q. Charles County?

A. Whatever is on my resume, yes, sir.

Q. La Plata, Howard County, Prince George's County?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. I've never seen you down there, when I'm there.

A. I've been.

MR. HOLZER: I have no other questions.

MR. GARBER: As to Exhibit 12, no objection?

MR. HOLZER: No objection.

MR. GARBER: Submitted as to the proffered area of expertise.

MR. HOLZER: No problem.

MR. GARBER: So accepted as an expert as tendered.

EXAMINATION BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. Did there come a time that you were retained by the Petitioner in this case, the Nepali American Cultural Center of Baltimore, regarding this proposal and the subject property?

A. Yes.

Q. And how long ago were you hired? If you know.

A. I believe it was December.

Q. What were you asked to do?

A. For the first hearing, the administrative judge hearing, I was hired to review the access and try to understand the amount of traffic that would be utilizing the site and provide expert testimony at the hearing.

Q. You've done an analysis of what? I assume the proposed use of the property and how it would generate traffic, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Have you also looked at the surrounding road network and improvements in the area?

A. In general, yes.

Q. I know Mr. Motsco talked a little bit about them. Maybe you can approach one of the exhibits and give us a general idea.

Can you tell us a little bit about -- we know the property is on Harford Road -- the roads in the area, the general area, any traffic improvements or features that are particularly significant that you think need to be evaluated or considered?

MR. GARBER: Just before you start your testimony, please keep in mind that if you say, Right here, that's not going to translate well onto the transcript.

If you could explain what you're referring to in more detail in the description, that would be better for everyone, rather than me interrupting every five minutes and go, Where is "that," and,

What do you mean by "this?"

THE WITNESS: I will do my best.

A. So recently a roundabout was constructed at Mount Vista Road. My understanding that the advisory speeds for this roundabout are 20 miles per hour.

For the site access, both north and south of the site, the site access is what is called a reverse turn area.

The reverse turn is signed in both directions by the Maryland State Highway Administration. The sign shows the curvature plus it's at a 90-degree angle, which means it is a more severe turn and not a curve. The curve sign, you've probably seen them, is more of a curve versus a 90-degree sign.

With the differential between the two, the curve sign is for speeds 35 miles and above. That's what the SHA would recommend.

At this location, the SHA recommends that this area be traveled at 30 miles per hour.

MR. GARBER: Which location?
THE WITNESS: The entire curvature.
MR. GARBER: The entire stretch --
THE WITNESS: The entire --
Basically, the entire stretch south of the roundabout and passing the site and as it turns to the south as well in the northbound direction.
So both this area -- I know it's hard to explain. I'm trying to do my best.
MR. GARBER: Basically, northwest central point on Harford Road.
THE WITNESS: Yes.
MR. GARBER: You're now starting at Mount Vista Road, going southbound around the north end of the property, heading to the west and then proceeding down, halfway down the property as outlined on Exhibit 2.
THE WITNESS: That would be what I was trying to say. Then in the reverse as well. The signs are in both directions.
Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Caloggero, just so

we're clear, the roundabout, or the traffic circle, was a recent improvement up at the intersection of Harford Road and Mount Vista.

A. That is correct.

Q. And that's one of those deals where you get into the circle, like we have here in Towson, and try to make sure people understand how to get in and out of it, which many Baltimore County drivers seem to be challenged by.

But from that location down to the intersection, there is a significant curve or curves which are the 90-degree curves.

A. Correct. The State Highway Administration would label that as turns.

Q. Once you get -- in effect, if you're traveling from the roundabout, or circle, then past the entrance here you would then have the same situation on the other side, turns for traffic coming and going beyond the actual entrance point.

A. That is correct.

Q. So it's the same situation with the severe turns on both up and down or I guess we could --

A. North and south.

Q. North and south of the access point onto Harford Road.

A. Correct. There's also additional warning signs on the turns themselves. They are called Chevrons. They are directing the traffic towards the right as you traverse the turns.

Q. As the traffic engineer, in terms of the roundabout, might there be occasions where people might, for example, turn, even if they wanted to go south on Harford Road from this location --

And I think we heard this on the first day of testimony from a couple people who live there who essentially said that they would come out, go up to the circle to almost do a U-turn and go through the entire circle to go the other direction because that's an easier traffic movement.

Is that something that happens with these traffic circles often?

A. I don't know about "often" but it can happen, yes.

Q. Do you have any evidence it occurred here other than the testimony?

A. Just testimony.

When I was doing my site investigations, I used that as my U-turn area.

Q. In terms of signalized intersections, are there anything relevant signalized intersections here in the area?

A. They are quite a distance away from this location. There is one at Fork Road and Sunshine Road to the north and maybe one further down north wind to the south.

Q. How far are they, if you know, from this location?

A. They're not even shown on the map.

Q. On Exhibit 2.

A. On Exhibit 2's map. They're not even listed on this map. I don't have the approximate distance. But they wouldn't, in my opinion, be --

The signals would not influence our access.

Q. And this property is outside of the urban-rural demarcation line, is it not?

A. That is correct.

Q. So it would not be impacted by the county's basic services match for transportation, is that correct, because of that?

A. That is correct.

Q. Let me ask you, Mr. Caloggero, I know one of the things that typically traffic engineers take a look at is sort of the capacity. I don't know that it's generally applicable to intersections and how much traffic can get from intersections.

But did you look or give any kind of analysis to the capacity, if that's the fair term, of the road system here, of how many vehicles are going to be going up and down Harford Road, either coming out of or entering this property and nearby?

A. It was not requested by either Baltimore County or the Maryland State Highway Administration.

So we were really looking at the site access trips. This way the State Highway Administration could make proper determinations on the access.

Q. Did you say it wasn't requested or was?

A. Capacity analyses or highway capacity manual methodologies, the analyses of turning movements or levels of service, were not requested by either agency. It is my opinion just based on the trips.

Q. Did you make a calculation in the number of trips?

A. We have a couple calculations, yes.

Q. Let me ask you if you can explain to the Board the methodology and how you calculated or what, if any, determination that you made in terms of the number of trips.

A. Sure. Typically we use ITE, the Institute of Transportation Engineer's Trip Generation Manual.

However, this kind of use is atypical. So, therefore, when you have an atypical use, you approach the users and try to determine to the best of our ability how they are going to use the property.

So based on my discussions, for a weekday, there would be about approximately 20 people coming to the temple on a weekday. This could be numerous times throughout the day. That would be 20 trips in, 20 trips out. Again, over the entire period of the day, the temple would be available for use.

Then on weekends -- we received information on a typical weekend that less than 100 people would visit during, again, the entire day that it would be open.

When we had our discussions with the Maryland State Highway Administration, they asked us for a different type of analyses, again using ITE.

MR. GARBER: Can I jump in here just to verify a couple point?

THE WITNESS: Absolutely.

MR. GARBER: You said this use is a atypical. What use?

THE WITNESS: The use of the site as a temple. It's atypical because there's not a category for a temple in the ITE Trip Generation Manual.

MS. MURPHY: But there's religious.

THE WITNESS: There is churches.

MS. MURPHY: Right. Why wouldn't you use that?

THE WITNESS: We did. The State Highway Administration asked us to use churches. But, again, for the weekend, churches are typically based on a start time and an end time, and the trips are based on those times, the start times.

MR. GARBER: So because you're not using the ITE manual for purposes of your site access trip analysis, you mentioned discussions with the people who would be using the temple during the course of the week to try to assess in -- as best as you could assess the volume to expect on a typical weekday or an average 20 people coming in throughout the day.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MR. GARBER: So 20 trips in, 20 trips

out. On the weekend, just to be clear, it's less than 100 per day, that is, less than 100 in, less than 100 out on Saturday and on Sunday.

THE WITNESS: That is my understanding, yes.

MR GARBER: We'll stop there. You were about to talk about SHA and the use of the ITE manual.

A. SHA further requested the use of the ITE manual and to review this as a church. So when we did so --

The church is typically based on square footage, when you review the trips or calculate the trips. Excuse me.

So we requested information on the size of the existing building. And we tried to be a little bit conservative, whereas the entire first floor, which would not be used as a temple, was approximately 3,500 square feet. So we generated trips based on 3,500 square feet.

Q. Let me stop you there for just a second,

Mr. Caloggero. I'm going to hand to you a copy of what appears to be a building floor plan and ask:

Have you ever seen this document before, Mr. Caloggero?

MS. MURPHY: This is actually 14. The reason is it says locality outline was 11. The photos of the graffiti was 12A through E. And then Mr. Caloggero's resume was 13. So you're on 14.

MR. SCHMIDT: Sorry, Ms. Murphy.

MS. MURPHY: That was on me.

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 14 marked for identification.)

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Caloggero, you indicated that the ITE manual, I believe, as it relates to churches ties into the square footage of the building, and, therefore, you looked at the building here.

Is that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. And I think I asked you if you had seen this exhibit, which I think, again, is 14.

A. Yes, I have.

Q. Mr. Caloggero, can you tell us what this is and how, if any way, you used it in your trip generation computations?

A. Yes. So I used the first-floor floor plan. And again for a conservative analysis, I totaled up the entire first floor's square footage and came up with 3,500 square feet versus the hall area. The hall area is much smaller.

Q. Is the hall area shown in a different color?

A. Yes. The hall area is shown in yellow. Unfortunately, I did not calculate that number nor can I see the numbers, and I didn't bring my glasses. I can't give you a square footage of the hall but it's substantially smaller than 3,500.

However, we did generate the trips for the entire first floor to try to give the SHA some kind of trips that they could work with to assess the impacts.

And based on 3,500 square feet, during the weekday it was one morning trip, during the evening peak hour, two trips, and on a weekend we had 24 peak-hour trips.

Q. That's based on the ITE methodology as it were?

A. That is correct.

Q. That's based on the square footage of the entire first floor of the building using the ITE's methodology for a church.

A. That is correct.

Q. So that's even a lesser amount of traffic than your analysis utilizing your questioning of the Petitioner, is it not?

A. This would be less, in my opinion, yes.

Q. Tell us, if you can bring us full circle: What does this all mean from a capacity standpoint in terms of overburdening or causing congestions on the roads in the area based on these numbers and methodology.

A. During the weekday, when you have your more significant amount of traffic on the roadway network, I would consider these trips di minimus.

If we're talking one trip in the morning peak hour, that's one trip every 60 minutes. Two trips is one trip every 30 minutes.

In comparison, ITE states that one single-family home would generate ten daily trips. So it would probably generate one or two peak-hour trips as well.

Q. From a capacity standpoint or the ability of the road system to essentially absorb this additional traffic, what are your conclusions there?

A. Again, de minimis. And I would expect little-to-no impacts.

Q. How about the festivals? You heard the testimony about these periodic festivals with more people.

Did you look at that or consider that and whether that would have any type of significant impact on traffic capacity or volume in the area?

A. We did not look at it per se. But my opinion would be that these kind of establishments do have -- not only these establishments but churches and other kind of institutes do have peak events.

However, unless there's a need for a separate traffic management plan to accommodate these events, these are outside of the realm where typically the State Highway Administration or other jurisdictions would review or try to make improvements to accommodate such an increase in traffic for a particular event.

For instance, what I like to use is for a football game on a Sunday in Baltimore. The State Highway Administration does not design the interstate to accommodate ten football games a year.

They understand that there's going to be excess traffic and there's an expectation that there may be some delays entering or exiting the site.

But since it's only few-and-far between, they deem it okay. They don't try to create a ten-lane highway to accommodate a potential worst day.

I'm not saying that the temple is like a Raven football game comparing the traffic. It's just an analogy that most people understand.

Q. About the Christian church around the Christmas service or Easter service, for example, would you equate it to be the same kind of thing?

A. I know I live next to a Catholic church up in Harford County. St. Ignatius. I know when to avoid that during the proper times, because they do have services where they park on both sides of the road, and there is an expected delay when entering and exiting.

Q. Speaking of parking, is there parking permitted along Harford Road or parking available along Harford Road along this stretch?

A. There is not.

Q. You've heard about the parking that's proposed on the site in terms of the actual number of paved spaces as well as the potential for overflow areas for the grass.

Do you believe that to be significant? Or sufficient, I should say.

A. Yeah. In my opinion, yes.

Q. Even for the festivals as they've been described?

A. Yes.

Q. Mr. Caloggero, from a capacity standpoint in terms of the number of vehicles, do you have an opinion, sir, as to whether this proposal would detrimentally impact or cause inappropriate levels of congestion on the road system, the immediate road system in the area?

A. No, I believe it will not.

Q. You also, I believe, Mr. Caloggero, looked at sight distance issues as it relates to the entrance to the property, is that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. And there is one access point to the property, is there not?

A. That is correct.

Q. Ms. Dopkin had asked Mr. Motsco about the driveway to the rear.

As I understand, there is no proposal to add traffic or another point of access or exit at that location, is that correct?

A. That is my understanding.

Q. Do you think that's needed for any reason as a traffic engineer?

A. No, I do not.

Q. Let me ask you about, first of all, sort of the existing conditions out there.

MR. SCHMIDT: Let me go off the record.

(Discussion off the record.)

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 15A-B, marked for identification.)

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Caloggero, I'm going to give you the next exhibit, which I believe is 15. I will number these as opposed to assign a letter. Maybe we can also do --

You have one on your witness table. Maybe let's put one up here so everybody can see.

Mr. Caloggero, what I've identified as Petitioner's Exhibit 15 is a document that's labeled, Sight Distance. It's looks to be two parts to it. A sort of representation, I believe, of Harford Road and then another representation below that.

Let me ask you, if I can, just to go through that document, and if you can tell the Board members what they're looking at and what that is showing and is that existing or proposed or whatever it is.

If you can explain it for us.

A. Of course. This is what we call a plan profile. The top portion is the plan, which is looking at it from a 2D overhead perspective.

The bottom portion is the profile, which is based on the vertical alignment of the road.

Q. If you could just explain it. Break it down and maybe explain both sequences or both parts.

A. Then we received what we call contours. And contours are the grades. We received this from John's office.

MR. GARBER: Whose office?

MR. SCHMIDT: John Motsco.

A. We received it. We superimposed it on the roadway network. And then once you have all the contours, you develop the profile based on the elevations on the road themselves.

So for the neighbors and everyone, the site entrance is located at point A. And everyone who is aware of the site knows that the roundabout is higher. You can see how the profile goes.

Q. It's going up the hill towards --

A. Up the hill.

Q. Going on to the right and towards the roundabout.

A. Correct. This shows that the elevation comes upward and then from point A it comes slightly backward as well.

So we have to measure two aspects for sight distance, both the horizontal and vertical alignments. So in the south direction, based on the curvature of the road for a vehicle at its exit point, exiting the site access.

Q. And this is the existing exit point.

A. The existing exit point. When looking to the left, the first car coming northbound can be seen 365 feet away. That's the maximum distance that you can see a vehicle.

MR. GARBER: When you're sitting in the existing drive and you look to the left, which is looking south, to see northbound traffic on Harford Road, the first moment the sight distance is --

THE WITNESS: 365 feet.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Caloggero, what did you say the speed limits are designed there?

Given that you can see the curve in the road, what's the speed there?

A. Again, the State Highway Administration suggests 30 miles per hour to traverse this turn safely. There's advisory speed plates, as we had talked about earlier, on this road. The speed limit itself is 45, but they're saying you can't go 45.

Me, personally, I was in my SUV. I tried taking that at a higher rate of speed. I was extremely uncomfortable and had to brake pretty significantly to get to 35 to finish making the turn.

So it's 365 feet to the south and the sight distance to the north would be 440 feet.

MR. GARBER: At the drive, looking to the right, you're looking north. Now you're looking at southbound traffic?

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MR. GARBER: So it is how much?

THE WITNESS: 440 feet.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) That's the existing condition.

A. That is correct.

Q. Mr. Caloggero, in your opinion as a professional engineer, based on the geometry of the road and the curvature of the road, the factors, is that an adequate and appropriate sight distance for traffic exiting the subject property either turning left or right, the two dimensions-distances?

A. In my opinion, yes.

Q. Why is that? Expand on that.

A. We use AASHTO. The State Highway recommends that we review AASHTO, which is the policy of geometric design of highway and streets.

So I brought this ginormous manual here with me. We're only using portions of it. Again, this is a guide. It's not 100 percent set in stone that these are the exact numbers we have to follow but it is a guide, and professional engineering judgment should be used at all times.

So when looking at sight distance, when turning left --

MR. GARBER: When turning left outside of the driveway.

A. When turning left out of the site access, a vehicle should be able to see going at 30 miles per hour, 245 feet to make that maneuver safely.

MR. GARBER: Turn left at 35 miles per hour outside, 240 feet is the minimum sight distance you would need.

THE WITNESS: For 30 miles per hour.

At 35 miles per hour, they suggest 285 feet. And at 40 miles per hour, they suggest 325 feet.

MR. GARBER: Turning left out of the there, I understand the turn itself is recommended 35. Right in front of the driveway, it's 45, correct?

MR. SCHMIDT: It's recommended 30.

THE WITNESS: Recommended 30.

MR. GARBER: Recommended 30 at the turn?

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MR. GARBER: At the driveway what's it recommended?

THE WITNESS: Again, the vehicles can only be traveling --

You're basing it off of actual conditions. As the vehicle is coming around the turn, they're traveling 30 to 35 miles per hour.

If they're traveling 40 miles per hour, the sight distance necessary to make a move is 325 feet. We can see 365.

So, to me, based on the conditions of the road, the speed which you can traverse these turns, that's an acceptable sight distance.

Q. How about to the right?

A. To the right we have 440 feet. Again, for 40 miles an hour, it's 325 feet. Again, as you're coming down the hill, you have that sharp right turn. Again, you have to slow or else you're driving straight into the curve itself.

So as you're coming down the hill, you're making a sharp right turn. So vehicles are slowing. And, again, it's advised at 30 miles per hour.

Q. The sight distance in that direction is what?

A. 440 feet. Now that's just for --

The other reason why too, there's something else called stopping sight distance. Stopping sight distance is for the vehicles that are traveling on Harford Road.

Q. So you have sight distance for somebody who's pulling out of the property to turn left or right. Their sight distance.

A. Correct.

Q. Then you have stopping distance for the people who are on Harford Road.

A. That is correct.

Q. Is there any difference in the way you calculate or you view stopping sight distance versus the sight distance for the people in the car?

A. Yes.

Q. Can you explain that?

A. AASHTO explains it a lot better. But the thought process behind it is as you're traveling, you're slamming on your brakes or you're stopping or you're slowing.

And the purpose of stopping sight distance is to avoid a collision in the road. It's your second safety measure. It's typically the minimum measurement.

If vehicles along this road can stop if someone were to make a erratic maneuver, if a young child was chasing a ball across the street, and you can see that distance, that vehicle should be able to stop.

What AASHTO does as well with stopping sight distance, they build in additional safety factors. Perception-reaction time.

Basically, stopping sight distance is based on poor perception-reaction time, wet pavement conditions, bald tires.

So they add in a little bit more time for that person to identify the house or identify what's happening and be able to take their foot off the gas, onto the brake and slow down and/or stop.

And depending on the complexity of the situation, that perception-reaction time can go up. In this case, this is atypical. I used that word a few times. I hope it doesn't come back to haunt me.

But atypical meaning -- more typical meaning --

This road, as you're coming south, has numerous driveways. So the driver is expecting to see driveways, side streets. There's side streets here. There are driveways here. People should be -- the alert, careful driver should be expecting traffic or turning movements in the road.

Q. Can you quantity the requirement or is there a number for the stop?

You've given us the sight distance requirements.

A. Sure.

Q. How about the stopping sight distance requirements or recommendations?

A. So going right to the highest number, traveling at 45 miles an hour, I should be able to stop in 360 feet.

So if I were to somehow take this from going northbound and if I can get my car to take this at 45 miles an hour, at the same point that this car is existing the site to go south or to go north, that car should be able to stop within 360 feet. And the same south, which is 440 feet.

It's those factors that I review to determine if an access is safe or not.

MR. GARBER: Just to summarize that, if a vehicle is traveling 45 miles per hour on Harford Road in that stretch, they would need 360 feet for stopping sight distance. Whether northbound or southbound, it's going to be the same.

THE WITNESS: That's correct.

MR. GARBER: And then stopping sight distance, does it or does it not account for a part that is baked into the number, the poor reception-reaction time, whether worn tires and wet conditions?

THE WITNESS: That's correct.

MR. GARBER: Even ideal conditions would yield probably a smaller number. They've already, as I said, baked that into the 360 number.

THE WITNESS: That is correct.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Thank you. I believe that's Exhibit 15. I think you've prepared another. Maybe you can put this on the board.

A. (Complies.)

Q. Before you talk about that, let me give this to everybody.

(Discussion off the record.)

MR. SCHMIDT: For the record, the exhibit that Mr. Caloggero has just been explaining, which is a document showing a sight distance of 365 feet to the south, or left, coming out of the exiting property. And 440 feet will be 15A.

Exhibit 15B is, as I understand it -- and Mr. Caloggero will explain it -- essentially the same document except instead of showing a schematic, it actually has an aerial photograph superimposed on the top part. That will be 15B. This will be A.

MR. HOLZER: Got you. That makes sense.

MR. GARBER: For purposes of time for the remainder of today, this room needs to be cleared out, locked down by 4:30, which means that somewhere in the 4:00 time, a little after, is the time frame when we have to call it to get packed up and out.

(Discussion off the record.)

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Caloggero, you've explained, again, 15A and Exhibit 15B, which we've talked about ad nauseam, is an aerial photograph superimposed to show the actual geometry and actually show the road, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. That also has to the bottom part of the page the same contour and elevation grade changes, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. Also, I believe that you've explained there are corresponding letters and coordinating letters showing points of the road in terms of the elevation vis-a-vis the top portion and the grade, correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. The same sight distances are shown here; that is, 365 feet to the south, or to the left, when one would be exiting, and 440 to the north, or to the right.

A. Correct.

Q. I'm trying to make sure we get through this.

Is there anything else that you would like to explain or highlight as it relates to Exhibit 15B?

A. Absolutely. This, as you can see -- and the neighbors will clearly attest as well -- is the aerial. I don't have the date. It was taken from Google. In my opinion, clearly it's fall or the winter. There's no vegetation in here.

Not today itself but when I've been out to visit the site, the vegetation has grown which makes it a little bit more difficult for not only the site access but also makes it difficult for Boneparte, to make exiting maneuvers with that growth.

The few days that I was out there -- I visited days almost back to back or two days apart. So one day the growth was full. Then another day some of it was cut down. I don't know who but I noticed it was cut down to help increase sight distance. There was still some vegetation growth.

Now to help achieve acceptable sight distance, we have reached out to the SHA, the Maryland State Highway Administration, and they have agreed that whatever was in the State Highway Administration right of way, they would be more than happy to remove, as long as it's not above a certain size tree. Then they wouldn't remove it. But if there's weeds, the vegetation, the growth that would obstruct sight distance, it would impact safety for both existing plus future traffic.

So it may be hard to see but what we've identified here -- if this is north, the northwest quadrant of the site access intersection with Boneparte, there is additional right of way on the west side that travels up to the north side. Sorry. Up the west side, up to the north.

So whatever is in that area of right of way, the SHA has agreed to mow or cut down or remove the vegetation that should be removed to help sight distance.

Q. The purple line as shown on this plan, Mr. Caloggero, which shows the sight distance of 440 feet, is that entirely within the State Highway Administration right of way?

A. Yes.

Q. The State Highway Administration right of way, which the state has these rights of way adjacent to the paved sections of the road, allows the state to make such necessary maintenance or even widening, if they choose to do that at some point. So they would have the legal ability to come in here and make that mowing or cutting.

A. That's correct. It's their property.

Q. So you indicated that on one occasion for which you were out there, it was more fully grown and another occasion it appeared to have been cut back.

A. That is correct.

Q. Do you know if the state were the ones who came in and cleared that?

A. I do not know.

Q. Do they typically have on state roads as a general proposition sort of a maintenance schedule or a mowing schedule that they follow?

A. The State Highway typically has a regular mowing schedule. But for something like this, it would probably have to get onto a schedule to say there is concerns and this should be mowed weekly, biweekly, monthly, or addressed so that it's safe.

Q. In your conversations with them, they had agreed in fact to mow this and maintain it as is required.

A. That's correct. We're still under complete negotiations for safety.

Q. I know there's another design that we're going to talk about. In terms of this particular drawing, this drawing being 15B, this sight distance looks somewhat across the right of way which State Highway has agreed to maintain.

A. That is correct.

Q. Anything else about that particular drawing that you want to discuss or emphasize?

A. No. I think we've hit everything.

Q. Mr. Caloggero, you've started to indicate,

and I think I've represented to the Board, that you have had discussions with State Highway about this project, have you not?

A. I have.

Q. And those discussions are continuing, is that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. Ultimately, the State will require --

Let me ask it in the form of a question.

Will the State require an access permit for this particular location?

A. Absolutely.

Q. And ultimately then the State will determine or tell you what is actually required in terms of improvements, is that correct?

A. That is absolutely correct.

Q. As of today's date has an access permit been issued?

A. No.

Q. Let me next go to the next exhibit.

MS. DOPKIN: Before you leave this exhibit, may I ask Mr. Caloggero a question?

MR. SCHMIDT: Sure.

MS. DOPKIN: We have some paragraphs, Petitioner's 9, that show Harford Road and the Chevron sign both north and south.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MS. DOPKIN: That would be 9B and 9C. Does the Chevron signs, do those location of those signs appear on any of your drawings?

A. I don't believe we placed them on the drawings.

MR. SCHMIDT: We have some other pictures I'm going to get to of those signs. I think what you're referring to -- I will hold it up -- is Mr. Caloggero indicated that in some curves, it's like a curved arrow. But then when there's a severe turn, they mark it with signs like this.

MS. DOPKIN: I want to try to place them.

MR. SCHMIDT: We have some photos of them. We'll get there.

THE WITNESS: To the best of my knowledge, the signs would be located here.

On 15B, where we have labeled 365, so on the west side of the road, there would be Chevrons directing traffic around that turn.

MS. DOPKIN: So if you're going to turn left coming up to that turn, they're on the west side of the curve.

THE WITNESS: Right. Or right, when you're coming. It's telling you to turn to the right.

And the same curves, again for purposes of this drawing, somewhere between A and F, we'll call it, to the north of the site entrance there is going to be Chevrons in that general area helping southbound traffic turn.

MS. DOPKIN: What is the distance from the entrance to the roundabout?

THE WITNESS: I want to say 750, 800 feet.

MR. GARBER: Mount Vista Road or Glen

Arm Road?

THE WITNESS: Yeah. That's shooting from the hip. But I can get you that information. It's about 800 feet-ish.

MR. SCHMIDT: I'm going to mark this next one 16A and B. Let me make sure I'm giving Mr. Holzer the correct one.

(Discussion off the record.)

MR. SCHMIDT: 16A.

(Petitioner's Exhibit No. 16A-B marked for identification.)

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Caloggero, you had mentioned and Mr. Motsco has testified that the underlying site plan, which is Exhibit No. 1, shows potentially a new access or exit point from the property, is that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. Just to bring us to speed as to how that occurred, was that as a result of discussions that you had with State Highway Administration?

A. That is correct.

Q. Did they ask you to look at relocating the exit point from the property along Harford Road?

A. That is correct.

Q. And as a result of that and I think Mr. Motsco testified that you actually gave him input and then he showed it on the plan.

Does this plan -- "this plan" being 16A -- show a potential new exit?

A. That is correct. Yes.

Q. Under this plan, just to describe it, the entrance would remain the same, which is where the existing access point is today, correct?

A. Correct.

Q. When you turn in, you're to the right of the landscape island.

A. Correct.

Q. But then the exit would be -- when you're exiting, you're again right, because you're going the other way. The right of the landscaped island would move that to the north --

A. North.

Q. -- a certain distance, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. You were here this morning.

A. Correct.

Q. We showed some photographs of the area of the property that's involved and the potential trees which would be removed.

With all that being said, if you can, Mr. Caloggero, tell us what this drawing is showing, again, the top and bottom portion, and what that's showing in terms of sight distances and that potential construction.

A. Sure. Since we're now all educated on sight distance and plans, again, this is our plan and profile drawing.

What coworkers and I did out in the field is what we call spotted. We moved up and spotted. We walked up and down this portion of the frontage of our right of way and tried to determine the best available outbound sight for a car leaving this site.

So if we were to relocate the access point further to the north -- I believe we have it shown about 70 feet -- relocating it about 70 feet a little bit north around the turn, when looking to the south, the horizontal curve still is the obstruction but now we can see 450 feet away and looking to the north 500 feet, again with maintaining proper vegetation height on the west side of Harford Road.

As we talked about, it would be basically a really oversized monumental entrance, where you would have one way out on the north side, one way in on the south side, and we would have to close the existing outbound so there wouldn't be any confusion amongst the drivers.

So all drivers leaving, they would have to go -- it's two one-way systems basically from the point of curvature heading towards the parking lot, towards Harford Road.

Q. Obviously this plan doesn't change any of the other factors or conclusions that you've rendered insofar as speeds and sight distance and stopping sight distance, correct?

A. Correct.

Q. This is just providing an additional merely 85 feet to the south?

A. Correct.

Q. And I believe an additional 50 feet or so to the north.

A. Fifty or 60 feet to the north. Correct.

Q. Also, there are some photos on this plan. "This plan" being 16A and B.

Can you tell us what those are depicting?

A. Correct. The top picture on the drawing that's somewhat imbedded into the plan view shows in the southbound lane, generally leaving the roundabout, what you're seeing as you're coming down the hill towards the site access.

At this point, you can see a 45-mile-an-hour speed limit, but right before that it tells you that the speed limit is 45. We need you to take this at 30.

It's different that the signs are next to each other that way. But, again, that's a reverse turn sign that shows it's a straight 90 degree and then to the right 90 degree and then up 90 degree with the arrow. Again, that signifies a sharp turn or turn ahead.

The one below is a winter photo taken where you can see without the vegetation, looking up towards the roundabout.

Q. To the north.

A. To the north, yes.

MR. GARBER: The bottom photo, it says, Looking from proposed exit.

I'm looking at the proposed exit, and I see that Boneparte Avenue would be to the left, right.

THE WITNESS: No. That would be -- sorry. That picture may be from point A on the drawing. That's from its existing location.

I think the picture we were using here was just trying to show if the vegetation was cut down how far you can see to the north.

MR. GARBER: Where it says, Looking for proposed exits, it's actually looking at the existing exit and reflect the sight distance today from the same exhibit but it was winter.

When you probably could see the proposed exit, it was winter.

THE WITNESS: Correct. Again, this access would move a little bit further to the north. The line of sight comes inside where this line of site was inside. So closer to the west. I apologize for that.

MR. GARBER: That's okay.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Anything else about this exhibit, Mr. Caloggero?

A. No. I think this shows how -- again, trying to work with SHA, they ask, How can we increase the sight distance? This is one way we can increase sight distance.

Q. Finally, Mr. Caloggero, this will be 16B.

MR. SCHMIDT: I will give it to Mr. Holzer.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) This is also, is it not, sort of a schematic with an aerial rendering of the alternative with the relocated outbound or exit lane.

A. Correct. So, again, this is the plan view. What we were asked to do here by the Maryland State Highway Administration -- and they came up with some really good questions, and that's why we're doing all these exercises -- is they came back and said, How about if we relocate the entire access directly across from Boneparte?

The State Highway Administration, they asked us to review. Because we've talked about moving the outbound access. They said, What about inbound? Can we move inbound certain areas to make things work better?

A lot of times they want the intersection and the line to cross from Boneparte to try to make the intersection work more efficiently.

So what we did was we reviewed three different locations where a vehicle would turn left into the site.

Vehicle 1, in yellow, that's turning left under all scenarios of our existing and our proposed access from the last drawing, which was 16A.

So when looking from Vehicle 1, Vehicle 1 can look southbound, because now they're looking at northbound vehicles. Vehicle 1 can see 345 feet.

That's going to be enough sight distance to be able to make a left turn safely as a vehicle is coming around the turn. Then all they're just trying to do is clear 12 feet.

Looking in the opposite direction, Vehicle A coming down the hill --

MR. SCHMIDT: Which is also yellow.

A. -- which is also yellow, can see 332 feet away. So as that car is slowing, stopping, hopefully has their directional on, that's how far you can see back. Vehicle A can see Vehicle 1 making the left turn.

So then we looked at Vehicle 2, which would turn into the existing outbound area, so looking at another alternative for the existing outbound.

So Vehicle 2 in orange and looking at Vehicle B in orange, Vehicle B can now see Vehicle 2 360 feet away. So that's a little bit better than Vehicle 1 by approximately 30 feet.

However, Vehicle 2 can only see 190 feet to turn left. That's going to create a hazard in my opinion. I think we need about 200 feet. And I can get the exact numbers.

But we want a little bit more sight distance, when turning left into the site, in my opinion. And that obstructed -- Vehicle 2, when looking, is obstructed by the fence on the neighbor's property across the street.

Q. I believe that's Ms. Foxworthy.

A. Then Vehicle 3, we looked at --

And, again, we're eyeballing a potential inbound access where a vehicle might stop or kind of where we have our outbound proposed condition.

Vehicle 3, again looking backwards, we can see further up the hill. So Vehicle C can see Vehicle 3 about 425 feet away. However, when looking for northbound vehicles, again we are at 191 feet due to the (a) curvature of the road and (b) the fence.

So we're kind of in that conundrum area; what is the best location for outbound, what is the best location for inbound?

So that is why we have our proposed access as shown previously on Exhibit 1 and 1A, where we would have recommended to the SHA to have inbound. And if they wanted to increase the outbound sight distance, we could move it further to the north for outbound but maintain inbound.

However, I do want to go back and say, we've testified that the existing, in our opinion, is still sufficient and safe.

MR. GARBER: If you had to come up with an improvement, that would be an improvement. You're saying come up with an exit-only lane that would be to the northeast of the existing access.

THE WITNESS: That is correct. We've submitted a lot of this information to the Maryland State Highway. They are still in review.

I guess they have to weigh the checks and balances of the network and what we've shown them for them to determine what we would need to do to obtain an access permit from the State Highway Administration.

MR. GARBER: Is there any reasonable expectation that they may come back with something that's completely different from this?

THE WITNESS: Oh, yeah. Maybe not completely different. I don't know what their goals and objectives would be, besides our goals and objectives, which would be to make it better.

But as we're moving stuff around, I don't think there's many different areas where we can move an access.

If we move it further to the south, the sight distance using 16B, looking to the south, the sight distance to the south gets worse.

MR. GARBER: For example, if you go down to the west side of the property where the abandoned road is, you wouldn't have an expectation that they're going to say, You probably should use that as your ingress point or egress point.

THE WITNESS: I believe we have shown enough information and enough data to the State Highway Administration, again, where we believe we have provided a safe and efficient access and alternative to that safe and efficient access to a different one that's also safe.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) I think what Mr. Garber is asking you is you don't anticipate the State Highway Administration to ask you to explore the driveway that's been closed that go through the back of the property.

MR. GARBER: I'm thinking fairly different than what is depicted in 15, 15A, B, 16A, B, that we are sitting here today looking at these plans that may not ever come to fruition and then be something completely different than what happens down the line and the effects we can't take a look at here today.

MR. SCHMIDT: Obviously, the Petitioners are at the mercy of State Highway Administration. They asked for data, as Mr. Caloggero has indicated. He's given them all kinds of data and all kinds of different alternatives.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) Mr. Caloggero, you would expect the State Highway Administration in granting an access permit here to select one of the options that you've shown on Exhibit 15A, B, 16A or 16B?

MR. HOLZER: Objection. There's another alternative, and they denied the access altogether.

MR. SCHMIDT: Right.

Q. (By Mr. Schmidt) If they granted an access permit, you would expect it to be as shown on 15A, 15B, 16A or 16B.

A. That is correct. And I believe we've demonstrated, in my opinion, today with the sight distances, the stopping sight distances, the speeds, the curvature of the road, the SHA warning signs and how they would like us to drive the road and the conditions that you can physically drive the road that we have provided is not only existing safe but we believe we've provided alternatives for what may be safer egress, while maintaining a safe ingress.

MR. SCHMIDT: I would formally offer 15A, 15B, 16A and 16B into evidence. They've been marked and explained by the witness.

MR. HOLZER: I have no objection to that.

MR. GARBER: So admitted.

MR. SCHMIDT: With that being said, I think that's a good time, Mr. Garber, to stop.

MR. GARBER: I don't think there's any problem with that.

MR. SCHMIDT: Unless any members of the Board have any questions.

MR. HOLZER: Could we just say on the record that next Wednesday, I believe it is, is the next hearing date. We'll still start at 9:00. There will still be their case going on.

MR. GARBER: The witness is still on the stand.

MR. HOLZER: For cross-examination.

MR. GARBER: To finish direct and cross.

MR. HOLZER: Exactly. And then after that the sanitarian, he'll go.

So is it fair to say that my case won't start until after lunch?

MR. GARBER: Without knowing how long you expect to take on cross-examination, that's probably reasonable.

MR. HOLZER: I'll make sure it's responsible.

MR. GARBER: Fair enough.

MR. SCHMIDT: Let me say for the record, I understand the prohibition on talking to witnesses who are testifying. I will not be discussing Mr. Caloggero's testimony.

However, as he's indicated, he has continued to make these submissions to State Highway

Administration. If he's advised that State Highway Administration has decided on one of these, or whatever, I would like him to be able to tell me that between now and next week. I will tell Mr. Holzer, if we get that information.

MR. GARBER: Yes. If something materially changes in relation to these plans and his testimony within the next six days, I think that's only fair.

MR. SCHMIDT: If he calls me and says he gets a letter from State Highway saying, Do this, I will let you know what it is.

MR. HOLZER: That's fair.

MR. GARBER: We are reconvening next Wednesday, September 12th, 9 a.m. in the Board of Appeals' room, not the County Council, not here. The Board of Appeals' room. And, therefore, if we have standing room only, we'll rotate people in and out as necessary.

Before we close the record for today, Ms. Dopkin does have a question.

MS. DOPKIN: For southbound traffic on Harford Road, there is a considerable downhill grade.

THE WITNESS: Correct.

MS. DOPKIN: Does that affect the stopping sight distance?

THE WITNESS: Minimally. They usually look at zero to 3 percent and then 3 to 6 percent as stopping sight distances on a grade. I didn't believe this was more than a 3-percent grade coming down the hill.

If I can elaborate a little bit more to help out the situation, that's part of the reason why I've asked the State Highway Administration to also not consider 2 and 3, due to that downgrade. Area 1 is more flat, where you can make that turn more easily. I forget exactly where the --

Going back to the very first drawing, 15A, that's more difficult to see, but you can see where the letters on the north side of the site access, so from J to B, it's a downgrade. As you get to B to

A, it's significantly less.

So when you're turning beyond A and B, it's a fairly flat area, and we believe it allows a safer inbound maneuvering. Again, the SHA will be reviewing all this.

MS. DOPKIN: Second question: Is 30 miles per hour recommended speed as opposed to does the state put any physical improvements in the road to slow traffic?

THE WITNESS: In certain instances. There's measures. I'm sure you've seen rumble bumps or even rumble strips or the cutouts in the road, where if you cross the center line and there's slots in the road that makes a humming noise. So there are those types of measures.

MS. DOPKIN: Would they be appropriate here?

THE WITNESS: If people obey the signs and follow the advisory speeds, they're not needed. Usually you start taking those additional measures, if there's an accident history.

If this was a brand-new road and a speed limit of 45 and you had people running off the road itself, then you may want to add the Chevrons and then put the rumble bumps in the road to warn people of an unsafe condition or a hazardous condition. But it's usually a stepping-stone.

I don't know the accident history here. I don't want to suggest an accident history or not. However, if there was an accident history of excessive speeds and running off the road, crossing the road and into the curb area, then I would anticipate the SHA adding additional corrective measures.

MS. DOPKIN: Lastly, it appears the state owns the right of way on the west side of the road but not on the frontage of this Petitioner's property.

A. Correct.

Q. Would they be required to donate the right of way to State Highway Administration?

The second part of the question: If so,

would that result in any improved sight visibility?

MR. SCHMIDT: For example, as a condition to the access permit?

MS. DOPKIN: Yes.

THE WITNESS: They have not, to my knowledge, at this point. We received one letter, I believe, in November from the State Highway Administration. And I don't believe in that letter they suggested any donation of right of way.

Any widening here, and typically widening if this was a much higher use, or if the SHA was thinking of trying to get a four-lane section from the roundabout to the south to some location, if there was an excessive amount of traffic using Harford Road, they would consider that.

Right now I don't see a need for that, and it would be a large project on the State Highway Administration because of the slopes coming down into the road. It would be a significant cut and significant retaining walls.

MR. GARBER: Thank you. Any questions

based on that?

MR. HOLZER: I have a lot of questions, but I'll hold them.

MR. GARBER: Fair point. Thank you.

(Whereupon the hearing was suspended at 4:03 p.m.)

WHEREUPON --

MR. GARBER: We are here today In The Matter of Nepali American Cultural Center, 12231 Harford Road, Case Number 18-122-X. Just a couple of announcements to begin today. Number one, if anybody needs an ADA compliant bathroom, it is located on the first floor. Number two, there are sign-in sheets outside. Please sign in, so we know that you were here today. Also, we have a court reporter here today. For anyone who is going to be testifying, please make sure to keep your voices up and also, we don't talk over one another to help her with her transcription of your testimony or questions, as applicable.

If you have cell phones, please turn them off. There is not going to be any noise tolerated over the course of this hearing. So no matter what someone may say on the stand, please remember this is a courtroom and we will conduct this hearing in that manner.

With that in mind, would counsel please introduce themselves.

MR. SCHMIDT: Good morning. For the record and here on behalf of the Petitioner, I am Lawrence E. Schmidt, with the Law Firm of Smith, Gildea and Schmidt, with offices in Towson at 600 Washington Avenue and serving with me -- I will allow him to introduce himself.

MR. KOTROCCO: Timothy Kotrocco and I am 305 Washington Avenue here in Towson, 21204.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Kotrocco, you are here today as counsel, correct?

MR. KOTROCCO: Yes.

MR. HOLZER: For the Protestants, J. Carroll Holzer, 508 Fairmount Avenue, Towson, Maryland 21286. I representing the Gunpowder Falls Watershed Preservation Association and 102 other individuals and I have the names and addresses here. I will give counsel a copy and I will give the Board three copies of that. I am not sure, because of this new arrangement, who I am supposed to hand the exhibits to.

MR. GARBER: Ms. Murphy is taking care of exhibits and Ms. Dopkin will take care of sign-in sheets.

MR. SCHMIDT: For the record, would that be Protestant's Exhibit No. 1?

MR. HOLZER: Yes, it will be Protestant's Exhibit No. 1.

MR. GARBER: Okay, are there any other preliminary matters?

MR. HOLZER: Yes, there is. If I can have a second?

MR. GARBER: Sure.

MR. HOLZER: I have a copy of the Motion for Counsel. This is the original copy of the Motion and do we need two or three?

MR. GARBER: You need three, in total.

MR. HOLZER: I will mark that as Protestant's Exhibit No. 2, at this point.

MR. GARBER: So it is an exhibit?

MR. HOLZER: Yes.

MR. GARBER: Counsel, also remember you guys do not have a mic this time around and with the number of people here today, since your voices are being directed towards us and away from the audience, please keep your voices up so people in the back can hear what you have to say, as well.

MR. HOLZER: Members of my family never say I am too quiet, so I think they will hear me all the way to the back.

This is a Preliminary Motion, Members of the Board for the Board to require applicants compliance with Baltimore County Zoning and State Environmental Laws to require the applicants to comply with its submitted site plan submitted below, to comply with conditions set for in the ALJ's grant of approval. If you take a look the cover part of the Motion has a number of attachments. I would like to have the opportunity to explain what these are and why this is relevant.

This presentation, this Motion, has nothing do to with religion. This presentation has to do with health safety and welfare issues that would affect both the community and anyone, anyone including the applicants, who attend the subject site. So that the Board can understand, on July 28th, there is another event that is scheduled in addition to some that have occurred in the past, in which the applicant has made a lot of publicity about attracting folks to the site on that day.

In view of that, the subject of this Motion is basically to protect them, their visitors, and to protect the communities that are surrounding the site. Number one, you will see, I have done a synopsis, which I indicate on your outline, I indicate the improvements without building permits and over the past number of months, a number of improvements have been made or attempted to be made and there have been no permits issued. You will see the documentation under the appendix that I will get into when I look at each one.

MR. GARBER: Can I stop you real quick. If there was work done without permits, it is really not subject to special exception hearing for today --

MR. HOLZER: -- correct.

MR. GARBER: In relationship to the Special Exception Hearing, I understand.

MR. HOLZER: Code Enforcement has taken action and you will see that in one of your appendix, as well as the Department of the Environment, as well as the State Highway Administration.

The next area would be public safety and there are incidents in regard to road accidents and so forth, a serious accident. They have actually had a denial from the State Highway Administration, that unless the entrance to this property is protected and changed, it should not be used for anything that is going on out there. It has been used, not only for a prior gathering but also been used for volleyball and other outdoor type activities.

Events held without application and approval from the State Fire Marshal. I will go into that. The gathering permits, there have been none. The State roads, I have already indicated. There is no record of potable water on the site, no record of disposal of human waste and no approval of water quality and there are other technical issues I don't really need to get into.

If Your Honors take a look at Appendix 1, you will see that there have been no permits issued. I am not going to belabor Your Honors with going through this, you will have an opportunity, I believe, to go through it. Each one of these appendices has an attached document that established the truth and veracity of what it is saying. Under Appendix 3, no permits have been issued by the County for electric. Appendix 4, photograph of signage without a permit being issued. Appendix 5, one of the representatives of the applicant acknowledged that well, sewage and road access and signage needed to be done and then issue B, public safety. There are curves, a narrow road, difficult access. I can personally attest to that and the filing of a Police Report as Appendix 6.

There is also, if you care to look, also Appendix 7, there is a photograph of an accident, a very violent accident occurring right before the entrance to the subject property that you all can see.

As indicated, issue number C, the improvements without application or approval of the Fire Marshal.

This was a vacant property, an attorney who many of you may be familiar with used to own the property. It went up for sale. It had been vandalized before the applicants acquired it and so forth.

The Fire Marshal has indicated that no one on behalf of the applicant has been there in contact with them. Issue No. D, events held without required approvals, no gathering permit was sought or granted for over two hundred people there in the past. The State Highway Administration will not approve -- under Exhibit 10, will not approve the entrance as it is. And I think you can see in one of their attachments, they said why is this property even being used. That is under Appendix No. 11, has not approved the existing entrance and this site should not be operating at all, the State Highway said.

Appendix 12 is a warning order issued by Baltimore County. Then subsequently Mr. Jablon's office is well aware of the potential problems and the issues involved here. Appendix 21 is the indication that on July 28th, through August 3rd, there is a fundraiser posted for the property and there has been no indication whether that has been called off or whether it is still going to take place. If it is, it is without any permits, we have been advised by Mr. Jablon's office.

Events that have been held there so far, being it a large gathering or simply athletic events, no records of proper handling of human waste or potable water, no approval of water quality and no record of any indoor plumbing that there is septic and/or well.

Also, as you know, this case comes to you from the Administrative Law Judge decision. I was not in that particular hearing, although, many of my clients did attend and there was a decision. The Administrative Law Judge attached certain conditions to the documentation of approval, and under Roman Numeral III, issue is they failed to meet any of the requirements in order to be able to continue to have not only these events but to have an understanding of this Board as to what you are approving and whether you are approving something appropriately or not. They failed to apply for necessary permits and licenses and failed to install the sign and meet the environmental protection issues that the Department of the Environment, we met with them and they indicated they have done nothing in that regard. And you will see the other three issues, failed to obtain the State Highway Access Permit. They cannot even today, indicate to you that they can have proper access to the site because there are some concerns relative to what the State Highway wants them to do.

In conclusion, and I want to say this for all of the people because I am not treating any of the folks that are sitting on that side of the hearing room different than I am treating the ones directly behind me. It seems to me, for all of these reasons, health, safety and welfare reasons of not only the community but the folks that may well be on that side of the hearing room attend these events or attend this site, for their health, safety and welfare, we believe this Board should continue this case until such time as the County at least accepts they review what is going on in this particular matter of these items I have set forth and approve -- and approve and/or issue permits. The reason that I am saying that is that I personally went out and I never got onto the property, I did not want to go onto the property, but I drove Harford Road up -- it has been a long time since I have been on that road, and frankly it scared me to death when I got to the curve right before the entrance to this property. Because of the way the fence was, I was able to thankfully back in and turn around. I could not see a thing.

I am really concerned about anybody who uses this site until the State and the applicant gets the opportunity to meet the County Regulations and Requirements. For you to have to sit here and listen to this hearing, which is going to go on for possibly six more days after today, it seems to me that that process could be speeded up. It seems to me that the Board would understand what they are approving, as opposed to just saying oh, it is okay, not just because it's a religious institution but for anybody, any project, that would go in there.

So I understand we have other days and we have gone through a lot of trouble to schedule these other days. It has not been easy on any of the attorneys but it seems to me in fairness to the public, and when I say public, I mean both sides of this hearing room, that we have some of the answers.

Last of all, it should be more presentable in terms of the Board to you, so that you understand your heavy responsibility and what you are approving and what you are listening to and what you are analyzing.

MR. GARBER: The relief you are seeking is basically a postponement at the moment?

MR. HOLZER: As a long way of saying, yes. I tried, when I was trying to get ready for the hearing this morning over the last month or so, I tried to look at all of these different issues and see that it is really not fair to anybody, even the other side to be put in a situation where they don't know where the septic is, they don't know where the well is or if they can access the property. They don't know all of these things and yet they are asking this Board to make a determination that it is okay for us to go in there. If it is okay for them to go into the site, then fine. We all know what our etiquette is here before the Board. Everybody gets the opportunity to say what they need to say and to prove what they need to prove. Then once they have done that, it is all in the hands of the Board.

Under these circumstances, when you review the attachments and review the documentation, I think this is premature. I'd love to try it, it being six days more of hearings plus today, but I just think it makes sense to everyone to have this explained better and have the County approve.

The department -- Mr. Jablon's office -- it is easier to say it that way -- has issued two warnings, if you want to call them not necessarily cease and desist, two warnings, don't do these things. We have to have various permits issued and they have been doing it anyway. What that has done has caused the community to get very upset, very upset, as to what is going on in this situation. In fairness to the other side, if these questions are answered, then maybe there won't be the kind of negative reaction among the community that currently this kind of activity has produced.

I know that certain elected officials have reached out to try to see what could be done, resolve and maybe it could, but not under these circumstances. So I tried to figure out what kind of motion was I going to say. Put yourself in my place, we have this situation. Do you let it go on? Let this hearing go on? Take appeals and fight over whether they have a State Highway Permit or not. Do you do that or say wait a minute, for everybody's benefit and the Board's included, what can we do to clarify this case and that is why I phrased the Motion in this way.

I was not asking the Board to grant an injunction. I was not asking the Board to show a code violation, that is not the purpose of this. I want to make it clear that isn't really the purpose of it.

MR. GARBER: Let's hear from Mr. Schmidt.

MR. SCHMIDT: I will take a stab at this one,

Chairman Garber. I have the same question Mr. Garber, that you did, as I was listening to Mr. Holzer and that was, what is he actually asking this Board to do. As I understand it, he is asking for a continuance, which obviously, we would object to. I quite frankly believe, moving this hearing forward, and getting a resolution of whether the underlying use is permitted is the most appropriate way to move forward at this point in time.

Just in responding to his Motion, I guess first from sort of a legal argument, obviously the jurisdiction of this Board in this particular case is to hear the underlying --

MR. GARBER: You can sit down.

MR. SCHMIDT: -- I want to say, for the record, I apologize. I am not moving to Bermuda. On Tuesday, I broke my foot.

MR. GARBER: I just saw the cast. By all means, feel free to sit down.

MR. SCHMIDT: I don't have a pair of pants that work over this.

MR. HOLZER: I am going to object to that. I had to wear long pants this morning.

MR. GARBER: No one can be more sympathetic than me.

MR. SCHMIDT: Just returning to my comments before. Obviously, the Board, this is not a Zoning Violation Case. The Board is not part of the Code Enforcement. It is not an appeal from a Code Enforcement Decision. The Board does not have any authority to issue injunction or instructive ruling or anything like that. All these matters that Mr. Holzer are talking about to me are a matter of Code Enforcement, assuming they are a matter of Code Enforcement at all but that would be the body and the forum in which this matter should be heard.

Just to give the Board a little flavor of what is going on here --

MR. GARBER: I am trying to confine it to the Motion, it will use as a road map. This is helpful, your Motion, but I will ask the same of you. I am trying to figure out where we are. I asked as a preliminary matter, this is identified as a preliminary Motion. I want to, as best as we can, keep within the confines of that to see if there is something that has to occur prior to the commencement of the hearing.

MR. SCHMIDT: That is what I intended, Mr. Garber. Again, the case before you is a Petition for Special Exception, where we are seeking to use this property as a church or a building for religious worship as identified as a Special Exception use in the RC2 zoning regulation. That is what we are asking you to do. The only facts I was going to explain is that Mr. Holzer indicated, this is an old property that has a building on it that is very old, has been rebuilt, prior to when my clients acquired it. It is an old property, a historic property, that they have identified and they want to relocate and convert the building that is there into a building for religious worship.

MR. GARBER: When you say historic landmark property --

MR. SCHMIDT: The underlying property has a historic designation affixed to it, as well as an outbuilding has been designated as a historic building.

MR. GARBER: Okay. I wanted to clarify that point.

MS. DOPKIN: Who --

MR. SCHMIDT: Baltimore County. So my clients have acquired this property. They are not proposing any exterior improvement or enlargements. They are not knocking down buildings. They are going to convert the primary structure on the property to a temple, a building of worship for religious use. They are not using the building for that purpose at this time. They are not using the property at this time for that purpose.

As Mr. Holzer indicated, when they acquired the property, the property had been vacant for a number of years. There had been vandalism, we believe, both before and after their acquisition of the property. They have been clearing the property of trees and weeds and doing exterior maintenance and clearing and work on the building. That is what they have done on the site, whether the Special Exception would be granted or it wouldn't, to provide power, plumbing, et cetera, to the building, would certainly be their right and they would obtain permits in order to do that.

I am not sure what this Motion is all about, other than sort of a backhanded way, to say that they don't want my clients to come on their own property for any purpose until these hearings are concluded and until a decision has been rendered by the Board.

My clients are not using the property for religious purposes, at this point in time. Even assuming, arguendo, that they were, that would not be a matter for this Board, it would be a matter for Code Enforcement if they did not have underlying approval, which then leads me to my next point, is in fact, Judge Beverungen, ALJ Beverungen granted a petition for Special Exception below, which until and unless this Board overturns is in place and there is a valid Special Exception that Judge Beverungen has granted.

What this is actually all about is that, quite candidly, the members of the congregation are doing a lot of the work and care on this property to rehabilitate this property. Additionally, they are proposing to have a fundraising event at the property later this month. I would submit that if the Protestants and Mr. Holzer objects to that, they may well seek a remedy but not before this Board, I will submit. The Board does not have any authority, I do not believe, to issue any order prohibiting my clients from doing anything on the property or not anything.

I would point out, my clients went to John Beverungen and in fact asked him if it would be appropriate for them to have any type of events or gatherings on the property, pursuant to his order. I have a signed letter from him but I only have one copy. I would be happy to submit multiple copies to the Board.

MR. GARBER: That would seem appropriate to do.

MR. SCHMIDT: It is a Motions exhibit. It says that, I understand that the owners are proposing to host a gathering on the property on July 29th. I also understand that Code Enforcement has been notified, et cetera, and Code Enforcement has suggested that such a gathering would violate the terms and conditions of my January 22nd, 2018 order, granting Special Exception relief. I respectfully disagree and will note that the conditions which are envisioned by Section 502.2, relate solely to the operation of the building for religious worship, which was the relief granted in the Special Exception case. The owners are free to gather on their property, so long as no religious activities occur in the building and all the other permit requirements are satisfied. If that is the case, there is no violation of my order. The order should be treated no differently than any other citizen that wishes to host a party or a picnic or a social event on their property, that is what John Beverungen said.

I offer that not to ask the Board to either ratify or object to that, because again, I don't think this is a matter that the Board respectfully has jurisdiction over it. It is a Code Enforcement matter, to the point of this case, we are asking for Special Exception. You are going to hear testimony about the use of the property. You are going to hear testimony from expert witnesses. I don't need to get into my opening statements about some of the issues that Mr. Holzer has talked about in terms of traffic, well, septic and those issues. You will make a determination whether this property can be used as a church or building for religious worship and will not be detrimental to the health, safety, and general welfare of the locale. That is your task.

Again, I was trying to figure out what Mr. Holzer was asking for. I think he is asking for an injunction or some type of relief like that. He understands, obviously, you don't have the authority to issue that, so he is asking for a stay. I think that is inappropriate. I would think everyone in this room, both sides, would want this Special Exception adjudged, as to whether the underlying relief which we've requested should be granted. We can all move forward if it is granted. My client will go forward and make the necessary improvements pursuant to County Law.

The other thing I will say is how many plans does this Board see? I would submit, most of the time, where proposals are speculative in nature. Every Development Plan, for example, most Special Exceptions that come before you, people are proposing to build buildings or things like that.

MR. GARBER: Like final landscaping plans and final lighting plans --

MR. SCHMIDT: Absolutely. There is going to be an additional process for this proposal to move forward. As I see it, the Board in the Special Exception case, like many of these cases, is in essence the first step and it is a step to establish what use may be allowed. Once the underlying use is determined and permitted, typically the applicant moves forward with what I call the development of the subdivision requirements, Storm Water Management and State Highway Access Permits required for the State Road, similar approvals and similar processes.

I am not telling any of the members anything that you all have not seen or experienced in these types of cases. For all of those reasons, we would respectfully ask that we go forward today.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, do you have a brief response?

MR. HOLZER: Yes. I am not asking for this Board to issue an injunction. I am not asking for this Board to do anything other than to continue this case so that you understand and that the County Permits and Department understands what is going on here, which relates to whether this property can be used for religious purpose. If you look at your Appendix, 20 and 22, there have been prayer gatherings in the building. So that is what is being suggested is not true. There have been prayer gatherings in the building. So Mr. Beverungen's letter is inappropriate to the discussion we are having here.

MR. GARBER: I will say I don't think that the letter is appropriate for us to consider or comments from Code Enforcement as to what they think is happening or not happening or in violation or whatever.

It isn't appropriate for us to consider at this time. We'd require an evidentiary hearing for us to place stock in that and that obviously did not occur in either event. Where that leaves us with this, let me back up. Are you done responding to --

MR. HOLZER: Pretty much. I was basically saying we are asking for a continuance so that the Board can understand whether or not this property can be used for religious facility.

This is like the donkey being backwards. It is okay for you to say it is okay for them to use this property for religious purposes, but you don't know whether they can fix the access. You don't know whether they can get sewer, water, plumbing or whatever. You don't know. How can you intelligently decide, oh yeah, they can use it, when you don't know the basic building blocks to be able to do it. It would be different if there was a piece of property that is in Baltimore County, that is served by water and sewer, that zoning says it could be by Special Exception and it could be on a side road like the

Stevenson case --

MR. GARBER: That rings a bell.

MR. HOLZER: It does, unfortunately or fortunately. This is different. This property is different. It has long sat and it has been vandalized. They can't find the septic. They cannot find the water or where the well was. How can you intelligently determine -- and they cannot get in or out, according to the State Highway Administration. How can you intelligently say, if all of those things come to pass and get approved, we will do it. Isn't that really backwards? He says that is the way it is always done. Maybe the way it is always done is backwards, is improper. I have been doing this a long time -- I know that means stop.

MR. GARBER: You can sit, same courtesy I extended to Mr. Schmidt.

MR. HOLZER: I like to stand. I am an old prosecutor. That is what I am saying. I think this is a case that should be resolved in someway between -- Mr. Kotrocco has talked to me about that. You know, I always want to try to settle cases, if they can be settled. This case cannot be settled when you got the State Highway saying you cannot get on the property and you should not be having people coming in on July 28th. So it is not in that posture now. Put it in the posture where the County Code people say it is okay. We are going to issue permits. We will do all that and then the Board, when you are deciding, can we approve this property, you will know whether the State Highway has an answer. You will know whether Mr. Jablon's office can respond and say yes, we can issue permits. Then you are making an intelligent decision. Now you are not -- excuse me -- you are --

MR. GARBER: Say informed --

MR. HOLZER: Informed is better. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I will sit down. You understand what I am saying.

MR. GARBER: Number one, it seems to me some of these issues being raised are Code Enforcement issues and they are not in front of us today as Code Enforcement Violations. We don't have original jurisdiction over those matters. It is not much that we, sitting here today, or in the scheduled six days to follow can do anything about, visited by the ALJ first and then properly appealed before we continue on those matters.

Second, it is common practice in courts all the time, what we do is we respond to what is being placed in front of us. What is being placed in front of us, and we don't have the full scope yet, whatever plans offered up by Petitioner. If they do not have the entrance, egress, ingress situation fully resolved, if they don't have some of the other matters fully resolved, we can still technically proceed as to whether or not the use would be, I guess in accordance with the Baltimore County Zoning Regulation and whether it matches the Special Exception factors in 502.1.

It seems to me that perhaps some of those matters can factor into whether or not they can prove their case. I am sure you will be addressing over the course of the hearing your frustration on those points. We don't know what is going to happen, how can we have a hearing, is well understood and well-founded. It is a matter of frustration, sometimes for the Board as well in these situations because sometimes there are questions that come up and the hope is during the course of the hearing they can be resolved or answered by Petitioner or Protestant.

MR. HOLZER: Mr. Chairman, in response to that, because you and I have known each other a long time and you have been on the Board a long time, you normally know what that strategy says is the Board is going to approve this site subject to condition, conditions of highway approving --

MR. GARBER: That is what the ALJ founded and placed those conditions in this particular case.

MR. HOLZER: You see what happened. He placed a condition in regard to not using the building for religious institution and in fact it was. So conditions can be violated and that is what I am saying. What the strategy of the Board is in historical context is to say, okay, we are finished with it. Now it is up to the community or the citizens to watchdog whether or not the conditions that we imposed. What I am saying in this kind of situation is that really does neither side a service. It means the community is constantly going to be watching these people and constantly picking up everything they do and making a complaint about it.

On the other hand, you have those people who believe they can function appropriately and do whatever they want to do and the citizens are opposed to it. That is not a good strategy to accommodate the public community as a whole. That is what I am saying here. I have been doing this since 1974. I see it happening and I see the ramifications of it. What I am trying to say is, there should not be animus between all of the people on that side and all the people on this side. That should not occur. They should be met and respected and they should be in a situation where they believe and they know they are doing something right, not in violation. I am telling you, there has already been a history here of noise and outdoor music. In Mr. Beverungen's condition, he said no outside music and then the citizens complain of hearing outside music. Do you see what I am saying? I see nothing but confrontation between the parties when they should be working it out.

MR. GARBER: Even accepting all of that and being sympathetic to all of that, what the law gives us authority to do is rule on the Special Exception case.

MR. HOLZER: I already made the decision.

MR. GARBER: As to Code Enforcement or other violations, we cannot do anything about that sitting here today, which I understand is frustrating to people on both sides of the room here, but at the same time, there is not much we can do sitting here today and since we have all these people here today, it is best we just get started with the hearing. Some of these matters are going to come up during the course of the merits of the hearing. Ms. Dopkin, Ms. Murphy, anything you want to add?

MS. DOPKIN: Are we going to hold the Motion and rule on it later or now?

MR. GARBER: As to a Motion to postpone this entirely, I have to rule on that now. I would deny a Motion to postpone this at this time.

MS. DOPKIN: I agree.

MS. MURPHY: I agree.

MR. GARBER: With that in mind, any other preliminary matters?

MR. HOLZER: I cannot think of anything right now.

MR. SCHMIDT: I wanted to correct myself. Ms. Dopkin, it is on the MHT List, not Baltimore County. I misspoke before. Given that the motion is denied, I assume, Mr. Garber, you want to hear from me in terms of an opening statement at this point?

MR. GARBER: The board would like to hear a road map of where we are going and what we are doing.

MR. SCHMIDT: A couple of things, and not necessarily preliminarily, so that the record reflects obviously because we are not in the Board's room, there was a stipulation filed for the record. I wanted to state that regarding the fact that we do have a court reporter here who is maintaining the record of this case and we have agreed to provide the Board with a copy of the transcript from today's proceeding and we will get you that.

MR. GARBER: Each day's proceeding.

MR. SCHMIDT: Each day's proceeding and in so far as future days, we have a number of days assigned the next is September 6th. I think Mr. Holzer and Mr. Kotrocco and I will inform the Board and try to get a sense of the number of people who are going to be here. I would assume your preference would be to be in your Board Chambers and hearing room, if possible. We anticipated a large crowd, at least on the first day. We will work through Ms. Cannington on that in the future, just trying to make it convenient for everyone.

MR. GARBER: It is also largely a matter of what the County Council can accommodate more than anything related to that. If we are busy here, we cannot use it and if we are back there --

MR. SCHMIDT: I appreciate, for the record, Ms. Cannington doing all she has done to accommodate us. We anticipated a lot of people standing out in the halls which is not a desirable situation. We will keep moving forward with that and obviously the attorneys can work together to do that.

In terms of my opening and I will give you a bit of a road map of where we are. I have behind me, and I can walk. I am not very quick but I --

MR. GARBER: Is there a way we can shift those so that it is near the Board and the witness and also the audience.

MR. SCHMIDT: I have smaller versions I can give to each Board Member, as well. I have one for Mr. Holzer, too.

MR. GARBER: I think it is better and this way the audience gets to see them. I mean again, this is going to be touch and go. We are trying to make sure you guys can see what is going on. We have to move the easels back when the witnesses are on the stand. For purpose of the opening, so you guys can see what is being referenced.

MS. DOPKIN: I suggest that you use the chairs to prop them up. It will make it easier.

MR. SCHMIDT: While those are being set up, I can approach the Board. I have a copy of the smaller version of two documents and both of these are what is on the Board. Mr. Holzer, I can mark these as an exhibit at the present and have them authenticated later.

MR. HOLZER: So it is easier for everybody, which one is this?

MR. SCHMIDT: I am going to mark and ask Ms. Murphy, Petitioner's Exhibit 1, the site plan. This is a plan that again is the same thing you are seeing on the board. That is right, Mr. Garber. The document is entitled, Plan to Accompany Petition for Special Exception and is prepared by Little & Associates and I will mark that as Petitioner's Exhibit 1. Petitioner's Exhibit 2 --

MR. GARBER: Do you have the file copy or the actual exhibit? Do you have an extra copy for Miss Murphy? Remember, four copies, the actual exhibit and one for each Board Member.

MR. SCHMIDT: I will give you a fourth copy as Petitioner's Exhibit No. 2. This is an aerial photograph of the subject property. It is the same one that is on the easel over to my left. It's labeled just 12231 Harford Road. The subject property is outlined in sort of a pink highlighter around the perimeter of the property.

MR. KOTROCCO: This is a full size copy.

MR. SCHMIDT: I would mark the full size as 1. I think that makes sense. I am going to approach the drawings, if I can. It might make it a little bit easier.

MR. GARBER: Keep your voice up so the court reporter can hear you.

MR. SCHMIDT: I certainly will. I will try not to stand to block anyone's view. In terms of my opening statement, Mr. Garber and Members of the Panel, the subject property is located in the Glen Arm Community of Baltimore County, as Mr. Holzer indicated, Harford Road is the public road adjacent to the property. On the site plan you can see that Harford Road is labeled, a State road, Maryland Route 147 and essentially borders the property on two sides.

The subject is an irregularly shaped property, about 31 acres in area altogether and it is zoned RC2, is the zoning classification that is affixed here.

It is an interesting property. We have heard a little bit about the historic. As Mr. Holzer indicated, it was previously owned by an attorney, Mr. DiCicco some know him in legal circles in Maryland. Historically, this has association with Napoleon, specifically Napoleon's nephew, as I understand it at one time owned the property. You will see a street immediately across the entrance called Bonaparte Avenue, that obviously comes from that name.

The property is improved with an existing principal structure, one time used as a dwelling. Mr. DiCicco was, I believe, the last resident there. We have a number of photographs of the property I will get through with one of the witnesses. It is a very attractive mansion type of structure originally used as a residential building for a number of years. The original structure, as I understand it, burned down and the building there now is a replacement structure. It is not historically designated. The historic building which is designated is the barn to the very rear of the property, which is still there and I would say in somewhat fair condition.

In addition to the barn and the building, there are a number of other outbuildings, out structures that sort of surround the improved complex. Some sheds and existing pool which will eventually be removed, a two story building proposed to ultimately be converted to a caretaker's cottage and you will hear testimony about that, as well. There is also an existing sports court or tennis court or volleyball, all of these are labeled and we have photographs of.

Access to the property is from Harford Road. There is an existing drive that comes in off of Harford Road, that leads back to the interior of the property. Really the changes to the property from a physical standpoint and from a construction standpoint are generally limited, although there will not be a lot of interior changes to the building to accommodate the temple, but generally an increase in parking shown on the site plan. You see the parking spaces provided here. There is a note on the plan that shows there are 38 parking spaces required under the County Zoning Requirements, specifically Section 409 of the regulations. There is a requirement of one space for every four seats in a religious building.

We believe that parking is sufficient and there will be testimony about the worship area of the temple, which will be, again, within the building. The relief that is requested here is a Special Exception under the RC2 zoning regulations and obviously, as we have already talked about in addressing the Motion, your task here is to determine whether the proposal would be detrimental to the health, safety, and general welfare of the locale. We believe it will not be detrimental and the request as Mr. Beverungen found shall be granted.

This is an interesting case from my perspective, and I think Mr. Kotrocco's, too. When I talked to him and him and I teamed up like we did for many years across the street to work on this case together. To the extent that the Zoning Regulations, as you know, say that the Special Exception that is permitted in the RC2 zone, is it a church or building used for religious worship. I would say that as many people on this side of the room and those of us in the front of the room are familiar with what we think churches are. Whether you are a Christian or Jewish or some of the other more predominant, from a numbers standpoint religions, you are familiar with the way a Christian Church or a Jewish Synagogue may operate and how services are conducted with the traditions of that particular church.

This church and my client are people from Nepal, as the name of the Petitioner, the Nepali Community Cultural Center suggests this is an Eastern Religion. I would submit, the services are conducted and the religious worship is conducted in a matter that is unfamiliar, at least to me as a Christian and somewhat unfamiliar with some of the more eastern -- I did represent in Catonsville, the Hare Krishna Temple located there. I had some familiarity. Again, it is a bit of a different world from what you might normally except or accept, I should say, in so far as a typical building.

You are going to hear testimony from a number of people and my first witness hopefully today is going to be a gentleman, who is a trustee of the Petitioner, who will explain to you the way the religious worship will be conducted here. It is interesting, and I think the main distinction that I noted that particularly impacts the land use issues in this case, is unlike the more typical Christian churches and Jewish synagogues, there is no single event that occurs here on a weekly basis. In other words, people don't go to church here on a Sunday morning as you might expect in a Christian church. Instead, it is spread out over the week. This is the way that the worship occurs. Because of that, from a land use and zoning standpoint, as opposed to looking at a significant volume of people coming in at any one time on a Sunday morning or Saturday or a Friday, whatever it might be, it is more spread out. You will hear testimony about how the way that works.

We will have testimony about the operation. There are periodic festivals, which would generate a larger crowd, similar to the Christmas season and the Easter season and Passover and Rosh Hashanah those holidays we might be more familiar with and there are festivals. You will hear testimony about that. You will hear testimony from my client that we believe that the building can accommodate these uses and the site can accommodate these uses and the use will not be detrimental to the health, safety, and general welfare of the locale.

In addition to that testimony, we have a number of expert witnesses that I anticipate calling. Mr. John Motsco who prepared the plan will probably testify today, as well, as to the plan and property and give you a description on that. Mr. Holzer noted some of the other issues that were certainly identified before Mr. Beverungen below. I anticipate testimony on that, although probably not getting that today.

We've engaged the services of a traffic engineer, Traffic Group, Joseph Kolagero, and he has done a study and will testify about the traffic issues. We also have an expert witness who can testify about well and septic issues. This property is a RC2 property and not served by public water and sewer. There was, obviously, a well and septic system which was in place to serve the original house. You will hear the well and septic plans as they will relate to the proposed use, again not a new building.

In addition to that, I would say that my understanding is that regrettably, I would agree with Mr. Holzer, this proposal has caused a schism and differences of opinion in the neighborhood. There are a couple of citizens who I know are here who would like to testify in support of the proposal and there are many who are concerned and may be in opposition and obviously those people may testify, as well.

That is generally a road map of what the case is generally about. I will leave it to the witnesses to discuss these issues in more detail. I would say, and I know Mr. Holzer and I have been on opposite sides of the table many times, and I think although we disagree with each other, we work with each other in terms of scheduling. If there is anybody who is a witness who cannot come back for another hearing date, I certainly have no objection to taking people out of order if the Board is comfortable with that. If someone is going to be away in September or have an issue like that. I may have one lady from the community who I am aware of who may want to testify this morning. I am going to check on that and see. Generally, that is what I will propose in terms of moving forward.

MR. GARBER: Thank you. Mr. Holzer.

MR. HOLZER: I am not going to give the Board a road map. I am going to reserve my opening statement until he has finished their case and then I will bore the Board with a rather long opening statement but I won't do it today.

MR. GARBER: With that in mind, now we will move these back. So let's move the easel back and call the first witness.

MR. HOLZER: Mr. Chairman, Mr. Dewey Clark was the one at the hearing below. Could I ask permission to have him sit up here with me? He has done a lot of work with regard to the prior testimony.

MR. GARBER: I have no problem with that.

WHEREUPON --

KRIS GHIMIRE,

the witness, having been first duly sworn to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, was examined and testified as follows:

THE REPORTER: Spell your name and give your address, please.

A. Kris, K.R.I.S. Ghimire, G.H.I.M.I.R.E. my address is 5048 Springhouse Circle, one word, Rosedale, Maryland 21237.

MR. GARBER: Pronounce your last name.

A. Ghimire.

MR. SCHMIDT: Mr. Ghimire, if you can, keep your voice up.

EXAMINATION BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. Mr. Ghimire, I think you have identified your name. Did you give your business address?

A. It's 8030 Belair Road, Nottingham, Maryland 21236.

Q. Mr. Ghimire, I am going to ask you a couple of questions about your background, if I can first. Where were you born, sir?

A. I was born in Nepal and came to the United States in 1998.

Q. Have you been in the United States continuously since 1998?

A. Yes.

Q. Are you an American Citizen?

A. Yes, I am.

Q. Just in terms of this request, do you have a position, sir, with the Nepali American Cultural Center of Baltimore?

A. Yes. I am one of the founding members and a member of the Board of Trustees.

Q. What do you do for a living, sir?

A. I am a Real Estate Broker.

Q. So you are not a full-time employee of Nepali American Cultural Center of Baltimore?

A. No, I am not. This is voluntary work.

Q. Are there any full-time employees of that organization?

A. Not at this time.

Q. So it's a group of volunteers?

A. Yes, all volunteer, a hundred percent volunteers.

Q. And generally folks who are from Nepali or have Nepalese Heritage?

A. Nepalese Heritage and some who are affiliated with Hinduism and also, you know, want to know about Hinduism.

Q. Tell us, if you can, what is the Nepali American Cultural Center of Baltimore, what is its focus and function?

A. So the single mission of our center is to establish a Hindu Temple in Baltimore. For Nepalese, many people you see here today, this is our first temple.

MR. GARBER: I am sorry, it's your first temple?

A. First Nepali Temple in Baltimore County, yes. Just like Greek American who came to this great country for us, this is a dream and this is a place that my children and all of these people can call a place of worship, a temple.

Q. What is the religion that is associated with this temple, Mr. Ghimire?

A. So majority of Nepalese are Hindus but Hinduism and Buddhism is a very big part of Nepal. People participate in a Hindu Temple and pray and people in Hindu Temple go to Buddhist Temple and pray. It is a Hindu Temple with Buddha being one of the Gods.

Q. And now, how long has there been a Nepali American Cultural Center of Baltimore? When was that organization started?

A. About two years, the legal entity about two years but we have been talking about it for about three or four years.

Q. Now you indicated that the function of that organization was to find a place for you all to worship, is that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. Can you tell us a little bit about what search you undertook and how it is you came to find the subject property on Harford Road?

A. So we have been looking around for some time. We were looking for a big piece of property. This came on the listing, just a few days after the list -- it was listed on multiple site. We went in and checked it out, four or five members. We thought it was a perfect place for how we pray and how the temples are in Nepal. It is usually on the mountain, away from the residential area. I mean the hustle and bustle and in a place where you can meditate and pray. So we thought it was the perfect venue.

Q. How many people would you estimate are there in the congregation, if that is the right word of Nepalese descent or heritage in Baltimore County who would use this? What is the size of the group, generally?

A. So let me clarify a few things. It was mentioned thousands of people of Nepali heritage here which is true, that is an estimate, five to ten thousand people --

Q. In Maryland or --

A. In Maryland, in the Greater Baltimore area.

MR. GARBER: You said there are thousands that speak or of Nepali heritage in the Greater Baltimore Area?

A. Right. Not all go to temple, not all go to the same temple. The temple in Catonsville, there is one temple opening up in Baltimore City. There is -- before this temple, before those two temples, I mentioned people used to go to temple in Finksburg. It is a bigger Indian community, build Hindu temple. It is the same religion, we go to prayer and services in a similar way, yes.

Q. So you eventually found this property, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. You actually -- the Nepali Cultural Center of Baltimore owns the property?

A. Correct.

Q. You went to settlement and acquired it. Can you tell us, Mr. Motsco is going to testify but tell us a little bit about the property. Describe it to the Board.

A. So I am sure some of the neighbors went and saw the property when it was listed. A lot of our members did. It was in really, really bad shape. It probably was vacant for several years. The building has graffiti written all over the place, inside and outside. There were beer bottles and needles, you name it. You could find anything on the property. The trees were overgrown. It was, just you know, a piece of property that -- and kids from places come and party and doing whatever they were doing. We took it over and we cleaned it up. It looks beautiful now. We cut the grass. We still don't have the building ready for prayer, besides what I just heard from Mr. Holzer that everything that was said about the prayer was not true. The building is not ready. There is no running water.

MR. GARBER: I will jump in real quick. What Mr. Holzer said, that is not in evidence, but your testimony is the evidence being taken into the record. If you are going to say what he said is not correct, you need to say what is correct for purposes of the record.

A. I understand. Thank you.

Q. Explain that, if you can.

A. Yes. We call prayer -- in prayer voluntary gathering and to say a prayer before they start work or start clean up. I don't call that an official worship. So that is what is taking place. You maybe get in the car and say a prayer and drive a car. That is not your church or your temple or whatever faith you belong to. We have been doing -- a lot of volunteers and kids, my kids, their kids, go to the property and cut the grass. It is a thirty acre property and it takes a village to maintain that. Fortunately, we have the village supporting us for their first temple in Baltimore County.

Q. Mr. Ghimire, if you could, what I said and what Mr. Holzer and as the Chairman just said is not evidence, even though I have given an opening statement, it is not evidence before the Board. With that in mind, tell us a little bit about the buildings that are on the property at the current time.

A. So, there's a building behind the main building, a caretaker house, that needs to be taken care of and renovations to use it. There's a barn all the way down on the other corner of the property that is in kind of bad shape, that has historical nature to it. There's a swimming pool that needs to be removed. It is not in a usable condition. There used to be tennis courts. We can change that to a multi-purpose court, so kids can play volleyball, basketball and tennis. So that is all maintained. The kids go there to maintain the property and they sometimes play volleyball and basketball.

Q. Any other buildings on the property?

A. Those are the only ones. There's a little bathhouse next to the pool and is also in bad shape and that will be removed, as well.

Q. Which building will be used as the temple?

A. The main building.

Q. Are you going to build any new buildings on the property?

A. No.

Q. In terms of the primary building, how are you going to convert that or how is that converted --

A. We are not going to do anything with the building. When we had multiple meetings with the neighbors, open houses, we made this very clear. We are not trying to hide anything or surprise the neighbors. We are going to keep the building the way it is right now and that serves what we are going to do. The way Hindu pray, if I may expand on that?

Q. Yes.

A. You have temples in Nepal, like in Kathmandu where thousands of people come and the temples are pagoda style and like two or three people can fit inside the temple. So you don't have to stay for an extended period of time to pray and have a preacher or a priest come and preside over the services. So people come and meditate and pray and leave. That is the nature of how the services are done in the temple. So what we have right now is more than what -- the building is more than sufficient for what we are trying to achieve.

Q. Is there going to be any part of the building, Mr. Ghimire, that is going to be used for prayer, and if so, can you describe that?

A. So there's a main hall with high ceilings, as tall as this room here. So that room probably could hold like 80 to 100 people, that would be used for prayer.

Q. How about the rest of the building, how does that --

A. There are two big rooms on the same level, so we don't have exact plans but I think it is going to be a back office that the temple can use.

Q. Will there be a priest or a holy man of some type in the temple? How does that work?

A. The priest may live in the caretaker house, that has not been finalized yet. That is the only person that might be living on the property, so that still needs to be -- once we have the building ready for services.

MR. GARBER: Just to interject, you referred to a priest, is that the proper title?

A. We call it guru.

MR. GARBER: How do you spell that?

A. G.U.R.U, the English word that came from --

MR. GARBER: Guru, thank you.

Q. You touched on this a little bit before and you heard my opening statement. So hopefully, we can explain to everyone, the Members of the Board and the other folks here. Is there a particular singular day of worship, for example, like in many of the Christian churches on a Sunday, is this how the Hindu, Buddhist religion works or is it different?

A. I am very familiar with how Catholics pray and go to church. My wife a devout Catholic from the Phillipines. I have three boys who go to Catholic School. The oldest one goes to John Carroll and the other two go to St. Joseph's. We go to church every Sunday with my wife. She is very involved, voluntary donating time and doing all kinds of stuff.

Q. So you are familiar with the Catholic Church?

A. Absolutely. I can tell you what kind of nightmare we have on Belair Road on Sunday. I love St. Joseph and I love the church and school but you have people lining up all down Belair Road to Ridgely's Choice, coming in and going out.

Q. We are not here to litigate St. Joseph's --

A. Yes. What I am trying to say, that is not the problem you are going to have with the temple. It is not the temple that you have two hundred people come at the same time, with scheduled masses and you go and leave at a certain time. So Hindus don't come to services in that manner. So they come -- there is not set days, like Sundays is your church day, it is not like Saturday is a temple day. It is not set days. So people have their parents' death or an anniversary may be on Thursday or your birthday on Wednesday, if they want to have a religious function to celebrate those days, they come on those days. So it is not any set days that they all come at the same time.

Q. So people come seven days a week?

A. Yes.

Q. And some people can come on a Wednesday to commemorate that is a special anniversary of a birth or a death or anniversary or something like that?

A. Yes. Rice feeding ceremonies are Nepal when kids turns six or seven months and they take a bite of rice.

Q. Rice feeding ceremony.

MR. GARBER: You mentioned the phrase, religious function could be on any day. What do you mean by religious function?

A. So let's take a rice feeding ceremony, for instance. So when a baby -- when child turns six or seven months and starts to eat solid food, we have a special ceremony for that, symbolically feeding the rice, a spoon of rice, rice pudding, to a child that can be presided over by the priest at the temple as a part of a religious ceremony. The reception can follow at a restaurant or places where you can have meat, alcohol, whatever there can be as a typical party. At temple, you are not allowed to have alcohol or meat, so those are the strict codes that the temple follows.

Q. Let me understand that. So for example, if I was Nepalese and my child -- I had a child that was six or seven months who would start eating solid food, I could go to the temple on any day of the week --

A. Any day of the week.

Q. -- and there would be a ceremony and I don't know whether this is fair comparison but maybe similar to a baptism in the Christian church?

A. Correct, yes.

Q. Where the child would then take the first spoon of rice pudding or rice and there would be a priest there administering that, is that correct?

A. Yes. Let's say the baptism, it's a similar way we call Bratabanda --

Q. Spell that. The court reporter has to get these terms.

A. Bratabanda, B. R. A. T. A. B. A. N. D. A. So that is very similar to what I was saying baptism, so that is when the priest will preside over the service and that is, you know, so Bratabanda is like a baptism, that is a religious ceremony. Again, it is unlike -- I don't know how many have to -- unlike the regular wedding, it takes three or four days to finish up. You have the religious ceremony and the reception and sometimes they have multiple receptions, all of those receptions will take place somewhere else.

Q. If I can go back to the six or seven month old child to finish my questioning of you about that. As I understand it then, the priest would administer some type of ceremony for this child, marking the occasion of the child eating solid food, is that right?

A. Correct.

Q. Then who would attend that? Would there be a multitude of people attending that or who would generally come to something like that?

A. The religious ceremony is obviously the youngest don't like to attend and you have to force them to go to church. They are like I don't want to go, I will just go to the reception. Always immediate families and their immediate friends who go to temple for the service. We would like more people to come but in reality, that is not the case.

Q. How long would this ceremony generally take at the temple?

A. One to two hours for those special events.

Q. You indicated that you cannot have alcohol at the temple?

A. Not only inside the building but not at the premises.

Q. So you are not allowed to have alcohol on the premises. How about meat or other type of food?

A. No meat.

Q. You cannot have meat on the property?

A. Strictly vegetarian diet. At the time of the prayer, for the services, but at the reception you can. Again, the reception cannot be inside the building.

Q. So just following up on that, is this facility going to have any type of kitchen facility?

A. It is not needed.

Q. There will not be a kitchen?

A. No.

Q. So after the ceremony, if I wanted to have food or drink, I would have to have it somewhere offsite?

A. You can bring what we call a Prasad, P. R. A. S. A. D. So that is rice pudding, you have non-meat, vegetarian food, snacks and juice and milk, fruits. So those -- you can bring those to the temple and after the service is over you can offer those snacks, but not before or during.

Q. If I wanted to have a ceremony where I was inviting friends who may not be of that faith that wanted to have meat or alcohol, is it typical that that would be at a restaurant offsite?

A. That is why you would invite those friends to the reception, the reception that follows unless they wanted to come for the religious ceremony.

Q. So you've described sort of those types of events. If you can, tell us, how about sort of the regular event. For example, a Christian might go to church every Sunday or every other Sunday or once a month, depending on your view, but members of the faith, how often would they go to the temple, not so much for a special event for a child or a wedding but just to practice their faith? How often does that occur?

A. The interesting thing about Hinduism is if you go to any of the members' house, they have a little temple within their house. So basically, it is not required. You don't have to go to temple to have a service or be part of a service of pray. So they usually go on a special occasion to temple and sometimes for no particular reason, too. They visit and pray and meditate and come back.

Q. One of your members told me and I would like you to explain this to the Board about how there is a deities associated with each day of the week. Did I understand that?

A. There are 33 million Gods in Hinduism, that is what deities -- the major ones we worship and pray. So at the temple we might have four or five deities that we will install when everything is ready to go. Right now we don't have anything installed.

Q. You may have a statue of that deitie?

A. That is what I meant.

Q. If it was one of the members' choices that they may go a particular -- any day of the week to go worship or related to that particular deitie?

A. Yes, correct.

Q. How about festivals and special events, sort of in the Christian world, Christmas and Easter, Passover Rosh Hashanah and other Jewish holidays, major holidays like that, is there an analogy in the Hindu faith for festivals?

A. We have three to five, depending who you ask, major festivals that are religious. The line in Nepali between religion and tradition is intermingled. You can have Dashain, of one of the major festivals and you have Buddhists coming to that festival, so it is not strictly for Hindus but it is celebrated by both faiths. Dashain being one of the main festivals and Indian Festival of Lights and obviously the name Buddha comes from -- in our temple and Buddha was born in Nepal so that was respect that we can give to the name. So we going to be celebrating the day Buddha was born, the birthday of Buddha, so say three to four major festivals.

Q. Are these on an annual basis, that there might be three or four festivals a year?

A. Yes. Annual basis and they fall on the lunar calendar. Lunar may fall in September 22nd this year and October 4th of the next following year.

Q. Tell us, in terms of -- because obviously the Board has to consider the impacts of the temple on the community, at these temples, if you can, do they take several days? How many people are coming? What is going on for the celebration of that particular festival?

A. So festivals, the sign two major days, the 8th day and the 10th day. Those are the days, lots of members attempt to go to temple and get blessing and be part of the service. Again, it is not like you have a Christmas mass, where you go at a certain time. Again, there is no set time, as far as like you come and go.

So that doesn't mean that people will come at 5:00 in the morning, like between 9:00 and 8:00 p.m. or whatever time they prefer, so during the daytime they will, at their convenience, they come and go.

MR. GARBER: You said festivals, two major festivals are the 8th and the 10th day.

A. Dashain --

Q. Spell that.

A. D.A.S.H.A.I.N.

Q. So is Dashain sort of the major festival?

A. Yes.

Q. How long does that one last?

A. It is 15 day festival.

Q. When is that during -- I know you said based on the lunar calendar. Is it in the summer or fall or spring?

A. The fall, September, October.

MR. GARBER: Correct me if I am saying it incorrectly, Dashain Festival --

A. That is perfect.

MR. GARBER: What is that celebrating?

A. It's a celebration of victory of God over evil. You can kind of relate to Christmas. It is celebrated -- it is one of the major festivals in Nepal and offices and schools close for 15 days. Some of my religious friends are experts. I may not have that grasp of their religion in me.

MR. GARBER: Okay. Are you going to have other witnesses testify as to --

MR. SCHMIDT: No. I am having him as the main spokesman. He can articulate it better than some of the other folks may. Hopefully, he is understandable. To return then, we can get into further details. Following up on the Chairman's question, so that is a 15 day festival during the fall?

A. Yes.

Q. You indicated the 8th and 10th days are sort of the days that may generate, at least as it relates to this property, more people coming here?

A. That is correct.

Q. How long -- what length of time would someone come here on the 8th or the 10th day? Would they be there for five hours or thirty minutes or some other period?

A. Typically, about an hour and some may be in and out in 15 minutes. They come and bring the flowers and bring an offering, pray, meditate and go.

Q. Is that the same time frame for people who come on a routine, say weekly basis?

A. Yes.

Q. They would come for an hour or a half hour or so, say prayers, meditate, make an offering and leave?

A. Yeah. On a typical day, there are no major festivals and thinking max, ten to twenty people, not even all at the same time.

Q. Spread out over the day?

A. Yes.

Q. How about the festivals? How many would you anticipate would come to the festival -- first of all, this is a two-part question. First, how many people might come over the entire 15 days or on a daily basis might you have over that entire period?

A. I would say, not all people come all fifteen days, it is not expected. It is two days that are important for people. At any given time we are talking about 150 to 200 people.

Q. At any one time during a festival?

A. Yes.

Q. How many people you would have there?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay?

MR. GARBER: Can I clarify on that? So no major festivals going on, you can expect ten to twenty people being present at anytime?

A. Sometime maybe not that, but any given time, 15 to 20 people.

MR. GARBER: During a major festival on major days, you can expect up to 150 to 200 people being present at any given time?

A. Correct, yes.

BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. So the most you would have there at any one particular snapshot in time, if you said 10:00 a.m. on a particular day would be the 150th or thereabout, as you said?

A. Yes, in the middle of the day, like 1:00 or 2:00.

Q. Okay. Now, the temple is actually in the building, is that correct?

A. Yes, that is correct.

Q. Would there be any activity outside the building?

A. Usually on the festivals, the prayer takes place inside and the festivities can be outside, people gather around and talk and chat and those things, meet and greet.

Q. Again, you would not have -- the prohibition against alcohol and meat would apply to the entire property not just the building?

A. That is correct.

Q. If you had people outside greeting each other before they went in and prayed, you could not have alcohol or meat there?

A. That is true.

Q. Okay. Just a little bit further about the property. There is an existing access to the property presently, an existing driveway leading to the old building, is that right?

A. That is right.

Q. That comes in off of what road?

A. Harford Road.

Q. And you have been to the property before?

A. Probably fifty times, maybe close to a hundred.

Q. Have you had any -- we are going to have an expert witness about this, but have you personally had an accident or issues getting in and out of the property?

A. We had no issues getting in and out.

MR. GARBER: You have?

A. We have had no issues getting in and out.

Q. No issues. Have any of your members been involved in any accidents that you are aware of, getting in and out?

A. Not that I know of.

Q. Okay. I am not sure -- I don't think I asked you this, sir. Let me make sure. You are going to retain the barn, because that is a historic structure, is that correct?

A. Correct. We had an open house a couple of meetings with the neighbors, at one point the Greater Kingsville Association was part of the meeting. We invited and we opened up and said if you want to partner up and salvage this building and help us protect it and the County wants to help us and the State wants to help us. We are all for preserving the history of that barn. If that is important to the neighborhood then that is definitely important to us.

Q. And there's a caretaker building or a cottage, in addition to the primary structure on the property?

A. Yes.

Q. And I think you mentioned that it is possible that a priest or someone may live there to be on the site and take care of the property?

A. Yes.

Q. What are the hours, generally, that someone could come -- would be coming into worship, is it 24 hours or open during certain days and times?

A. I mean practically would be from 8:00 a.m. onward to like 8:00 or 9:00 p.m., practically.

Q. Seven days a week?

A. Yes.

Q. And how many people would you estimate come on a daily basis, is that the 20 or 30?

A. Twenty people.

Q. Does that change on the weekends? Do you have more people on the weekend or less or the same?

A. I would say probably the same, unless people have more time on the weekend and they want to drive by.

Q. I know that the focus here is the temple. Is there going to be any kind of daycare operation associated with this?

A. No day care.

Q. Is there going to be any kind of school, either a preschool or a religious school associated with this?

A. No school.

Q. How about any kind of camp or anything like that? Will there be any -- I know you have the festivals but any type of structured activity like that here?

A. We don't have camps.

Q. You don't have camps, okay. To be clear, sir, the property does not have public water and public sewer, is that right?

A. That is correct.

Q. You have engaged -- I know we will have other witnesses, but you have engaged other people to address the need to have water and sewage facilities in the building and on the property, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. If you know, just a little bit about the general area, Mr. Ghimire, if you know, are there any other churches or sort of institutional facilities in the area, if you would like, you can refer to the aerial photograph to your right.

A. Yes. Actually, if I may point, right here is the Redeemer School, this one, Redeemer.

MR. GARBER: Where are you pointing?

A. So this is obviously our building.

MR. GARBER: Within the pink outlined area?

A. This is our building here.

MR. GARBER: You are on Petitioner's Exhibit 2.

MR. SCHMIDT: The aerial photograph.

A. This property right here --

MR. GARBER: The area clear to the right of the pink outlined area beyond the woods, that is what you are referring to right now.

A. Yes. So this right here is Redeemer School.

MR. SCHMIDT: Mr. Ghimire, just because our court reporter has to get all of this down and cannot record when you say here or I am pointing to, let me narrow it down.

A. Sure.

Q. The area that is outlined in pink is the subject property where you are proposing to use as a temple, correct?

A. Correct.

Q. Within sort of the center of that, you can see the building. This is an aerial photograph. The main building in the center of the property?

A. Yes, right here.

Q. So it is even clearer, to the rear of the property or the bottom of the page --

A. This is where the barn is.

Q. You can see the barn in an area that looks to be pretty wooded?

A. Correct.

Q. You indicated that Christian Redeemer facility is to the right of the page, is that right?

A. Yes. Basically, we can stand at our property here. We are sitting on top of the hill. You can see this facility here.

MS. DOPKIN: What road is that on?

A. This is Mt. Vista and Harford Road. We are on Harford Road.

MS. DOPKIN: Where is the Redeemer?

A. Mt. Vista, right here. This is Mt. Vista.

MR. GARBER: Can you draw an X as to where the Redeemer facility is. I understand it may be large but so we have it marked and put your initials underneath the X, Petitioner's Exhibit 2.

BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. Mr. Ghimire, let me start with a couple of features on -- if you can stay up there for a second. Redeemer School, or the Redeemer facility, sort of towards the lower right-hand corner of the page, one can see a baseball or a softball field, the outline of a baseball diamond. Is that the Redeemer facility?

A. Yes. So my son -- we looked at this school as one of the possible high schools. I have been there and I know what it is. We almost sent our oldest one here but he wanted to go to a bigger campus so ended up going to John Carroll.

Q. Tell us and point out where it is, what is on the Redeemer Christian Facility property?

A. Right here.

Q. What is actually there? What happens there? Buildings, pools?

A. They have 220 students, according to their website that go there everyday and plus their parents. All of the extra activities that happen in school as we know as a parent, like baseball, tennis, basketball, you name it. Not only parents drop and pick up but even after school, prior to school and all that traffic.

Q. This is a private Christian School?

A. Yes.

Q. So they have 220 students.

A. That is one, two, three, four houses between us. Our property and this is a school here.

Q. Is the school from what grades, if you know? Is it a high school or middle school?

A. It is for sure a high school. I don't know how low where they start. I was looking at high school. I think it starts grade one through twelve.

Q. In addition to the school and the related facilities, are there other activities that occur on that property, that you know of?

MR. GARBER: Speak one at a time, please. What is your question, Mr. Schmidt?

Q. My question is, in addition to the school, Mr. Ghimire, are there other activities that occur on that property, if you know?

A. As you can see, there is a big corn maze here, this whole -- this area.

Q. You are pointing to a sort of yellowish square and that is a corn maze. Is there a swimming pool on the property?

A. I believe there is, yes. That is -- you know -- I don't know if that is part of Beachmont Camp or part of the Redeemer School but there's a pool and a volleyball and tennis court.

Q. You indicated Beachmont, what are you referring to there?

A. I think they have Christian ministry and offer summer camps and you have a big banner on Mt. Vista and offer services and anyone from any neighborhood can go and be part of the summer camp.

MR. GARBER: Are you saying that is part of Redeemer?

A. I think they are two different entities. They might be affiliated, related but I think they are two different entities. Beachmont is right behind, right adjacent to Redeemer Christian School. They are expanding here like sports facilities.

MR. GARBER: You keep using they. I am asking, are you talking about Redeemer or Beachmont or both?

A. Redeemer.

MR. GARBER: So they, being Redeemer, you think they are looking to expand to the east, closer to your property?

A. Yes, closer to our property.

MS. DOPKIN: Is there a church or any sort of worship?

A. Yes, it is a church, as well.

MS. DOPKIN: Can you indicate where that is?

A. The church is -- this is the church building right here.

MR. GARBER: Can you circle that, please, and put your initials by the circle.

A. And the schools are behind the church.

MS. DOPKIN: Is there only one church there, is it both Redeemer and Beachmont, only one church?

A. This facility, yes.

MR. SCHMIDT: I have premarked, if I can approach the Board. I will show the witness one and give you the fourth. Mr. Ghimire, I am going to show you a photograph that is a Google Map photograph that has some prelabeling in that. If you can tell the Board what is that showing, sir?

A. So you have Redeemer Classical Christian School and you have Beachmont Christian Camp and Beachmont Christian Ministries, also right next to it.

Q. And that is the accurate uses of those properties, to the best of your knowledge?

A. Best of what I know from the website.

Q. Is your property also shown on this Exhibit, Petitioner's No. 3?

A. Yes.

Q. That is to the left of the page, adjacent to Harford Road?

A. Yes.

Q. I would ask that you mark and accept Petitioner's Exhibit 3.

MR. HOLZER: No objection. We will come back to that later.

BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. In addition to Beachmont and the Redeemer Christian, are there any others, if you know, similar schools or churches in the immediate area that are shown on the aerial photograph, if you know?

A. Not immediately here. We know we have a pastor from a nearby church here, that may be testifying, United Methodist Church. I have been to a couple of the other Catholic churches around there, St. John's. So yes, we have a Pastor here also, would be testifying, also from a nearby church that shows on the map. He is from United Methodist Church. I personally been to a couple of the Catholic churches around there, as part of my son's basketball. I cannot really tell you how far they are in relation to our temple, but they are in Glen Arm, in that area.

Q. Mr. Ghimire, you understand you were at the hearing before Judge Beverungen in this case, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. You have seen his decision, have you not, sir?

A. Yes, I have.

Q. You are aware that both under his decision and under the County Law, you will be required to have your septic and well appropriately approved by the County, access appropriately approved by the State Highway Administration because Harford Road is a State Road and other requirements of Baltimore County. You are aware of that, sir?

A. Yes, correct.

Q. Is the Petitioner, you and your organization, agreeable to that and understand that?

A. That is true.

MR. SCHMIDT: I have no other questions of Mr. Ghimire, at this time.

MS. DOPKIN: I have a couple of questions about your religious practice. It appears that you do not have a set mass as you have identified.

A. No set masses, yes.

MS. DOPKIN: And you have many festival days, do you also have fast days?

A. Fasting, yes. That depends on each family, we base it on the lunar calendar, certain days that fast and could go on for a few days. You don't have to go to temple for that purpose.

MS. DOPKIN: Do people typically go to temple on -- you said you don't have to, but do people typically go on these days that they observe fast, festivals and celebrations?

A. Typically, yes.

MS. DOPKIN: And I got the sense that most prayer is individual?

A. Most prayer is individual. You can say individual family. So if it is a rice feeding ceremony, you bring your family with you.

MS. DOPKIN: In those instances, what is the role of the religious leader?

A. He will, you know, preside over the ceremony and he will read the religious texts related to that particular ceremony he is presiding over. He will read that over.

MS. DOPKIN: Religious texts are writings of the historic religious figures?

A. You can say Bible. In Hindu is like a Bible.

MS. DOPKIN: Is there generally ever music at any of the prayer events?

A. Just like in the churches, you have a choir. The priest, you know, would kind of -- some priests even read those lines in a kind of musical way.

MS. DOPKIN: A chant?

A. A chant, yes.

MS. DOPKIN: Are instruments used within the temple?

A. There may be one or two instruments used, yes.

MS. DOPKIN: What kind?

A. Harmonium, am I saying it correctly? Like a piano.

MS. DOPKIN: Thank you.

A. You are welcome.

MS. MURPHY: I have questions. Would your temple also be used for things like weddings? Could it be rented out?

A. Not for the reception, for the religious part of the ceremony where the priest will reside over the services, yes.

Q. How about something similar to say in the Jewish, like a Bar Mitzvah, confirmation?

A. Yes. Bar Mitzvah, I have been to, so not the wild party but the religious part of it, you will have the religious part and the word I say Bratabanda, it is very similar to Bar Mitzvah. The religious part of the ceremony takes place at the temple and the wild party will be at the restaurants and other places.

MS. MURPHY: And the music that you were talking about in answer to the questions just asked, that is only on festival days, do I understand that correctly?

A. Yes.

MS. MURPHY: Okay, thank you.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Holzer, it is your turn.

MR. HOLZER: I am going to be quite awhile and it is 12:00 --

MR. GARBER: When you say quite awhile --

MR. HOLZER: At least an hour or an hour and a half.

MR. GARBER: Why don't we -- an hour and a half to navigate time for a lunch break?

MR. HOLZER: We will leave it up to the Board.

MR. GARBER: Okay, 45 minutes?

MR. HOLZER: Whatever the Board wants.

MR. GARBER: I am trying to figure out for everyone what they need. We will come back at 1:00.

MR. SCHMIDT: Off the record.

(A lunch break was held off the record, and the proceedings were resumed as follows:)

MR. GARBER: Just to remind everyone, if you have your cell phones, turn them off as sometimes they are turned on during the course of lunch. If Mr. Holzer is ready and Madam Court Reporter is ready, you may proceed.

MR. HOLZER: Thank you, very much.

EXAMINATION BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. Mr. Ghimire, you testified and I tried to take some notes when you were going through your direct testimony, that you created the Cultural Center of Baltimore, the Association that you are now volunteering to, correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. And you said you created it approximately when?

A. The beginning of 2017. The legal entity that was registered.

Q. So last year, 2017?

A. Informally, probably in 2016.

Q. Was that done through a -- created an Article of Incorporation? Did you have to create that?

A. That is correct.

Q. Do you have a copy of that now, with you?

A. We -- Tim, do we have one?

Q. I would like to ask you if you could produce it for me, at this point?

A. I don't have it right now but we can produce one.

Q. Could you do that to my office before -- have

Mr. Schmidt or Mr. Kotrocco send it to my office before the next hearing date which is September 6th?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. You are the Resident Agent for that corporation?

A. That is correct.

Q. And you say that this proposed site will be the first temple in Baltimore County?

A. That is correct.

Q. Well, you have been functioning as a temple at your business address at 8030 Belair Road, is that not correct?

A. No, that is not correct.

Q. So you were not having --

A. You mean for the temple?

Q. Yes.

A. Yes, get mails over there. I don't know if you call that functioning as a business.

Q. Would people come to your office for potential worship, such as they are proposing for the proposed site?

A. No.

Q. So you only used it as a mail drop?

A. People come to visit me there and meet me there.

Q. Do they pray? Do they pray or participate in religious ceremonies?

A. Sometimes when we have a meeting, there could be an occasion when we pray before we meet.

Q. Okay. Are you still holding those kinds of events at your office?

A. Occasionally, yes, when it is convenient we meet there sometime.

Q. When you answered the direct questions, you did not tell us what business you are in at that address. Could you tell us now?

A. I thought I answered that but I am a Real Estate Broker and I run my Real Estate Company out of 8030 Belair Road.

Q. You have a Real Estate License?

A. That is correct.

Q. How long have you been doing that?

A. On and off, mortgage, real estate, last ten or fifteen years, give or take.

Q. Thank you. I think what might make sense and I told Mr. Kotrocco that I was going to ask you to go to the Board, your Exhibit No. 2 --

A. That would be --

Q. Yes, that is there.

MR. GARBER: The one to the left, the big one, that is No. 1.

MR. SCHMIDT: The site plan.

Q. The site plan. Would the Board prefer I go over there and show him what I am talking about?

MR. GARBER: I don't know what is going to be next. So whatever you think is best and we will adapt.

MR. HOLZER: I will try it this way and then we can move.

Q. Mr. Ghimire, I want to ask you some questions about the things that are listed on the site plan that are -- have been part of your testimony. I will have to go over. I don't want him to get confused. I will stand back here. On your site plan, there is an entranceway that I would assume that you are currently using to go in and out of the property, is that correct?

A. Correct, yes.

Q. Could you point out which one it is?

A. Right here.

Q. For the record, if you look at Petitioner's Exhibit No. 1, you will see what looks like a Y. It has a circle in the middle that allows you to go left or right, is that correct?

A. Yes, come in from here.

Q. Is it designated an entrance route and an exit route or they are available to use either way?

A. They are available to use either way.

MR. GARBER: You are talking about the existing driveway represented by a dotted line on the right side of the site plan?

MR. HOLZER: Correct.

MR. GARBER: Close to the intersection of Bonaparte Avenue --

MR. HOLZER: And Harford Road.

BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. There is another road designated alternative access drive, which is below the -- what I will call the Y access, is that going to be used, also?

A. Do you mean this road?

Q. Yes.

A. I guess our traffic expert is going to discuss that in detail.

Q. But you don't know the answer?

A. I don't know the answer to that.

Q. So you have not had any discussions with him with regard to whether that could be continued to be an access?

A. We had discussions but I'd rather defer that answer to the expert.

Q. I would like you to answer. If you know, you can answer. If you are saying I don't know --

A. I would say I don't know.

Q. Okay.

MR. GARBER: Just so we are clear, that is a solid line with the notation, alternate access drive that appears on this -- if we know the direction on it --

MS. DOPKIN: Above your left hand.

MR. GARBER: To the east of the dotted line which is the existing drive.

BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. Was there any testimony below that the Administrative Law Judge, as to whether there would be a road that you would not use?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. Are there any other roads off of this property, off of this site?

A. Not off of this road but there is some kind of back road over here. I don't think it has been used in years and not in good condition.

Q. It is not something you intend to utilize?

A. We have no plan to use that road.

Q. Why do you keep looking over at the lawyers?

A. I am not looking at the lawyers.

Q. I was thinking you were trying to tell them. Something. Let's get down to some business here. As I understand your site plan, the proposed parking and I think you said 38 parking spaces are new, they are not on the property now, right?

A. That is correct.

Q. And if you have one parking space for four seats, do we know how many seats there will be in what you have called the temple?

A. No seats.

Q. No seats?

A. Correct.

Q. No seats anywhere on any of the buildings?

A. There would be no seats on the regular prayer, the way we worship like I described this morning. On the special event, like weddings taking place, we may have temporary chair but we remove after.

Q. When you have those temporary chairs, will there be more than four times 38 people there?

A. No.

Q. If there is an event coming up on July 28th of this year that you have been advertising, since there is no parking space, where are the people going to park?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. We are not here on an event occurring on July 28th. You have already ruled on Mr. Holzer's attempted effort to get an injunction or something out of this Board, as it relates to any events that occur on the property now. It is just not relevant.

MR. GARBER: I will give you some leeway. You may answer the question.

A. So we have a lot of grassy area here where we can park cars like around this grass area, like flat.

MR. GARBER: Just for the record, the area you are referring to is where the proposed parking will be and where the existing drive is, the grassy areas that surround those.

A. To the right of that and where this parking is.

Q. Okay, thank you. In the past when you have had events here, is that what the parking arrangements are that people just park on the grass?

A. That is correct, yes. When we have regular events, you can see the long driveway loops around, so for 15 or 20 parkings we never had to park on the grass. You can park on the driveway.

Q. Did you ever have two hundred people there?

A. We had one festival last year and we had at one given time --

Q. Two hundred people?

A. We did not count the cars but close to two hundred.

Q. That is where you had to park the vehicles?

A. Here and here.

Q. On the road or on the grass. I would like to go over each facility that is shown on here. Let's take the easy ones first. The existing tennis court, I understand you -- I think you previously said something about volleyball, as well. Is that what -- this area marked as existing tennis court, is that what is going to be used for?

A. There was a tennis court to begin with, so we did not want to take it out. We are going to use what we have. If the kids go there, they can play volleyball or tennis.

Q. They are doing it now, right?

A. When my sons go there, they play pickup basketball, yes.

Q. Is that going to be enlarged or stay the same?

A. No, it is not going to be enlarged.

Q. Are there going to be any other kinds of athletic fields on the property?

A. No.

Q. No baseball diamonds?

A. No baseball diamond. I'd like to put a golf course but I can't.

Q. If you really want to make friends with me you can put a lacrosse field in there and I would be real happy. Let's go to where the next one is, the existing pool. You said you are going to destroy that?

A. It is unusable now so for safety reasons, we will block it off and do something but it won't be used as a pool.

Q. You are not going to remove it?

A. We will do what is necessary to make it safe.

Q. I don't care whether it is safe or not. I want to know whether or not it is going to be there as a physical entity or whether it is going to be eliminated so that it may become grass or whatever?

A. I am not a contractor so I am not going to give you a technical answer.

Q. You are the person --

A. My kids are going to go there. I want to make it safe for my kids to go there and play.

Q. I understand that and I applaud you for that. My question, though, is not whether your kids are going to be safe or you are going to be safe. I am trying to figure out what physical structure will stay there or will not stay there?

A. The pool will not be there.

Q. Huh?

A. The pool will not be there, swimming pool.

Q. The pool won't be eliminated?

A. The pool will be removed.

Q. I got you. Now next to the pool is an existing shed. What is that of?

A. I think it was used as a bathhouse after the pool.

Q. That is what you referred to as the bathhouse next to the pool?

A. Yes.

Q. And that will stay or?

A. That won't stay.

Q. Will not?

A. Will not stay.

Q. Next to that is a very tiny existing root cellar. You may not know what a root cellar is but it's an existing building facility there. Do you recognize that?

A. Yes.

Q. What is it?

A. I mean it is not being used by anything right now.

Q. I am really worried about or not worried, but I am concerned about what you propose to do if this plan is approved. If your request for a Special Exception is approved for a religious facility. So would that fit in the plans of the religious facility or the temple, as you call it?

A. The religious activity would be in this main building, so has nothing to do with the swimming pool and the bathhouse.

Q. So there is an existing two story dwelling, what is that now?

A. Caretaker house, not in a liveable condition right now.

Q. Was it literally a house, functioning house?

A. Yes, was not functioning when we bought it.

Q. I understand. Is that a one or two story?

A. Two story.

Q. Do you know how many rooms were in there?

A. I think it has two rooms upstairs and downstairs, I don't know. I want to call it a room. It is the drywall all taken off. It is empty space.

Q. You don't know what the dimensions of that are?

A. Not off the top of my hand -- my head.

Q. That is fine.

A. I did not know my house dimensions.

Q. I understand. I feel your pain. Now in regard to that, that is where you are proposing to have a resident reside there. Can you describe what that person is or what he would be doing?

A. You can say it is like a priest in charge of a regular church, presiding over services when he is not working.

Q. Is he going to be cutting the grass?

A. No.

Q. So he is going to be a religious person?

A. That is correct.

Q. And will he be there all the time?

A. Most likely.

Q. Okay. Where is he now?

A. We don't have working -- we have not started a temple formally, so we have not hired that person yet. We have to go through the interview process.

Q. Does that person -- you are very familiar with the Catholic Church and with the priest situation. Does this person have to go through official training in regard to Hindu, Buddhist?

A. Yes.

Q. He does?

A. Yes.

Q. He would be certified by some school?

A. I don't know if there is a certification for it but he has to have a Bachelor Degree in religion, called Acharya.

MR. GARBER: Spell that, please.

A. A. C. H. A. R. Y. A, so that would be a minimum requirement to have someone with that designation or degree.

Q. Thank you. If I could, I will be right back. Don't run away.

MR. GARBER: How do you pronounce that?

A. Acharya.

Q. Now, if you would permit me, save me walking back and forth I will leave this here. I did have to get my notes. Now, I understand for purposes of acquiring this property, you obtained a loan, is that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. And do you know the terms and conditions of that loan?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection.

MR. HOLZER: No, this is relevant.

MR. SCHMIDT: Maybe you can enlighten us why, Mr. Holzer.

MR. GARBER: Okay.

Q. On page 4 does one of the prohibitions in your loan indicate that you may not have a person residing on the property?

A. I don't recall that.

Q. Well, if I were to tell you to pull out your loan document and go to page 4, it precludes residential use on this property. Now if that is correct, how does that affect your plans?

A. I don't know how that is residential when the priest is working for the temple.

Q. That is a different question. I am asking you, to your knowledge, in regard to your loan, page 4 indicates that you cannot have a residential use of the property. Did you know that?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection. I am going to renew my objection, Mr. Garber. They can refinance the loan and they can go to the bank and say it is not residential, it's accessory. I have not seen the document. I don't think this Board can enforce a private loan document.

MR. HOLZER: I am not asking you to enforce a private loan document. I am just asking the witness whether he even understand what he was doing when he bought this property and what limitations there are on the use. I am not asking for the Board to make any decision.

MR. GARBER: My thought here is, I will give you more leeway with this --

MR. HOLZER: I don't need anymore, as long as what he said stands, I don't need anymore.

MR. SCHMIDT: Mr. Holzer, do you have a copy of the loan document, if you are going to reference it or submit it as an exhibit?

MR. HOLZER: I will submit it.

FURTHER EXAMINATION BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. Now let's get to the original home, which is now being called the temple. Do you know the square footage of that building?

A. Roughly five thousand.

Q. Five thousand feet, okay. In terms of floors, how many floors are there?

A. Two floors with a basement.

Q. And when you have been testifying before, you have testified about two places. There were two areas that could be used as offices and there was one main hallway that you felt would be used as a temple, is that right?

A. That is correct.

Q. And will your plans that are drawn up in regard to the use of that area as a temple, will they reflect that limitation that the rest of the second floor will not be used in anyway as the temple?

A. Not as a place of worship but you can use as an office.

Q. The whole second floor could be office. The other portions of the building, other than the hallway could be office?

A. The main level could be used for actual religious ceremony and services. The upstairs would be more like a back office.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Ghimire, if you'd like to sit down, you can.

MR. HOLZER: There is only one more place I need him to point out and that will be it.

A. I can stand.

Q. The only other building left to describe would be the existing barn and that is shown -- I think you have shown it before?

A. Yes, right here.

Q. You have offered that to someone, the community or whom in regard to preserving it or restoring it?

A. I see Robin over here and Doug Bear -- we have two meetings with Councilman, David Mark. I don't know if Jim Brochin was there, we had a couple of elected officials and Kingsville Association folks there. We had two meetings and discussed that in detail. We even walked in to see the barn.

Q. Have there been -- in terms of your finalizing that, would you be in a position to tell the Board that they can put a condition on any approval if they approve your request, that that existing barn be either turned over to a trust or turned over to a community association. Have you had any of those discussions?

A. David Mark was suggesting, I think the Kingsville Association was also suggesting those ideas and they never materialized. We are open to discussions.

Q. So again, there is a lot to work out in terms of what conditions the Board might impose on the approval, depending on whether or not it is followed up by you and the community association, right?

A. That is correct.

Q. Suppose you don't turn it over, you don't turn the barn over to the Community Association or to Baltimore County or whatever the deal works out to be. What would you utilize that for?

A. We have no use for it right now.

Q. Right now, but I am talking about in the foreseeable future?

A. I don't foresee any plan in 20 years in anything that we are going to do. We don't have any plans for it.

Q. Okay. You can sit down.

A. Thank you.

Q. I have asked you to produce the Articles of Incorporation and you said you would through counsel.

A. Yes.

Q. I would also ask you to produce the loan document, since it is a public document anyway. We have that but I just don't have it here. Could you produce that for purposes of the Board to see?

A. If it is relevant. I will consult with my attorneys -- coming from finance and real estate background, I feel like how is it relevant? People can get a loan from anybody as long as --

Q. It is relevant because it says you cannot have a resident on there.

MR. GARBER: You are well aware we are not going to enter a discovery order or anything --

MR. HOLZER: I am asking him to provide it to us, if he refuses, he refuses.

MR. SCHMIDT: I have objected to this line of questioning. If it's a public document, I guess Mr. Holzer can get it as easily as I can from the Land Records, assuming it is a recorded mortgage in the Land Records. I will certainly ask to get it from the client and review it with the client and Mr. Kotrocco and if we believe it is appropriate, I will let you know and if not, I will tell you that, too. I don't think it has anything to do with this proceeding.

MR. HOLZER: It does have something to do with it if you have a residential building that they are proposing to use as a priest or temple or whatever they are proposing have live there. I won't press it anymore. As a matter of fact, I will gratuiously send them a copy of it.

MR. SCHMIDT: Great, thank you.

MR. GARBER: You are welcome.

BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. Now let'S see if I have some notes. Now your testimony was that as far as the main building, you are not going to change the exterior, is that correct, or you will?

A. No, we are not going to change the exterior.

Q. As far as your current plans, that doesn't mean in the future you couldn't decide to do something different, but you are not building any new temple, any new structure or any new buildings other than what we've described on Petitioner's Exhibit No. 1?

A. You are correct, no new buildings.

Q. In the future, would there be sufficient area for you to build a school or for you to build a dormitory for campers or things like that?

A. We have no plan to build a school.

Q. I did not ask you whether you had plans. I asked you whether or not there was sufficient area in your opinion to do that?

MR. SCHMIDT: I will object. Mr. Motsco, who drew the plan, is going to testify and maybe that is a fair question to him in terms of what are the setbacks and floor area ratios that might guide whether you have sufficient room. To the extent this witness is able to answer that question from a nonengineering standpoint, it is 31 acres and the conclusion is that it is a pretty big property.

MR. HOLZER: That answers the question, instead of the witness.

MR. SCHMIDT: I think it does. I will stipulate that it is 31 acres.

BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. Now if for some reason things change and in fact a residence is permitted on that property, regardless of the loan documents or regardless of any County Zoning Laws, would it be in the site that you have proposed and designated in that building?

A. Yes.

Q. That building would not be enlarged?

A. No.

MR. GARBER: To be clear, when we are talking about that building, we are talking about the two-story dwelling we have identified as the caretaker house?

A. Yes.

MR. GARBER: That may or may not have a caretaker?

MR. HOLZER: Right.

A. Yes.

Q. Now the area in the main hall where 80 to 100 people could assemble to provide religious service or religious activity, what distinguishes that? I am glad that you testified that you are familiar with the Catholic Church and your children go to Catholic School. In a Christian Church you have crosses and an altar and you have, depending on what it is, you may have a communion area to take communion. You have an organ or a piano. You have an area for the choir or the orchestra, whatever the case may be. What will be in this area if this is approved?

A. Let me expand on what I said earlier about how the setup is going to be. The official symbol is going to be in the hallways that is the statues of deities, like different Gods. You have a low platform and the statue of God, like human size Gods will be placed like around the room. So the devotees, the people that come to temple, they will start from one statue all the way to the end to pray, offer and meditate and next statue and leave. That is how it is going to be -- that is how the hall is going to be differentiated from other rooms as a place of worship.

Q. So are you saying there would not be permanent pews like we have here in this courtroom?

A. No.

Q. No seats, no chairs?

A. We may have a few chairs lined up against the wall, like the chairs you see over there. Again, it is not required for what we intend to do.

Q. Okay. You said that there could be music and/or choir or some instruments. Would there be a place for them? In other words, in many church facilities, there can be a choir area for the people to sing and organ for the music. Would there be anything like that located here?

A. Not officially, no.

Q. Could I ask you just a personal question, is there any temple that I could go and visit to see what -- and I don't want to go see something that is very elaborate that is not what you are going to do. I would like to see something that is an example of what you are going to do. Is there any place I could go do that?

A. You could go to the one in Catonsville, Hare Krsna Temple, that would be a little more elaborate than us. The community that uses it is maybe twenty or fifty times bigger than the Nepal Community. They have been here long and have more people, so what you are going to see is bigger than what we intend to do.

Q. It would be sort of reflective?

A. You would see how the worship is done. When you walk in the main hall, you would not see any chairs and people, you know, meditate.

Q. And let me say this, I wouldn't want to offend anybody by going in and seeing that but is there something where a member of the public, who is not of your religion, could walk in and see it at anytime?

Are there specific times that you should go see it?

A. I don't know their hours of operation. I am pretty confident you can walk in anytime. It is an open door to the public.

MR. SCHMIDT: You have to remove your shoes, as I recall, correct?

A. Yes. Make sure you remove your shoes.

MR. HOLZER: Mr. Schmidt cannot go.

MR. SCHMIDT: Remove your boot.

Q. Thank you very much for that. I appreciate that.

A. You are welcome.

MR. GARBER: Sorry, I thought you were done there.

MR. HOLZER: I am done there. I am rolling onto something else.

Q. Now, I got mixed-up in trying to take notes of the festivals. As I understand it, there are three to five major festivals, Lights, Buddha's Birthday, 8th day, 10th day and Dashain Festival?

A. Dashain is the 10th day and they are the same.

Dashain literally means the 10th day.

Q. Gotcha. Those dates correspond to what months?

A. Even the month changes for Dashain, it could be September or October.

Q. What is about the Lights, Buddha's Birthday --

A. That follows 21 days after Dashain.

Q. Buddha's Birthday is 21 --

A. That is the Festival of Lights.

Q. And his birthday?

A. That is in April.

Q. Thank you.

A. You are welcome.

Q. Now, when I say we, I am not sure who I am referring to. I belong to an Episcopal Church and in the Episcopal Church that I belong to, we have a cemetery next to our church. Now is there any anticipation that a burial ground would be proposed for this site?

A. Good question. In Hinduism -- I meant to say that you asked a good question. We don't have -- we don't have a burial ground, we cremate. So cremation happens where there is a facility, so Hindus cremate.

Q. So that would -- so that would spur me to ask if one of your religion passes away, would you have a religious service, what we would call a funeral, religious funeral? Would you have something like that where the family and friends get together?

A. Not at the temple. So easily, the body -- the cremation happens within 24 hours.

Q. So there is no religious --

A. I mean if you are trying to compare that to Christianity, a viewing that takes place, that does not happen.

Q. Okay, thanks. Can you explain the difference between major festivals and minor festivals?

A. That is another good question. It depends on who you ask. If you are Buddhist, the birthday of Buddha was on my top list. If I am Hindu, Dashain on my top list. The same with Christianity. I think my wife would be very big on Easter and anything that has a more religious meaning than -- maybe Christmas. So it's -- Dashain is the biggest festival celebrated in Nepal but it is personal preference.

Q. That is what I gathered from prior testimony. That really was the bigger event, in terms of the collective folks getting together?

A. That is correct.

Q. And when you say a minor festival, a minor festival could be what? Is it me just having a birthday or me being --

A. Minor festival would be, a good example would be holi celebration. I don't know how many have seen, like the festival of colors, H. O. L. I.

MR. GARBER: S. O. L --

A. H. O. L. I.

MR. SCHMIDT: Like the word H. O. L. Y., spelled with an I instead of Y.

A. That is not really a religious festival, that is more like a tradition, cultural festival, more celebrated in India than Nepal. That may not take place at the temple because it is not the kind of religious festival. I would consider minor, not directly related to temple or religious activities.

Q. Is the event that is coming up at the end of July, is that a religious festival or is it a fundraiser?

A. A fundraiser.

Q. So it has nothing to do with -- well, it does have something to do with religion but it means you are trying to get people to contribute to the proposal?

A. That is correct.

MR. GARBER: Can I jump in? You mentioned, and if I am not saying it correct, do correct me. Holi, you said it is not only religious but more like a cultural festival. Can you think of a minor festival that is a religious festival that would be celebrated at the proposed temple?

A. Bartanada, like --

MR. GARBER: Like you've already discussed?

A. Yes, would be minor and rice feeding ceremony would be another one.

MS. DOPKIN: Are there festivals to celebrate birthdays or deaths of the deities who were not major deities?

A. Yes, the Hare Krsna Temple, gave names for groups of people who pray to a specific God, like Krsna being one of them and they sometimes pray to that particular God. If that is the birthday of Krsna, 8th day, and people who believe in that particular God, they would be more inclined to come to the temple on that day and other people might have worship -- if they worship additional or other Gods and some may worship all of them.

MR. GARBER: I am sorry?

A. Some may worship all the Gods.

MS. DOPKIN: I have another. Are these holidays based on your Bible or your writings, the teachings?

A. There is a calendar that -- we use that in India, Nepal and we go by the calendar dates and the calendar, yes.

MS. DOPKIN: Thank you.

BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. Did you already celebrate Holi, H.O.L.I, last year at the temple on this site?

A. That was -- yes, not this year, last year.

Q. In 2017?

A. Yes.

Q. And how many people celebrated that, if you recall?

A. I don't have an exact count, close to two hundred, I think.

Q. Okay. I want to be careful how I say this. A lot of Christians and Jewish folks don't go to services every week, as I think Mr. Kotrocco may have said. When you said -- how often do the members of your group, how often would they be coming to the site to go to the temple?

A. Until I was involved with this temple, I was going to the temple once a year.

Q. So you are no different than the Catholic or Protestant or Jewish person?

A. I hope to go at least twice a month, once it is all done and ready.

Q. Now, you said members have a temple in their home. Could you explain that? Is that a reason why you don't have to go every week on a Sunday or Saturday morning or Wednesday morning or whatever?

A. We have statues of Gods, just like you have a cross, in a bigger -- physically bigger statues at homes and in very sacred areas. You cannot really -- you have to take your shoes off and show respect. You go there to meditate and pray. Those areas and people who have houses with bigger, more rooms. They designate one particular room as a prayer room, with a statue and everything. People who don't have the luxury of doing that, may have a small area in the living room, somewhere where they have Statues of Gods.

Q. That raises a question, though, does that mean that this hall area would be described as the religious area, as opposed to the whole house? In other words -- in other words, you could have a church that has the religious area to it and then you could have part of the church, which has other activities, whether it be an office or whatever. Are you going to define the temple as the -- I will call it the main hallway that you talked about?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection to the extent, and maybe the witness can explain, Mr. Holzer, are you suggesting that they rent out offices to a law office or something?

MR. HOLZER: No. I was just asking him in a church, in a Christian Church, you could have the area of the altar and then you could have an area of offices that relate to --

MR. SCHMIDT: Like in my church, the minister has an office and the choir director has an office and there are other spaces, all related to the religious use.

MR. HOLZER: I understand. The actual temple, would that, in your religious perspective, would that be the hallway where all of these monuments will be and where the people will come and view, as sort of like the holy area?

A. That is correct, but let's say if you have two families that happen to have rice feeding ceremony at the same time, you have a worship place and they could use another room in the main level. The whole building, I mean it would be considered a temple, a sacred place.

Q. Even the second floor?

A. The whole building, yes, but second floor -- another indication with the religion is you are not supposed to step over a God. You cannot really have a place of worship here and so for technical reasons, we will use the main level for a place of worship where people come and go, upstairs more like office use.

Q. Thank you. I hope I did not ask you this. I asked you about funerals, what about weddings? Do you have weddings? Now, not the party boozy type with food but the religious service, would you have weddings at the temple?

A. Yes.

Q. And who would preside over that?

A. The priest.

Q. If you have one, but you don't have one now, so how do you do it now? Who presides?

A. We have a priest here, not working for the temple. We have three or four priests that travel to people's houses and do prayer. We could utilize them if needed in the future. If we start a temple in a few months, we'd start with a temporary priest and hire a permanent one.

Q. So what you are really saying is that the temple will be utilized for religious purposes only. If you want to have a wedding reception and if you want to have a rice feeding --

A. Rice feeding ceremony --

Q. If you want to have -- you may not want to have a funeral now, but if you want to have those parties, I will say parties with food and beverage and good fellowship, getting together, that would be someplace else other than this site?

A. Wedding, the reception would take place somewhere else, like at the restaurant and hotels, Martin's West, those places.

Q. Okay. Do you know how many folks you are expecting to be out there on July 28th?

A. I don't have the exact number.

Q. Did you advertise this in foreign countries, Nepal, for example?

A. If you put it on the internet, it reaches every corner. I don't know how to put a limitation on it.

Q. Do you expect people out of Baltimore County or the State of Maryland?

A. We have families all over the State. There might be a few families coming from Gaithersburg or Columbia.

Q. Have you advised them of the road situation so that there are no potential problems with the road?

MR. GARBER: Whose ever phone that is, please turn that off. Thank you.

Q. Have you advised any potential people who you have advertised this event to, about how to get there and how the road system is?

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection, as if we are going to back to this event on July 28th again.

MR. GARBER: Sustain the objection. I don't think we need to get into the specifics of July 28th.

I think I understand your ultimate point --

MR. HOLZER: I am very concerned that someone might get hurt out there from a traffic standpoint, as shown on one of the exhibits and that doesn't mean just the neighbors, that means the people that are coming.

BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. Let me ask you this, in regard to -- is there a lock on the gate right now?

A. There is.

Q. And I presume that was placed there to keep people from coming onto the property?

A. Yes, that is true.

Q. Once this facility, if it is approved as a religious institution, will there be a gate there and will it ever be locked?

A. No lock. If we have a caretaker, someone living in the property, I don't see a reason why we have to lock it. Now, there is no one there.

Q. What if you can't have -- on the for instance, if you cannot have a caretaker or you cannot find someone that lives there 24 hours a day, would you then have it open from 8:00 a.m. in the morning to 10:00 at night or what?

A. Practically, I think 8:00 to 8:00 p.m. I have to look at the hours of operation.

Q. Now you are not going to have a gate on there, so anybody can go in?

A. Yes. Once it is operational, anyone can come, you can come.

Q. I might take you up on that. I did that with the Jewish Community Center, so I will gladly do it with you. I asked you about -- there is not going to be a school, but is there going to be organized sports there, such as soccer games and baseball games?

A. There is no place to play a soccer game there. It is flat but not flat enough, no soccer games.

Q. So basketball and tennis?

A. Basketball, there is one hoop, you can only play pickup basketball with the kids.

Q. And tennis?

A. I play tennis, personally. So the court, I go to play and I go to the public school, it has better conditions, multiple courts. I don't go to the temple to play tennis.

Q. I like to play tennis, too. Maybe we should have a match.

MR. SCHMIDT: We will decide the case based on the match.

A. That would be easy for me.

MR. HOLZER: I will bet on him, too.

Q. Right now on the site, you don't have any water, right? No potable water, no well?

A. That is correct.

Q. And right now, there are no sewer facilities, no septic system?

A. That is correct.

Q. You don't have any way of anyone going on there and currently being able to either drink water or go to the bathroom?

A. That is correct.

Q. You said in response to one of the Board Members something about, there could be a choir there and a piano for music. Are those the only instruments?

A. That is a part of the religious ceremony. If you get a chance to go up to Hare Krsna Temple having a prayer, they have little piano and the priest can play while he is reading the text.

Q. Up there, would he -- will he be there all the time?

A. They have multiple priests. I am sure one would be there.

Q. Okay. Now, would any of your services -- let's assume for the moment that this is granted, you have the temple. Would any of the services that you would have or any of the outdoor events have speakers and loud speakers and microphones, et cetera, for amplification?

A. No, not like rock music concerts, but the priest could speak with the small microphone, something practical.

Q. You remember that the Administrative Law Judge, in his decision, prohibited or precluded as a condition, outside amplification, is that right?

A. For the music and concert type events, yes.

Q. Do you interpret there is a difference between amplification of music and amplification of someone talking?

A. Yes.

Q. So it's all right to have amplified speakers for a person speaking, but it is not all right to have amplification for music being played?

A. If you have a big concert and a mega star coming in and screaming on the microphone, that would be different from a priest presiding over services, that would be very different.

Q. I am just trying to find out what you understand is permitted and what is not permitted under the Administrative Law Judge's decision, in granting you the Special Exception. The last thing that you want or the community wants is to have people complaining about each other, that is why I am asking you the questions now, so we can understand specifically how you interpret the Administrative Law Judge's decision. That was the only reason I asked you.

MR. SCHMIDT: Objection to the extent that -- obviously, we are before the Board. You all may incorporate a similar condition, you may change it or you may do something different. So what the ALJ did, I think the witness said he believes they cannot have outdoor music. He thinks a priest talking into a microphone at a service is okay. It doesn't matter because this Board is going to do what this Board is going to do.

MR. HOLZER: I understood that completely, that is why I asked the question.

MR. GARBER: You want his understanding what has been allowed of the ALJ --

MR. SCHMIDT: I think he has answered that.

MR. GARBER: I think he has answered it, too. Move on from that.

MR. HOLZER: I am getting close, almost, close.

MR. GARBER: It's quite all right.

MR. HOLZER: Let me take a look at these.

MR. GARBER: While you are doing that, Madam

Court Reporter, are you doing okay?

THE REPORTER: Yes, thank you.

BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. Would you be planning to have, similar, quote, "fundraisers that you just testified to once the temple is functioning and open?"

A. If you cannot keep coming back here for appeal and we don't need the money for paying the attorneys, we probably don't have to do any fundraisers.

Q. Guess what?

A. What?

Q. I think you better have more fundraisers. These guys are really expensive. They all know it, too.

MR. SCHMIDT: You pay for quality, you get quality.

MR. HOLZER: Are we finished having jokes?

MR. SCHMIDT: I think so.

MR. GARBER: Open mic starts.

BY MR. HOLZER:

Q. This may sound like a strange question but maybe it is not so strange. What is your plan as a property owner, if this request to have it as a Special Exception for a temple is denied?

A. We have no plans right now. We are hoping that it stays. So it is a dream of many people here from generation -- if I may expand on that for one second, if I could?

Q. Sure.

A. I, along with many people here, come from a country that was torn apart by Civil War in the '90s. The Maoist, the communist group, ransacked the religious institution. People did not have freedom to pray and worship the way they wanted to worship. These people, along with my family are here, believing this country would give us the opportunity to do what we intend to do. Thinking -- even having a slight thought of not having that opportunity, it is mind-boggling. I hope and I intend to fight to the last second to have that right, to have a place of worship for my community, for myself and people who have come from what they have seen back home. More than ten thousand people lost their life. The insurgents lasted over ten years, many of these people come from that generation and me too, included in there.

Q. I can respond to that and simply say this is not a question of denying you the ability to have your freedom of religion and the freedom to worship wherever you'd like. The question becomes is it an appropriate location that you picked and does that negatively impact the community. This does not have nothing to do with you being denied any religious freedom whatsoever. I will be the first to stand up on your side and I did when I was in the Army.

We have a right to freedom of religion here and I respect what you just said.

A. This country was founded upon.

Q. Exactly right. Now let me say this, I am trying to save you some questions.

A. Great. I like -- I take you up on tennis.

MR. GARBER: Spell your first name.

A. K. R. I. S.

MR. GARBER: I saw your name spelled and that was not made clear at the beginning.

MR. HOLZER: No further questions.

FURTHER EXAMINATION BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. Just a couple. I want to clear up the record. You indicated, sir, that the chairs that are in the room that is used for prayers, I think you referred to some chairs in this courtroom.

A. That is right.

Q. They are sort of freestanding chairs, not pews attached?

A. Foldable chairs.

Q. Okay. Also, when you had an event on the property around the time of the Holi Festival, was that a fundraising event?

A. Everything we have done up to this point is all about raising funds to build and buy the property and to maintain the property and the legal and processing costs. It has always been the goal of the fundraiser.

Q. That is the nature of the events you have had out there?

A. That is correct.

MR. SCHMIDT: No further questions.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Ghirmire, you may step down.

A. Thank you, sir.

MR. GARBER: Mr. Schmidt, it is 2:15, the thought is probably maybe aim towards 4:00. I don't know what that means in terms of your presentation for today?

MR. SCHMIDT: What I would suggest, I have mentioned this to Mr. Holzer at the lunch break. I was going to call Mr. Motsco, he is the civil engineer but he is not going to get done. To tell you the truth, I don't want to have a witness in mid testimony from now until September.

MR. GARBER: That is best for us, too.

MR. SCHMIDT: I have two witnesses, I am aware of, who are residents who I think wanted to testify they are supportive of the use or people in the area. I would propose calling them. There might be others, I am unaware of. I think they would be pretty short.

MR. GARBER: Okay.

MR. HOLZER: I asked my witnesses if anyone could not come back and they all can come back. I have no one.

MR. SCHMIDT: I will call Ida Twining.

(The witness was sworn in by the court reporter.)

THE REPORTER: Can you please state and spell your name and give your home address?

A. My name is Ida, I.D.A, Thompson, T. H. O. M. P. S. O. N, Twining, T. W. I. N. I. N. G. I live at 11511 Harford Road, Glen Arm, Maryland 20157.

MR. SCHMIDT: Ms. Twining, keep your voice up for the court reporter and we have a big room here.

A. Okay.

Q. You indicated you live on Harford Road, is that correct?

A. I do. I live about a mile and a half south of the property that was the Old Bonaparte property.

Q. Which is the subject property here today?

A. Uh-huh.

Q. How long have you lived at your current address?

A. The Twining Family has lived on that land for over two hundred years. My husband and I live there. I am from North Carolina and I have lived there for 35 years.

Q. The Twining Family has owned that property?

A. Yes.

Q. What does the Twining family do there?

A. Over the years, they have done everything. They have raised row crops and cattle and a little bit of everything, through generations. Now we are down to -- the kids don't stay home and the old people are dying off. We are down to mostly we are all retired and we raise hay and do a lot of gardening.

Q. How big is your property?

A. All and all, it is five separate families. Personally, my husband and I have 25 acres. It is part of 110 acre piece that is ultimately part of -- how much --

Q. You cannot ask anyone else.

A. I have a cousin that knows all the numbers -- several hundred acres.

Q. In so far as, you are familiar with the proposal?

A. Absolutely, yes.

Q. You have been here today and listened to the testimony at this point?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you attend the hearing before Mr. Beverungen, as well?

A. No, I did not.

Q. We have been talking about fundraising. Have you been solicited, in terms of fundraising in connection with this case?

A. I have. I got a card asking for money to fight the facility.

Q. And who was that from?

A. It came from Mr. Holzer and the Gunpowder Falls Watershed Preservation Association.

Q. What is your position on the proposed Special Exception here?

A. We went up when they had an open house. We went up and met everybody. We have seen this property over the years. It was abandoned --

Q. How long ago?

A. It seems like as long as I have lived there. I know people have come and gone. We had been up there probably several years ago. There was talk of the property being for sale. My husband is a builder. We drove up and it was completely grown up. So we did not go in the house. It was just very grown up and ramshackle looking. We did go up when the community had -- they had an open house. I cannot tell you exactly when it was. After we had gotten the first solicitation for money because this is the second one.

They had an open house and we went up to see what their plans were. At that time, the property was partially cleared. We are farmers, we know what happens to land when you don't maintain it. The house had graffiti all over the inside of it. It looked like it had been a phenomenal place at some point. Now it was just really -- it looked like it had been really abused. There were -- what struck me was, I did walk down to the pool, the pool area. What really struck me was behind several bushes, where it was not real visible were mountains of plastic bags filled with beer cans and all sorts of trash where they had been cleaning the property.

We can see when we turn off Harford Road and start up Sharon Drive, we can see the house sitting up there on the hill. We are very happy that the family that owned the property was able to find someone to buy it. It is not an appropriate piece of land for farming. I don't believe the house and the land has ever been farmed. It is very sloping. I don't think you can buy it and pay a mortgage and farm it. It seems to me to be a piece of property that is uniquely suited to be the kind of community, slash, worship center that these folks are looking at. We are happy to welcome them to our community.

Q. In so far as the traffic, are you familiar where the entrance to the property is?

A. Oh yeah. I have lived on Harford Road as long as I have been there. I was on a farm across the road that belonged to us for awhile and that was a nightmare driveway getting out onto Harford Road. That is very far south of the facility. I always felt -- there are curves, Hutschenreuter Road, there are dangerous -- Harford Road is not a very safe road, period. There is increased traffic because there are a lot more people living out there than just the farmers we have always had.

I have always seen the entranceway to this piece of property as very safe. I have often missed a turn somewhere or remembered something I needed to do and I would go up there and pull in because it is a wide V, pull in and turn around and back in and get myself set to see to pull back out. I always seen it as a fairly safe entrance on Harford Road. I have not -- I am not a traffic -- I don't want Mr. Holzer questioning me on my traffic engineering skills because I don't have any.

Q. You've heard some testimony -- you have been here this morning and heard testimony from the representative of the congregation and you heard him talk about the Christian facility nearby, the Redeemer, are you familiar with that facility?

A. My children are 37 and 38. When they were young, they went to Beachmont Camp, that was our experience with that. They went to Beachmont Camp, which -- I knew there was a church and the summer camp. Somewhere in recent years and I have no idea when, the Redeemer apparently became a much larger place. There are soccer fields and sporting events that go on there. There is a private school there where I have actually been caught in the traffic. Where people -- apparently over two hundred kids and their families are serviced there a day. Nobody ever came to us. Nobody ever sent out a note saying please send money so we can hire lawyers to fight this facility. We wouldn't have because we consider the people at the Redeemer good neighbors. We don't have any objection. We feel within the bounds of the Zoning Laws, if people are meeting their obligations and they are doing what Baltimore County says they need to do, they have a right to do what they need to on their own land as long as it is not going against the law. We would not have objected to that and we don't object to this.

The only reason I am speaking is because there are all of these people that give you the impression that everybody in Glen Arm and Long Green Valley is opposed to this. We have five families on our farm and we are not opposed to it. We welcome them. We welcome the diversity in our community. We welcome the new perspective in our community. We think they can be good neighbors and we'd love to see everyone embrace them as new neighbors and try to help them. If there are issues that people have, maybe we can all work together and make this work.

The people at Glenmont, whatever the summer camp was and the Redeemer School, they are good community members. Everyone seems to work together. It would be really nice if we can do the same thing with the Nepali American Cultural Center.

I personally have been studying other religions and other cultures my whole life. I drive to Northern Parkway to meditate and take classes in Buddhism at a temple there. So for me, it is two miles away. It would make me happy to go up there and meditate occasionally.

Q. Did you bring the mailer that you received?

A. Yes, I did. This was the second. The first one I think we threw away.

Q. Since I am referring to that, I am going to ask if I can and I will get you a copy --

MR. HOLZER: No objection to that.

Q. I will mark this -- it's the only copy I have, since it has been referred to in the testimony, I would ask this to be marked as Petitioner's Exhibit No. 4. This, Ma'am, is the envelope that I got addressed to Roland Twining?

A. That is my husband.

Q. This is the second one of these solicitations that you received?

A. Yes, the second. The first one we got was about a meeting at the fire hall that was going to happen and my niece went and several people went. That specifically, I believe, made a suggestion of a hundred dollar contribution. I threw that one away. I am not sure about that. This one just came, I guess a couple of weeks ago. So I hung onto it.

MR. SCHMIDT: Thank you, Ma'am. I don't have any further questions. We will offer that.

MR. HOLZER: I have no objection to that being offered because if I did have an objection, it would be something that citizens are not entitled to have their own opinion or are not entitled to ask to defend their own community and their own properties. I think that would be outrageous if a negative aspect is viewed to that letter. I want that on the record.

MR. GARBER: Ms. Twining, look at Exhibit 2, the color overhead map. Do you or can you pick out your property on that map?

A. I am not sure we are actually on here -- what is that? Does anyone know what this road is, right here?

MR. GARBER: I cannot see it --

A. It just says road. I am sure that is not -- we are -- when you leave the property and you go left, you pass Hutschenreuter Road on the left, you go down through the Valley and we are the next street to the left, Sharon Drive. We are at the very end of Sharon Drive. Our address is 11511 Harford Road, we wrap around back to it. We enter Sharon Drive. We are off the picture, down there in the border.

MR. GARBER: So you think you are down the bottom, towards the left, following Harford Road. The very bottom of what is Petitioner's Exhibit 2?

MR. HOLZER: Objection. That is not what she said. She said she is off of that exhibit.

MR. GARBER: Did I say toward?

MR. HOLZER: You said off the bottom -- she is below the picture. Off the picture --

MR. MURPHY: I overrule your objection.

MR. GARBER: Just to clarify, you don't know where it is in relationship on that map, correct?

A. It is down there. It is not there --

MR. SCHMIDT: Just to help, it is about 7:00, if we looked at that as a clock face.

MR. HOLZER: She just said it is off of the picture --

MR. SCHMIDT: In that direction --

MR. HOLZER: I don't care what direction it is, it is off of the picture.

MR. GARBER: I believe she already testified as to the mileage between her property --

MR. HOLZER: Mile and a half south.

MR. GARBER: I don't think we need to be worried about where it is. I was asking can she find it on that map and the answer I heard was she cannot.

A. It is not on there.

MR. HOLZER: Thank you.

MR. SCHMIDT: Is that it?

MR. HOLZER: Are you finished?

MR. SCHMIDT: I am done.

MR. HOLZER: No questions.

MR. GARBER: Thank you, Ms. Twining.

MR. SCHMIDT: I have someone else, Pastor Daniel Montague.

(The witness was sworn in by the court reporter.)

THE REPORTER: Please state and spell your name and state your address.

A. I am Daniel Montague, spelled D. A. N. I. E. L, Montague, M. O. N. T. A. G. U. E. I live at 12828 Fork Road, Fork, Maryland 21051.

MR. GARBER: 128 --

A. 28.

MR. GARBER: What is the name of the road?

A. Fork Road.

EXAMINATION BY MR. SCHMIDT:

Q. Pastor Montague, as I understand it, you are a Pastor with the United Methodist Church?

A. Yes, I am.

Q. In terms of geographically, which church or churches are you associated with?

A. I lead two churches, Fork United Methodist Church, which is next door to my home and the Waugh United Methodist Church which is on Long Green Pike.

Q. If you could tell the Board, how far away are those two churches from this property?

A. Between the two churches is where this property lies and there is 4.3 miles between the two, I drive the distance, so approximately two miles away.

Q. How long have you been at your address in Fork?

A. A year and three weeks.

Q. Are you familiar with the subject property? Have you ever been to this property?

A. I have. I went to the open house and before this hearing I was asked to come and meet with the leadership and talk about if I would testify and so forth.

Q. And I am going to ask you simply, are you here in support of the proposal or opposed to the proposal?

A. I am in support of the proposal.

Q. Can you tell the Board why.

A. Well, it seems to me that our country is founded on religious freedom, escaping tyranny of government restricting religion and to me, there is no reason why this facility could not house a place of worship.

Q. Do you have any concerns regarding traffic or the use of the property or environmentally or any other concerns you have had or brought to the attention of the property owners?

A. Like Ms. Twining said, I am not a traffic engineer but I do not have any particular concerns about that. I think that there are probably some adaptations that need to be made to the entranceway. I don't know what those would be.

Q. How big -- if you can tell us, for both of the church properties, how big are the church properties that you minister to?

A. Both have buildings on them with parking lots and cemeteries. So there are multiple acres but not nearly the size of this facility.

Q. Do either of them have schools or daycare operations?

A. We do not. Our churches generally sit empty during the week and only have people in them on Sundays. Sometimes meetings during the weekdays but for the most part it is empty.

Q. Do both of the churches have cemeteries?

A. They do.

MR. SCHMIDT: Thank you, sir. I don't have any other questions.

MR. HOLZER: No questions.

MS. DOPKIN: How large are the congregations in each of your churches? How many people attend services?

A. Fork United Methodist Church has an average of worship attendants of about 75. The Waugh United Methodist Church has an average of 24.

MS. DOPKIN: That is on Sunday morning?

A. It is.

MS. DOPKIN: Thank you.

MR. SCHMIDT: To follow-up.

Q. Do you have multiple services or single services?

A. One service at each church on each Sunday.

Q. And obviously, these are of the Christian denomination so they are what we might call a traditional worship schedule of services on a Sunday morning?

A. Yes. We have people that come every week and we have people who come once a month and once a year and some that call themselves United Methodists and have never been there and I never met them.

Q. You sound like my minister. So the record is clear, what time are the services on Sunday morning?

A. 9:30 and 11:00.

MR. SCHMIDT: Thank you, sir. I don't have any other questions.

MR. HOLZER: No questions.

MR. GARBER: Thank you, sir. You may step down.

MR. SCHMIDT: I do not believe we have anybody else. The other folks are representatives -- members of the congregation, it would be duplicative.

MR. GARBER: My intent is to keep going. I don't know where that leaves us. What other witnesses do you have that you can put on?

MR. SCHMIDT: I have Mr. Motsco here --

MR. GARBER: Can we discuss anybody else?

MR. SCHMIDT: I don't have anyone else from the church. Maybe give me five minutes.

MR. GARBER: Let's take a recess, ten minutes and then figure out where you are.

MR. SCHMIDT: Obviously, too, I think Mr. Holzer said it wouldn't be necessary but if there is someone who cannot come back and they want to go out of order, I don't have a problem with that.

MR. GARBER: We already established that is not the case. Let's try to accommodate since we are here and have the time to get through as many as possible. Thank you.

(A brief recess was held off the record, and the proceedings were resumed as follows:)

MR. SCHMIDT: I will have one more witness, a gentleman asked for an opportunity to speak. He is a member of the Nepali Community Center.

MR. GARBER: How long do you think your expert witness will take on direct?

MR. SCHMIDT: Well, I would guess -- there are some exhibits I am looking through. There we have photographs and other exhibits, at least an hour or an hour and a half.

MR. GARBER: That would be about an hour and a half.

MR. HOLZER: I would probably be at least an hour or hour and a half. Does it make sense to get done that witness today?

MR. SCHMIDT: I mean I have sat through enough of these over the years that it just takes a long time. I can sit here as long as the Board likes. Does the Board want to sit until 5:00 or 6:00?

MR. GARBER: They shut down at 4:3o. They can leave it open.

(A brief discussion was held off the record, and the proceedings were resumed as follows:)

MR. SCHMIDT: I would call Binod Upreti and I will spell that. The first name is B. I. N. O. D --

MR. UPRETI: The last name is U. P. R. E. T. I, like pretty with one T.

MR. SCMIDT: Like you are giving a woman a compliment, you pretty, except only one T.

(The witness was sworn in by the court reporter.)

THE REPORTER: Please state your address.

A. 332 Stevenson Lane, Towson, Maryland 21204, which is not far away from here.

Q. Mr. Upreti, as I understand it, you are a member of the Nepali American Cultural Center of Baltimore, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. You are one of the trustees?

A. I am one of the life members.

Q. Life members --

A. Yes.

MR. GARBER: Did you say life member?

A. Member. There are two labels, if you donate more than five thousand, you become a trustee and one thousand is the member permanent life member.

Q. And sir, you are also from Nepal, is that correct?

A. Yes, indeed.

Q. How long have you been in the U.S.?

A. Yes, like Chris -- I have been here back in

'98.

Q. Are you an American Citizen?

A. No. Green card holder, permanent resident.

Q. Now as I understand it, Chris had mentioned that many of the people of the faith have an area of their home designated where they can meditate and pray, is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you exercise that?

A. Yes, pretty much, we have a house or an apartment and they have a clean, beautiful corner and have their temple. For me, I practice everyday and I do not eat without praying to God, that is what I do everyday.

Q. You also attend services at a temple outside of the home, is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Where is that typically?

A. Usually, I go to Westminster, Finksburg and sometimes I go to Satya Narayan Temple in Queens, New York.

Q. How often do you go to temple?

A. Whenever I have time available, even if I visit a different city, I see the temple and stop by and pray.

Q. So you are very faithful and attend services and attend temple pretty frequently?

A. Yes, that is what I have been doing, yes.

Q. At least once a week?

A. Oh yeah.

Q. Now you heard the testimony from Chris before about the nature of the way the operation is conducted, the way people come and meditate. Would you agree with his testimony in terms of how this proposed temple would operate?

A. A hundred percent, I agree.

Q. I think what you've asked me to testify about is the Hindu and Buddhist faith. Without leading the witness, you asked in the context since this was a contested hearing to testify about how your faith would work in terms of resolving or attempting to resolve any dispute, is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Can you explain that for the Board?

A. I want to clarify about the difference between Hinduism and Buddhism. As a Hindu we consider Buddha as one of our Gods. Every Hindu considers Buddhism is a part of the bigger umbrella. Some Buddhists, especially from Tibet, they think it is a different reason and that is how everyone perceives it differently. We are Hindu and Buddhist. As you know Buddhist is for peace. The reason I wanted to come and testify is that I really like to thank everyone, especially the future neighbors who have really concerns. They are not here to deny our rights to pray, they are talking about the way that -- some other neighbors who are here, they might be fearful or hate. What kind of neighborhood, the neighbors are coming, how they practice, whether they are friendly enough or not. I just want to point out, I want to tell you that Nepal is a small, tiny country between Hindu people and now is a republic. We had an insurgency ten years at that time didn't allow religion but people from Nepal always live in harmony. Muslim, Buddhist, Hindu, Christians, we never have a history of violence because of the religion. Nepal people are peaceful and the Buddhist is about the peace. I want to remind that Nepal have a long history, they served in the British Army and never implicated about terrorism, never have a history as of today.

I want to tell everyone we are very peaceful and friendly and welcoming people. It is a new process. They have reservations and I understand that and respect that. In acquiring this property we have done a lot of mistakes but not intentionally. If it is there, we want to ask for forgiveness, forget and forgive and sit down with other side who has a concerns. Let's sit down and do this or do that. We are open, we want to fix the problem. Therefore, I feel difficult going through this, frustrating and sitting here. You never know where we end up. This is the best country.

When America was founded, all the founding fathers were a hundred percent Judea Christians. This is a place that everyone can worship. America is the best country on the face of the earth and there are two hundred plus countries. We choose, not by accident but by choice, we are blessed. We want to obey the law and do anything. The community, anything that we need we would be part of the community and contribute anything we have. We will do our best, so please let's not drag on for a long time. Let's try to sit down. Whoever has done that and then let's fix the problem and go from there. That is the message of Buddha and the history of Nepali people and you know, like Kris, a lot of people, we are new to this. This is a new process. We've never done that before. There are a lot of things and we don't know the law of this country. We are excited, we want to have a temple and we ask people to donate to all of this. There are some people against it and some for it. Please, this is great. It is very simple to distinguish good and evil. If anything good to you, it is good to others, that is how we are. Why would we think we would cause a problem in a beautiful neighborhood for all of the time they have been living there. We will address their concerns and work with them. If anybody has reservations or any member has done something wrong, I'd really like to personally ask to give us forgiveness. If we have done something to promote this problem, let's sit down and go from there. Do not drag this on and like I said, the history of Nepali people never has any problems. We exist with all religions and people in harmony.

MR. GARBER: You mentioned a book, what is the name of the book?

A. Gita.

MR. GARBER: Spell that for the court reporter.

A. G.I.T.A.

MR. GARBER: Any other questions?

MR. SCHMIDT: I don't have any other questions. Thank you, sir.

EXAMINATION BY MR. HOLZER OF MR. UPRETI:

Q. First of all, I would like to thank you for your testimony.

A. You are welcome.

Q. I think it was heartfelt and it summarized what your -- not only your religion but what your members of your association believe. I would like to say, ask you this question. Would you want your association that you are a member of to meet all zoning laws and comply with all of the laws of Baltimore County in obtaining this permission for the temple?

A. In order to establish the temple, we'd like to do, you know, anything possible from our side. This is something -- I don't want to get into technical things. We want to do the best according to law and able to have worship and be in a great neighborhood with other side. The direct answer, some of the things I am not an expert. I don't want to answer directly because I do not know all of the details.

Q. I am not asking you to know all the laws. I am asking you, would you like your association to comply with all the laws of Baltimore County dealing with zoning and zoning approval? It's that simple. You said you wanted to comply with all the laws. I am asking you, do you want the Board and your association to comply with those laws?

A. Of course. If we do not comply, we cannot do anything, yes.

Q. Secondly, I appreciate what you just testified to, in that you recognized that this procedure is not opposed to your religious freedom but is concerned about the location of this property. Is that a fair statement of what you said?

A. In the morning and that is still in the back of my mind. I still believe, as a new neighbor, like judges and people are learning about our holy book Gita. A lot of neighbors, they might not know what is about to come, therefore, some people, they may not -- it's a tough topic. Religion, it's a very sensitive topic. Some people you saw the postcards, they are sending out the postcards. We need to raise funds to oppose this. Some people may be thinking the way you said and some people, that is a different group or gift. There are different people.

There is an example, someone thought that they killed a guy and ended up killing the Punjabi guy right after 911. The Punjabi guy was working at the gas station, one of your men thought that was the same man and killed. So this is not what I am talking about, only one person here. Some people have legitimate fear and the right to understand. This is the country, the country is known for the religion and everyone can worship. The point is some people use that maybe the location is not right and traffic, protects against to oppose this temple, some people use that in their heart. Maybe they have something else. All I want is what you said and that what I like to believe. If someone -- some people have reservation, that is what I said.

Q. Let me ask you like that postcard came out to the lady and asked for help or money to support the proceedings before this Board, you are a trustee, is that correct?

A. I think my status is like -- there are two levels, trustee is the top tier and the second part.

Q. You said you contributed five thousand dollars?

A. No, one thousand, eleven hundred.
Q. Sorry?
A. Eleven hundred.
Q. So you are not a trustee?
A. Not yet.
Q. What are you then, just an associate member?
A. Yes. Like a central member, just right below the trustee. The trustee is the top of the tier and I am the second.
Q. Do you know how many members in your organization? How many signed up members are in your organization?
A. All of the details like I run the restaurant. I am not heavily involved like Kris. I go there --
Q. So the answer is no?
A. Exact number, I don't know.
Q. So you don't know how many members are in your association, how much money they have paid to be a member of your association, do you?
A. No. There are choices. You can donate but just to get that category one thousand or the five thousand, the other thing is you volunteer or donate whatever you have.

Q. What was that money donated for?

A. For the temple.

Q. To acquire the temple?

A. To acquire the building and the temple and to pray.

Q. And to pay the two attorneys sitting here representing your association?

A. That was -- when we started to see this happening, we did not know that. Now things happen. Yes, we have to as a member, yes.

Q. You had to pay for legal representation to assist you in obtaining the desired effort that you'd like, right?

A. Yes, otherwise we have to pay.

Q. And these people on this side had to raise money to have their position respected and represented here. Do you see any difference between what they did to raise money and what you did to pay your two attorneys?

A. I respect that. I did not oppose. All I said, if you recall, all I said some of the people may, in the back of their mind, we are new neighbor and they are free to do that, whatever you'd like.

Q. Do you have any personal knowledge that any one of these people sitting in this room right now do not like your efforts or your religion or you as individuals?

A. I hope not, God help.

Q. Not one has said anything to you that they don't like you or don't like Nepali?

A. None of them. They never said that. If I said that I would be very wrong. They are our future neighbors. I like to earn their respect and work with them.

Q. Thank you. I appreciate what you said and I appreciate you keeping a clear mind that no one on this side of the audience hates your religion or hates your people and are doing it for any other reason that the proper zoning laws need to be applied, do you accept that?

A. Like I said, clearly no one has said to me. All I said, I can assume or guess. That is what I believe, what I hope to believe.

Q. You are assuming that there are people that don't like you or don't like your religion but you have no understanding that these people are not those people?

A. I don't want to blame anything.

MR. HOLZER: I have no further questions.

A. Sorry, Your Honor. I'd like to thank all the judges. You have been so patient letting everyone be here and fair. It is very nice of you and we are thankful.

MR. GARBER: Thank you.

MR. SCHMIDT: Nothing else, sir. You may step down. Mr. Garber, that would be the petitioner's case today. We will adjourn at this point.

MR. GARBER: We are at the point where we have to. With that in mind it seems to be the next go round on September 6th. We should be prepared to get through experts. I will be optimistic and say let's get through all of the petitioner's experts and I know at least three.

MR. SCHMIDT: I anticipate, at this point, three.

MR. GARBER: Does anyone have a problem with 9:00 a.m?

MR. SCHMIDT: That is fine.

MR. HOLZER: No problem.

MR. GARBER: We will start at 9:00 and then this way move through all of the experts, as best as possible so that we can have this case advance more and maybe we won't need six or seven days.

MR. HOLZER: You may not. I am looking at the calendar now. It says it starts at 10:00 and we can amend to 9:00.

MR. GARBER: Yes. The notice would have to change.

MR. HOLZER: If they finish all of their case, I will be prepared to go on September 12th, the third day.

MR. GARBER: If we get through all experts on the 6th, that is more than fine.

MR. HOLZER: I would be prepared to stay from 9:00 to 5:30 or 6:00.

MR. GARBER: Let's see what happens with school back in session and that may present other issues. I was hoping to get through more things today. It is what it is, so we will try to do it next time. With that in mind --

MR. HOLZER: I would say this and I don't know. You guys should think this through. Do we need this room for September 6th? Can we handle the more --

MR. KOTROCCO: We can talk about that.

MR. GARBER: You have to talk about that. There is no guarantee we can on September 6th. I don't know, one way or the other. Today was clear, so that leaves us for the future dates. We can go off the record.

(The proceedings were concluded at 4:43 p.m.)
